Disinfect

Some disinfectants and germicides might be classed as drugs but, you do not want to be drugged just now with a bug killer. However, now is the time to think of getting after the rose bugs and currant worms.

We have a full line of the "remedies" for that class of pests. Also a non-poisonous bed bug exterminator in small cans.

Will Entertain This Evening.

Quiet Seriously Ill.
We regret to announce that Carl Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Thompson, who is employed as chemist for the DuPont Powder Co., is confined to his home with an attack of rheumatism of a very serious nature.

The Brigade boys are in town this afternoon and all are happy, including of course, their sweethearts.

A Change of Mind.
Dentist—"Now, what can I do for you?" Patient (whose heart has failed her at the last moment)—"Oh! er—my teeth are perfectly all right, thanks. Er—what I really came for was to ask if you would—er—care to play golf with me—er—some time.—Punch.

His Four Seasons.
An amusing story is told by Sir W. H. Holland of the answer given by a London waiif to a Salvation Army captain. The zealous officer had asked the boy what work he did to provide him with food, etc., and the reply was: "I pick strawberries in the summer, I pick hops in the autumn, I pick pockets in the winter, and oakum for the rest of the year."

No Longer a Compliment.
It is no longer a great compliment to say that a man is "lionized." In the calculation of the modern huntsman the lion is a small and inconsequential animal. A real hero should be hippopotamusized or rhinocerosized.—Washington Star.

Lesson Learned from Nature.
It seems to me that to be quiet and to be active, or rather, to be quietly active, constantly going on with untriting energy, and yet so softly as scarcely to be perceptible, this seems to me to be an approach toward perfection. And this lesson we learn from nature, which is unceasingly and yet imperceptibly changing.—Anne J. Clough.

The Camp at Sizerville.

the ideal camp grounds be permanently selected and that a corporation be formed. Not another such spot could be found in this section better adapted for the purpose.

Very little sickness in camp. Some of the boys would eat green apples and paid the penalty. "Dr." Bliss' medicine case soon fixed them all right.

Among the arrivals at Sizer Springs Hotel during camp we note: Martha Widler, Maud Stevens, Renovo; Eleanor Berum, Bowling Green, Va.; C. O. Rose, Freeman Farrell, Mrs. A. F. Farrell, Sunbury, Pa.; Mrs. G. W. Her- rick, E. O. Aldrich and wife, St. Marys, Pa.; J. E. Owen, Spring Mills, N. Y.; J. C. Rowley and wife, Miss Rowley, Port Allegany; Nettie Merrimen, Hornell, N. Y.; Mrs. A. J. Tucker, Ethel Tucker, Naticooke, Pa.

Large attendance of visitors daily at camp. Everybody enjoyed the drills and soldiery bearing of the boys.

The Brigade hugely enjoyed Capt. Powell's instruction in calisthenics drill. Capt. Powell is a graduate of a Kentucky Military School and gave the boys especial attention.

Chaplain Robertson remained at camp continuously and looked carefully to the comfort of the several commands. His services from start to finish have been of incalculable value.

Maj. Bliss, veteran of the Spanish-American war, has given many months of time perfecting plans for this successful Encampment.

A PRESS representative called at Camp Howard last evening, guest of Hon. Josiah Howard, and found the boys happy but regretting that they could not remain another week. All officers were on duty and guards were doubled in order to prevent deserters or "rough camp." Our party consisting of Hon. Josiah Howard, A. F. Vogt, Capr. R. K. Mickey, W. A. Dalrymple and ye editor. It was a pleasant auto ride.

WILL BREAK CAMP TO-DAY.
The Encampment will close to-day at noon, all the commands leaving for home. The Boys will arrive here about noon for dinner. The Ridgway and St. Marys companies will leave for home on the 4:30 p. m., Express.

All are delighted with the week's outing.

Many Thanks.
Mrs. Kephart, of Salt Run, returns thanks to the Water Company for the bit of hay she received from them, from off their Salt Run farm. She says it was not very much but is very thankful for their generosity, as it will come in very good before spring. Mrs. K., says she came near falling off the load driving through the bushes along the road, as she had to be the substitute for their hired man, Duke Pie, as he had gone to Emporium, he said, to see his girl, and did not come back. Perhaps he is on his wedding trip and has not yet returned. However, Mrs. Kephart got her hay home all right and is ever so much obliged to Mr. Ed. Shaw for his neighborly kindness, in loaning them a horse. She says she had good neighbors if she does live on the mountain.

Barberous.
One of the most unfortunate things of life is that men get into wrong places. Sometimes the fault is not their own. Possibly their attention has not been called to the fact by wiser men that they might be more successful at something else. For instance, a man who is a poor barber might be a good fish scaler.—Boston Herald.

A Financier.
The negro, although proverbially improvident, sometimes has his weather-eye open. A man gave a dime to a young "darker" who had done him some trifling service. The darker handed it back. "Now, Marse Billy," he said, "you knows I doan' want no pay for what I does for you. Des gimme dat ole suit of clo'es youse got on."—Youth's Companion.

Pater—My son, this is hurting me as much as it is you.
Son—M-maybe, b-but not in the same place.
