A DOCTOR'S PRESCRIPTION FOR PIMPLES

To remove Pimples, Blackheads, Blotches, and all forms of skin eruptions, is, according to a well known physician, a very easy matter; he says that many are afflicted with some one of the above ailments, and are subject to a great deal of embarrassment on account of the unsightly appearance which they present, and recommends the following simple, harmless and inexpensive treatment. Go to your druggist and get this prescription filled: Clearola one-half ounce, Ether one ounce, Alcohol seven ounces, mix, shake well and apply to the parts affected night and morning, allowing it to remain on the skin at least ten minutes, then wipe off the powder from the skin. Use a soft cloth or sponge in applying the mixture and in from ten days to two weeks your face will be smooth and clear as a marriage bell. Get the Pure Clearola, which is only put up in one-half ounce packages. Ask to see it.

Charter Notice.

NOTICE is hereby given that an application will be made to the Governor of the State of Pennsylvania, on Monday, December 29th, 1909, by George P. Jones, Lyman Wiley and C. W. Rissell, under the Act of Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, entitled, "An Act to provide for the incorporation and regulation of certain corporations," approved April 29th, 1874, and the supplements thereto, for the charter of an intended corporation to be called, "CAMERON POWDER MANUFACTURING COMPANY," the character and object of which is the manufacture and sale of explosives and the apparatus and materials for exploding the same and for these purposes to have, possess and enjoy all the rights, benefits and privileges of the said Act of Assembly and its supplements. JOHNSON & McNARNEY, Solicitors. 41-31.

NOTICE TO THE STOCKHOLDERS OF THE EMPORIUM POWDER MANUFACTURING COMPANY.

NOTICE is hereby given that there will be a meeting of the stockholders of the Emporium Powder Manufacturing Company at the office of the said Company, at Emporium, Pa., on Wednesday, the 15th day of December, A. D. 1909, between the hours of two o'clock and four o'clock in the afternoon of the said day, for the purpose of altering and amending the by-laws of the said Company, at which time and place there will be submitted to the meeting for the rejection or approval, to be determined by a vote of its stockholders holding a majority in interest of all its stock, the following amendment: To amend Article II, Section I, so the same shall read as follows: Article II, Section I. The regular meeting of the stockholders and the election of a Board of Thirteen Directors shall be held at the office of the said Company, in Emporium, Pa., on the 3rd Tuesday in January of each year, between the hours of two and four o'clock in the afternoon of the said day. Notice of such meeting to be published in two of the newspapers of Emporium, Pa., and a copy of said notice to be mailed to all stockholders at their last known address, at least two weeks before the proposed meeting. FRANK SHIVES, President. Emporium, Pa., November 30th, 1909.

Knew It Was a Canal.

Some of these youngsters who are studying physiology have as hard a time as their parents figuring out the terms used in that profoundly interesting subject. One little girl, according to her mentor, was asked the other day to name the three openings into the throat. For the benefit of the gentle reader who may not have studied his physiology recently it may be stated that the openings are the epiglottis, the esophagus and the alimentary canal. The little girl had tried awfully hard to remember those names because she had a hunch that the teacher would ask her to give them. She started bravely. "The epiglottis," she began and hesitated. "Right you are," encouraged the teacher. "What then?" "The—um—ah—sarcophagus?" she inquired a little dubiously. "You mean esophagus, my dear," suggested the teacher. "And the third?" "The Erie canal!" announced the little girl confidently and triumphantly.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

The Bucket Shop.

"Bucket shops"—a name now used to denote small "outside" stockbrokers or financiers not in membership with the Stock Exchange—were so called because when they first started in Chicago the only commodity dealt in by small speculators to any extent was wheat. The legitimate dealers would not handle an order for less than 5,000 bushels, and then a lot of places sprung up where men of limited capital could speculate with very small sums, and these men were spoken of contemptuously as buying and selling wheat by the bucketful; hence shops where a small business was conducted in grain on a margin came to be known as bucket shops. The term was finally extended to cover all brokerage offices where small lots of either grain or stock were bought and sold, and it was applied particularly to those places where both seller and buyer did not more than "gamble" on the rise and fall of stocks.

Bows on Men's Hats.

Why is it that a man's hat has a band, and why is it that band has a bow invariably on the left side? The answer is that there was a time when a piece of cloth adjusted to the head and tied with a band of other material served for a headpiece. The reason the bow was always placed on the left side had its origin in the fact that in wielding a sword—an accomplishment possessed by nearly every one of consequence at one period of the world's history—the bow or rosette if placed on the right side would have been in the way. Its present day utility is that it keeps most men from wearing their hats hind side before, and, although with most hats that would not matter, with most heads it does.—Chicago Record-Herald.

On the Moon.

The question "Could a man live on the moon?" has been put to an eminent astronomer, who replied: "I am afraid not. A man transplanted to the moon would find himself the lone inhabitant of a perfectly lifeless orb in which eternal silence reigns. He would have to manage without air, water or fire. He would not need to put windows in his house, for there is no wind, no rain, no dust, upon the moon. It has been truly and practically observed that the moon is apparently abandoned to death, nourishing no inhabitants, producing nothing resembling trees, flowers or beautiful things of any kind—useless, in short, except as a mass of extinct volcanic rubbish, which drags the sea into tides and reflects the sunbeams in moonlight."

The Dean's Retort.

One Sunday morning at Caunton church Dean Hole noticed a tipsy man in the congregation. He bore his presence until it was no longer possible and then came to a halt with the question, "Are you fit to remain in God's house?" The man got up unsteadily and was helped to the door. "James," said Hole after the service was over, "what did you do with him?" The useful parishioner replied, "I put him on a tombstone, sir." The indignant vicar's retort was, "Couldn't you have put him under it?"—London Mail.

Names in Politics.

"I want to make a name for myself in politics," said the ambitious youth. "Well," answered Senator Sorghum, "it's liable to be a long and difficult enterprise. You'll probably have to put in a considerable share of your fine allowing your enemies to call you any names they happen to think of."—Washington Star.

His Claim to Fame.

"Who was this fellow Pepsys, and what is his claim to fame?" "His claim to fame is well founded, my friend. He's the man who kept a diary for more than a year!"—Kansas City Journal.

Cause For Surprise.

Belle—Mr. Higgins started to kiss me, last night. Beulah—And weren't you surprised? "I should say I was. He didn't do it."—Yonkers Statesman.

His Preparation.

"Listen to this charming bit of obituary sentiment," said a cynical bachelor: "He had been married forty years and was prepared to die."—Ladies' Home Journal.

We accomplish more by prudence than by force.—Tacitus.
