TENER MANFULLY MEETS ACCUSERS

Republican Nominee Fully Answers Bitter Political Attack.

GIVES DETAILED STATEMENT

Ready to Jam All Stock at Price Paid From Any Purchaser Who Invested Because of His Connection.

John K. Tener, Republican nominee for governor, in a frank and manly statement, has met the attacks of his political opponents and given a complete answer to every insinuation that has been made in the journalistic assault upon his character.

He has demonstrated that his connections with the companies in question have been straightforward and honorable in every way. He has told of his exact relations with the Utilities enterprise, which he believed when he became identified with it was a feasible project, and he holds that it is still a fact, and he has proclaimed that he is ready to pay in full any amounts that may have been paid into the company for stock, purchased because of his connection with the corporation.

The attempt to discredit Mr. Tener because of his relations with an insurance company that has also been made an issue in the state campaign was upon the face of it so palpably a political trick that no one took it seriously.

Mr. Tener points out that this company has been a success from the start, and that he is still interested in it financially.

Mr. Tener brands the attacks upon him as unwarranted and malicious, and in view of the rumors that have been put in circulation by a coterie of politicians, to the effect that he is to be arrested, Mr. Tener boldly defies them to carry out their plot.

W. L. Chrisman, who is now president of the National Public Utilities company, when shown Mr. Tener's statement, said: "It fully covers the situation."

Mr. Tener's statement reads as follows:

Statement of Fact.

"Ordinarily I would pay no attention to the falsehoods that have been uttered by an untruthful newspaper, but it may be that some fair-minded men have been misled by the way facts have been distorted, and for this reason, and for this reason alone, I desire to make a short statement which covers my position.

"In December of last year I was visited in Washington by William L. Chrisman, Esq., an attorney of Philadelphia, and F. L. Smart, who requested me to become president of the National Public Utilities Corporation. I had favorably known Mr. Smart for some time, but not knowing Mr. Chrisman made inquiry and learned that he was a lawyer of excellent reputation and with good business connections. I also learned that other reputable men, General Russell Thayer, Colonel William Bender Wilson, Joseph S. Mack, Frederick S. Schoff, William B. Margerum and Simeon Merrill, were directors.

"I was also informed that the company had been incorporated according to law, was properly organized and could legitimately carry on the business for which it was intended, which was the building of a railroad from Astoria to a point beyond Seaside in the state of Oregon. I also made inquiry of those believed to be familiar with the locality as to the practicability of the enterprise. After this I concluded to accept the presidency and served in that office, and as director, during the first quarter of this year, but as my labors in congress were daily increasing, because of important legislation then pending, which required practically all of my time, I resigned from the company. For some reason or other my resignation was not accepted at the time I tendered it, but I received no salary as president except for the months of January and February, although entitled to the salary for March.

"$50,000 par value of the stock was sent to me and I immediately returned it with a letter stating that I would not accept it as I had not earned it and was not entitled to it. A little later $20,000 par value of the stock was sent to me, which I also returned for the same reason.

A Feasible Project.

"I believed the object of this company to be legitimate and notwithstanding the vicious attacks which have been made against it I am not convinced to the contrary, and today am of the opinion that it could be successfully carried out. Charles N. Bennett, a civil engineer of high repute in his profession, whom I sent to Oregon on my election to the presidency, reported favorably upon it and within a week passed has reiterated that opinion, and has stated that if eastern capital could not be had to carry the work through local capital there could be had to do it. I believe that the worst blow the stockholders of this company have received is the result of unwarranted and malicious attacks through the columns of this hypocritical newspaper.

"I never promoted the National Public Utilities Corporation; was not a participant in its promotion; never sold any of its stock, or solicited any body to buy any of its stock. My connection with it was entirely honorable and straightforward, as I have above described.

"I am informed that about $39,000 in cash (not nearly $2,000,000 as published) have been paid to the company for stock, and to show that I do not wish to evade any responsibility in the matter, if any man, relying upon my being president, or upon my name being used in connection with this company during the time I was president, presents proof to me that he purchased any of the stock and paid cash to the company I will take the stock from him and give him exactly what he paid for it in cash.

"Whatever has been done by this company as respects the taking over of any other or subsidiary companies or enterprises, was before my connection with it, and with which I had nothing to do, but I believe, and had the right to believe, from the character of those who were in control, and from my investigation, that all had been properly and legally done.

"As to Messrs. Bromley and Maine: I never heard of them until I became connected with the company and not until the matter was exploited by yellow journalism did I ever hear any adverse criticism affecting them.

A Successful Company.

"Concerning my connection with the Security Life and Annuity company with others I sold my stock some years ago and soon after, at the request of the company's president, Mr. W. O. Johnson, of Chicago, I again became a member of its board of directors and still serve in that capacity. The company is and always has been eminently successful.

"In view of the scurrilous attacks I believe it to be no more than just to myself, as an assurance to the people of my business integrity and ability, to say that I am now and have been for twelve years president of the First National Bank of Charleroi, Pennsylvania; I am now and for several years have been secretary and treasurer of the Charleroi Savings and Trust company, and I have several other business connections—all prosperous—all well managed, and all have the confidence of every one connected or having to do with them.

"I know that certain interests are striving to induce some one to, be the 'tool' to issue (for political effect) a warrant for my arrest. For the proper condemnation of such conduct I confidently appeal to the sense of fair play of the electors of Pennsylvania and challenge my detractors to proceed. I court any judicial investigation, for I am ready to meet any and all accusers in a court of justice instead of trying to answer hidden foes who are straining every point to accomplish, for political purposes, my business and political ruin."

