CRUISE AROUND THE WORLD.

Interesting Letters from Hon. George J. LaBar and Wife.

On Board the Steamer "Cleveland," Friday, Oct. 22, 1909.

DEAR FRIENDS AT HOME:—

This is our first attempt to write more than to one friend at a time but having so many to whom our thoughts go out to, as we think of those who were at the depot the night we left home, and are sure there were many who were not there at that time to bid us good-bye and God speed. We could not write to all, excepting in this way, and believe you will read in the spirit it is written, as friend to friend. We hear lectures on board this ship and talks on places we are going to visit; many here have already been to most of the places. I would, if I could, borrow some of the talent on board the ship that I might take all with us in imagination and almost see them, as some lecturers we have listened to have done, on the places we are to visit. If I could, I would not want to return it, I fear, and just here for the benefit of our school girls and boys, whose privilege it may some time be to take this or similar trips. The more education we have the more we can get from traveling, and youth is the time to accumulate that greatest of fortunes that cannot be bought, borrowed or stolen.

The "Cleveland," the ship on which we are sailing, is truly a floating palace. So immense is it that we know little more of our neighbors or what may be taking place in another part of the ship, than we would in a city. There are four dining rooms. We have seen them all, but the one in which we are seated is very large, seating about two hundred. There are beautiful parlors, elevator and dance hall. Each six o'clock dinner is served in courses, so beautifully served, and if we do not have all we can eat and drink and enjoy the grand music at dinner and afterwards every where, we cannot blame management of this boat. Lunch served between each meal if we wish. The gymnasium is of great interest, especially to those ladies who wish to reduce their flesh. There are horses to ride and many other things for exercise. I think if I could see the ship at a distance to-night I would see a lovely sight, lighted all around the deck with different colored electric lights, while those who love dancing are engaged in that and others who care more for lectures have that pleasure. Flags of every nation are draped around the deck.

The first morning on the ship was Saturday morning, one week to-morrow, and we have been sailing, since we left New York City, amid music from this and other vessels, it being the first trip of this kind and quite an event. This is Friday night and we expect to reach Madeira on Sunday, some time. I must tell you the lovely sound that greeted our ears last Sabbath morning when we heard "Nearer My God to Thee," played by the band before we left our rooms. To those of us who are unaccustomed at being between sky and ocean, the sound struck a responsive chord.

On Sunday morning, we had preaching services and in the evening, prayer and song service. We heard a very good lecture on Madeira last night. I will repeat a story he told us about a man who was taking his first trip on the ocean and being on for a short time. It began to be rough and he was quite alarmed and went to the captain who assured him there was no danger but it became still rougher and again he went to the captain who told him he would show him the point in danger to go with him. He led him down to the hold, where men were playing cards, drinking and swearing and told the man that when these men cease that there was danger; after which he passed the captain making several trips and at last being still more alarmed made another trip and finding them still swearing turned and said, "Thank God they are still at it." Friday we passed near a school of spouting whales also porpoise and a number of flying fish, also one sea turtle. All the marine life we have seen in 2500 miles, the weather has been very fine all the time; have not seen a vessel of any kind since leaving New York City, in fact we seem to have the ocean all to ourselves and such jolly good natured set of people I never saw, all seeming to vie with each other in trying to be happy and make others so. Mr. J. P. Felt and Mr. Mattison are well and enjoying the trip. We four are cozily situated at one table, where we meet three times a day for our meals. This is Saturday morning, October 23, and we are expecting to see land to-morrow, after which we will tell you about Madeira.

Respectfully,
MR. AND MRS. GEO. J. LABAR.

"Ma's New Husband."

"Ma's New Husband" spells mirth in the very title. Talk of love under difficulties; this three act musical farce furnishes more difficulties in half an hour for a pair of lovers than are ordinarily encountered in a courtship that lasts several years. And the crowning virtue of the obstacles in this case lies in the fact that they never call for tears, except when the excessive laughter evoked brings them to cool cheeks aflame from risible exertion. All this, and more, has been true of the appearance of "Ma's New Husband" in other cities, and theatre goers here will have an opportunity to judge for themselves, when the piece will be presented at the Emporium Opera House, Tuesday evening, Nov. 23.

Fancy and Plain White Aprons.

The Ladies' Sewing Society of Emmanuel Church are prepared to take orders for fancy or plain white aprons at the Parish House on Thursday afternoons between the hours of three and six.

Deer Season Opens.

Well, the deer season is on and by the way the hunters are flocking to the Fork is evidence that venison will be plenty and cheap. The woods are full of hunters, who have been moving in since the 10th; more than 800 permits have already been granted this season, besides campers who are camping on state lands. One party arrived last Thursday, and are well supplied with the necessary refreshments, having 30 kegs of beer, two casks of whiskey and two cases of old fire. It took four teams to deliver the outfit to the camp. All of the others are well provided with "snake bite" medicine and "anti-toxine" for buck fever. Dr. Corbett took the temperature of several Saturday night and says their fever was away up.

