Ready.

Lord Granard was once visiting some of his tenants. One of the farms he visited contained a large assortment of live stock in a more than usually healthy state, and halting before a sty he said to the owner: "Those pigs of yours are in very fine condition."

Something to Be Thankful For.

It's pretty tough to be poor, not to use a stronger expression; but when one reads of the many accidents by land and sea in which so many are sent to sudden death a man ought to feel thankful sometimes that he is out in the country pulling the bell line over old Balaam.—Sylvania Telephone.

Footprints in the Sidewalks.

Hiram (looking at a dog's footprints in the cement sidewalk)—"Don't it beat all, Mandy, how them scientific fellers dig up stones like that there after they've been buried a million years! I'll bet ye the animal that made them there tracks lived before the flood.—Judge.

Living.

Exalt the straight, set aside the crooked, the people will be loyal. Behave with dignity, they will be lowly; be plous and merciful, they will be faithful; exalt the good, teach the unskillful, they will grow willing.—Confucius.

The Better Way.

Said She—"Wouldn't it be grand if we could only see ourselves as others see us?" Said He—"Well, hardly; but it would be grand if we could make others see us as we see ourselves."

If You Want to Be Liked.

Don't when people say nice things to you, think that they must necessarily be insincere. It is quite as natural for some persons to put their nice thoughts about you into words as it is for them to breathe.—Home Chat.

A Strong Minded Locality.

Stranger.—Can you tell me if a woman can make a will in this place? Native.—She don't have to. Every woman in this place has one already made.

Little Revenue.

"Is there any money in poetry," inquired the hopeful amateur. "Not for me," replied the editor. "Few poets are able to pay for more than one insertion."

Friends.

After a man passes 50 he is pretty fortunate if he doesn't find more acquaintances on the tombstones in the cemetery than he finds on the door plates in town

A Pretty Fix.

Lady.—I give it up. I cannot fix on which of these two hats I like better. Attendant.—Ah, then, how is madam ever going to vote?—Judge.

Fateful Premonition.

A little English girl named Frances Cole wrote in her book at school: "This is my last sum." The next day she died.

Where Credit Is Harmful.

Reasonable credit may help a working man in poor circumstances, but unreasonable credit only tends to crush him.

The Wiseheimer Says.

It isn't always a sure sign that because you are unhappy with a woman you will be happy with her.

Aid to the Hearing.

It is said by anatomists that people bear better with their mouths open.

Too True.

A friend in need is a bore indeed.—Judge.

Kilowatt.

A kilowatt almost exactly equals one and one-third horsepower.

Dutch Proverb.

He who sows brambles must reap thorns

Must Be a Goal.

There can be no progress when there is no end in view.

PARTY NOT INJURED

REPUBLICANS UNHURT BY CONSTITUTIONAL STRUGGLE.

Minor Differences of Opinion Will Be No Bar to the Presentation of a Solid Front to Their Political Enemies.

A chapter of dramatic incidents fraught with great, even intense, interest to the representatives of the people in congress, and perhaps of as great interest to the country, was closed when the appeal from the ruling of the speaker that the Norris motion was out of order was supported by a vote of 182 to 160.

The insurgency is the element of the Republican party to which Speaker Cannon referred when he declared that if they were Republicans, then he was not one. It is most unfortunate that the issue should have been raised. It is unfortunate because it gives an unwarranted color to the contention of the ready writers of the magazines that there is a tendency toward a coalition of permanent nature between the radical wings of the two parties.

The temporary defection does not represent any weakening. The radicals themselves declare it means a strengthening of the position of President Taft with the lower house. The radicals can never secure Democratic support for their Republican positions, and they will find their true alliance where it has always been.

As it was an odd fight, as well as a fight against odds. The Democrats thought to ride upon the wave of the victory against the speaker to a delirious success, but they found their limit very shortly. Despite the frenzy of the hour of victory, despite the cries of the Democrats for the evacuation of the speaker's chair by Mr. Cannon, despite the fact that a Democratic resolution to declare the position vacant was actually introduced amid scenes of the wildest disorder, the speaker held tenaciously to his position and the Republicans could not be induced to perpetuate folly or injustice personal to Mr. Cannon.

The impression which President Taft's many speeches has left upon the country is that of an honest frankness, joined with the intention to do his best and to take the consequences. It is rather more than likely that as this administration proceeds it will, slowly perhaps, but none the less surely, command public confidence, because of the clear honor and the right intent of the man at the head of it.—Springfield Republican.

Country is with Taft.

Some of the over-zealous tariff rippers are making a great ado about the difference in cost of food in the city of Detroit and in Windsor, just across the river in Canada. They claim that "articles of food cost an average of 25 per cent. less in Windsor than in Detroit, altogether due to the tariff."

Roosevelt's Consistency.

President Roosevelt is to be commended for refusing to talk politics in spite of the great pressure to which his desire to please his journalistic friends doubtless subjects him. His innate perceptions are usually sound.

