REPUBLICAN TICKET.

For Congress,
CHAS. E. PATTON,
Clearfield County.
For Representative in General Assembly,
JOSIAH HOWARD,
Emporium.

Representative Howard
Booms Knox for Gov.

Now that the people have spoken at the Primaries, they very naturally, are turning their attention to the forthcoming State nominating conventions and many are the names presented for Governor by their admirers.

The following we copy from Philadelphia Inquirer, wherein Hon. Josiah Howard, of this county booms Attorney General Philander Chase Knox for Governor:

"Philander Chase Knox is the man to nominate for Governor," declared Representative Josiah Howard, of Cameron county, who was renominated on the Republican ticket for the Assembly on Saturday, and who arrived in town from Washington last night.

Representative Howard is close to Senators Penrose and Oliver, but does not assume to speak for either of them in picking Knox for the gubernatorial nomination. "They say he would not accept the nomination," continued the Cameron county man, "but I am not so sure of that. Pennsylvania honored him with her delegates for the Presidency in the last National Republican Convention, and should he accept the Governorship this fall he would be in line for the Presidency two years hence. There is no doubt about the strength of Knox with people of Pennsylvania. His nomination for Governor would be equivalent to election without the Republican party concerning itself about a campaign."

Brigadier General Willis J. Hulings of Venango county, who heard Representative Howard's suggestion, remarked: "I do not believe Mr. Knox would run for Governor. He is in his logical post now, and he has already made history through the acceptance by eleven nations of the world of his proposition for them to consider the advisability of the establishment of a universal court of peace. I do not see how he could give up the office of Secretary of State, where he has so much ahead of him in this connection. The universal peace court is bound to come. War is too expensive. It is too antiquated. Modern men and modern conditions will not tolerate warfare. The business men of the world do not want it. With the development of recent inventions war, as we once knew it, will be impossible.

The submarines and the airships make the building of dreadnaughts impracticable and we now hear of the latest proposition for the projection of electrical energy four or five miles to destroy both the ships on the sea and the ships of the air.

"Yes, we are about done with war," continued Senator Hulings, who was promoted to the rank of Brigadier-General of the United States Volunteers for gallant and meritorious conduct in action in the Porto Rican campaign.

"Knox would make a splendid Governor," resumed General Hulings, "but mark what I say, he will not relinquish his present post while consummating the great work he has outlined."

Heed the Warning.

Many Emporium People have Done so.

When the kidneys are sick they give unmistakable warnings that should not be ignored. By examining the urine and treating the kidneys upon the first sign of disorder, many days of suffering may be saved. Sick kidneys expel a dark, ill-smelling urine, full of "brick dust" sediment and painful in passage. Sluggish kidneys cause a dull pain in the small of the back, headaches, dizzy spells, tired, languid feelings and frequent rheumatic twinges.

Doan's Kidney Pills are for the kidneys only; they cure sick kidneys, and rid the blood of uric poison. If you suffer from any of the above symptoms you can use no better remedy.

Emporium people recommend Doan's Kidney Pills.

Mrs. E. L. Rendt, Fifth Street, Emporium, Pa., says: "For years kidney trouble kept me in misery. My back ached constantly and I could not rest well on account of the acute pains in my loins. My kidneys caused me much annoyance and I felt miserable in every way. Reading about Doan's Kidney Pills, I obtained a box from Taaggart's Drug Store and commenced their use. Prompt relief was received and I now have no cause for complaint. I have often recommended Doan's Kidney Pills to other kidney sufferers."

The Penny Relief System.

Some idea of the extent of the work which is done by the Relief Departments of the Pennsylvania Railroad System is gathered from a report issued to-day which shows that during the month of April, 1910, an average of over $6,500.00 a day was paid to members unable to work, and to families of members who died. Since the Relief Departments for both Lines East and West of Pittsburg and Erie were established, some twenty-four years ago, the sum of $28,292,503.91 has been paid out in benefits.

On the Lines East of Pittsburg, and Erie in the month of April, payments to the amount of $142,344.92 were made by the Relief Fund. In benefits to the families of members who died $49,292.83 were paid, while to members incapacitated for work the benefits amounted to $93,052.09. The total payments on the Lines East of Pittsburg since the Relief Fund was established in 1866 have amounted to $20,630,599.10.

In April, the Relief Fund of the Pennsylvania Lines West of Pittsburg paid out a total of $60,510.50, of which $21,250.00 were for the families of members who died, and $39,260.50 for members unable to work. The sum of $7,771,903.81 represents the total payments of the Relief Fund of the Pennsylvania Lines West since it was established in 1869.

A Freak Egg.

Mr. G. B. Shearer, of East Emporium, is the possessor of a twin egg which was laid by a Plymouth Rock hen last Sunday. It is certainly a freak of nature. There are two distinct eggs being joined together at the small end. Mr. Shearer sent the egg to the Passos office for inspection.

