James Murphy, of Chicago, formerly of this place, is spending a few days in town visiting old friends and acquaintances.

Ben. G. Hackett, of Sinnamahoning, was at the county seat on Wednesday and was a business caller at the Press office.

J. B. Hiney, of Sterling Run, accompanied by Prothonotary W. J. Leavitt, were agreeable Press callers on Tuesday and looked through our new home. They expressed great satisfaction with our plant.

H. J. Darrin's hopes are blasted. Learning that C. G. Minick, Gordon Howlett and Brooks Hiney were going to South Carolina, he delegated Gordon to look up his old army musket he lost after being taken prisoner. They did not go, so Henry's musket is surely lost.

Dr. E. O. Bardwell went to Penn Yan, N. Y., on Tuesday to visit with his brother and family for a week. He expects to be absent only a few days, returning the fore part of next week. Dr. W. H. Bush will attend to his patients during his absence.

Frank B. Hoag, of Cameron, was a pleasant Press caller on Monday and pushed his date ahead for another year.

Claude E. Rentz arrived in Emporium last Saturday afternoon from Pittsburgh to spend the holidays.

Prof. R. Howard Edgar is spending the holiday season the guest of his father, at Wilmerding, Pa.

Prof. W. Grier Briner departed for his home at Carlisle, Pa., on Saturday where he will spend his vacation.

Miss Jean McNarney, who is attending State College, is spending her vacation at her home, at this place.

Miss Etta Holcomb spent last Sunday and Monday with friends at Jamestown, N. Y., and Erie, Pa.

Rodney Shives, who is attending school at Buffalo, is home for the festive season.

Messrs. Harry E. Elliot and A. W. Phillips, of Sinnamahoning, were business callers at this place, on Saturday, evening.

P. D. Larry, of Ridgway, called on friends at this place, last Sunday afternoon between trains.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Davison, of Ridgway, called on their many friends at this place, last Sunday.

Mrs. Arthur Kline, of National Mine, Mich., arrived in town last Tuesday, and will visit relatives for some time.

Ex-Prothonotary C. Jay Goodough has been confined to his room for several days, suffering with an attack of plourisy. He is able to be out again.

Miss Carrie Huff, who has been assistant postmaster at Austin, has resigned her position and returned to her home at this place.

Chas. Diehl and wife, of Cleveland, O., are guests at the Judge LaBar residence, West Fifth street.

Mrs. Gay A. Klees is spending the week at St. Marys, guest of relatives.

Miss Kate Metzger, who is attending school at Oberlin, O., arrived at home this noon, to spend her vacation with her parents and many friends.

Messrs. John T. and Chas. J. Howard are spending several days, transacting business at Williamsport, Olean and Buffalo.

Mrs. Rose Lapold and daughter, and Misses Mary and Florence and Master Edward Weisman, of Olean, are guests at the home of Joshua Bair and family, East Fifth street. J. M. Bair, of Salamanca, John Weisman, Olean, and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bair, Jersey Shore, are expected here for Christmas.

Frank Bowen, the popular clerk at Frank Shives', expects to spend the holidays with his parents at Bradford.

Merry, Merry Xmas and a Happy and Prosperous New Year to all our patrons. MEISEL'S CANDY KITCHEN.

New Year's Dance.

The approaching New Year's Dance to be given by the Rescue Hook and Ladder Company, of this place, on Friday evening (New Year's Eve) promises to be a very enjoyable affair. The popular Germania Orchestra, of Lock Haven, will furnish the music, which in itself bespeaks a good time. The committee in charge are exerting every effort to make the dance a success, both socially, and financially. Everyone should turn out and help.

A Pretty Gift.

Ye Editor was the recipient of a pretty and useful gift, from J. H. Moorehouse, of the firm of Johnston, Moorehouse, Dickey Company, of Pittsburg, this morning. The gift is in the form of a deck of cards in a leather case with tally cards. Please accept our sincere thanks.

A Food of Plaster.

Last Monday afternoon the water pipes in the bath room of the residence of Mr. Charles J. Howard and family froze and bursted and loosened the plaster on the ceiling in the dining room, causing the same to drop. The table was all prepared for dinner and everything was completely covered with plaster—and Chas. was not at home to enjoy (?) it.

