Interesting Letters From Hon. George J. LaBar and Wife.

On Board the Steamer, "Cleveland," Sea of Japan, January 1, 1910. DEAR FRIENDS :

After two days of uneventful running, on December 29th we are nearing the coast of Japan. At eleven a. m., it started to rain and rained_quite hard all day and night. We passed a few islands and the coast line, which were quite mountanious. At 2:15 we pass into the outer harbor and anchor for a while, then pass further in and anchor close to Nagasaki. We found two of our cruisers lying here, the Maryland and Colorado. They gave us quite a reception. We were met by a committee of Japs, in boats, bringing flowers and cheering loudly. They were accompanied by a boat sending up daylight fireworks, of the most beautiful kind The Japanese and the U.S. Flags would float out together as they had bursted and sailed in the air. One contained a man and a woman who danced and bowed to each other as they sailed through the air. Amid cheers and fireworks we proceeded to land and as we get off at the wharf a committee, and others, stood in line and welcomed us by cheering and bowing, as we passed through to the waiting Rickshaws, hundreds in number, in which we started off to see 'I'he men, women and the town. children were all cheering and wearing the Japanese and U.S. flags. Everything was decorated and even piles of vegetables, made in mounds to represent the flag. Everybody looked happy and pleasant as if each one of us were a personal friend, who came on a visit. They kept it up all day; wherever we stopped tea and cakes were waiting for us, with dainty little Japanese girls and ladies to wait on us. At one place we entered a store and we were asked to "step in here please." We did and there we found five or six of the dantiest little girls, about nine or ten years of age. They brought us a cap of tea and cake and when we had finished they made us a present of the cup and saucer. We put in the whole of next day visiting around and in the evening they had an immense Japanese lantern parade, with the band playing American music I should have stated that the first evening they opened one of their best theatres, for us, all and free. It was raining and we did not go, but many did and pro_ nounced it a fine affair. I should have said more about the flowers. They were placed in baskets, each basket being at least three feet across. There must have been at least a bushel of flowers of various kinds in each basket. also a rose and fan for each one. Well, all good things must end and yesterday the 31st, at two p. m., amid the cheering and playing of bands we slip out of the harbor and start on our to Kobe. A great many stayed up to see the year 1910 start in proper shape. About 12:30 a. m., we heard the anchor go out and we laid by till morning. We had gotten among so many islands that it was not safe to go on. We were up early next morning and found four other vessels also waiting. We did start until nine o'clock and then we could see the beautiful scenery we were passing. Islands everywhere, all looking green and fertile, a very fine view. As it is near dinner time will say good bye for this time, with best wishes to all for a happy New Year.

which was high and very steep and where about two hundred years ago, when getting tired of the Jesuits, who had possession of all their lands and were oppressing them very much. They rounded them all up, followers and all, and took them up to the top of this island and pitched them off the hill, into the water below. They then went to a trading station on one of the islands, the only place where they alarmed foreign traders and asked them if they were Christians. They said they were Dutch, and they left them alone. I also forgot to mention, that we attended a reception of the U. S. Consul General and the Governor of Nagasaka, which was very fine. HONOLULU, H. I., January 20, 1910. DEAR FRIENDS :-

On January 6th, at 12 noon, we dropped anchor, in the harbor of Yokohoma and landed at two p. m. We took Rickshaws for a ride around the place, which is getting to be a common occurrence. We found a more modern town than we have yet visited in Japan. The streets are well paved and have quite a few of up-to-date houses. The people were not so enthsiustic over our coming, as they are more used to seeing Americans and Europeans. However, they gave us a right good welcome, and made our stay very pleasant. There were not many places of importance to show us, only what might be seen in any city. Howerer, we visited a very nice garden and also a race track, on a hill from which we had a fine view of the surrounding country. About 9:45 the next morning, we took the train for Kanizawa, about one hour's ride through a well cultivated country ; some hills, under two of which we passed, and as usual in all Eastern countries, every inch of land is treated and producing something for food, every ravine, away up the hill where there did not lock to be more than two feet wide and the hills also if it is not all We arrived at Kanizawa rocks. in due time and proceeded to see that town; very pretty and quaint, nestling among and all over low hills. We found on the top of one of these hills a bronze Budda, fifiy feet high, in a sitting posture and a very pleasant countenance. He had been there for seven hundred years, waiting for us and this was our first visit. We concluded to have our pictures taken with him, so a dozen or more or more of us clambered in his lap and a native photographer took our picture for 75c each, of which I have two, and can show you when we get home. If we have not been to Heaven on this trip we have at least sat on the lap of a god. We found a very fine hotel here, at which we took lunch and then strolled down to the beach to see the fishermen draw in their nets. I expected to see some fine fish, that I might have a fish story to tell, at least, and vary the monotony from temples and gods, to something else. The biggest fish that I saw was about six inches long. As we could not talk with them we did not learn what use they put them to. We returned to Yokohoma about 3 p. m., and paid a visit to Miss Slate, a missionary lady on the Bluff, to whom we had a letter of introduction trom Rev. Mr. Metzler.

