Messrs. George Barker, Jr., and Charles Robison spent a short time in St. Marys, last Saturday. They returned home on the afternoon train.

Miss Rotha Kreider, of Driftwood, one of the valued Cameron county teachers, spent a short time at the county seat last Saturday, attending to business.

Mrs. Mary Butler called at the Press office on Saturday morning, and renewed her subscription for another year. Mrs. Butler is always very prompt in this matter.

Mrs. John E. Smith, of Sterling Run, spent a short time in Emporium last Friday, attending the meeting of the Cameron County Sunday School Association, of which she is treasurer.

Hon. N. P. Minard, of Four Mile, made the Press office a social and business call last Saturday morning, renewing his subscription for the Press also that of his son Mr. Fred Minard, of Clark, La.

George W. Keith, of Coudersport spent Wednesday in town, guest at the home of Mrs. S. E. Sterner, Broad street. Mr. Keith played the violin at the dance of the Emporium Social Club, Wednesday evening.

Miss Cynthia Wood, of Coudersport, spent a short time in town, the first of the week, of her grandmother, Mrs. L. L. Lay. Miss Wood was formerly the linotype operator in the Potter Enterprise office at Coudersport and being interested in newspaper work made the Press office a social call, Monday afternoon.

Mr. M. F. Miller and family spent a few hours in Ridgway last Sunday.

George Wright, is spending a few days at Olean, N. Y., transacting business.

A. W. Willahan, of Port Allegany, spent the week's end at this place and Howard Siding, where he was entertained as guest of friends. Mr. Willahan's visits are becoming frequent and we are afraid that he will soon capture the heart of one of our fair stenographers. Port Allegany boys are all to the good.

Miss Myrtle S. Shafer, floor lady of the Sinnamahoning powder plant shell house, who came up to Emporium to spend Sunday with her friends, was a Press business caller Saturday evening, accompanied by Miss Blanch Ludam. Both are very pleasant ladies and full of business tact.

Speaking of the Divorce Evil

Trying to succeed in business without advertising is like the case of the man who, trying to cut expenses, divorced his wife and alone attempted to keep house and raise his children. It cost him more money for doctor bills and funeral expenses in a year than he gave his wife in a lifetime.

When advertising is divorced, business success becomes failure.

This paper is building your neighbor's business. He has reasons. We tried advertising and it helped him. It is not an experiment—this paper brings results. Good, hard, convincing results—dollars.

Too Public For Him.

He was a mild mannered little man, short, with gray hair and spectacles. It was noon on Washington street, and, as usual, the crowds were shoving and pushing to get somewhere. The little man was trying to worm his way through the crowds.

A well dressed woman, accompanied by a small boy, was mixed up in the crowd. She wanted to cross the street. The boy stopped to look in a window.

The lady reached down and grasped a hand, saying, "Take my hand, dear." "Not right here on the public street," she was startled to hear some one reply.

Looking down, she saw that she was clasping the hand of the very inoffensive little man, who seemed to be much confused and embarrassed. "Sir," she said laughingly, "I don't want you. I want my son."—Boston Traveler.

The New and Old Geology.

In its early history geology presented two schools—one insisting on a doctrine of "catastrophes," the other on a doctrine of "uniformity." The former regarded the changes which have manifested taken place in our planet as having occurred at epochs abruptly, while the other school, reposing on the great principle of the invariability of the laws of nature, insisted that affairs had always gone on in the same way as they do now. It is hardly necessary to say that the latter theory has driven the old theory of catastrophe completely from the field.—New York American.

All Fixed.

"I think I'll propose at the party to-night."

"No, you won't."

"Why won't I?"

"My sister knows the young lady in question, and it has been arranged for you to propose at the ball next week."—Kansas City Journal.

Restaurant Repartee.

"Tea or coffee?" demanded the bustling waitress.

He smiled benignly. "Don't tell me; let me guess," he whispered.—Brooklyn Life.

Where the Shoe Pinched.

Crawford—Does your conscience trouble you for losing that money? Crabshaw—No, but my wife does. You see, it was her money.—Judge.

The fewer desires the more peace.—Wilson.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

[From our Regular Correspondent.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23, 1910.

International Exposition boomers for the celebration of the completion of Panama Canal are at work in Washington. San Francisco and New Orleans are the contending cities. The capital of the United States, where the exposition should really be held, is not saying much. San Francisco is flourishing seventeen million dollars as her claim, while New Orleans with ten millions insists that this amount will go further owing to the proximity of that city to the rest of the world, than will seventeen millions on the Pacific slope.

An advocate for New Orleans puts it that Congress will be responsible in saying which city is most accessible to all the people of the United States, claiming that New Orleans is two thousand miles closer to the center of population, and two thousand miles nearer to Panama than San Francisco and that the latter city is more than three thousand miles further from the principal nations which are likely to send exhibits. It is claimed that the center of population of the United States is near Cincinnati and five hundred miles from New Orleans.

The Imperial Kitchen Elevator

Holds Everything for the Table

It is out of sight and out of mind until you push the button, then immediately in reach, without physical effort. It changes ill health to good health, bad temper to a pleasant disposition.

The Cellar is the Best Place to Keep Things for the Table

Some one must fetch them and take them back again. It is back-breaking, time-consuming, devitalizing, routine work, and the energy expended shows no result.