O. L. Bailey moved to his camp on Friday and a big buck came along to take a look at them. John Logue says it was the same buck that awakened him when he fell asleep on a log last fall.

Frank Wolfe and party moved out to their camp on Rock Run, Saturday while Henry Berfield and his crew looked on Cooks Run, Friday; Frank Burke and party are located on Two Mile Run and reported seeing one on Friday; Alvin Smith and company are camping on Cooks Run; Seth Nelson has taken his stand on Mill Run with a party of ten; Frank Miller and crew are at Arksill Run for a week; Crum Bro's moved into their camp at the head of Little Jerry Run on Saturday. Wash Crum of St. Marys, accompanied them in his new hunting suit.

The mighty hunter and his crack shots, Jas. R. Batchelder and other "Daniel Boons" are well situated in Lower Pier Draft of Wyckoff Run; J. C. Durr and friends are situated at Painter Rocks; J. C. Wilcox and a party of friends are at Big Spring, Rathbun; Jack Mead and party will hunt at Old Pine Camp at Rathbun. These crews alone will be sufficient to wipe out the game.

Jim Batchelder captured two more bear last week and did not leave them in the traps until they were dead either. It is too bad to do that, brother.

A party of capitalists and practical powder men, were here last week, locating a site for the new dynamite plant at Wyeide. Work on the new plant will begin about the 20th of this month, which will give work to a great many men this fall and winter. W. H. Metzger of Idamar, Pa., is talking of moving back as soon as the new plant is commenced. No doubt a good many more who have had to go away to get work, since Barclay Bros mill shut down will move back into their properties that they have here.

The second of who burned up Mrs. John Logue's hay should be treated to a coat of tar and feathers. We have no room for such characters here.

A Great Event.

The Mountaineer Hose Company, No. 1, are sparing no effort to make their Thanksgiving dance a great success and in view of the extensive advertising they are doing, we feel that this will surpass, by far, any dance given in Emporium heretofore. The management informs us that several hundred electric lights of various colors will be used for decorating purposes and that especially arranged electrical features will be used in connection with a number of their dances. This together with the excellent supper and music which they are promising, should make this dance attractive and enjoyable for both old and young.

The Mountaineer Hose Co., the pioneer fire organization of the Borough, is composed mostly of young men who are always ready and willing to respond to a fire alarm. During the past year they have expended several hundred dollars for improved fire fighting apparatus, we feel that every property owner, insurance payer and in fact every resident of Emporium, as well as visitor, is indebted to these boys for their support and patronage at this dance.

"Ma's New Husband."

To know when, and when not to laugh has made many a man's and many a woman's fortune. One of the rare exceptions, which proves the truth of this, is, "Ma's New Husband." This screaming musical farce does not give you time to exercise discretion. It forces you to laugh, whether you like to or not, and to laugh all the time. In fact it is a depository for unlimited laughs on which you draw constantly for two hours and thirty minutes. See it at the Emporium Opera House, Tuesday evening, Nov. 23.

Basket Ball.

Last Friday evening marked the opening of the basket ball season for Emporium and was between Renovo and the home team. The result was a victory for Renovo, by the score of 37 to 22. The game was well played by both teams. On Saturday evening the local team went to Eldred and were defeated by that team.

Next Friday evening the Emporium High School will play the Renovo High School at Renovo.

"Lena Rivers."

The presentation of "Lena Rivers" which is to be made at the Emporium Opera House on Thursday evening, Nov. 18, should prove highly diverting. It would seem as if every one had read Mrs. Mary J. Holmes' book, and it would also seem as if every one who has done so, wants to see the play dramatized from it.

Popular Production Coming.

"Lena Rivers" will be produced at opera house, Thursday evening, Nov. 18th. This will be a great attraction.

Flats for Rent.

Flats in Odd Fellows block for rent. Apply to Geo. A. Walker. 39-4f.

MRS. HOWARD DIES AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Widow of Late Lumberman and Prominent Mason was Honored Through City for Her Charity and Goodness of Heart—Remembers Williamsport Institutions.

[Williamsport Bulletin, Nov. 15th, 1909.]

Mrs. Amanda E. Howard, widow of the late William Howard, a former prominent lumberman of this city, died at her residence, 1139 West Fourth street last evening at 8:40 o'clock.

Mrs. Howard was associated with the charitable interests of Williamsport and was honorary life president of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Baldwin I. Commandery, Knights Templar. Funeral services will be held at Trinity Episcopal church on Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock—to which friends are invited.