HIGH PRICES ARE GENERAL

Statistics Show Them to Be Universal the World Over—Folly to Blame the Tariff.

Meat prices have advanced in all the principal producing and consuming sections of the world, according to compilations just made by the bureau of statistics of the department of commerce and labor. The figures which the bureau has compiled consist chiefly of the export prices of the principal meat-exporting countries of the world and the import and quoted wholesale prices in the chief meat-importing and consuming countries.

ALL MUST BE COMPROMISE

Points Voter Should Remember When He Considers Pending Or Passed Legislation.

President Taft's talk about "the interests" and their efforts to shape legislation at Washington will do good if it makes the average voter understand how inevitably fierce is the conflict in all legislative halls, how steady and strong is the pressure which lawmakers and executives have to resist, and how large a percentage of law has to be the result of compromise between conflicting desires, varying, of course, in their degrees of self-interest or altruism, but most of them normal, prudent and simply the result of a passion of loyalty to a given cause or project.

Taft's First Year.

If any one should attempt to locate any large falling of Mr. Taft as president, temperamental or otherwise, such a quest would prove fruitless. He has made, in all substantial respects, a thoroughly good president. His appointments have been strong and made on a very liberal basis, so far as partisan or sectional considerations are concerned. He is a thorough-going civil service reformer. His work for retrenchment—one of the nation's greatest needs—has been earnest and effective. He has accomplished even more in liberalizing the tariff than did either of his recent predecessors who attempted to check the greed of the special interests with the influence of the White House.

"Uncle Joe" as a Statesman.

It is because Uncle Joe is so thoroughly human, as well as a man of extraordinary intellectual resources, that he is able as a temptenarian to hold his own in the tremendous scramble and uproar the country over to down him. He has shocked us awfully sometimes with the vagaries of his speech. We don't like the way he tilts his cigar and cocks his hat. The chip on his shoulder is a perpetual menace and aggravation. But despite all these exasperating effects upon our conventional sensibilities, he has a grip upon the public affairs of the country which thus far has withstood a tempest of hostility and abuse.—Rochester Democrat and Chronicle.

Anti-Tariff Argument Refuted.

Some of the over-zealous tariff rippers are making a great ado about the difference in cost of food in the city of Detroit and in Windsor, just across the river in Canada. They claim that "articles of food cost an average of 25 per cent. less in Windsor than in Detroit, altogether due to the tariff."

Is the Country Ready for This?

We have no doubt there is one sure remedy for high prices. It is easy, too, if the country is ready to try it. Simply take the tariff off of everything. The wage earner's job will vanish and he'll have no money to purchase what the farmer raises at any price. The resultant fall in prices would be something fierce

The eyes of the nation are on congress during these days, and responsibility will fix itself where it belongs

DANCE IN HIDEOUS MASKS

Participants in Lamaist Church, the Lorsaer, Festival Wear Garb of Demons.

New York.—If you happened to be alone in the woods at night and should meet such creatures as shown in the accompanying photographs what would you do?

But these are only pictures of masks identical with those worn by participants in the greatest festival of the Lamaist church, the Lorsaer, the New Year's feast held at the beginning of February in remembrance of Buddha's victory over the six heresies, the victory of the true religion over infidelity.

Writing of it in "Trans-Himalaya," Dr. Sven Hedin says of its celebration in the monastery town of Tashi-Luapo: "Lamaism is only a corrupt form of pure Buddhism, and under an outward varnish of Buddhist symbolism has incorporated a number of Sivaistic elements, and has also retained the superstitions which in pre-Buddhistic times found expression in wild fanatical devil-dances, rites and sacrifices. The object of these ceremonies was to exorcise, banish or propitiate the powerful demons which reign everywhere, in the air, on the earth, and in water, and whose only function is to plague, torture and persecute the children of men. Lastly, Lamaism dances in hideous masks with large evil eyes and Mephistophelian eyebrows, distorted features and huge tusks; others represent mythical wild beasts, all equally terrible."

HAS WORKED HIS WAY UP

William S. Kies, New Solicitor of Railway, at 31, Heads Big Legal Department.

Chicago.—William S. Kies, who recently became general solicitor for the Chicago & Western Indiana railway, is a native of Minnesota. Left an orphan when two years old, he worked his way through school and later through the University of Wisconsin, supporting himself at the university mainly by working on the university paper.

After his graduation, nine years ago, he came to Chicago and took a position as investigator for the Chicago City Railway Company. When John F. Smulski was elected city attorney in 1903 Mr. Kies applied to him for a place in his office and received it. Three years later he was made chief trial attorney, and in three years won about 90 per cent. of his cases.

This record attracted the attention of many legal firms and corporations, and Mr. Kies finally accepted an offer from the Chicago & Northwestern railroad to become its general attorney in Chicago. He has held that position since 1906, and now, at the age of 31 years, he finds himself at the head of the legal department of an important railroad system.

