Our Banner Bearers.

It is indeed gratifying to all Republicans to see how popular the Republican candidates, nominated at Chicago, are with all classes. Both Taft and Sherman are plain, matter of fact Americans, men who will do their duty without fear or favor. The press of the country, from which we quote a few extracts, speak in the highest terms of the nominees.

The Philadelphia Press says: "In all our history only two or three presidents have come to the presidential chair with a preparation as complete or a mastery as visible of the problems of the presidency, the fruit of experience, action and achievement. His nomination follows the proved deeds of a life spent in the public service, where he has never failed in a task and has never disappointed expectancy, high as his own record has made the expectation of men.

"There is no side of American life with which he is unfamiliar, and on all he has displayed knowledge, courage and principle. His judicial decisions show his grasp and command of the legal and constitutional problems of railroad and trust. He has attacked the boss and the corrupt machine in his own party. He has told the truth to Southern Republicans, and in the north he has courageously asserted, in the face of interested clamor, the necessity of a revision of the tariff on lines which will consider due protection to American labor, the promotion of our industry and the growth of our foreign trade. Nor has our diplomacy a more brilliant triumph than the success with which he secured a settlement of the tangled issues centering about the property of the orders of friars in the Philippines, on terms honorable to the United States, satisfactory to the Philippine people and accepted as just and generous by the highest authority of the church to which these orders belonged."

The Pittsburg Gazette Times grows eloquent in his praise when it says: "The Republican nominee for president of the United States is skilled in statesmanship and diplomacy. He is an administrator of experience, tried and tested in many difficult places where to fail meant disaster. In each and in all he has filled full the measures of his trust and proven himself a man—whole hearted, whole souled, courageous, patriotic, unselfish as it is possible for anyone to be, firm for the rights of his country, considerate of the rights of others and especially of the weak; such a man as reflects honor upon the American flag, the American family relation, upon American manhood, upon American citizenship; a son, a husband, a father, a brother, a friend, a public official who may be taken by all as a model in those various relations of human life; a man who stands foursquare, whose word is his bond, who is fit to be at the apex of American life, as the president of the people, because he typifies all that is best and purest and most approved, and with this is human in every fibre, as sympathetic as he is strong, red blooded and warm hearted—an ideal American.

The Hon. William Howard Taft is fit to be president of the United States. He will be president.

We take the following as a small part of a leading editorial in the Philadelphia Ledger, and the expression from this well known newspaper indicates how conservative journals look upon the Taft nomination: "Of all the presidential candidates within the memory of this generation, Taft is unquestionably the best equipped, in training and experience and in wide and close contact with large affairs.

With Taft as the candidate, the mere phraseology of the platform is of little consequence. Dissent from the "Roosevelt policies" has been much less from their real purposes than from the manner of their enforcement, which has frequently obscured the righteous ends which all honest men applaud and excited fears not always justified in fact. With the president's high ideals and high achievements Mr. Taft is without doubt in fullest sympathy. But his different mental training, his deep-rooted respect for historic law and orderly procedure, his patient and conciliatory temperament, mark him as peculiarly the man to take up the constructive work which Mr. Roosevelt has made possible, and thus to carry on even the debated "policies" with a safe and sound conservatism that will re-establish confidence and win support?"

COMFORTING WORDS.

Many an Emporium Household Will Find Them So.

To have the pains and aches of a bad back removed, to be entirely free from annoying, dangerous urinary disorders is enough to make any kidney sufferer grateful. To tell how this great change can be brought about will prove comforting words to hundreds of Emporium readers.

Mrs. A. Kircher, living at 105 Brussels St., St. Marys, Pa., says: "I certainly think very highly of Doan's Kidney Pills for the good they did me. I suffered from pains through my back, and when I arose in the morning felt tired and languid. I had been in a miserable condition for a long time and when Doan's Kidney Pills came to my attention, I procured a box. It was only a short time before I noticed a great change for the better in my condition. My strength and ambition returned and I feel better in every way. I am glad to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills as a remedy of particular merit."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Badly Sprained Ankle Cured.

Three years ago our daughter sprained her ankle and had been suffering terribly for two days and nights—had not slept a minute. Mr. Stallings, of Butler, Tenn., told us of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. We went to the store that night and got a bottle of it and bathed her ankle two or three times and she went to sleep and had a good night's rest. The next morning she was much better and in a short time could walk around and had no more trouble with her ankle.—E. M. Brumitt, Tenn., 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by L. Taggart.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

[From our Regular Correspondent.]

Washington, June 20, 1908.

"I am deeply grateful to my friends of this city and to my really great friend—the man in the White House. I appreciate the loyalty and unswerving support accorded to me, and it shall be my duty to show by my actions and attitude that I am not unmindful of the great honor bestowed upon me." These were the words with which Secretary Taft greeted the Commissioners of the District of Columbia and some five hundred members of the University Club of this city on the night of his nomination for the office of Chief Magistrate of the nation, as he stood on the lawn at his home 1603 K Street, northwest, with Mrs. Taft and his daughter on his right. The entire membership of the club, of which Judge Taft is a member, turned out to do honor to the Secretary, and augmented by an enthusiastic crowd of several thousand men, women and children, rent the air with cheers, while fireworks were exploded on the ground in front of the club house on the opposite side of the street, and a band played "Hail to the Chief."

Associates of Mr. Taft in President Roosevelt's cabinet gave out statements for publication, expressing their pleasure at his nomination and their view of its significance. Three sentences in the statement given out by President Roosevelt, however, voice the sentiment of them all: "I do not believe there could be found in all the country a man so well fitted to be President. He is not only absolutely fearless, absolutely disinterested and upright, but he has the widest acquaintance with the nation's needs, without and within, and the broadest sympathies with all our citizens. He would be as emphatically a President of the plain people as Lincoln, yet not Lincoln himself would be freer from the least taint of demagoguery, the least tendency to arouse or appeal to class hatred of any kind."