Hamilton Hose Company Dance. One of the most enjoyable pre Lenten occasions, was the nineteenth annual dance, given by the Hamilton Hose Company, at the opera house last Thursday evening. Keating's cele-brated orchestra, of Olean, N. Y., furnished the music. Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Vogt led the grand march, which was followed by a programme consisting of twenty four numbers. The dance floor was crowded for every dance, many remaining until, as the old saying has it, "they put the fiddle in the box." Many people from out of town attended the dance. A delicious supper was served at intermission on the stage by the members of the Company, assisted by their wives. Another dance of the Hamiltons has gone down in the annals of history of the Company and each year the dance is looked forward to with much enthusiasm.

"The Girl From the U.S.A." In a late review of theatrical produc tions by a prominent dramatic critic, the play "The Girl from the U.S. A." received a full measure of praise.

The story deals with an American girl who has been placed in an aristocratic convent in Paris, France, that her education might receive an ultra "Finish." There she has formed a deep and lasting friendship with Vivienne de Voltone, a French girl.

The play opens with a deep intrigue both social and political, on the part of the Turkish Ambassador to France. The girl follows her abducted friend into the innermost recesses of the sacred ly guarded harem of a Turkish pasha, and in the guise of a new "Favorite" is terrorized to find that the very Turk whose scheme she is trying to frustrate, has fallen in love with her. Only by shrewd diplamacy can she save herelf from the clutches of an unlicensed barbarian. And later in the ceremon ious mazes of Chinese society, her native wit saves the day for hercelt and friends

Although the plot leads one among cenes of oriental splendor, the tone of the play remains vividly and thorough-American in sentiment. The climaxes are thrilling and unexpected, and the comedy of several novel characters is as welcome as it is diverting. There are some splendid musical numbers added to an already complete entertainment, and altogether the Girl from the U. S. A., is somebody you will want to be acquainted with when she appears at the Emporium Opera House on Monday evening, Feb. 21st.

Ridgway Green Houses.

H. W. Girton and M. P. Whiting, of Ridgway, visitd in Emporium on Monday and paid their respects to the PRESS. Mr. Girton is manager of the Ridgway Mountain Park Green Houses and, having had many years experperience in the business, has built up a large trade in this section of the state. Their large illustrated catalog is a beautiful book of designs. See their "ad" in the PRESS and when you de sire anything in their line leave your orders with Hon. Geo. J. LaBar, who has accepted the agency for this place.

The Season's Last Dance.

Picket-Ruby Heidick. Lydia Hirsch acted as Lady of Ceremonies and ennie Ness organist. After a brief social session, one hunired and fifty partook of a Banquet prepared by the Ladies of the Hive, which was one of the finest ever served in Emporium, neither labor nor money being spared to make the event a grand success, which it was.

The music for the occasion was fur nished by the L. S. Fisk Orchestra. The Hall was beautifully decorated with the colors of the order and our National colors interwoven.

On behalf of the Hive, Miss Louns burry was presented with a beautiful book. Mrs. Margaret Crosby presented the Hive with a set of gavels, made of myrtle wood, grown in Oregon, as a souvenier of her recent sojourn to that State.

The Ladies of the Maccabees are the argest fraternal organization in the world, composed of ladies, having a membership of 160,000, with 2,700 Hives; Pennsylvania furnishes 14,000. Gladiola Hive has 186 members, earrying nearly $300,000 protection, in mounts ranging from $250 to $2,500.

Feb. 8th, 1910. Basket Ball.

The long talked of Buffalo Germans 's Emporium basket ball game is a thing of the past, the event taking place last Tuesday evening at the opera house, with an overwhelming score of 78 to 10 in favor of the Germans, of course. Emporium boys put up a good game and are to be congratulated in securing ten points, when the Germans have been success ful so many times in their history by

Death of Col. W. R. Andrews. Col Weeley R. Andrews, aged 72, died at Washington, last Saturday, morning, after a four weeks' illness. FRIDAY, Fair and colder Funeral services were held at the Portland hotel Sunday afternoon; his re mains were taken to Brooklyn, on Monday for interment with his wife and two daughters. The death of this truly grand gentleman is a deep loss to the Republican party as well as the Nation. His incessant work was a wonder to his friends, yet he seemed never to tire. As private secretary to Senator Penrose, Chairman of the Republican State Committee and several other similar positions he was surely a wonder. Senator Penrose pays the following tribute:

"I feel the death of Colonel Andrews as a personal bereavement," said Senator Penrose on Saturday. "We were so closely associated for so many years that it is as if a member of my own family had been taken away from me. Colonel Andrews knew and was known by practically every man in public life in Pennsylvania and had a large circle of friends in the wide field of national activities. He was appreciated by all. But I believe that I knew and understood him better than any one else and I had more reason than any to appreciate the qualities which made him invaluable in campaign after campaign and in the detial work, not only of our State Committee, but also of the Committee of the Senate, of which he was ecretary.

"It is no perfunctory tribute to say that his loss will be felt. Every man connected in any way with the Republican organization of Pennsylvania knows how he will be missed, and not only for the work he did, but for himself. His qualities as a man and a friend were so apparent to those in association with him as his tirelessness, his mastery of detail, his thoroughness and soundness of his judgment. It would be superfluous to say more. You did not know him as well as I did, but yon knew him."

