NO. 19.

Was It Lady Like?

Mrs. Emma Mersereau Newton, formerly a resident of Emporium, but of late years a resident of New York city, who takes to herself the "whole push" of opposition to the public demand for the paving of Fourth street. In her article in this week's Independent she evidently labored under a delusion, or rather brain clot. We dislike very much to take issue with a lady, but since she has gone out of her path to "throw mud" at ye editor and make misrepresentations that are utterly false and misleading, we beg the pardon of the fair sex. We are satisfied to pay a just tax upon our holdings in Emporium, yet we insist that a property covering the most conspicuous corner in town—75x25 feet—be valued something near the market value and not one sixth the price refused, as we are informed, reliably. We are at a loss to know of a piece of property in Emporium advertised for sale for taxes. If the lady refers to unseated land sales of lands owned by C. B. Howard Co., Hon. Josiah Howard, ourselves and others, she should be honest and not attempt to mislead the public, (and injure the innocent), yet most sensible people know that land sales take place every two years. This is a mighty poor argument against public improvements.

Street paving is popular in Emporium and is coming along nicely, thank you. Our tax-payers very generally do not desire any of "your healthy country roads." We have been paid hundreds of thousands of dollars for these beautiful (?) roads in the past.

Get aboard the band wagon and join the shouting chorus. "Onward with clean, healthy brick paving from West Creek bridge to Emporium Junction." Enough of this. Emporium will advance—croakers to the rear, on the healthy mud roads.

The Person who has Lost Interest in Things has Lost All.

Is the list of things that interest you growing smaller or larger year after year? What sort of things have you taken off the list and what sort of things have you added to it? Look it over, this list—and analyze it critically; just as though it were the other fellow's—or the other woman's list. If the list is larger than it was a year ago, congratulate yourself. If it is smaller, get a little anxious and put yourself on the witness stand. For the future add something to this list continually, industriously. For, in every item that you add to it, you add an extension to your lease of life, lengthen your years on earth. How many kinds of advertisements interest you—for example? Here's a chance to add a lot of items to the list—profitable, educative, remunerative items.

Adams—Barnes.

Married at eight o'clock Tuesday evening, June 9th, at Ransomville, N. Y., by the Rev. A. C. Dow, Edna Adams, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Adams, of Emporium, Pa., to Frank D. Barnes, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Barnes of this place.

Rev. Dow was a former pastor of the Wesleyan Methodist church at Emporium and after the words spoken that made them man and wife, Rev. and Mrs. Dow gave a reception to the young couple. They returned to Cuba, Wednesday evening by the way of Buffalo, stopping there and spending the day with the bride's brother who is engineer in the Niagara Hotel.

The couple will reside here and will be at home as soon as the work of settling can be done, having rented the old Ackley home on South street. The groom is well and favorably known in Cuba and his friends welcome the young couple and wish them a happy future. —Cuba, N. Y., Patriot. The bride, respected daughter of our friends, Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Adams, of Rich Valley, was for several months connected with the Incandescent Electric plant in Emporium and made her home with Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Huffman while remaining in town. She was popular with her friends and enjoyed the confidence and respect of our citizens, who heartily congratulate the young couple and wish them a happy life.

Furnished Rooms.

Two good furnished rooms for rent. Apply to Mrs. Morse, Sixth street. 19-2t.

Base Ball Tragedy.

At Brookline, near Pittsburg, two men, all friends were shot on Monday, E. T. Haas being instantly killed. It was all a supposed joke—not being aware that the gun was loaded. E. T. Haas married Miss Josephine Marks, who five years ago was a clerk in the Climax office in Emporium. Too late for further particulars.

Blumle—Deitzler.

