The Doctor's Question

Some Advice Against the Use of Harsh Purgatives and Physics.

A doctor's first question when consulted by a patient, "Are your bowels regular?" He knows that 98 per cent. of illness is attended with inactive bowels and torpid liver. This condition poisons the system with waste matter and causes accumulation of gases which must be removed through the bowels before health can be restored.

Salts, ordinary pills and cathartics may be truly likened to dynamite. Through their harsh irritating action they force a passage through the bowels, causing pain and damage to the delicate intestinal structure which weakens the whole system, and at best only produces temporary relief. The repeated use of such treatments causes chronic irritation of the stomach and bowels, dries and hardens their tissues, deadens their nerves, stiffens their muscles and generally brings about an injurious habit which sometimes has almost, if not fatal results.

We have a pleasant and safe remedy for constipation and bowel disorders in general. We are so certain of its great curative value that we promise to return the purchaser's money in every case where it fails to produce entire satisfaction. This remedy is called Rexall Orderlies. We urge you to try them at our entire risk.

Rexall Orderlies are eaten like candy, they act quietly and have a soothing, strengthening, healing, regulative influence on the entire intestinal tract. They do not purge or gripe, cause nausea, flatulence, excessive looseness, diarrhoea or other annoying effects, and they may be taken at any time without inconvenience.

Rexall Orderlies overcome the drugging habit and safely remedy constipation and associate ailments, whether acute or chronic, expect in surgical cases. They are especially good for children, weak persons or old folks. Price, 36 tablets 25 cents, and 12 tablets 10 cents. Remember you can obtain Rexall Remedies in Emporium only at our store.—The Rexall Store, The Emporium Drug Co.

Letter From Pacific Coast.

Nothing seems to grow but sage brush. I saw some cows feeding on that, and they looked fat. I am sure a Pennsylvania cow would starve there. We crossed the Sierra Nevada Mountains. The road for nearly the whole distance across is covered with snow sheds, some said forty miles, but of course I don't know. There was some grand scenery on the mountains, but of course the sheds obstructed our view somewhat. There is no snow on the sheds now but I saw snow on a mountain not far away. But before we entered Oakland, Cal., our train crossed the bay on a ferry boat. We stayed in Oakland five hours. Some of us got off the car to get a little exercise, and when we came back our car was gone. We hunted around awhile and found it sidetracked quite a long way from the depot. We were glad to find it and I firmly decided to remain in it till I reached our destination. We left Oakland about six in the evening, and in the morning we were riding along the Pacific coast, and I enjoyed looking at the grand old ocean. At Los Angeles I found my brother waiting for me. We had been separated for about twenty-five years, and so we were almost strangers, but we were very glad to see each other again. We visited a fruit stand and got some delicious peaches, grapes, figs, etc., then boarded an electric car and after a delightful ride of about 17 miles reached his beautiful home at Santa Monica. How strange everything seemed to me at first; the trees, flowers, houses, and everything is so different than they are in the east. Such magnificent palm trees, the eucalyptus or gum tree of several varieties, and the beautiful pepper trees are all characteristic to me, and then the flowers. There is no use trying to describe them, it simply cannot be done. Timothy grass does not grow here, barley is raised for hay and grain for horses, and bean straw for cows. Bean straw is the pods, leaves and stalks of the lima bean, which is raised very extensively here. Potatoes and corn are grown but no buckwheat. Fruit of many kinds are here, but oranges do not grow so near the coast. The weather is delightful, not so warm in summer as it is in Pennsylvania. The nights are cool, and there is a delicious breeze from the ocean during the day. There has been no rain since February, with the exceptions of a couple of light showers, until October 2. Of course things are not looking at their best now, and will look much better when the rainy season is here. Santa Monica is a beautiful city, though the houses nearly all look small to me, but it is so lovely out of doors that one does not need to care much about houses.

Ocean Park and Venice, suburbs of Santa Monica, are beautiful summer resorts on the beach. There is beauty everywhere, but my descriptive powers are not equal to the task of conveying to your minds even a faint idea of things as they really are. I wish you could all see it and enjoy it with me. I am having a good time, though I often think of the loved ones far away. I am glad to be able to tell you that I found Seventh Day Adventists and have the privilege of attending meetings with them every Sabbath. I feel very grateful to my Heavenly Father, for His protecting care during my long journey, and earnestly pray that He may bless and keep you all, and that we may meet again, either in this life, or in the earth made new, where there will be no partings and all is joy and everlasting beauty and glory.

The Fascinating Career of "Miss Petticoats."

The heroine of this famous play caught the attention of the play-going public immediately on its production at the great Boston Theatre, and made a production hit because of her very original and charming personality. When first dramatized from the book and produced at the Boston Theatre about five years ago, it scored an immense success, and the critics were unanimous in pronouncing it "a strong emotional play, full of wholesome comedy and a quaint wit, that appeals to an old theatre-goer." Therein was the secret of the success of "Miss Petticoats." It pleased the old habitue of the theatre, who is looking for a new sensation, and found in this original play that pungent, spicy atmosphere which is like the real New England people themselves, where the play was laid. No more interesting scene can be imagined than the shores of an old whaling port like New Bedford, where in the quaint cabin home of a derelict whaler Agatha Benier, called "Miss Petticoats" as a pet name by her grand-father, made her home, until brought into the high and mighty seats of the rich. She graduates even from that set to the artistic circles of Paris, where as the Countess Fornay she creates a sensation, and finally returning to her native land, triumphs over all her former enemies, who have made her life interesting to her and the audience. There are many droll and unique characters peculiar to New England, who furnish forth great fun and frolic, that give the play a delightfully fresh environment. A powerful company, who carry their own new and artistic scenery descriptive of these fascinating scenes, will present "Miss Petticoats" at the Emporium Opera House in the near future.

HANDICAPPED

This is the Case With Many Emporium People.

Too many Emporium citizens are handicapped with a bad back. The unceasing pain causes constant misery, making work a burden and sleeping or lifting an impossibility. The back aches at night, preventing refreshing rest and in the morning is stiff and lame. Plasters and liniments may give relief, but cannot reach the cause. To eliminate the pains and aches you must cure the kidneys.

Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys and cure them permanently.

The following statement should convince every Emporium reader of their efficacy.

J. W. Lahive, 126 Grant St., Ridgway, Pa., says: "Doan's Kidney Pills have been of such great benefit that I can highly recommend them. For years I was more or less troubled with kidney complaint and suffered acutely from pains in my side. This trouble inconvenienced me in many ways and I knew that it arose from disordered kidneys, as the secretions were unnatural and distressing in passage. I was advised to try Doan's Kidney Pills and immediately procured a box. In a short time I felt better in every way. I am glad to give Doan's Kidney Pills my recommendation."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.
