LICAN VICTORY.

People Have Expressed Themselves in Favor of the Policies of President Roosevelt, and the Party Must Obey.

The Republicans will have a work ing majority of 40 or more in the lower the Sixty-first congress house of There is a loss of 15 or 25 in comparison with present conditions. Some of those who have not been returned have been opponents of the president's policies. Others who have been criticised for their stand have been re elected. A more careful examination of the completed returns is needed before judgment can be rendered in individual cases.

Nevertheless, there is no doubt that the voice of the people the country over has been loud in indorsement of the principles and ideals for which the present administration has stood. The decision at the polls may be taken as a mandate to congress to provide for the carrying out of the spirit and the letter of these policies. The success-ful candidate for the presidency was quick to recognize the meaning of the popular vote. "It is your administra-tion that this victory affirms" was the response to the congratulatory message from the White House. The members of the majority party in the new house should be equally prompt in their appreciation of the same truth, no matter how they may have lined up in past discussions.

The great triumph of Mr. Taft would have been sadly marred had the peoin their congressional districts, ple, tied his hands by the election of a Democratic house. That they have returned a substantial Republican majority is a clear expression of their desire that the president they have elected shall have the hearty support of congress in carrying forward the measures already initiated and in putting into execution the policies favored by him and to which the party has pledged itself in its platform of principles

With president, senate and house in accord the way is open for the realiza-tion of the expressed desires of the 24 years in the Jefferson-Monroe pe-riod and also 24 in the Lincoln-Arthur people. Buffalo, N. Y .- For the first time in their history the East Buffalo stock yards are under the ban of a quarantine. Because two carloads of cattle delivered in western Pennsylvania, which were found to be infected with foot and mouth disease were traced to East Buffalo, the federal and authorities have placed a ban state on this market pending a general cleanup of the yards and a further in-vestigation of the outbreak of the disease so much dreaded by stockmen.

As a direct result of the conditions growing out of the investigation of the Pennsylvania shipment, the word came Thursday from the bureau of animal industry of the department of agriculture, ordering the entire states of New York and Pennsylvania to be quarantined. Pennsylvania's state authori-ties have declared a quarantine against New York state and Commissioner Pearson, of the department of agriculture of this state, has ordered that a strict quarantine be placed on five counties in western New York, namely, Erie, Niagara, Orleans, Wyom-

TELLS HOW HE GOT A START J. D. ROCKEFELLER TELLS ABOUT EARLY DAYS OF STANDARD OIL.

He Testifies in the Suit Brought Against the Standard by the Government.

New York City .- Relating his story with the air of a gentleman en-gaging a host of friends with incidents of days long past, John D. Rockefeller, president of the Standard Oil Co., though for nearly ten years retired from the active cares of company direction, for over two hours on Wednesday reviewed the history of the early oil trade and the development of the first companies that later grew into the present so-called oil trust.

Mr. Rockefeller was a witness for the defense in the suit to dissolve the Standard which is being prosecuted by the United States government, and his appearance at the hearings before ex-Judge Franklin Ferris, the referee, brought a large crowd to the customs building. The head of the oil combine was surrounded by an imposing circle of counsel and when he began his testi-mony he gazed complacently upon a swarm of newspaper men behind swarm of newspaper men behind whom pressed close a throng of people that filled the room. Mr. Rockefeller appeared at complete ease and when John G. Milburn, of counsel for the Standard, propounded his first question, the witness spoke out in full tones as if he desired the most distant spectator to hear.

Then in a manner that indicated pleasure at what he was about to tell, Mr. Rockefeller spoke of his start in the oil business and how under adverse conditions that business grew the proportions of the Standard Oil Company of Ohio, with its capitaliza-tion of $1,000,000. Mr. Rockefeller's eyes sparkled in reflection on that early financial organization and speaking of its million dollar capitalization with almost boyish enthusiasm, he FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN. said:

"It seemed very large to us, who began with only $4,000 in 1862." During a brief recess Mr. Rockefeller talked to the reporters on the Standard's growth, saying:

"This testimony here to-day brings back to my mind so clearly early days in Cleveland, where we were all in Cleveland, where we wer friends and neighbors together. all How well I remember that day in Cleveland when I went into the bank of T. P. Handy, who afterward became one of my dearest friends. I wanted to bor row money, but I didn't have any col-lateral nor any one to indorse my note. I told him what I wanted to do with it and then he asked me how much I wanted. 'I need $2,000,' I said, and I got it. To that loan I attribute whatever success I have had in life since.'

SAYS HE IS IN THIEF CLASS.

Chas. Francis Adams Declares that Tariff "Stand Patters" are Either Hogs or Thieves.

Washington, D. C .- "To ask us to put aside our business affairs and, at our expense, go to Washington on a desperate mission is asking a little too much, whether the demand comes from the committee or from a presi-dent-elect." The above is the substance of a letter addressed by Charles Francis Adams to Representative Mc-Call of Massachusetts and made pub-lic by the latter Wed- sday in his explanation of the failure of the tariff re-formers to present their case to the ways and means committee now considering a revision of the tariff.

Mr. Adams declares that the persons who wish the tariff schedules to remain unchanged either are "thieves or hogs," and admits that he himself belongs to the first class. But he is also a tariff reformer desiring to see every protective schedule swept out of existence. But as a mere citizen he says he would receive from the ways and means committee scarcely a respectful Grant's second term, went into power. Beginning with the election of 1894, in the second half of Cleveland's second term, the Republicans have controlled both branches of congress to the present day, or 14 years. The present stretch of Republican sway is far more notable than the earlier one was. During a large part of the time between 1861 and 1875 many states in the Democratic quarter of the country were unrepresent-ed in congress and the Democrats of the rest of the nation were to a large degree demoralized and discredited. In the present period, on the other hand, the Democratic party, while often discordant, has had the solid south behind it and has been active and aggressive everywhere. The Republican victory in 1908
