The Hamilton Dance.
The Hamilton Hose Company gave their eighteenth annual dance and supper on Wednesday evening at the Opera House. Kating's orchestra, of Olean, furnished most elegant music for the dancers and the largest crowd was present that has been at a dance in Emporium for some time. Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Vogt led the grand march, followed by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Clark as seconds. The march was well planned and was produced in excellent order and shows very plainly that the leaders understood their business. The stage presented a very neat appearance, the orchestra occupying the front part and the rear being used as a supper room where a most excellent supper was served. Many people from out of town were present. The Hamilton dances are always very popular but this one far exceeds any ever given before. Every one present had a very enjoyable evening.

L. O. T. M. Installation.
Tuesday evening, the Annual Installation of officers of Gladiola Hive No. 32 took place in their hall in Masonic block, and was of unusual interest to the members. A class of twelve of Emporium's brightest young ladies had been secured, and were to be let into the secrets of their mothers and sisters, and become members of the Macabee family. The hall had been tastefully trimmed with the colors of the order, entwined with our National flags, and guards were waiting to receive the candidates when they appeared, led by Miss Nettie Lounsbury, Great Com. for Penn'a and Mrs. Deborah Hockley, L. Com. of the Local Hive, who conducted the initiatory ceremonies. Miss Lounsbury took charge, and installed the officers elected for 1909, using the new ritualistic work. The installing officer, L. Com. and Lieut. Com. each received beautiful gifts from the Hive. Captain of Guards, Officers and Guards were presented with carnations. Eighty-five partook of one of the finest banquets ever served by our local "Bees," the committees in charge having fairly out-done themselves to make it a success, and deserve great praise for their efforts. Gladiola Hive will soon be heard from again, they are working for another class for the near future.
