Three Queer Things.

The curious things which occur in the world on a given day would no doubt if collected excite the wonder of the most incredulous. Yet in a single newspaper there was recently found an account of a woman who was guilty of so infamous a proceeding as going to sleep at a shop while the assistant was in the act of showing her some dress stuffs, accompanying the exhibition with the usual eloquence of these individuals.

The second related the acuteness of two tramps who conceived the idea of going to a fancy dress ball in their ordinary attire. As may be imagined, they devoted the best part of their time to a serious inroad on the resources of the supper room, much to the amusement of the whole party, who naturally thought they were guests who had been invited to the entertainment and who, having made themselves up with exceptional skill for their assumed parts, were carrying out the idea of the characters they represented for the purpose of the jest.

The third story was that of an absentminded young woman who was playing with a pair of scissors and proceeded to trim off her eyebrows quite unconscious of what she was doing.—Pearson's Weekly.

Lion—Ritchie.

The marriage of J. Charles Lion and Miss Anna Catharine Ritchie, occurred Monday morning at the Sacred Heart church, during nuptial high mass celebrated at 7 o'clock. The ceremony was performed by Rev. P. Cornelius Enders, O. S. B., pastor.

The bridal party proceeded up the aisle of the church to the strains of Lohengrin wedding march played by the organist, Miss Hannah McBride. The bride, who is a decidedly pretty young lady, looked charming in her suit of champagne mirage silk and wore a lace coat. Her hat matched the gown. The bridesmaid, Miss Mayme Cummings of Emporium, was dressed in a tan colored crepe dress and wore a hat in keeping with the gown. Anthony Straub was best man.

Following the ceremony the wedding breakfast was held at the home of the bride's brother, Fred Ritchie, of Centre street, where she had made her home. The guests were limited to the immediate members of both families. The decorations at the home were in yellow and white. Table decorations were sweet peas, carnations, smilax and maiden hair fern.

At the train the young couple were showered with rice by a crowd of young people, who came to tender their congratulations. They left on P. R. R. train, No. 42 East for Philadelphia, Atlantic City and New York and are expected to return the first of next week, when they will go to housekeeping in the Mercum house on Washington street.

The bride is a charming young lady, much admired by her friends and was one of the popular young ladies in the sales department of Hall & Kaul Co's store. She is the second youngest daughter of Theodore Ritchie, who also makes his home with his son, Fred. The groom is an electrical contractor and one of the town's popular and industrious young men. He is the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Lion.

Together with their many friends we extend our congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Lion.—St. Marys Gazette.

JUNE ON THE GREAT LAKES

Restful, delightful, interesting, and instructive, there is no trip like that on the Great Lakes, those inland seas which form the border line between the United States and Canada. And June is one of the most charming months in the year in which to take the trip.

For comfort the fine passenger steamships of the Anchor Line have no superiors. As well appointed as the palatial ocean greyhounds which plow the Atlantic, their schedule allows sufficient time at all stopping places to enable the traveler to see something of the great lake cities and to view in daylight the most distinctive sights of the lakes, and the scenery which frames them.

The trip through the Detroit River, and through Lake St. Clair, with its great ship canal in the middle of the lake, thence through Lake Huron, the locking of the steamer through the great locks at the Soo, and the passage of the Portage Entry, lake and canal, across the upper end of Michigan are novel and interesting features.

The voyage from Buffalo to Duluth covers over eleven hundred miles in the five days' journey. Leaving Buffalo, the steamships Juniata and Tionesta, make stops at Erie, Cleveland, Detroit, Machinac Island, the Soo, Marquette, Houghton and Hancock and Duluth.

The 1908 season opens on June 16, when the Steamer Tionesta will make her first sailing from Buffalo.

The Anchor Line is the Great Lake Annex of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and the service measures up to the high standard set by the "Standard Railroad of America."

An illustrated folder, giving sailing dates of steamers, rates of fare, and other information is in course of preparation, and may be obtained when ready from any Pennsylvania Railroad Ticket Agent, who is also prepared to book passengers who may desire to take this trip through the Great Lakes and back.
