Carnegie Steel Head Predicts Prosperous Year.

"I predict that 1908 will be one of the most prosperous years the industrial world has ever known," was the sentiment expressed yesterday by Alva C. Dinkey, president of the Carnegie Steel Company, and one of the big steel men of the country.

"Business has already resumed its normal condition. The temporary setback to the financial and industrial interests is practically at an end and will be adjusted completely, very soon," he continued.

Mr. Dinkey came here with several friends to attend the Army-Navy football game and left yesterday for Pittsburg.

CARNEGIE PLANT BUSY.

He is most optimistic concerning the financial conditions. His big plant was more or less handicapped by the stringency of the money market, he admitted, but added that it had not been seriously effected, and that now it was doing as much work as ever.

The numerous reports printed every week or so, to the effect that the company had been forced to discharge men were, he said, exaggerated, as the company had laid off no more men than it was accustomed to do during a prosperous year. The company, he said was constantly shifting ment in the various departments. When work in one department had been completed, its force would be reduced. But the men were straightway taken back when they were needed in other depart-

MANY ORDERS ON HAND.

The Carnegie Company, according to its president, has plenty of orders on hand to keep it busy.-Phila. Press.

Plenty of Money, Vanderlip Says CHICAGO, Nov. 27.-Frank A. Vanderlip, vice-president of the National City Bank of New York, who is visit ing his mother here, yesterday pre dicted that the currency system will get back to normal as soon as the December payrolls are met.

"Interior banks are undoubtedly hoarding money," he said, speaking of the financial situation, "that is, they are running their reserves up to a normal point. There is an entirely adequate supply of currency at the present time. All that is needed to unlock the currency situation is more confidence, and there is evidence of a returning of that confidence. Some currency is being shipped to New York from interior points. In my opinion, a few days more will end the premium on currency.

"There is a fair probability of currency legislation at the coming session of Congress. Sentiment on the subject of currency legislation is still uncrystalized in New York. For my part, I believe the ideal solution lies in the direction of a central bank that will have the power to issue and take on the fiscal duties of the Treasury Department. The effectiveness of cooperation through the clearing house during the present crisis has emphasized the important part clearing houses may be made to play in our financial system. It is possible the legislation now will give enlarged powers to the Treasury to |be used in conjunction with the clearing houses."
