A Fulsome Compliment. During Mr. Cleveland's tour of the south shortly after his marriage Mrs. Cleveland and he were driving one day through the streets of one of the larger towns escorted by two of its citizens. Some one threw a bunch of violets to Mrs. Cleveland, and Mr. Cleveland bent forward to catch it, remarking as he presented it, "I wonder why no one gives me flowers."

One of the gentlemen present gal-lantly replied, "We think you have won the fairest flower in all the land." "Ab, yes," returned the president; "but, you see, I can't keep her in wa-

"It is not necessary since you keep her in such excellent spirits," was the reply. Here Mrs. Cleveland interposed, saying, "I am afraid you are guilty of flattery," whereupon came the reply: "No, madam. Flattery is fulsome compliment, and in this instance no compliment could be either too frank or too fulsome." The charm of this response lies in the last and fourth from the last words, Mrs. Cleveland's maiden name being Frances Folsom.

A Queer Chinese Notion. One of the beliefs which the Chinese are slowly unlearning is that foreigners use the eyes and hearts of Chinamen in compounding rare and costly drugs which are valuable aids in magic. Medicine and magic have for ages gone hand in hand in China, just as they once did in Europe. Ignorant Chinamen therefore readily believe such tales. The use of eyes of Chinese by foreigners in metallurgy is describ-ed in a work called "A Deathblow to Corrupt Practices," published in 1870. According to this, when white Christians had charge of a funeral there dense all the relatives and friends they drove all the relatives and friends from the house. Both eyeballs were then removed from the corpse, the ori-fices being filled with plaster. This was called "sealing the eyes for the western journey." By compounding these eyes with a hundred pounds of Chinese lead, this veracious chronicle continues, eight pounds of silver could be extracted from it. The sight organs of any other people were useless for this purpose.

Marine Rubber Chewers.

The sailor, taking a fine, new rubber band from the stationery display, be-gan to chew it with vigorous enjoyment.

"What are you up to there?" snarled the druggist. "Just rubber chewin'," said the sailor. "It's a habit with all us navy fellers. Keeps off gun headache.

"Of course you, a landlubber, don't know nothin' about it. But let me tell you, mate, when a sixteen inch gun goes off aboard ship the jar shatters winders, splits planks and brings your lower teeth up against your uppers like a straight left from old John L.

"The result is a gun headache-such a headache! But if you chew rubber in firing time it eases off the shock and you don't suffer none. I been chewin' it steady ever since Manila Bay." "Rubber chewing-what a nasty habit," said the druggist. "Rag chewin's worse," was the sail-or's reply.-New Orleans Times-Demo-

Close Quarters For Washington.

At the time, now some years ago. when subscriptions were being solicited for the crection of a statue in New York city to President Washington a gentleman called to secure a contribution from an old resident who, although wealthy, was a little "near." On learning the object of the visit the rich man exclaimed:

"Washington! Washington! Why, Washington does not need a statue! I keep him enshrined in my heart!"

In vain were the yisitor's solicita-tions, and he was naturally indignant at the parsimony of the millionaire. "Well, Mr. R.," he remarked quietly as he rose to leave, "all I can say is that if the Father of His Country is in the position in which you describe him he is in a tight place!"

These runs were made possible by the fact that the Company has now reduced all grades and compensated all curves on the "Middle Division" on its main line betweenNewYork and Pittsburg, so that the ruling grade there is on .3 of one per cent. or less than 17 feet to the mile. The last step in this scheme of improvements was taken lately in the opening to service of the ment of the prostrate gland and advised four tracks involving radical revisions of grade and removal of curvature for the 11 miles between Mt. Union and Byde.

Formerly, it was necessary to have a "pusher," or extra locomotive, help long freight trains over the heavy grades. Now, it is possible for single locomotives unaided to accomplish

For a long time I was in a miserable condition, suffering from backache and sharp pains in my kidneys. I was restless at night, at times my feet became swollen and I was also subject to headaches and dizzy spells. I was unable to obtain relief until I procured Doan's Kidney Pills from Taggart's drug store. When I had finished the contents of the first box there was a great improvement and after I had used three or four boxes the backache had completely disappeared. I was no longer troubled with headaches or Railroad News.

A record achievement in the movement of a heavy freight trains has been accomplished on the Pennsylvania Railroad between Altoona and Enola, near Harrisburg, Pa. To determine what could be done in actual road service, as the result of some of the company's recent expenditures for improvements, 85 steel gondola cars loaded with a total 4,451 tons of coal were on Monday, June 14, attached to loco-motive No. 1113, a freight engine of the most improved type.

The total weight of the train was 6.151 tons and its length from the pilot of the locomotive to the rear platform of the cabin car was 3,000 feetnearly three-fiths of a mile. The run of approximately 124 miles was made in 7 hours and 15 minutes, the average speed of the train being about 17 miles per hour

The Company had made a number of road tests previously, but the performtis, asthma and consumption have found comfort and relief, by using Foley's Honey and Tar. Sold by all druggists. Altoona and Enola, prior to this record swollen. For sale at Taggart's.

The Ramblers.

Last Thursday evening there was a happy gathering at the home of W. S. Sterner, on Broad street, at which time the young ladies of the Ramblers were entertained by Messrs. Max Balcom, Claude Rentz and Lee Felt. The girls were very industrious and brought their sewing, it being the regular evening for the meeting of the Girls Sewing Society and the boys were certainly kept busy hunting thimbles and threading needles. When the young ladies were fatigued with their sewing and laughing, a light collation was served by the young men, after which the girls proceeded to the kitchen and washed the dishes. At mid-night the hosts escorted their fair guests to their homes. Those present were Misses Marion Rentz, Emma Ellis, Edith Heilman, Anna Welch, Bessie McQuay, Ethel Day and Alma Hertig.
