Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Chicago, Ill.—"I was troubled with falling and inflammation, and the doctors said I could not get well unless I had an operation. I knew I could not stand the strain of one, so I wrote to you sometime ago about my health and you told me what to do. After taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier I am to-day a well woman."—Mrs. WILLIAM A. HRENS, 988 W. 21st St., Chicago, Ill.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, and to-day holds the record for the largest number of actual cures of female diseases of any similar medicine in the country, and thousands of voluntary testimonials are on file in the Pinkham laboratory at Lynn, Mass., from women who have been cured from almost every form of female complaints, inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, indigestion and nervous prostration. Every such suffering woman owes it to herself to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial.

If you would like special advice about your case write a confidential letter to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

WESTERN CANADA

What J. J. Hill, the Great Railroad Magnate, Says About its Wheat-Producing Power:

"The greatest need of this country (United States) in another generation is to have the production of wheat increased. It is the people and producing sufficient for them. The days of our prominence as a wheat-exporting country are gone. Canada is to be the great wheat country."

The greatest railroad magnate is taking advantage of the fact that the extensive railway building in the West is the greatest of Western Canada.

Upwards of 125 Million Bushels of Wheat were harvested in 1909. Average of the three provinces of Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba will be upwards of 23 bushels per acre.

Free homesteads of 160 acres and adjoining pre-emptions of 100 acres in 30-acre lots, are to be had in the choicest districts. Schools, convenient, climate excellent, soil the very best, railroads close at hand, building lumber cheap, fuel easy to get and reasonable in price, water easily procured; mixed farming a success. Write us to best plan for settlement, settlers' low railway rates, descriptive literature, "The Best Land" sent free on application, and other information, to Dept. of Immigration, Ottawa, Can., or to the Canadian Government Agent.

Millinery Styles

By JULIA BOTTOMLEY.

IN SPITE of all that is said about the fickleness of fashion, there are some hats that are always in style. Year after year, indeed, decade after decade, sees little change in them, either in shape or size, and none in texture. There is that most beautiful of hats, "the Panama," which for generations was made in about one shape for men and women. It is only within the last three years that the heavy buyers have been able to persuade the native makers to vary their model and produce a little variety in shape. This a doubtful advantage, for the trimmer takes the good, old forms and cleverly modifies them to the changing ideas of the passing season.

Besides the Panama there is the beautiful Leghorn "flat." It has been produced for generations. With soft, flowing lines and a crown of normal size, and woven so fine that its body is as flexible as cloth, it is altogether so excellent that there is no use in looking for anything to excel it in simple beauty. The Leghorn is now blocked by the manufacturers into all sorts of shapes, but the flat brim and medium-sized crown lose nothing by comparison with newer forms. The clever trimmer takes the Leghorn flat and manipulates it at will, changing its outlines to suit the vagaries of her patrons' fancy, or her own. But she will never improve upon the lovely lines of the original shape. The day will not dawn within our time, when this beautiful hat will be out of style. The same hat has its outlines rendered a little rigid and its underbrim faced with a demi-facing of black velvet. A wreath of big, full-blown roses and foliage adorn it. It simply spells the summer girl. It is associated in our minds with girlhood, and season after season appeals to us with undiminished charm.

Besides the Leghorn there are the Milan braids and the beautiful diaphanous Neapolitans, all made in the "flat" shape with trifling variations in the shape of the crown from season to season. The Milan has more body, that is, it is heavier in texture than the others and is therefore more used for general utility. Such a hat is shown with a mass of chrysanthemums about the crown and a wing at the side.

The initial expense of a fine hat in either of these weaves is money well spent. They are things of beauty and even capricious Fashion seems to regard them as joys forever.

EVENING DRESS.

We show an exceedingly dainty dress here, suitable for nixon, crepe-chine, or any soft material. The upper part is draped on a princess lining, which continues as far as the hips; the skirt part is then gathered, and set to the edge of the princess, the joining being covered with bugle trimming. On the bodice it is arranged at the edge of chemisette, taken down to the waist on the right side. Small puffs of material form the sleeves, trimmed with crossings of the trimming, and set to bands of the same.

Materials required: Five yards nixon 44 inches wide, 5 1/2 yards trimming, half yard lace.

The New Shades for Spring.

Elephant gray gold ochre, burnt bread, laurel green, raspberry and twilight pink are some of the colors in which smart frocks for southern wear have made their appearance.

PROPER USE OF ANTIQUES

For Best Effects, the Articles Should Have a Room Exclusively to Themselves.

Those who rummage the second-hand stores and attics often obtain what they are looking for, then pay a big price to have it prepared for use, and put it just where it does not belong. That is why antique articles look shoddy in so many homes. Women who are not good judges will pick up the worst-looking old piece of furniture imaginable, drape it with chintz and call it—beautiful. One way to use antiques properly is to have an "antique room." Of course, a pair of old and-irons can be used in any open fireplace and the glass-trimmed candlesticks are ornamental in the dining room, despite the fact that candles seldom are used for lighting the tables. It is principally of furniture that one must be careful. Do not put an old wainut settee, chair and marble-topped stand in a room with a mission table and wicker chair, and do not adorn your walls with pink cherubs and expect a mystic glow to make that room look enchanting. It will look more like Vesuvius had an upheaval there. The best taste is exhibited to-day in rooms simply arranged, even though extremely small. Antiques should be separated from the modern furniture like sheep from the goats, or everyone who goes into your house will depart with a feeling that chaos has found habitation beneath your roof.

New Embroideries.

There is a present fad for lace and embroidery in combination. This is little more than a revival of a fashion of two or three seasons ago. The designs, too, are familiar.

One sees the same crescent-shape applique, the oval medallions and the long, table motifs.

Women possessing trimmings of this kind should bring them to light and make use of them.

The blind or satin stitch embroideries combined with imitation Irish are perhaps the most popular.

A Rug Hint.

Rugs have a tiresome way of curling up at the corners, which spoils their appearance, and in the end the corners get torn away. To provide against this, directly a rug is bought bind it on the under edge with stout hollard or furniture webbing.—Woman's Life.

IN AGONY WITH ECZEMA

"No tongue can tell how I suffered for five years with itching and bleeding eczema, until I was cured by the Cuticura Remedies, and I am so grateful I want the world to know, for what helped me will help others. My body and face were covered with sores. One day it would seem to be better, and then break out again with the most terrible pain and itching. I have been sick several times, but never in my life did I experience such awful suffering as with this eczema. I had made up my mind that death was near at hand, and I longed for that time when I would be at rest. I had tried many different doctors and medicines without success, and my mother brought me the Cuticura Remedies, insisting that I try them. I began to feel better after the first bath with Cuticura Soap, and one application of Cuticura Ointment.

"I continued with the Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment, and have taken four bottles of Cuticura Resolvent, and consider myself well. This was nine years ago and I have had no return of the trouble since. Any person having any doubt about this wonderful cure by the Cuticura Remedies can write to my address. Mrs. Altie Etson, 93 Inn Road, Battle Creek, Mich., Oct. 16, 1909."
