The Owl Club held their weekly meeting Thursday evening with a full attendance. Tony Cromwell was toast-master and Orlo Barzer, master of ceremonies.

E. D. Krape entertained quite a number of young folks from the Brick Works with some of Edison's latest editions on his phonograph, Thursday evening, and report having a fine collection of music.

It is rumored that "Dad" McCann gave strict orders to mine foreman Montgomery that he will only fire with Peacock coal at the brick works. This decision is evidently caused by the loss of his fine mustache.

Sunday while returning home from the Clam-bake at Pump Station, Harry Moore had the scare of his life. While passing through Schwab's field he was surprised to see an angry bull coming at him, and he took to the woods, with the animal a close second. He gained the fence just six inches ahead and climbed a tree, where he was found by the rest of the boys, who were attracted by his cries for help.

The Cameron team defeated the strong "Co. M" team of Emporium Sunday at Riverside Park with the score 9-6. The work of the Cameron battery was fine, and while quite a number of errors were made, by some of the rest of the boys, they redeemed themselves with the stick. Score by innings:

Cameron: 0-0-1-1-0-0-4-3-9.
Co. M.: 1-2-0-0-0-3-0-6.

The game was called at the end of the eighth inning, Cameron having one on bases with one out, so that the visiting team could catch the train. It is reported a game has been booked with Driftwood for Sunday.

The Clam-bake held at the pump-station Saturday night by the "Owl Club" was enjoyed by all. Montgomery says he never ate clams before that suited him as well as those prepared by Chef Fox. After the feed they were entertained by a six round bout between two of the members, which was decided by referee Stuart, a draw.

S. A. Krape, of Centre Hall, who has been visiting his son, E. D. Krape and family, the last few days, left for Lorain, O., Wednesday morning.

Ed. Schwab and lady friend had a very narrow escape while returning from the "Circus" Tuesday evening, in the shadow of the pines near the devil's elbow. What was the trouble?

The Cold Spring is evidently proving to be a very attractive place for young folks. Boys, what is the attraction?

The W. C. T. U. picnic held at Beechwood under the direction of Mrs. C. R. Morrison was a grand success. In all, about one hundred and fifty people attended. We noticed several old friends from St. Marys, Howard Siding and Emporium. The committee appointed to fix up the grove did the work in an excellent manner. The good time enjoyed by all present was due largely to the services of the ladies in charge of the refreshments and to the young lady waiters. A fine dinner was served at twelve o'clock followed by a short literary program. This was truly a temperance picnic and an event to be remembered by young and old.

Mrs. Forest Pye and children, of Emporium, spent the week with her mother, Mrs. C. R. Morrison.

BEARS ARE PLENTIFUL.

Indications That Bear Hunters Will Reap a Rich Harvest.

The summer indications in the back woods section of Clinton and neighboring counties assure a larger number of black bears than ever before.

The large sections of wild lands that are now under the care of the State forestry department and are consequently growing up into a thick second growth of trees and shrubs afford a cover for the black bear as well as a source of food.

Last winter there was the finest bear hunting in the history of the backwoods of Pennsylvania and the probability is that it will be much more interesting and much better during the open term of the coming season.

Jeff Shuman, a ginseng hunter in McHenry township, Lycoming county, saw an old bear and a pair of cubs a few miles west of Camalot the other day and the animals were so thoroughly imbued with the idea that they were monarchs of all they surveyed that they made no effort to "get away" when Shuman appeared.

The State foresters and all others who spend time in the woods report a condition of plentifulness on the black bear question. The prolific growth of berries and nuts in the Pennsylvania woods tends to attract the bears, whereas the great runways of unbroken wild lands hundreds of miles in extent over Lycoming, Potter, Clinton, Cameron and Elk counties give them a wide range of territory over which to roam.

The farmer and sheep raisers are not overly delighted with the outlook of having more black bears, for already the losses of animals by reason of the thefts of bears is a large one each year. One man on the Sinnamahoning last fall lost 17 sheep that were carried away by a colony of black bears within the five weeks they were grazing on the wild lands.