We knew Col. Andrews intimately for many years and respected him very highly. He was a Republican after our own heart-a good fighter, but of a kind captivating disposition. Once his friend, always his friend. We shall always remember him with profound reverence.

Forty-Two Years To-Day.

Were we an Andrew Carnegie or J. P. Morgan we feel we should like to do something grand to-day for Little Cameron. But, we are obliged to sit at our desk and look back over the past fortytwo years and think-think. Yes, just forty-two years ago to day we entered the PRESS office as an apprentice and have remained in close touch ever since. We hope in all these years we have, in a measure, accomplished some good for the county. We possibly, have, and who has not, made many er. rors yet they came not from the heart. Times have changed and mens' ideas change with them. We enter upon our 43rd year as editor of this journal with a brighter future than ever before, a model newspaper plant and rapidly increasing business, loyal friends and no doubt some enemies-a man without enemies does not amount to a hill of beans. We belong to Cameron county and our remaining years we

Yours Respectfully, MR. and MRS. GEO. J. LABAR.

P. S.-In writing my letter one thing that impressed me very much, I forgot to mention, was the coaling of the ship. Fifteen hundred men, women and children put on by hand in fifteen hours, five thousand tons of coal, from little barges. They put up steps to the deck, about thirty feet, and placed themselves in rows about two feet apart, up the steps and across the ship to the middle, where it could be thrown down into the hold. The coal was shoveled into baskets holding about a peck and passed from one to the other, making a perfect stream, which went on incessantly, from five a. m., until about eight p. m., apparently without a break, the empty baskets going back by another line. When they did their the hour, when not ashore. Another harbor, we were shown a small island, the place and started. We found a hill that was so steep that my two-footed pony could not puil me so I got out and walked up the hill and helped to push Mrs. LaBar, to the great delight of some of the natives. However, we reached the place all right and found the lady. She, and a few other ladies, were present and we passed a very pleasant hour with them and then returned down the hill which was too steep to ride down the hill so we had to walk. We reached the foot of the hill without accident and returned to the ship for a night's rest. On the morning of the 8th we took the train for Tokio, a run of about 45 miles We found it a very modern place and the Capitol of the Empire. It had wide streets and many open places for parks. After riding around viewing the place, we were taken to a hall and received by the Mayor and other officials. They had the theatre open for our entertainment, and plenty of refreshments. After a very pleasant day we returned to Yokohoma, feeling as if we had spent a pleasant, profitable day. Sunday the 9th we spent very quietly and went to union church and heard a very good sermon, with the usual appeal, "give us some money." eating I know not, or whether they We gave and then rented. Ut was so 10th, we took another trip to Tokio interesting to me I watched them by and visited their military museum. We saw a lot of the trophies of war thing, as we passed in and out of the captured from Russia and China. They Lawrence Fisk was the drummer. A fair sized crown was in attendance. This will be the last dance until after Easter.

Birthday Surprise.

A few lady friends of Miss Alice Quigley, one of our popular school teachers, gathered at her home on West Fifth street last Tuesday evening and tendered her a surprise in honor of her birthday. She was presentented with some very pretty gitts. A light repast was served, after an evening pleasantly spent in games and music.

A Surprise Party.

About thirty friends and neighbors gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Robinson, on East Allegany Avenue, last Thursday evening and surprised this worthy couple completely. The evening was very pleasantly spent in conversation and cards. An elegant supper was served at a late hour, which was heartily enjoyed by all present.

giving complete 'shut outs.' The boys had no idea that they would win the game and surprised themselves in getting the ten points. The Buffalo team departed for Union City on Wednesday morning, where they will probably win more laurels for themselves.

L. C. B. A. Entertain.

L. C. B. A., gave a very enjoyable euchre party at the club rooms of the Knights of Columbus last Monday evening. Several invitations were issued and a large crowd enjoyed the hospitality of these pleasant ladies. Refreshments were served. All present had a royal good time,

Knights Of Columbus. Elaborate preparations are being made by our local Council for their ball and reception to be held March 29. They have engaged the popular Germania Orchestra, of Lock Haven. The party will be a swell affair, and strictly in vitation.

Baked Sale.

Our citizens will be pleased to learn that Wellington Buber is improving, but rather slowly. He has been suffer-ing greatly from his fall in W. H. Howard's barn.

Last Sunday afternoon, at four o'clock, a very pretty wedding was solemnized at S. Mark's Catholic Church, by the Rev. Father T. B. Downey, the contracting parties being Miss Winnie Foley and Mr William Haley, of this place. Miss Irene Ritchie attended the bride and Mr. Frank Extine did the honors of best man. Only a few relatives and friends attended the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Haley departed on the north bound flyer immediately after the ceremony for a wedding trip which will include Buffalo and other northern points. The happy couple have a host of friends who join with the PRESS in wishing them a successful journey through life. The bride is a sister of Mrs. John Hogan and is a very excellent young lady. She came here from Driftwood, where she was highly respected. The groom is an industrious young man and a native of Emporium.
