PRIDE OF STATE IS NOW AN ISSUE

Pennsylvanians Glory in Record of Republicanism.

ECHOES OF HOME WEEK FETES

It is Predicted That the Vote at the Coming Election Will Emphasize Loyalty of Keystone State to Cause of Protection.

[Special Correspondence.] Harrisburg, Oct. 5.

There has developed in the present political campaign in Pennsylvania a remarkable condition which will unquestionably result in the polling of a large vote for the nominees of the Republican party.

A sentimental phase of the canvass which has been the subject of widespread comment is the outgrowth of "home week" celebrations which have been held recently at different points throughout the commonwealth.

It is manifested in an unusual display of state pride, of love for the grand old commonwealth of Pennsylvania and admiration for its traditions and glorious record.

The home coming of so many former citizens of the state at the gatherings held during the last few months gave an opportunity for the people to contrast conditions in Pennsylvania with those of other states of the Union.

There were comparisons made which could not but reflect credit upon the administration of affairs in this state. Upon every hand there were heard words of commendation of the splendid administration of Governor Stuart and of the conduct of the various departments of the state government which do not come directly under the jurisdiction of the chief executive.

Pennsylvanians Point With Pride.

Pennsylvanians are pointing with pride to the many wise and useful measures passed at the last session of the legislature, among which may be noted the strict laws to prevent the manufacture and sale of adulterated food stuffs and drugs, and for the protection of retail dealers from the crimes of such manufacturers as violate the law, the continued appropriation of the magnificent sum of $15,000,000 for common schools, liberal appropriations for hospitals, charities and public roads, ample provision for the care of the indigent insane, provisions for carrying on with vigor and effect the fight against tuberculosis and the careful and business-like examination and investigation of institutions receiving state aid.

The passage of the "Jones dirt road bill," giving the respective townships a liberal portion of the road tax paid in cash, and the appropriation for the payment of the 15 per cent formerly allowed, has been the subject of favorable comment in the rural districts.

State Without a Debt.

The fact that Pennsylvania is the only state in the Union which is practically out of debt has been the source of gratification to every citizen of the commonwealth.

It is also the only state in the Union which collects no state tax upon real estate, horses, sheep, cattle, farm implements or other personal property of any kind save only money at interest.

These and the many other conditions in the administration of state affairs commanding general approval are being considered by the voters in the present political canvass.

A Power in National Congress.

When former Pennsylvanians upon visits home from other states, particularly some of the western states, discussed the recent exhibition of the power of Pennsylvania in the national halls of congress in the shaping of the tariff legislation, they could not but speak in terms of admiration of the work of Senators Penrose and Oliver and their Republican colleagues in the national house of representatives in protecting the great industrial interests of Pennsylvania, in fostering the farm and dairy interests, in giving special safeguards to the tobacco growers of Lancaster and neighboring counties against foreign competition, and in other ways guaranteeing to the wage earners, capitalists and business men of the state a condition which it is predicted will inaugurate an era of unexampled prosperity.

With Republicans serving the people with extraordinary fidelity, both in state and national offices, the leaders of that party find that the candidates nominated by the recent Republican state convention are meeting with assurances of loyal support upon every hand.

They are accepted as the representatives of the party which has demonstrated its ability and its purpose to administer the affairs of the government in the interest of all of the people and for the common good.

Pennsylvania, according to all reports received here, is going to give an exhibition of civic pride in the vote at the coming election which will herald to the world the fact that the Keystone State continues to be the citadel of Republicanism as well as the home of protection.

REPUBLICAN VICTORY CERTAIN

Representative Citizens of Philadelphia Will Be Important Factors in Rolling Up a Big Republican Majority.

[Special Correspondence.] Philadelphia, Oct. 5.

Within the last few days the so-called reform movement in this city has been given a serious setback and there is now no doubt that the entire Republican ticket will be elected by a large majority.

The business and professional men of the community have entered into the campaign and have lined up solidly for the Republican candidates.

Some of the most representative merchants and manufacturers have taken the lead in a movement started by the Republican Business Men's association and are calling upon all who desire honest and efficient administration of affairs to support the Republican nominees. Not only will they send out a special appeal to Philadelphians to vote for these candidates, but they are planning for an immense mass meeting, at which prominent men will make addresses.

Following the action of the members of this association, there was a meeting of members of the bar, the largest meeting of the kind ever held in this city, at which resolutions were adopted strongly indorsing Samuel P. Rotan, the Republican incumbent, for re-election as district attorney. Over one thousand lawyers have signed an indorsement of Mr. Rotan.

Rotan's Election Conceded.

The effect of the aggressive attitude of the business men and the lawyers was shown in the editorial utterances of the independent newspapers, which have all indorsed the candidacy of Mr. Rotan. The only newspapers backing Gibboney, who is Mr. Rotan's opponent, are the Wanamaker newspapers, with which his political fortunes have been linked ever since he entered the game.

