A Memory Test.

A professor of mnemonics had gone to lecture at or near Canterbury. After the lecture was finished he had to wait for his London train. It was a most comfortable day, and he retired to an inn for shelter and refreshment. To pass the time he began to exhibit his feats of memory to the yokels in the inn parlor, and one and all were thunderstruck except the waiter. There is always one skeptic in every communion, whether of saints or sinners. Do what he would he could not mitigate the acrid smile of acid incredulity of that glorified potman! In the midst of one of his most difficult feats the whistle sounded of the "Only train to London tonight!" and he rushed off to catch it. He caught it at the station, and his reputation caught it in the inn parlor, for the waiter, coming in with some ordered refreshments and finding him gone, pointed to the corner where he had been sitting and exclaimed, "Silly 'umbag, he's forgot his umbrella!"—Young Man.

Juvenile Natural History.

"Papa," said Harry, infant phenomenon, aged nine, "will you give me my pocket money in advance? I want to buy a book on moths."
"Certainly, my boy," said the retired colonel. "Here's a shilling for you. I am delighted that you should take such an interest in natural history."
That evening all the old colonel's best friends came to dinner.
"Now is my opportunity," reflected the proud parent, "to show these people what a clever boy my son is. I shall have him in at dessert time."
So Harry came in with the pears and pineapple, and in loud tones the gallant colonel remarked:
"Well, Harry, did you get your book on moths?"
"Yes, papa," answered his son.
"And what is it called?" pursued the delighted father.
"Oh," said the unsuspecting phenomenon, "it is entitled 'Hints to Young Mothers!'"—London Answers.

Hiding His Ignorance.

An official of the department of justice said in Washington of a rumor brought to him for confirmation by a reporter:

"This rumor springs from ignorance, crass ignorance of the law. I am surprised that you should have credited it. The originator of that rumor is as plainly ignorant of the law as a certain schoolboy was of French."
"This boy's father said to him one night at dinner:

"Well, how are you getting on with your French, my son?"
"Very well, thank you, sir," the lad replied.

"The father beamed with pleasure. 'Ask politely in French for some peas,' he said.
"There was an awkward pause. Then—

"But, father," said the boy, 'I don't want any peas!'"

Meeting Old Neptune.

An inmate of Sailors' Snug Harbor in speaking of the ceremony connected with "crossing the line," when Father Neptune presides over the initiation of the men who have never crossed the equator, said:

"I got my introduction to old Neptune while I was in the merchant service. I got my lather and shave and ducking thirty years ago and helped initiate many seafaring men and landsmen since then. With hot tar handy, Neptune's crew often took liberties which would not be allowed on board a man-of-war. The skipper used to look on from aloft, but he was blind as a bat to things that he did not wish to see, and the men knew enough to make no complaint. I know that I was mad clear through at what I got, but I contented myself with taking it out of the next man."

Not Up to Date.

The evidence had shown that the brick which a careless workman had dropped from a scaffolding twenty feet above the surface of the ground had fallen on a man's shoulder and broken a bone, but the jury decided that the victim had no cause of action. The falling of the brick had no necessary connection with the accident.

"Gentlemen," said the judge, "I never heard of such a verdict. You utterly ignore the existence of the law of gravitation."
"That law, your honor," answered the foreman of the jury, "is so old that we decided not to consider it. It's obsolete."—Chicago Tribune.

The Brightness He Saw.

A man who died recently in the north of England and had been living a dishonest life under the cloak of religion, wishing to pose as a good man to the last, said to those around him:
"All is bright before me!"
"Aye," said one of those present, whom he had swindled out of a sum of money, "an' in about ten minnits thean'll be near enoof to see th' blaze!"—Manchester Guardian.

Poor Critter!

"I hear that your husband is critically ill, Mrs. Tiff?" said Mr. Gumme.
"Yes, he is. He criticises the doctor, and he criticises the nurse, and he criticises me. Oh, he's critically ill, all right!"—Judge.

Poor Soldier.

Bill—it is said that Alexander the Great when on a campaign ate the rations of a common soldier. Jill—And did the poor soldier get nothing?—Yonkers Statesman.

Encouragement.

Jack—I am afraid that if I ask you to be my wife you will treat my proposal as a joke. Molly—But all jokes are not rejected, Jack.

JUNE ON THE GREAT LAKES

Restful, delightful, interesting, and instructive, there is no trip like that on the Great Lakes, those inland seas which form the border line between the United States and Canada. And June is one of the most charming months in the year in which to take the trip.

For comfort the fine passenger steamships of the Anchor Line have no superiors. As well appointed as the palatial ocean greyhounds which plow the Atlantic, their schedule allows sufficient time at all stopping places to enable the traveler to see something of the great lake cities and to view in daylight the most distinctive sights of the lakes, and the scenery which frames them.

The trip through the Detroit River, and through Lake St. Clair, with its great ship canal in the middle of the lake, thence through Lake Huron, the locking of the steamer through the great locks at the Soo, and the passage of the Portage Entry, lake and canal, across the upper end of Michigan are novel and interesting features.

The voyage from Buffalo to Duluth covers over eleven hundred miles in the five days' journey. Leaving Buffalo, the steamships Juniata and Tionesta, make stops at Erie, Cleveland, Detroit, Machinac Island, the Soo, Marquette, Houghton and Hancock and Duluth.

The 1908 season opens on June 16, when the Steamer Tionesta will make her first sailing from Buffalo.

The Anchor Line is the Great Lake Annex of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and the service measures up to the high standard set by the "Standard Railroad of America."

An illustrated folder, giving sailing dates of steamers, rates of fare, and other information is in course of preparation, and may be obtained when ready from any Pennsylvania Railroad Ticket Agent, who is also prepared to book passengers who may desire to take this trip through the Great Lakes and back.