Senator Foraker who has been indisposed and in Washington for some time, gave out a statement in which he said, among other things: "It is no longer a question of men but a question of parties. In this way Secretary Taft becomes my candidate for the Presidency, and while under all circumstances I can probably do but little, yet I shall do all I can to help elect him. Republicans will now quit contending among themselves, and turn all their guns on the common enemy."

An order has been issued by the District Commissioners to the effect that "every dog in the District of Columbia shall, for a period of six months from this date, wear a good and substantial muzzle, securely put on, so as to prevent it from biting and snapping, and any dog going at large during said period without such muzzle shall be taken up by the pound master and impounded. Washington has undergone quite a "mad dog" scare and in fact is still in the throes, hence the issuance of the above edict for the safety of the inhabitants of the Capitol.

The story sent out from Chicago which stated that President Roosevelt, sitting in the White House, heard in person, with the telephone receiver to his ear, the cheering which greeted the mention of his name by Senator Lodge on Wednesday, has been pronounced "a fake" by Secretary Loeb. According to Secretary Loeb, the only news received at the White House from Chicago is by the Postal Telegraph and Western Union bulletins.

Secretary of State Root will leave Washington on Saturday for his home at Clinton, N. Y., to join the members of his family who left some time ago. It was rumored that the Secretary was going again to Muldoon's place, near White Plains, N. Y., to take a course of physical training, but this has been denied recently at the Secretary's office.

Mrs. Taft was quite the happiest woman in Washington on the day of her husband's nomination though she was composed. She said they had made no plans to get away from Washington any particular day and while they had expected for some time to go to Cincinnati in July she did not know the exact date of their departure.

The Boy's Brigade.

By B. Th. Bliss.

The United Boy's Brigade of America is a religious organization in Military form composed of boys of twelve years and upward, and is represented in every continent in the world and spoken of by those thoroughly familiar with the subject as "The grandest boys movement that the world has ever seen."

The object is the advancement of Christ's Kingdom among boys and the promotion of habits of obedience, reverence, discipline, self respect and all that tends toward a true Christian manliness. This object is successfully accomplished by means of Military organization and drills as used in the Infantry, hospital, signal and other departments of the United States Army.

The Boys Brigade was organized in Scotland by Gen. William Smith of Glasgow, in October 1883. At present there are over twenty-five thousand boys belonging to the organization in America. There are fourteen companies in Philadelphia and four thousand members in the entire state. National Headquarters is located at Pittsburgh, Pa., and Lieutenant-General H. P. Bope is Commander-in-Chief of the organization.

Major-General Clement M. Devine is in command of the Division of Pennsylvania with headquarters located at Philadelphia.

The organization is as follows: Two or more companies form a Battalion; two or more battalions a regiment and five or more regiments constitute a brigade.

The company is the working unit and it must be connected with a church, mission, Sunday school or other christian organization which shall have full control of the religious instruction of the company.

The companies are officered by gentlemen desirous of promoting the object of the Brigade.

Each company is under the command of a captain, whose junior officers are lieutenants. Two or more companies in a town usually organize, with the sanction of headquarters, into a battalion. We have three companies organized or nearly organized in Ridgway—Co. I of the Episcopal church, Co. K of the M. E. church, and Co. L of the Presbyterian church. Also one company, Co. M of fifty six members organized at Emporium, Pa. These companies form the third battalion of the fifth regiment of which Col. A. D. Burns of Bradford is in command and of which I have the honor to be major.

Co. I has been organized nearly four years and during that time the members have drilled faithfully and well and acquired considerable proficiency.

Companies K and L are at the present being recruited up to their full complement; are starting out with every prospect of success and deserve to receive the hearty co-operation of the parents of every boy of suitable age who may enlist.

Co. M of Emporium is comprised of fifty-six members of all denominations. This company is very enthusiastic in the work and is a credit to the third battalion and the fifth regiment.

Before joining one of these companies each boy is required to sign an enlistment blank containing the following pledge: "God helping me, I promise and pledge that I will do all in my power for the advancement of Christ's Kingdom among boys, and the promotion of habits of obedience, reverence, discipline, self-respect and all that tends toward a true christian manliness; that I will obey faithfully all the Company rules; and that I will at all times set an example of good conduct to my comrades and other boys."

The ministers of the different churches are elected chaplains of their church companies and have full control of the religious training of the boys.

Military drill according to the United States Drill Regulations adopted June 23, 1904, is used as a means to secure the interest of the members, and train them to habits of obedience, discipline, neatness, promptness, courtesy etc. This drill does not tend to stimulate a spirit of militarism as many suppose, but rather to teach patriotism in its truer sense. True patriotism differs as much from militarism as the spirit of '76 differs from that of some pugilist about to enter the arena. Boys are naturally very patriotic, much more so than men as a rule; they are a little nearer home and home and country means more to them.

Physical exercise is employed to aid the boys to develop strong bodies. These exercises supplement the home training and the parents' aid is needed and expected in developing their sons. Thorough learning and true principles that govern the body militant, the boy acquires a knowledge that is of inestimable value to him. True health is not acquired by the use of drugs, but by a proper understanding and employment of the physical forces.

The third battalion will go into camp this year, near Ridgway, from July 9 to 17 on the Money farm. The camp will be military in form, and the name of the camp and a routine of camp duty will be published later.

Arrangements are made whereby a chaplain will be present all the time and he will conduct short religious services each evening at Retreat. There will be between one hundred and fifty and two hundred boys in attendance at this camp, and it is proposed to make it an event that they can always refer to in after years with a great deal of pleasure.