Farmers should eat more oatmeal.

Although the farmer of today is able to buy almost anything he wants to wear or eat he isn't paying enough attention to food values when it comes to his own table.

He feeds his stock carefully, avoids over-feeding and selects the stock food that he believes will give the best returns in strength and general efficiency.

If he has been watching the extensive researches and experiments on the question of the best human food for muscle and brain he will heed the advice from all sides to "eat more Quaker Oats."

Quaker Oats is mentioned because it is recognized in this country and Europe as the best of all oatmeals. Feeding farm hands on Quaker Oats means getting more work out of them than if you feed them on anything else.

THOUGHT SO LITTLE.

Cholly Chumpleigh—I'm not afraid, don'tcherknow, to say what I think. Miss Cutting Hintz—You may not be afraid—but you ought to be ashamed.

BABY'S SKIN TORTURE

"When our baby was seven weeks old he broke out with what we thought was heat, but which gradually grew worse. We called in a doctor. He said it was eczema and from that time we doctored six months with three of the best doctors in Atchison but he only got worse. His face, head and hands were a solid sore. There was no end to the suffering for him. We had to tie his little hands to keep him from scratching. He never knew what it was to sleep well from the time he took the disease until he was cured. He kept us awake all hours of the night and his health wasn't what you would call good. We tried everything but the right thing.

A Mean Scheme.

"Is your wife home?" "Yes; I got tired of having her away." "But I thought she intended staying four months?" "She did. I got the office boy to write on a card: 'Better come home. From a well wisher.' And she took the first train after receiving it."

Money and expense are not essential to artistic homes and attractive rooms. One dollar and fifty cents' worth of material will completely transform a crude, inartistic room into a graceful, dainty apartment.

Really it is good taste and skill that makes the home homelike. That dainty touch is worth twice as much as money. Wall paper is expensive—it costs money to buy it, to hang it and again to remove it. With the use of the alabastined wall there is only the slight cost of the material—any one can brush it on—and it is not necessary to wash it off the wall when a fresh coat is required.

It is very easy to mix, very simple to apply, but the results are simply beautiful. A whole house can be done at just a little more than the cost of a single room when ordinary materials are used. And this is true, that now that we have so much better materials for use in the decoration of our homes, that wall paper, common kalsomine and paint are now as much out of date as the old time white-wash, tallow candles and rough hewn floors. Mere money is no longer an essential in good housefurnishing in artistic home making.

The new materials and labor-saving machines are most welcome to us all—and every thoughtful woman, every woman who cares for her home, is quick to utilize them.

How to Make Good Coffee.

First, last and all the time, have a clean coffee pot. Don't wash it with common yellow laundry soap or powder because that makes it smell bad and gives the coffee a sickening taste. Easy Task soap sterilizes coffee pots and all cooking utensils, making them clean, sweet and wholesomely healthy. That's the beauty of Easy Task soap—it is just as good for cooking vessels as for cloth or painted work or glass-ware or china. Not an expensive soap—five cents a cake.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a humming sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars free.

AFTER DOCTORS FAILED

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Cured Her

Knoxville, Iowa.—"I suffered with pains low down in my right side for a year or more and was so weak and nervous that I could not do my work. I wrote to Mrs. Pinkham and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills, and am glad to say that your medicines and kind letters of directions have done more for me than anything else and I had the best physicians here. I can do my work and rest well at night. I believe there is nothing like the Pinkham remedies."—Mrs. CLARA FRANKS, R. F. D., No. 3, Knoxville, Iowa.

The success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, is unparalleled. It may be used with perfect confidence by women who suffer from displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills, and suffering women owe it to themselves to at least give this medicine a trial. Proof is abundant that it has cured thousands of others, and why should it not cure you?

If you want special advice write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for it. It is free and always helpful.

Stops Lameness

Much of the chronic lameness in horses is due to neglect. See that your horse is not allowed to go lame. Keep Sloan's Liniment on hand and apply at the first sign of stiffness. It's wonderfully penetrating—goes right to the spot—relieves the soreness—limbers up the joints and makes the muscles elastic and pliant.

Here's the proof.

Mr. G. T. Roberts of Resaca, Ga., R. F. D. No. 1, Box 43, writes:—"I have used your Liniment on a horse for swiney and effected a thorough cure. I also removed a spavin on a mule. This spavin was as large as a ginea egg. In my estimation the best remedy for lameness and soreness is

Sloan's Liniment

Mr. H. M. Gibbs, of Lawrence, Kans., R. F. D. No. 3, writes:—"Your Liniment is the best that I have ever used. I had a mare with an abscess on her neck and one coc. bottle of Sloan's Liniment entirely cured her. I keep it around all the time for galls and small swellings and for everything about the stock."

Sloan's Liniment will kill a spavin, curb or splint, reduce wind puffs and swollen joints, and is a sure and speedy remedy for fistula, swiney, founder and thrush.