Mrs. Howard had been ill for some time and for several weeks sought to regain her health at Atlantic City.

Mrs. Howard will be always remembered by the people of Williamsport for her good works, and it is understood that many charitable institutions of this city will be benefited by her will. Friends of the dead lady say that she has substantially provided for the Williamsport hospital, and that among other memorials to her charity in this institution will be a free bed.

CARRIED OUT HUSBAND'S WISH.

It was through the instrumentality of Mrs. Howard that the wishes of her husband, the late William Howard, regarding the erection of the Howard Memorial of the Scottish Rite Cathedral in this city were carried out. During the last days that the late William Howard lived, he planned, with leading members of the Masonic fraternity for the erection of the memorial, but before he gave the money, or provided for the erection of the structure in his will, death called him. Mrs. Howard knew of the wishes of her husband, and in consultation with members of the fraternity assured them that she desired a portion of his estate set aside for the memorial. In order to put the matter on a firm legal basis a friendly suit in equity was instituted and Mrs. Howard testified to the wishes of her husband and told of a verbal agreement he had made with the Masonic body here.

As a result of her action the magnificent memorial in East Fourth street was erected and stands as a monument to the generosity of her husband and of herself.

Our citizens, very generally, deeply regret the death of Mrs. Howard, who resided in Emporium for many years and was highly respected. She came to Emporium in the fall of 1868 from Mehoppany, Wyoming county, Pa., her birth place, with her first husband, Frank Crane. Her maiden name was Ross and was a niece of the late Judge Solomon Ross. After the death of her husband, by strict economy and excellent business judgment, she accumulated considerable property.

About sixteen years ago, she married William Howard, now deceased, of Williamsport, to whom she was a wise help-mate. We knew her intimately and enjoyed, in a measure, her confidence. Deceased leaves four sisters and one brother. Her funeral took place at Williamsport yesterday afternoon from Trinity Episcopal Church and was very largely attended, a number from this place attending.

Another Emporium Boy Makes Good.

Nothing delights us more than when we see an Emporium boy climb up the ladder and many, very many, Emporium products are now occupying positions of honor and responsibility. The last, but not least, to enter the race for position in the world, is Don M. Larrabee, of Williamsport, who was recently selected as secretary of the Williamsport Board of Trade, a very exacting and responsible position. We congratulate our friend, feeling that the Press was a little bit responsible for his walk-ahead gait, he having been with us for two years. While speaking of his appointment the Williamsport Bulletin, the nearest and one of the most ably conducted dailies in the state, says: "It not only places the position in capable hands, but it enlists in the service of Williamsport a young man who has everybody's confidence. Mr. Larrabee is well known among business and professional men. His standing as a lawyer is unimpeachable. He has the four essentials of energy, enthusiasm, progressiveness and popularity, and there can be no doubt of his ability. Thus equipped, he enters Williamsport's service with a determination to do all that lies within his power, which is much."

As Solid as the Rock of Gibraltar

Bank Examiner W. J. Robertson visited Emporium last Monday on his semi-annual investigation of the First National Bank. Of course he found our banking institution one of the best in the state and ranking with the leading banks of the country. The large assets of the First National Bank, now almost one million dollars, is a self evident fact that the public has faith in its safe, sane and judicious business management.

DEATH'S DOINGS.

"The Isle of Spice."

Uninterrupted success and quite indestructible popularity have, evidently, combined to make "The Isle of Spice," this season, more tuneful, more splendid, more generally attractive than ever. At Emporium Opera House in the near future.

"Lena Rivers."

When Nixon & Co., decided to put out a production of "Lena Rivers," dramatized from Mrs. Mary J. Holmes' novel, they immediately engaged Miss Buelah Poynter, to make the book into play form. Miss Poynter made a careful study of the book and then decided to visit the scenes of the book, as the story is a true one in a great many respects. This play will be presented at the Emporium Opera House, Thursday evening, Nov. 18th.

Class Baked Goods Sale.

Next Saturday, Nov. 20th, Mrs. John H. Day's class of the Presbyterian Sunday School will hold a bread and cake sale at the Theatorium. A full line of home-made bread, cakes, pies, baked beans, etc., will be ready for your Saturday and Sunday meal, so give the young ladies a call. Also help to make the sale a success by sending good things from your own ovens and—then buy somebody else's baking.

The Cruise Around the World.

Mr. Clark writes, "New York, Nov. 15th, 1909. The Cruise of the 'Cleveland' progresses nicely, the steamer having just been reported as arriving at Bombay. At this point many of the party will leave the ship to visit Agra and other inland points.

Letters just received from Naples testify to the excellent management and ship's service, and all on board are very happy.

FRANK C. CLARK.

New Books Added.