One of the most beautiful and impressive marriages was that of Miss Anna Blumle, eldest daughter of Hon. and Mrs. F. X. Blumle, and William Deitzler, in St. Mark's Church, last Monday morning. While the guests were assembling in the church, Mrs. E. T. Wells, organist of the church, rendered some very sweet music and shortly after nine o'clock the well known Mendelssohn Wedding March was sounded which announced the approach of the bridal party which proceeded up the centre aisle of the church in the following order: Usher, Mr. John Quigley and best man, Mr. Francis Deitzler, a brother of the groom; Miss Mary Blumle, handsomely attired in white, carrying a basket of beautiful flowers, as maid of honor, followed by Miss Thessa Blumle as bride's maid, who was very becomingly gowned in pale blue; following her came the bride, looking most beautiful and charming, in her bridal robes of pure white, her gown being of lace over white silk, and she wore a wreath and long veil and carried a prayer book. They were met at the altar by the groom and the Rev. Father Kearns who united them for life. Following the marriage ceremony Nuptial High Mass was celebrated which was very impressive. The choir was at its best and their responses in the Mass were well rendered; Mrs. Jerome Bell sang the Ave Maria in her usual pleasing manner. After the Mass the party left the church to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march and repaired to the spacious and beautiful home of the bride where a reception was held for about two hundred invited guests. May their future lives be as sunny as was the day they made their vows as man and wife, is the wish of the PRESS, Mr. and Mrs. Deitzler are spending their honeymoon at Shamokin, the home of the groom, and other eastern points.

The bride was the recipient of many beautiful, costly and useful presents.

The out of town guests present were: Rev. Father Kearns, DuBois; Mr. Alexander Deitzler, (father of groom) and Francis Deitzler, (brother of groom), Shamokin, Pa.; Mrs. Wm. Gehrlm and Miss Mary Dengler, Erie, Pa.; Mrs. Wm. Eberhart, May S. Johnson and Clara M. Hinkley, Buffalo, N. Y.; Miss Elizabeth Yahn, Olean, N. Y.; Johanna Severin, Marion Vogt, Reno; Guy Leary, Henry Severin, Sadie Truffner, Misses Regina and Madalene Severin, St. Marys; Mr. and Mrs. A. Jaeger, Kersey, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Egger, Driftwood; Edward Houk, Cleveland, O.

Kelley—Burnside.

Miss Mary Grace Kelley, the accomplished daughter of Mr. John Kelley of this place, was united in marriage to Mr. Joseph Burnside, on Sunday, June 21, 1908, at Watsontown, Pa., by the Rev. Mr. Calvin, of the Baptist Church, formerly of this place. The couple stole a march on their many friends here by quietly slipping away on the early flyer on Sunday morning. Mrs. Burnside is a general favorite of all who know her and is sure to make a true helpmate to the man of her choice. Mr. Burnside is also very popular with all of our people, having lived here for several years. They will spend a short honeymoon at Atlantic City and after their return will reside at the beautiful home of the bride on Fourth street. May their lives be one of happiness is the wish of the PRESS and their many friends.

Base Ball—West Ward vs Driftwood.

The West Ward Base Ball Team will cross bats with the Driftwood boys, Saturday afternoon at 3:30 on the Keystone Park grounds at this place. Everybody invited. Admission 25c. Ladies free. Come out and encourage the boys.

Smethport is paving with brick the entire main street and they have less valuation and less population than Emporium.

DEATHS DOINGS

GARVIN

Joseph M. Garvin, of East Fifth street, aged about 55, died suddenly on Sunday afternoon, about three o'clock. His daughter, Miss Mary, found her father lying at the foot of the hall stairs, where he had evidently fallen and instantly expired, having been stricken with apoplexy. His wife and two children had left Emporium for Ohio, but stopped at Sheffield to visit Mrs. Slaigle, but they returned to Emporium and took his remains to Freeport, Westmorland county, Pa., Tuesday morning. Deceased carried $2,000 insurance in the Maccabees in favor of his wife.

HAUBER.

