Jewelry Protection.

"The general public is not aware of the carefully worked out system by which the large jewelry houses continue to protect their splendid wares long after these have been sold and passed out of their hands," said a detective, discussing during modern burglaries. "Most large establishments dealing in precious metals and gems have a carefully organized and very efficient detective system, which makes it easy for a patron to recover stolen goods without charge and with little or no delay in the institution of the search. In the safes of these large jewel houses are minute descriptions of every piece of valuable jewelry which goes out from the establishment. Each piece is numbered too. When the gems are missed the patron telephones the shop in which the articles were purchased. At once a special detective, thoroughly acquainted with the business in hand and armed with a detailed description of the jewelry, is hurried to the scene of action. This is without expense to the client."—Chicago Inter Ocean.

The Word "News."

On the derivation of the word "news," which has been a puzzle to many learned philologists, there is the following:

The word explains itself without a muse. And the four letters speak from whence comes "news":

From north, east, west and south—the solution's made. Each quarter gives account of war and trade.

—Minneapolis Journal.

Warnings For the Wise.

You know the first signpost on the Great Main road? "When a woman advertises that she is virtuous, a man that he is a gentleman, a community that it is loyal or a country that it is lawabiding—go the other way."—Rudyard Kipling.

Forestry a Winner.

Despite the bitter tirades of certain Western Senators the Senate on Monday passed the Agricultural Department appropriation, including $1,000,000 for the forestry service. One amendment provides that 25 per cent. of income from the national forests shall go to the States wherein such forests are located for benefit of their road and school funds. Another prohibits publication of articles on the forest service, modified by a provision permitting the giving out of information of public interest.

This latter amendment is the extent of the concession to the enemies of the forest service says the Pittsburg Dispatch. On the floor of the Senate it was charged that forest service funds were used to carry on a propaganda for national forestry. This is supposed to be prohibited by the amendment referred to. As a matter of fact, the only propaganda conducted by the forest service has been the dissemination of "information of public interest," forest and wood experiments, statistics of the cut of timber and the decreasing average and kindred subjects. This is the more effective propaganda for forests conservatism, because the facts in the case appeal to the public reason.

It is no hazardous prediction that before the next Congress is in session the public sentiment favorable to forest preservation and rehabilitation will be overwhelming. The people are just beginning to realize that what the foresters have been telling them for twenty years, about exhaustion of timber resources, is only too true. Those who laughed at Dr. Rothrock's propaganda in Pennsylvania twenty-five five years ago have been convinced that he was a pioneer in a good cause, the prophet of an essential reform.

The clock dials on the court house look better.