TENER PRAISED BY FORMER RIVAL

Lieutenant Governor Murphy Lauds Republican Nominee.

AND PREDICTS HIS ELECTION

Eloquent Son of Cambria Tells Why Pennsylvania Should Go Republican This Year.

One of the most noteworthy speeches of this campaign was made a few nights ago by Lieutenant Governor Robert S. Murphy, who, although he was the only avowed candidate for the gubernatorial nomination, which ultimately went to Congressman John K. Tener, is now one of the most ardent advocates of Mr. Tener's election.

Governor Murphy, who is an eloquent and forcible campaigner, presented a comprehensive review of the great achievements of the Stuart administration, the progress made in the development of all of the departments and the rigorous prosecution of the capitol frauds in both criminal and civil actions, and dwelt upon the fact that Mr. Tener is pledged to continue the policies of Edwin S. Stuart.

Governor Murphy, among other things, said:

"With every department of the state government in the hands of intelligent and patriotic servants, with the most modern and systematic methods of business in force, and with a record luminous with order, economy and faithful service, the question before the people at the coming election is whether or not they can afford to repudiate the achievements of Governor Stuart and the works of his administration and support either of the Democratic candidates. And, remember, whatever has been accomplished is distinctly a Republican party asset and one which we cheerfully submit in justification of the vote of confidence which we ask.

"In the present juncture of affairs it must be admitted that the election of the Hon. Webster Grim, although a man of character and excellent reputation in private and public life, is absolutely impossible this year. Nor is the outlook any more favorable for the other Democratic candidate, the Hon. William H. Berry. Both of these gentlemen, without hesitation, attack everything that is Republican and they stand for a reversal of measures and of administration which are the chief pride and glory of the Republican party. They seek, of course, not to only aid themselves but all other Democrats, especially candidates for congress, which can only be construed as an open attack upon the protective principle which is the breath of life in the nostrils of Pennsylvania, and by which she has advanced to the highest degree of material development. In addition to their indorsement and support of congressional candidates, they are also supporting Democratic candidates for the legislature in the hope of electing a Democratic United States senator.

"Against this well-defined purpose Pennsylvania stands committed, for she believes in the protective principle and in placing those in congress who are sincerely its friends. Any other course would be suicidal, for we cannot, in the interest of manifold industries and of the man who toils, afford to support in the present political crisis the candidates of the Democracy who advocate free trade or favor such a confusing and unsatisfactory schedule as found expression in the Wilson-Gorman bill of the Cleveland administration, which proved so fatal in its consequences to the labor and capital of the country.

Berry as a Bryanite.

"We must recognize in Mr. Berry the only conspicuous representative of Mr. Bryan and his policies now before the people of this state. To every policy advocated by the Nebraskan he has given loyal allegiance. But Mr. Bryan has practically ceased to be a figure of national importance, and this is due to the fact that all of his so-called policies have been defeated and repudiated by the American people.

"As Mr. Bryan has been repudiated, so do I believe Pennsylvania will refuse to give his lieutenant, Mr. Berry, the support he asks. His speeches upon the stump create sincere doubt as to his soundness and safety, and the belief arises that he is not fitted, either by temperament or judgment, to preside over the destinies of this great commonwealth. There is an absence of self-poise, of self-control in his speech, and of good temper, which are essential to the great responsibilities of a chief magistrate.

"Wide latitude is permitted in the arena of political discussion, but surely Mr. Berry has passed the danger limit, and, as a result, we find air filled with confusing explanations of his business relations with a leading Democratic politician, none of which seem to be borne out by the facts, and this is followed by an intemperate denunciation of the public press without exception. He not only condemns it as destitute of patriotism and virtue, but proceeds to pass judgment upon all the newspaper men of the state, and without mercy joyfully consigns them to be burned at the stake.

"Such a cruel and barbarous punishment is prohibited by the constitution, but this does not seem to matter to Mr. Berry—apparently he would like to be present at the hoped-for event and play the part of chief torch-bearer at the ceremonies.

"These things which an attentive public has learned, together with the astonishing statement that, because of his discovery of the capitol frauds, he was compelled to have a bodyguard in constant attendance about his person in order to prevent his assassination—something which has hitherto been unknown to any one, with perhaps the exception of Mr. Berry—strongly indicate that one of such excitable temperament and susceptible to such beliefs, practices and delusions is not the kind of a man that this state is entitled to have for governor.

"Conditions within the state are eminently satisfactory.

Strong Words For Tener.

"What we need in the high office of governor and the other offices to be filled in this election is calmness, not impulsiveness, a judgment of men and affairs that is broadened and ripened by experience—a just conception of the powers of government, a keen and sympathetic appreciation of the rights of the citizen, and a comprehensive idea of the manifold interests and elements that enter into the complex life of this great commonwealth. Above all, we need a man safe and sure, and the Republican party has risen equal to the demand.

"We have named as the candidate for governor a man with a true heart, with a sound brain in a sound body, who has toiled in the workshop and in the mills and is in strong and lasting sympathy with labor; who step by step moved forward and identified himself with the business enterprises of his section, where he has attained a position which commands the undivided respect of those who love honesty and believe in genuine manhood; who has represented his district in the congress of the United States ably and faithfully; whose reputation for integrity is of the highest, and whose Republicanism has always been of the right kind; who is in accord and sympathy with the policies of the Stuart administration, and who has promised the people that when governor he will esteem it a privilege and duty to conduct the state government in accordance with those policies. No man who knows him will doubt his word or will believe that his promise will remain unredeemed. I have the honor to know him personally, and I appreciate him as a man of high ideals—pure in thought and speech and unchallenged in public or private life. The election of the Hon. John K. Tener is assured."