Mrs. ELIZABETH IRENE HAUBER, aged 32 years, wife of our townsman Mr. J. S. Hauber, died on Friday night about 11 p. m., June 19th, 1908, at the family residence, Fifth street, after an illness covering one year. The devoted husband consulted the best medical skill in Buffalo, Philadelphia and other places yet the true cause of her disease baffled all. Last week her devoted husband took her to Philadelphia and consulted a specialist without arriving at any conclusion. He was advised to come home and return as soon as the sick lady grew stronger. They came home and the poor sufferer cheered up and on Friday afternoon was quite talkative. The hand of death was then hovering over her. At eleven o'clock she passed away, peacefully.

Deceased leaves in addition to the husband, four children—two boys and two girls—the eldest nine years old and the youngest four months. The eldest children will make their home with Mr. Hauber's mother, Mrs. Sebastian Hauber, at St. Marys, Pa. The babe was given, by the dying mother, to Mr. Hauber's sister, Mrs. Henry Biber, of Kane, who has no children.

The remains were conveyed to St. Marys, the former home of Mr. Hauber, Sunday evening, where scores of relatives and friends viewed the departed at the old Hauber home. Requiem High Mass was celebrated Monday morning at St. Marys Catholic Church. The funeral was very largely attended, relatives and very many friends coming from Emporium and other towns. The floral offerings, from relatives and friends in Buffalo, Erie, St. Marys and Emporium were in great abundance.

Mr. and Mrs. Hauber were married ten years ago last Feb. and were greatly respected by our citizens. We knew the departed all her life and never heard anything but good words in her behalf. No husband could be more considerate and sacrificing than Mr. Hauber. Nothing that money could purchase was denied her. Our townspeople all deeply sympathize with the bereaved husband and children.

BROOKS.

MISS EVANGELINE BROOKS, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. V. A. Brooks of Sinnamahoning, met with a fatal accident at Sterling Run, last Saturday afternoon. Miss Brooks went to Sterling Run early in the morning to arrange for a camping party for July 4th. She stopped at Mr. Edward Whiting's and securing his horse and buggy started, accompanied by Mr. Whiting's two daughters, to examine the condition of the camping grounds. After calling at Mrs. Phineas Masons home they started on their return to Sterling Run. When near Jas. Strawbridge's the horse becoming unmanageable, she told the girls to jump out, which they did. The horse now seemed to be beyond control and was running at a rapid pace, the brave girl standing up and making a desperate effort to check him, when she either jumped or was thrown out, striking on her head. Mr. Jas. R. Strawbridge, who saw her fall, and others hastened to her prostrate form. She was found in an unconscious condition and breathed for a short time, but was dead when Dr. Corbett arrived.

It is the impression of many that the harness was broken as well as the thills, which made the horse run away, in fact one side of the horse showed signs of bruises or scratches.

Kind friends tenderly carried her to the home of Jas. R. Strawbridge, when her friends were notified of her sudden death, who in turn phoned to Hon. Geo. J. LaBar's undertaking establishment at this place, to take charge of the remains. Mr. Rishell took Erie mail, the Penna. R. Co., kindly consenting to stop the train at both Sterling and Sinnamahoning, and prepared the body for burial.

The regret expressed by all who knew the lady, as she was well and favorably known in all parts of the county was very general. She was of a bright, joyous nature and was one who made friends and retained them.

Miss Brooks was actively engaged as a teacher in the schools of this county and frequently visited Emporium.

The funeral took place from the family residence at Sinnamahoning on Monday afternoon at two o'clock. Rev. Conway Wing Dickson, conducted the services at the home, assisted by Revs. Anderson and Allen. The parlor where reposed the dead girl was one bank of roses, ferns and potted plants. About five hundred relatives and friends attended the funeral—a living testimony of the popularity of the dead.

A misunderstanding as to the hour of the funeral prevented a large number of friends from Emporium attending.

The PRESS extends its sympathy to the grief stricken family in this hour of terrible affliction.

"United We Stand—Divided We Fall."

