FIRST FORK.
 Dr. W. H. Mitchell, Dentist, Emporium, Pa. Over Vogt's shoe store.
 A cloud burst on Norcross Mill and Brooks Run last Friday night, raised the water higher than at the time of the Johnstown flood and done considerable damage. It tore the abutment out at the wagon bridge, near the P.O. and also the B. & S. bridge abutments at Brooks Run, making it necessary to transfer the passengers at that place on Saturday. The water came down a hollow at Wm. Swank's and drowned one of his hogs and was about three feet deep in his stable. It also pretty much destroyed his oats, corn and potatoes that he had planted. A wind and hail storm accompanied the rain, blowing down lots of trees, out buildings, etc. Some idea can be formed of the severity of the storm, when it covered up a plow for Goss Bros., which had been left in the furrow, all but part of one handle. Uncle Jimmie O'Brien's potatoes, planted on a side hill were washed out and ground and potatoes carried away. The stream raised but little up towards Wharton. The storm destroyed John Swank's ginseng farm of 40,000 plants. Experts estimate his damage at $500.
 Mr. Ludwig of Cowley Run was visitor at A. J. Bell's Sunday.

HUNTLEY.
 Dr. W. H. Mitchell, Dentist, Emporium, Pa. Over Vogt's shoe store.

 Mrs. Sally Jordan and daughter, Nora, of Sterling Run, are the guests of Wm. H. Logue.
 While J. S. Jordan has not as many onions this year as Levi Smith, the quality makes up for the lack of quantity.
 Last Tuesday the inhabitants of this community were treated with the sight of one of the survivors of the once powerful tribe of Seneca Indians. A female survivor of this historic tribe passed through the village enroute for Four Mile where she will erect her wigwam and with her sister and cousin will read the future destinies of the pale faces at so much per. We understand that some of the section men took advantage of the opportunity to peep into the future and their horoscope must have been bright as the two who had their fortunes told have expressed satisfaction of the outlook.
 Thomas Kilborn has purchased a fine Berkshire cow from Leonard Dill, of Mason Hill. She gives a barrel of milk at each milking and has to be milked four times a day. He will start an ice cream parlor soon.

 Clyde Collins has purchased a water motor and has it installed at his home. It is working successfully, and runs a washer, churn and fan at the same time.
 In consideration of the increased business that Agent W. R. Smith, W. N., has procured for the Manhattan Electrical Supply Co., that firm has presented him with a beautiful dynamo and electric motor which he has installed in his residence on the "Rivera" for lighting purposes, aside from doing away with the expense of coal oil, with its dangers and inconveniences. This new feature puts Huntley in the up-to-date class of modern towns. We prophesy a future "Edison" in Mr. Smith, W. N.
 A. W. Smith, of the Willowdale farm, has finished planting his potatoes and wears a peaceful smile.
 Alvin Benson Croop our hustling telegrapher and photographer attempted to take a picture of Squire Sullivan Sunday but the machine refused to work. No one seems to blame the machine any. The line must be drawn somewhere. "Croopie" says:
 I've photographed in Africa, in Turkey and in Spain,
 I've snapped the mugs of kings and queens across the "raging main",
 I've taken freaks and lunatics, in any way desired,
 But never more will I attempt to snap a "country squire."
 I did not think his noble face, my work would bring to grief,
 But say! he surely is a fright since he has lost his teeth,
 I need the money badly, but gold can never hire,
 My camera, to take a chance upon the "country squire."
 J. F. S.
