Captain Bartlett's Three Cheers. A series of Revolutionary scenes were given in a London theater some months after the close of that memo-rable war. On the one side was the English army in full red coated uniform, with every button in its exact place. Opposite them was the American army, composed, as the theater bill stated, of "artisans, cobblers and tinkers," arrayed in their working dress, with buttons of every size and hue. When the curtain dropped, Captain Bartlett of Plymouth. Mass., the captain of a ship then in port, stood up in his seat in the pit and, in a voice as if given from a quarterdeck in a squall, called, "Three cheers for the artisans, cobblers and tinkers who were too much for King George and his red-coats," and, with a wave of his hat, he gave these with a will. For a short time there was silence in the theater, followed by an enthusiastic John Bull appreciative cheer for the pluck and assurance of the Yankee captain, who became the lion of the city, receiving invitations to clubs and free tickets to theatrical and other entertainments while he remained in port.

Just a Little Too Smart.

A scrubwoman in a Paris theater found a magnificent diamond stomacher in a box in sweeping up. The honest old soul determined to restore the stomacher to its owner, and the owner, of course, wasn't long in turning up, a young woman splendidly dressed and on the verge of hysteria. "Oh, have you found my stomacher?" she cried. "It is a chef d'oeuvre of Lalique of the Place Vendome." "Calm yourself, madame," said the scrubwoman. "Here is your stomacher." And she produced it from her pocket. The other took out a fifty dollar bill, press-ed it on the honest scrubwoman and departed with her stomacher hurriedly. But an hour later another lady called. "Have you found my stom-acher?" she asked, smiling. "I think I left it in my box." "Why, yes, ma-dame, but if it was your stomacher." said the scrubwoman, "a thief has got it. She got it this morning. She gave me $50 reward." "Why, the stomacher was imitation," the lady said. "It only cost $5. Your thief is $45 out."

Mr. Gladstone's Catch.

"How many members of this house," asked Mr. Gladstone once in the course of a debate on electoral qualifications, "can divide £1,330 17s. 6d. by £2 13s.

"Six hundred and fifty-eight," shouted one member. "The thing cannot be done," exclaimed another. A roar of laughter greeted this last remark. But it was true nevertheless, You cannot multiply or divide money by money. You may repeat a smaller sum of money as many times as it is contained in a larger sum of money, but that is a very different thing. If you repeat 5 shillings as often as there are hairs in a horse's tail you do not multiply 5 shillings by a horse's tail. Perhaps you did not know this before. Never mind; you need not be ashamed of your ignorance, for it was shared, as has been demonstrated, by the en-tire house of commons (bar one member), including the then chancellor of the exchequer.

Hunter and Hunted.

A nearsighted sportsman strolled into a little hotel on the shores of Loch Carron and complainingly said, "Just seen a seal, shot at it three times and missed it each time."

At dinner an hour later he sat next to a tourist who had a bandage round

"Had an accident?" asked the sports

"Accident!" growled the other. "Attempted murder, you mean. I was having a bath about an hour ago when some lunatic with a gun fired at me three times from the shore and shot part of my ear off. I don't know why such animals are allowed out without a license."

Then silence reigned supreme.-London Telegraph.

Lavishness.

The Terms of Exchange.
"We wish to arrange for an exchange of prisoners," announced the South American dictator.
"On what basis?" inquired the leader of the other side. "The usual basis—eight generals for a good, husky private."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Quick Sprint. Sandy Pikes-Dat rich guy in de bungalow took quite a fancy to me. He took me around to de stable, show-ed me de $5,000 bulldog he had just bought and asked me if I could beat it. Gritty George—And what did you say? Sandy Pikes—Nuttin'. I just beat it.— Chicago News.

Smith—Tou and Jones don't seem to be as friendly as you were. Does he owe you money? Brown—No, not exectly, but he wanted to.

The Real Need.

In negro households, especially in communities where negroes form # large portion of the population, it fre quently happens that the woman is the head of the family, being not only the breadwinner, but also the discipil narian, and in that capacity on occasions she regards her putative lord and master as subject to her will. This at least was the assumption of the col ored woman who was a party to a lit-tle scene enacted in the office of a justice of the peace.

A man had been arrested on the charge of beating and cruelly misusing his wife. After hearing the charge against the prisoner the justice turned to the first witness.
"Madam." he said, "if this man were your busband and had given you beating would you call in the police?'

The woman addressed, a veritab amazon in size and aggressivenes turned a smiling countenance toward the justice and answered:

"No, jedge. If he was mah husban' an' he treated me lak he did 'ls wife Ah wouldn't call no p'liceman. No sah; Ah'd call de undertaker."— Youth's Companion.

Flexibility of English. English is not only, as Richard Jef feries asserted, the most expressive and flexible of tongues, but also, in Swinburne's opinion, the most musi cal. He proclaimed the lines-Music that gentiler on the spirit lies Than tired eyelids upon tired eyes to be unmatched for melody in any language. And few would venture to contradict such a master of music an But surely French ranks next on the roll of languages. For clearness of diction it is unrivaled and, thanks to its abundance of vow els (close on one for every consonant it flowes rhythmically from the tongue Against Westley's dictum, that French is to German as a bagpipe to an or gan, may be cited a saying of anothe famous divine, Dr. Dollinger, "L'Alle mand n'est pas une langue, mais ceux qui parlent ce jargon se comprennen entre eaux" (German is not a lan guage, but those who speak this jar gon understand one another) .- Londor

Facts About Giants.

Chronicle.

have ever lived have been healthy of well formed recent researches prove beyond a doubt. All we know about Goliath is that he was very tall, but in the second book of Kings we read about another giant, who had more fingers than an ordinary human being and, according to modern scientists this is invariably a token of degeneracy. Marcel Donnal saw at Milan a giant who was so tall that his body filled two beds at night, but whose legs were so weak that he could hard ly stand upright. William Evans, the gigantic porter of Charles I., had little strength, and Cromwell's porter, an other giant, ended his days in a luna tic asylum. Finally, O'Brien, the Irist giant, has been described as "an enor mous sick child who grew up too

Another Fake.

"Did you see the 'lightning calcu-lator' in the sideshow?" asked the old farmer in the wide straw hat.
"By heck, yes," drawled the othel ruralite, "and he was the biggest fake in the show."

"How was that?" "Why, thar was a thunderstorm go ing on while I was in the tent and when I asked him if he could calculate where the lightning was going to strike he just gave me the laugh."—Chicage

An Ominous Symptom.

"Jeremiah," said Mrs. Jarphly sol emnly - "Jeremiah, what wickedness have you been up to now?"

Doubled In Value.

A Missourian who bought some Texas land and wanted to unload i told a prospective buyer that it had "doubled in value since I bought it." "But," said the other, "you offered to sell it to me for the same price you paid. How has it doubled in value?" "Well, you see, I gave twice as much as it was worth."—Kansas City Star.