Apparently the Ladies Chamber of Commerce think they should fight the Fourth street pavement. I am very sorry because I think they make a grievous mistake, but if the men of the town really want the pavement, they will "rock the boat" hard enough to get it. For, remember that "the fittest survive," but we must not expect the storekeepers on Fourth Street to do all the "fitting" so that Emporium can survive.

It is like the story of the poor man whose horse fell down and broke his leg, and the neighbors and friends stood around, saying "My, how bad that is—the horse will have to be shot, and how sorry they were etc.," until one of them said, "Well, I am sorry $5.00 worth" and in a very few minutes the man had money enough to buy a new horse.

The paving of the center of the town is a benefit to all of us—both in the East and West Wards, and to the people who live on the hill, and for my part I am willing to subscribe something to get it paved.

I do not expect to see the street paved in front of my house for ten or more years, but I would like to see Fourth Street paved with brick from the Warner House to the Junction as soon as possible. There is some talk of forcing the property-holders by law, but we do not need any law between friends, and we are all friends and are interested in Fourth Street, and in the health and looks of the town.

Our storekeepers have been compelled to carry their customers this last winter, and trade has not been any too profitable, and I believe we had better go without the pavement than to quarrel with the Ladies Chamber of Commerce, who feel that this is not the time to raise the money, and I certainly would not be in favor of using any force to get what we can get peacefully.

The work can be done much better, and a great deal cheaper by the Borough doing the work, the same as they did in front of the Odd Fellows' block. Principally because we would not get full allowance from a contractor for the good foundation that is already in the street. Another reason why we should have this pavement put in this year is, so that we could apply to the State Highway Department to finish the road down to the Junction, and it is quite likely that our member in the Legislature next year—either Mr. Egan or myself—could see that the state helps make a brick road through the East Ward, the same as the State has helped other towns. This cannot be done until we make the connecting line between the State road in the West Ward and the strip of pavement at the Odd Fellows' block, and it should be done now, so that the Borough can make application to the State Highway Department to get the street paved to the Junction next year.

Now, if we are really anxious for this pavement, let us "rock the boat" and all chip in and give something according to our means, and we will get it.

Respectfully yours,

JOSIAH HOWARD.

Valley Forge.

Parsons, of Lock Haven, attended the dedication of the Anthony Wayne monument at Valley Forge, last Saturday and enjoyed the occasion. Addresses were made by ex-Gov. Pennypacker, Gen. Thos. J. Stewart and others. Mr. Parsons, who is a member of the "Pennsylvania Society, Sons of the Revolution," was one of 200 guests upon this occasion and enjoyed an automobile ride through the Valley where his great-grandfather fought. Mr. Parsons is justly proud of his membership in this noble society.

After participating in the Valley Forge exercises he went to New York city, "did up" the roof gardens and other sights, after which he went to Coney Island and other up to date resorts, returning home in good order.

Hazel Crosby's Condition.

Miss Hazel Crosby of Sinnamahoning, is in a very precarious condition from the result of a fall sustained three weeks ago last Saturday, while visiting her sister, Mrs. Henry Wheaton at Emporium Powder Company settlement. While riding horseback with Miss Regina Blinzler, on a little lark, the horse took fright at an automobile, dumping the girls off. Miss Hazel felt a little sore from the effects of the shaking up but it was thought at the time of little importance. She continued to grow worse, when Dr. Beale of Driftwood was called, who pronounced the ailment a nervous shock. Her condition has been rather critical for some days. Mr. Henry Wheaton informed the PRESS last evening that the Dr. thinks that if she holds her own for a few days she will recover.

Couldn't Stay Away.

John T. Earl, of Elkheart, Ind., former editor and proprietor of the Driftwood Gazette, has been visiting relatives and friends in this county the past week. On Wednesday he called on Emporium relatives and friends and found time to call on the PRESS. Mr. Earl is one of the proprietors of the Elkheart Acetylene Works and we are pleased to learn he is prosperous, which his former Cameron county friends will be glad to learn—the reward of uprightness, honesty and industry.
