CHRISTMAS GIFTS
FOR MOTHER AND FATHER

Everything has its place in the great economy of things, and the useful Christmas present is not barred out. In the great array of gifts spread out to choose from it is not well in every case to be led away from the useful by the mere glitter of brass and crystal.

There are other useful gifts besides collars and pajamas, bathrobes and corset covers. Each person's home life suggests hundreds of needs which do not touch too closely on the personal and which yet may be numbered among the useful.

Why Not Buy Mother a Bag?
Mother can never have too many shopping bags, for they have an unpleasant habit of wearing out very rapidly. Then if she is a mother who likes to keep up to the minute in her fashions she will appreciate a shopping bag such as the model seen in the illustration. Light gray velvet is the fabric used, and it is hand painted in soft colors. The appearance is much like suede, but it is ever so much newer and smarter than the average bag of commerce. The handles are also of the velvet. It is fitted with a long purse between two open compartments.

Gifts in Mourning Jewelry.

When mourning is worn there are useful and attractive gifts to be found in the shops. Among them are black onyx beads, a necklace or a broochette chain in gun metal. An umbrella with one of the new gun metal handles is always appreciated. Or what do you think of a dull jet comb for the hair?

For Elderly Women.

If she is an elderly woman a Spanish lace scarf or fichu would be a nice gift. These scarfs come all the way in price from $4 to $15. Down comfortable, whether of silkoline or real silk, are a good choice, also a pretty shoulder shawl. If she is a really old lady a lace dress cap or a pair of black kid gloves will suit, or a folding knitting stand may be purchased from $3 up. And for grandma this present is indeed a useful one. Silk or satin for a waist is another gift to be labeled useful.

Furniture Gifts.

A lamp, a mirror, a sewing stand, a magazine rack, a desk and chair, a great easy chair or perhaps a sewing chair, a handsome library table, one of the beautiful bookcases, any of the beautiful cases offered, a jardiniere or a vase for flowers, a cabinet to hold an overflow of treasures, desk or writing table fittings to harmonize with other furnishing, a framed photograph, an old print or a fine reproduction of a famous painting.

For Soiled Handkerchiefs.

A handkerchief bag is fashioned from half a fringed towel twenty-three inches long and twelve inches wide. This is first embroidered in with small flowers, such as violets or forget-me-nots. Damp and iron on the wrong side, then sew it up and stitch across the bottom. The hoop at the top is half of an embroidery frame six inches in diameter, which is hemmed in by hand. To suspend it use inch wide satin ribbon.

Silver Eyeglass Cases.

A silver eyeglass case would be a happy offering either to father or mother. If father is to receive the case a black leather affair with his monogram done in silver on one side would be most appropriate. Mother would doubtless rather have an all silver case. If the head of the house goes in for athletics give him a golf bag—the one he has may be worn out—or a dozen golf balls and perhaps a new putter; if he's fond of bridge or whist, some packs of handsome cards; watch fob or a brass desk set—and in plain dull brass they're stunning. For the motorist there are auto records and if money's no object piano players and talking machines are on the market waiting for a purchaser.

A Nut Set For Mother.

Mother would be pleased with a set of six paper ice cream cups covered with red crumpe paper and tied with red ribbon and a spray of holly. These, filled with homemade sweet peanuts or candy, would make a charming addition to the Christmas dinner table.

COSTLY KISSES
AT CHRISTMAS

AT a Christmas dinner given every year to the old folks of Hanley, the capital of the potteries district in England, a quaint ceremony is regularly observed.

At the conclusion of the meal one of the oldest of the women guests advances to the platform and kisses the mayor on both cheeks. His worship gallantly returns the salute, and the exchange of kisses continues until all the more venerable dames present have been thus honored.

In large business establishments, where the assistants live in, a great deal of kissing goes on at Christmas time. Some of the more daring spirits among the male "hands" have been known to make bets with one another as to the number of different girls they would kiss between Christmas eve and New Year's eve.

In a certain London drapery house two or three seasons ago one of these "horrid males" made a record by saluting seventeen different damsels. But he found the game was not worth the candle, for, in addition to a scratched face and a pretty severe pomelling at the hands of a victim's sweetheart, the rash youth found his services dispensed with.

At another great emporium one Christmas indiscriminate kissing created so much trouble that more than a dozen young men were dismissed. Ever since in this particular establishment even the introduction of a sprig of mistletoe during the festive season has been enough to insure instant dismissal.

A girl who appeared with a sprig of it in her blouse was ordered to put on her things and leave at once. A playful young man who merely pretended to kiss a young lady assistant was hurried off the premises with his hat and overcoat in his hand.

The Lancashire factory maid has a little kissing custom all her own that is sacred to Christmas. At this special period she will kiss an overcoater or any other male "hand" in the expectation that she will be rewarded with a shilling for her temerity.

Woe betide the ungalant worker who fails to part with the coin. He will find his coat sleeves sewed up or nailed to the wall. If the girl herself does not do this her fellow workers will.

Some of the more venturesome have been known to "get their employer round the neck" and kiss him, but the risks are great. If he takes the liberty kindly he will part with a sovereign; if otherwise he will part with the kisser. In one instance the master was so furious at being kissed that he closed his works until New Year's day, thus nullifying the hands in a week's wages.

SHE WILL KISS ANY MALE "HAND."

A ludicrous story is told of a young Japanese engineering apprentice in connection with the Christmas custom of kissing. He was serving his time in the north of England and was astonished when a waitress at the dining rooms which he regularly frequented kissed him under the mistletoe.

On his being explained to him that a present was expected in return, he suggested a pair of gloves. The damsel, however, had heard that he was immensely wealthy and gently hinted that something for her neck would be more acceptable. When the present arrived next day she conjured up visions of a pearl necklace as she tremblingly undid the parcel. Then was disclosed to her disappointed gaze a Jap's idea of "something for her neck." It took the shape of a bar of soap.

It is interesting to recall a strange Christmas kissing custom that in times gone by was regularly observed at a certain London hostelry. This was a house known as the Pied Bull in Clerkenwell, the landlord of which was under an obligation to bestow on every woman who came in before noon and kissed him a given measure of ale.

If records can be relied on "mistletoe" had no lack of lady customers on the festive morn.—The Bits.