The large registration of voters is explained by the fact that the supporters of the Republican nominees have been unusually active in the several wards and have succeeded in getting a larger number of stalwart Republican voters registered than at any time since the registration law went into effect.

While the Gibboney men are making claims of strength upon the returns from the registration, they are not based upon facts and are part of a campaign of misrepresentation that has been under way since the primaries were held.

Mr. Rotan's public call upon the men who are charging election frauds to submit their evidence that the ballot boxes might be opened, has not been answered, and that issue has ceased to be a factor in the campaign.

The candidates on the state ticket have been receiving ovations wherever they have gone. They spent last week in the northeastern tier and in Mifflin, Union and Snyder counties. They are looked for the opening rally of the campaign in this city tonight, and tomorrow night they are invited to attend the reception to be tendered Senator Penrose by the Workingmen's Protective Tariff League.

Party Lines Are Drawn.

The opposition to the Republican nominees in the state campaign is absolutely confined to the old-time Democracy. The lines are sharply drawn, and Republicans and Democrats are rallying about the standards of their respective parties. There is not a trace of factionalism within the Republican organization. The lines are unbroken and the stalwart Republican hosts will march to the polls in solid phalanx on Nov. 2 and vote the full party ticket.

Judge Robert von Mosechzisker, nominee for justice of the supreme court; Senator A. E. Sisson, candidate for auditor general, and former Senator Jeremiah A. Stober, the party's choice for state treasurer, are all men of high standing and command the respect of all who know them.

While the election of all of them is conceded, there is a demand from those who have studied the situation from a broad standpoint for the exercise of special vigilance to guard against the dangers of over-confidence or indifference in the matter of getting out the party vote.

While this is what ordinarily would be classed as "an off year," it is, in fact, a very important year in the political history of Pennsylvania.

With the tariff revisionists already opening their campaign to carry a majority of the next congress, even if it shall be necessary to do so with the aid of Democratic votes, it behooves Republicans, who believe that the present tariff is going to greatly benefit all branches of industry, to by their votes enter an early protest against any and all schemes to reopen the tariff discussion, with the destruction of business interests that would inevitably follow.

"Quincy Adams Sawyer" Repeating its Success.

The phenomenal success of the book-play, "Quincy Adams Sawyer," is repeating itself again this season when crowded houses greet its every appearance. This popularity is attributed to the preceding fame of the book that extended from ocean to ocean, and that the play is in itself the most genuine piece of rural life ever given to lover of bucolic drama.

The simple pure charm of the book is distinctly preserved in the play. The characters are drawn so close to life that it requires an effort to be convinced that they are not real. They are just such types as are found in every New England village and portrayed by actors who are in perfect sympathy with their roles. In fact, it is a case of human nature appealing to human nature.

Another thing that people evidently appreciate is not having their pleasure of the artistic simpleness of the play marred by mawkish scenes and sloshy incidents. The amusing scenes—and those are what the play is made up of mainly—contain just wholesome, good nature, compelling laugh after laugh, and the sentimental parts consist of that kind of refined pathos that plays upon the heart strings with no discordant note.

The company representing this beautiful play carries with it all the equipments including four large sets of scenery, built especially for the production, all the lightning effects and all the properties. Theatre goers are looking forward to the treat in store for them when the play comes to the Emporium Opera House, Oct. 12.

Ten Doctors Said He Would Die

"In 1903 we wrote you regarding my husband, who was suffering from heart trouble. He was superannated by the North Georgian Conference. Ten doctors at different times said he would die. You advised Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy and Restorative Nervine; we did as advised, and improvement was apparent from the very first. He recovered and the Conference in 1904 gave him a charge. He never felt better, although he has very heavy work and does a great deal of camp meeting work. I am so glad we took your advice and gave him the medicine, and feel that I ought to let you know of the wonderful good results from its use."

MRS. T. S. EDWARDS, Milner, Ga. This proves what Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy will do. Get a bottle from your druggist and take it according to directions. SWEN MONEY A $10,000.00 Purchase of High Grade Furs at Average Saving of 1-3 Good fortune and an ever alert buyer "nipped this deal in the bud" and secured upwards to $10,000.00 worth of the season's best furs at an average saving of one-third. A New York furrier, with a national reputation for luxuriant furs, was forced to unload a portion of his immense stock which he was unable to finance with a limited capital. If we had purchased furs for an August Sale, far in advance of the season, we could not have guaranteed the styles—but now, when the winter fur styles are authoritatively known, we were prepared to select discriminately fashion's approved furs—from one of the richest fur stocks in New York City. Every fur, before being accepted was critically examined—therefore, we unhesitatingly place the A. M. & A. Co. Guarantee for style, genuineness and dependability on each and every fur exploited in this sale. You are invited to COME whether you purchase or not—it will be a treat to see the A. M. & A. Co. Furs—especially at one third less.