DEATH'S DOINGS.

GIBBS.

MRS. WALTER GIBBS, nee Miss Grace May Barton, died at her home near the Keystone Powder factory, last Thursday morning, about nine o'clock. Deceased was born on Clear Creek, July 24th, 1875, and was therefore 34 years, ten months and eight days old. Mrs. Gibbs has been the mother of eleven children, three of whom preceded her to the grave. Deceased has been a patient sufferer for the past year but bore up wonderfully under her great affliction. She is survived by her husband and eight children, the youngest being only nine months old and the eldest being a daughter about seventeen years old and upon her rests the duty of caring for the family. This is a great responsibility for one so young. She is also survived by one sister, Mrs. Eldon Lewis, and one brother, Mr. Charles Barton. A mother's loss is always a sad affliction and always leaves a place that can never be filled, but when taken, just in the best part of life and leaving such a large family of helpless children it seems doubly sad. The funeral took place last Saturday afternoon and interment was made in the cemetery at Rich Valley. Mr. Bernard Egan was funeral director. The PRESS extends its sympathy to the bereaved family.

REV. WILLIAM H. ORRICK.

The Rev. William P. Orrick, D. D., Rector of Christ Church, Reading, Pa., and the senior priest of the diocese of Bethlehem in point of continuous service, entered into rest May 21st in the 75th year of his age. Dr. Orrick had been in failing health for some months, but the end came somewhat unexpectedly and has caused profound sorrow throughout the diocese, where he was greatly beloved and venerated. He was a graduate of the University of Virginia and of the Philadelphia Divinity School and was given his doctor's degree by Kenyon College, Gambier, Ohio. Ordained deacon by Bishop Stevens in 1865 he became a most active missionary in the lumber region, of what is now a part of the diocese of Pittsburg. In 1866 he became rector of St. John's Church, York, Pa., being ordained priest the following year by Bishop Vail and continued in this charge until 1872, when he was elected rector of Christ Church, Reading, where he has nearly completed thirty-eight years of a most faithful ministry. At the formation of the diocese of Central Pennsylvania, in 1871, Dr. Orrick was elected to the Standing Committee and was once chosen its secretary, in which post he has served continuously (with the single exception of one year when he was absent from the country) until last convention, when he declined re-election. A man of breadth and culture, a fine preacher, and possessed of remarkable administrative gifts, he has served on most of the important commissions of the diocese, his counsel being widely sought and his judgment highly valued. Keenly interested in the missionary and benevolent work of the church. He was not only himself a generous giver, but put his parish into the front ranks of the diocese in the matters of contributions. He remained unmarried. Twenty-four of the clergy besides the bishop attended the funeral services which were held from the church in the afternoon of May 24th, the church being densely crowded, the local ministers attending in a body. During a most impressive service Bishop Talbot voiced the feeling of the entire diocese in a most graceful tribute from the pulpit extolling the high virtues of the deceased and the precious example and memory he had left behind him.

Rev. Orrick was rector of Emmanuel Episcopal church at this place in 1865 and officiated at the first Episcopalian baptism at this place, which was Anson Knapp, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joshua A. Knapp.

KREBS.

WILLIAM RICHARD KREBS was born at Grove township, Clinton county, Pa., May 2, 1844; died at his home near Sterling Run, May 20, 1910, with a complication of diseases. He had been a long sufferer but until February last he was around, about his work, when he was taken with a severe attack of La Grippe, and from this he never recovered. His physician, Dr. Bush, still gave him encouragement and hoped he would regain sufficient strength to be up around again, until within two weeks of his death. Then he gave up all hope.

His mother died when he was but nine years of age and he made his home with Isaac Ramage. He remained with him until manhood. In 1863 he married Anna Mason, daughter of William and Eliza Mason, of Sterling Run, and to them were born two children, both of whom preceded him to the grave. He realized the end was near and made all preparations for the future. He was prepared for death and told his niece he was not afraid to die, he was going to a fairer home, where pain and sorrow never comes. He was conscious until the last and bade his family and relations farewell, and died in the blessed faith. He leaves a wife and step-son, also two brothers—Washington, of Emporium, and Charles, of Sinnamahoning, besides a host of relatives and friends to mourn his death. Mr. Krebs was a man with many friends and his death will be keenly felt by his neighbors, who speak very highly of him, which is a good tribute.

The relatives from out of town, who attended the funeral were Washington Krebs, of Emporium, (brother,) Mrs. Albert Krebs, daughter, Ida and Susie, (nieces,) of Gardeau; Harry Fink, of Liberty; Mr. James White, Mrs. Pierce White, and Mrs. Ross Meeker, Mrs. Frank Sewell, Port Allegany; Charles Krebs, (brother,) Herman, Milford, Leonard and Clyde Krebs, nephews; Mrs. Geo. Darrin, niece; V. A. Brooks, Harve Drum, John Foulz, Sinnamahoning; Grover Mason, Renovo. The pall bearers were six nephews: Herman, Milford and Clyde Krebs; Wright, Harvey and Grover Mason.

