Matter of Fact.

SURE TO BE WRONG

REPRESENTATIVE ADAMSON A TRUE DEMOCRAT.

His Position in Opposition to Pending Legislation an Excellent Example of the Methods of His Party.

Verily it is a hard task to fathom the processes of the Democratic mind. The only safe theory seems to be that if there is a wrong way of going about anything, that is the way the Demorat is going to adopt.

Witness the performances of Rep esentative Adamson of Georgia. Mr. Adamson, an earnest Democrat, is a member of the house committee on interstate commerce, and in such capacity he is opposing the president's commerce bill.

As near as can be discovered, Mr. Adamson's objections are based chiefly on the ground that the bill is an execution of certain Democratic principles and policies.

"The provision as to initiating an inquiry into the rates and practises the president borrowed from the Democratic leaders," asserts Mr. Adamson. He also says, "the president has borrowed from the Democratic platform the suggestion that the commission may arrest a rate before it goes into Naturally the average citizen, unversed in Democratic ratiocination will inquire why these facts should embitter a Democrat against the bill. It would seem, rather, that they should inspire him to advocate it and to lend his influence to its early adoption. For, surely, measures urged by the revered Democratic platform and advocated by the estimable Mr. Bryan must be good for the country, even though an unkind fate has decreed they should be advanced by a Republican president.

There is a pretty vigorous demand on the part of the people, regardless of party, for the passage of the legislation mapped out by President Taft.
If he has borrowed some of his ideas from the Democratic party, so much the better for the party. It will give its orators something tangible to talk about on the hustings next fall. But opposition to the measures, predicted on such astonishing grounds as those of Mr. Adamson will make no friends for him or his party.

Taft's, Tribute to Knox.

The president at Pittsburg showed his usual sense of fitness when, in the presence of Pittsburg citizens, he paid a glowing tribute to Mr. Knox, whom their city had given to the service of the nation as attorney general, as senator, and finally as a secretary of state who has maintained the distin-guished traditions of his high office. In view of the carping censoriou of those who do not appreciate noise less efficiency, and who hold that be-cause the state department does not advertise it is doing little or nothing, it must have afforded the president peculiar gratification to pass in review the substantial accomplishment of the department under Secretary Knox during the first year of his ad ministration. This was his answer in his own way and his own well chosen time to stories of dissension."-Philadelphia Public Ledger.

England is a free trade country. So the much higher cost of living there cannot be blamed against the tariff. Also, wages are much lower in England, and employment is not so abundant as in the United States.

THEORY OPPOSED TO FACTS

Wail of Representative Foss Should Have Little Effect on the Country.

Said Mr. Foss:

"Today millions of our people are deprived of comfort and health, and even of life, by the so-called protective tariff on wool and woolens for the benefit of the sheep ranches and wool en trusts."

Certainly we have heard pretty much the same cry before. Wasn't it issuing with strong lungs from Massachusetts? Yes, yes, to be sure. "Give us free hides and cheap shoes." That was the way the "battle cry" ran.
"Give us free hides and cheap shoes." Today millions are deprived of comfort and health by the protective tariff on hides, and so on.

Well, what happened? The very tariff bill which Mr. Foss now assails placed hides on the free list. Surely the "cheap shoes" followed? Not a bit of it. Hides, leather and—shoes are higher than ever.

Something seems to be askew with the theory of Mr. Foss. But that is not singular. Theory frequently goes to pieces when it runs up against plain facts.-Philadelphia Inquirer.

Sherman Praises Taft.

Vice-President Sherman, in eulogizing the president the other day, touched significantly on a legitimate phase of executive "doing things,"

"He is bringing about in a quiet way, without great friction, many forms in the government service that are not given to the public in a spectacular manner, but which will be hown in the annual reports made at the end of the fiscal year. It will be well then for those critics who have seen fit to find fault with their presidents, to look into these returns and see to what extent the government and the people themselves have been benefited by wise administra-

Incidentally the report adds that the extension of Canadian reciprocity in the matter of manufactures is inexpedient at the present time. Really! This might be called news "delayed in transmission." For at least ten years it has been entirely obvious to ordinary intelligences that under no circumstances could Canada be induced to accept reciprocity in manufactured products. Massa-chusetts has finally found this out. The world moves slowly, in some

Worthy of High Position.

History will have a fine place in its records for Secretary Knox, who is continuing that brilliantly useful reord made by him as attorney general of the United States and as a member of the senate. President Taft is quick to recognize this fact, and the American people with their usual justice will brush away the clouds of petty detraction which are prompted either by self-interest or by sensationalism, and will recognize in Mr. Knox a worthy successor of a distinguished line of masters of diplomacy.

The administration of President Taft, considered in its broadest sense and covering the work of congress as well as that of the executive department, has achieved one of the most re-markable records in the history of the nation.-Kansas City Star.

LAND IN CANADA AN INVESTMENT

WORK IT, AND SECURE 20 PER CENT. ON THE EXPENDITURE.

Farm lands in Canada increased in value this Spring from fifteen to twen ty per cent, and as a result of this increase thousands of those who have gone there within the past few years have had that much more value added to their holdings. There is proof here that as a field for investment there is nowhere to be found a more profitable one than in purchasing farm lands in Canada. And, as a field for occupation and working the farms there is nowhere on the continent where more satisfactory return is given. The crops are always sure and the prices are always good. With railroads entering and traversing all the settled parts, there are very few districts in which the farmer will be more than from ten to twelve miles from a railway station. Roads are good, and big loads are easily handled. The price of getting grain to the primary market is low on this account. and then in reaching the world's markets the railways have their rates controlled by the Government, and what may be considered a fair deal is certain. Good prices for all kinds of grain is the rule, and if the investor has made good money by the increased value given to his unworked land, it is not difficult to understand that the profit to the man who works his land is just that much more, and there will be no depreciation. The man who holds a free homestead of one hundred and sixty acres of land, which he got for $10 as an entry fee, has land which at its lowest estimate is worth $10 an acre—yes, $15 an acre—the moment he has completed his three years' residence duties. It will continue to increase in value until its earning power gives a reasonable in-terest on a certain sum. That is, if he takes off the land fifteen to twenty dollars per acre clear profit each year, his land is worth to him, at a fair rate of interest, $200 an acre. If he only realizes $10 an acre clear profit, it is worth $100 per acre. Now, thousands of farmers are duplicating these The price of land in Canada figures. to-day is much less than its realizing value. The fact that the fifty thousand Americans who went to Canada year before last were followed by one hundred thousand last year offers some evidence, and good evidence, too, that there is getting to be a pretty fair knowledge that money is to be made in Canada lands. As an investment money is to be made, but more by living upon the land, secured either by home-stead or purchase. The one hundred thousand of last year will be one hundred and fifty thousand this year.
These comprise people from every state in the Union, and it is just being realized the asset that awaits the homeseeker in Canada. The large numbers that have gone, though, makes no appreciable difference in the supply of land. There is still left vast quantities of the best of it. But the longer a delay is made in arriving at a decision, the price will advance proportionately, and the more desirable homesteads near the railway lines become more difficult to secure. The national association grams. association says that tuberculosis will not be stamped out until all cases of this disease are cared for either in their homes or in institutions.