AN EXCITING RIDE.

Galloping Over a Rough Mountain Road in the Andes.

In going over one of the mountain roads on the way to the crest of the Andes the traveler has need of steady nerves. A passage in "The Andean Land," by C. S. Osborn, describes the journey.

The road is narrow and rocky and rutty and steep, with no walls to speak of except tumbledown ones that increase the danger by their false suggestion of safety, and in one place the wagon would fall 2,000 feet if it should roll off the edge of the mountain.

The road has no graceful sweeps or round, easy curves as it takes its way up the titanic heights, but rather it zigzags like the teeth of a saw, ascending in short stretches and doubling back at sharply acute angles, leaving very little room for a team and wagon to turn in when driven slowly and carefully and two abreast.

Now, imagine, if you can, the horses driven madly in a gallop, no trot—that would be slow—but in quick, short, jerky jumps, such as the mustang-like animals would make under the saddle when pressed.

The short, high coach follows the cavorting horses, jerking, careening and springing like a small boat sailing in a wildly choppy sea. You perceive that the wheels are strong and the springs, too, and the whole rig evidently intended for chariot racing.

The driver groans, yells, whistles shrilly, cracks his thick rawhide whip, lashes his horses and does everything he knows that will inspire fear and induce speed. All this you become accustomed to in a measure on your dash up the narrow road dug into and blown out of the giant ribs of the towering mountains.

AN INSPIRING TRIBUTE.

Touching Scene That Occurred in the House of Representatives.

From a volume by Hon. A. E. Stevenson, "Something of Men I Have Known," is taken this account of an incident which deserves a place in memory:

A touching scene occurred in the house of representatives a number of years ago when an aged member from New Jersey arose and for the first time addressed the speaker. All eyes were turned in his direction as he stood calmly awaiting recognition. He was tall, spare and erect. His venerable appearance and kindly expression, coupled with most courteous manners, at once commanded attention. As in husky tones he again said "Mr. Speaker" there came from the furthest end of the great hall in a whisper, but distinctly heard by all, the words, "Sweet Alice, Ben Bolt." A moment later and from the floor and gallery many voices blended in the familiar refrain, "Don't you remember sweet Alice, Ben Bolt?"

The ovation which immediately followed was such as is rarely witnessed in the great hall. Business was suspended for the moment and the hand of the new member warmly grasped by the chosen representatives of all parties and sections. It was an inspiring tribute, one worthily bestowed. The member was Thomas Dunn English, author of the little poem, sung in palace and cottage, which has found its way into all languages and touched all hearts.

The Man Behind the Gun.

The late Admiral Erben had the good fortune or the merit to originate a world circling phrase, "the man behind the gun." He used it in a speech on the factors of success in naval warfare to emphasize the necessity of having efficiency, preparedness, run through the entire personnel. It was also a reminder that the enlisted men have a good deal more to do with bringing about victory than always appears in history or official reports. The expression was employed in supplementing the views of Captain Mahan and attained circulation at once as epitomizing a whole library of instruction.—Boston Transcript.

The Waters Under the Earth.

Below a depth of six miles under the surface of the earth's crust it is believed that no water can exist in the rock formations, because the tremendous pressure probably closes all pores. But above that level the quantity of underground water is estimated to be equal to one-third of all the water contained in the oceans. If poured over the land surface of the globe the underground water would, it is averred, be sufficient to cover it to a uniform depth of from 3,000 to 3,500 feet.

Rapid Transit.

In response to a growing demand in his home a certain author once went to his father's house, borrowed the family high chair and started taking it home by hand. He had to wait long for his car, and when it finally came as conductor was a humorist.

"Aren't you pretty big for that chair?" that official ventured
"Yes," admitted Webster wearily "I grew up while waiting for the car."—Success Magazine.

Exclusive.

"My ancestors came over in the Mayflower," said the haughty lady.
"Oh, yes," rejoined Mrs. Cumrox, with interest. "Mine didn't. None of my family ever cared for those big excursions."—Washington Star.

Genius.

"Why is it," asks a writer in Fliegende Blätter, "that when a man discovers that he is a genius he allows his hair to grow long and that when a woman becomes similarly conscious she has her hair cut short?"