The funeral was held from the Messiah church, the Rev. Ebersole, assisted by the Rev. Lehman, of the M. E. church, officiating. The text was from Numbers, 23 chapter and part of tenth verse. He was laid to rest beside his children in the old Pine Street Cemetery, to await the final summons.

C. W. Rishell, of Emporium, had charge of the funeral. The floral offerings were many and very beautiful. X.X.

World's Sunday School Convention.

Unprecedented for its cosmopolitanism, unequalled in the magnitude of its constituency, and unsurpassed as a spectacle, the World's Sixth Sunday School Convention in Washington, D. C., May 19-24, marks an event in religious history. There were about six thousand delegates present the first night, when President Taft addressed the throng. It was a spectacular convention. The great Men's Bible Class Parade on the afternoon of May 20th opened the eyes of Washington to the virility and masculinity of modern religion. Congress adjourned early in the day, so that some of its members might march in the parade and others witness it. There were five thousand men in the line of march. The convention sat with a monster map of the world before its eyes. The official button showed the globe with a red cross superimposed thereon. Part of each day was given to a "Roll Call of Nations." The ends of the earth came together at Washington. Delegates were present from all over the United States, Canada, Korea, China, Mexico, Brazil, Turkey, in fact all parts of Europe and Asia were represented. For the first time in its history the World's Association tried to raise a budget for the expenses of the ensuing triennium. The sum asked for was $75,000 and was raised in a few hours. This will be used largely in placing field workers in foreign lands to develop the Sunday School idea and organization. The wide spread observance of World's Sunday School Day, in more than two hundred languages and dialects, as reported to the Convention by cables from various lands, was a real missionary factor. Literally thousands of sermons upon the religious training of youth seem to have been preached upon that day.

The Delineator for July.

The Midsummer number of The Delineator presents life from many contrasting points of view and all who turn the pages of the magazine must find not only much that is entertaining but, better still, much that is conducive to serious reflection. First, there is the editorial page, "Conversazione," in which Erman J. Ridgway touches the keynote of universal kinship. With the chance question of a child as a starting point Mr. Ridgway talks of problems that concern all humanity—the right of a child to whole truths instead of half truths, the unalterable measure by which mankind is judged from age to age and the apostrophe to sun and wind and earth in which a great sorrow found expression. It is a serene, uplifting, wholesome philosophy that is revealed each month in "Conversazione"—the sort of philosophy that the world needs.

The Man's Page is a new feature of The Delineator. As every one knows men are faithful readers of the magazine and now a special department has been prepared for the members of the family who don't care whether skirts are wide or narrow, gored or circular. To the man's page well-known humorists have contributed. Charles Battell Loomis tells "How to Keep a Wife's Love," Homer Croy warns readers "How Not to Comb the Hair" and Paul West treats of "Domestic Service for Men." "I can not Pay that Premium!" is a song by Franklin P. Adams. Other important subjects are discussed

JUNE ON THE GREAT LAKES

Restful, delightful, interesting and instructive, there is no trip like that on the Great Lakes, those inland seas which form the border line between the United States and Canada. And June is one of the most charming months in the year in which to take the trip.

For comfort the fine passenger steamships of the Anchor Line have no superiors. As well appointed as the palatial ocean greyhounds which plough the Atlantic, their schedule allows sufficient time at all stopping places to enable the traveler to see something of the great lake cities and to view in daylight the most distinctive sights of the lakes and the scenery which frames them.

The trip through the Detroit River, and through Lake St. Clair, with its great ship canal in the middle of the lake, thence through Lake Huron, the locking of the steamer through the great locks at the Soo, and the passage of the Portage Entry, lake and canal, across the upper end of Michigan are novel and interesting features.

The voyage from Buffalo to Duluth covers over eleven hundred miles in the five days' journey. Leaving Buffalo the steamships Juniata, Tionesta and Octorara, makes stops at Erie, Cleveland, Detroit, Mackinac Island, the Soo, Marquette, Houghton and Hancock and Duluth.

The 1910 season opened on May 31, when the steamer Tionesta made her first sailing from Buffalo.

The Anchor Line is the Great Lake Annex of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and the service measures up to the high standard set by the "Standard Railroad of America."

An illustrated folder, giving sailing dates of steamers rates of fare, and other information is in course of preparation and may be obtained when ready from any Pennsylvania Railroad Ticket Agent, who is also prepared to book passengers who may desire to take this trip through the Great Lakes and back.
