NOTES OF INTEREST.

An extra session of Congress after the 4th of March is more than probable. Congress is pulling in several different directions.

The President wants a tariff commission. The Democratic majority that will control the House after March 4th wants no tariff commission, but wants to pass a tariff bill of their own invention and construction, though how they can do it with the Senate and White House in opposition, no man and not even any woman knoweth.

There is prospect of the passage of a homeopathic parcels post bill. Well let us be thankful for small favors. For many years the monarchies of Europe have enjoyed an excellent parcels post, as have also some of the semi-barbaric nations of Asia.

Reciprocity as the next thing to free international trade would be the next best thing in the world. With reciprocity, fleets and armies might be discharged, custom houses abandoned, taxes reduced to one-fifth their present entirety, and living expenses turned back to the minimum cost of our grand-grandfather days.

You are probably aware that pneumonia is always results from a cold, but you never heard of a cold resulting in pneumonia when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy was used.

HAVE GOT THE TARIFF BY THE EARS.

Democratic Dilemma Illustrated by Story of the Man Who Caught the Rat.

"You Democrats are going to have a fine time revising the Tariff," remarked Judge Smith, of Iowa, to a group of Democrats in a hotel lobby where members of Congress gather in large numbers every evening.

"Right you are," agreed Representative Legure, of South Carolina. "Our predicament reminds me of an impossible situation in which I found myself when a boy.

"I had a fine line of riding horses on our place, and the barn was infested with rats, which kept the horses nervous. Some one told me to tie a bell around the neck of a rat, and he would frighten away all the other rats and give the horses some peace."

"After catching the rat-I attempted to hold him with one hand while with the other I fastened the bell around his neck. Mr. Rat promptly lacerated my hand. A rat then told me to hold the rat by both ears, and I would have no difficulty fastening the bell around his neck.

"My situation then may fairly illustrate what we Democrats are up against in the matter of Tariff legislation. We've got the Tariff by the ears, holding fast with two hands. All we need to do is revise it; take the Protection out of it; put it on a Tariff for revenue basis. The country is waiting for us and just as sure as we let go with one hand the other one is going to be bitten and bitten hard, and the Republicans will watch the performance with glee."

The Greatest of All Broadway Successes, "Paid in Full."

Probably the greatest interest will be manifested by our local patrons of first-class drama, when the great Eugene Walter success, "Paid in Full" appears at the Emporium Opera House on Monday evening, Feb. 13th. The cast will be up to the usual standard of excellence, and a splendid performance of this most popular drama may be anticipated.

Backache, Rheumatism, Nervousness.

Mean disordered kidneys. Foley Kidney Pills have helped your neighbors; they will help you. Mrs. Wm. Langgaus, Williamsport, Pa., says, "For five or six years I had kidney trouble and rheumatism and suffered untold agony and used to have nervous spells so bad I could not sleep at night.

Why Some People Fall.

Some people fall down in their daily work because they are physically unable to stand it, and because they do not know that Selsin Pills will hold up the whole body, as well as the nerves.

Every Hunter Must Have License.

Nimrods in State Will be Taxed $1 Each if Walton Bill Passes.

HARRISBURG, PA., FEB. 5.-Under the provisions of a bill prepared by the State Game Commission and which will be introduced into the House to-morrow night by Representative William D. Walton, of Lawrence county, every hunter in the state will have to pay $1 for a license for the privilege of shooting wild birds or animals. An unnaturalized person will not be licensed. Mr. Walton says that this legislation will raise $150,000 a year. The money will be paid into the state treasury.

Immediately following the enactment of this law, it will be unlawful for any person living in the state to hunt for wild birds or animals with firearms or any device of any kind propelling a metal pellet or bullet and it will also be illegal except in defense of person or property, to shoot to kill or pursue with intent to take, kill or wound any of the wild birds or animals found in the state without first procuring a license. Under the present law non-resident hunters and unnaturalized foreign-born resident hunters must pay a $10 license before hunting in the state. The Walton bill bars the unnaturalized sportsmen, but does not change the act concerning non-residents.

PRISON FOR OFFENDERS.

A native of the United States or full naturalized person or his son under 21 years of age, who has been a resident of the state 30 days next preceding his application for a license, shall be entitled to one when he complies with the proposed Walton law. A person convicted of his first offense under the law and not paying the money penalty at once, with costs, shall be imprisoned in the county jail one day for each dollar of the fine, unless he shall give security for the payment within 10 days or carry the case to a higher court.

For the second or any additional offense, the defendant must in addition to the penalty for the first be imprisoned for one day for each dollar of the fine. In case of imprisonment instead of cash payment of the penalty, or if the person fails to pay the costs of prosecution, there shall be a forfeiture to the state of all traps, guns, shooting paraphernalia, boats, decoys or other appliances used in violation of the law and found in his possession at the time of arrest or proved to have been used in violation of the law. These properties shall be either destroyed or sold. For the first offense only the defendant shall be entitled to one day off his imprisonment for each dollar turned into the state treasury out of such sale.

Application for license may be made orally or in writing to the county treasurer. Proof of residence and citizenship must be given. Upon payment of $1 the applicant shall get a resident hunter's license on a form bearing a description of the person to hunt and kill game, birds or wild animals during the year, under the restrictions of existing laws. The certificate will become void at the end of the following December.

FINE FOR EACH OFFENSE.

To do the hunting, as described by the bill, without the license will result in a fine of $20 for each offense, and each day upon which the gun or device is used will be considered a distinct and separate offense. A person found with a gun or device in the fields or forests or on the waters or highways of the state shall be considered to be hunting and must show his license upon demand of any state officer whose duty it is to protect the game and wild birds or to maintain the peace or upon the demand of the person owning or controlling the land on which the hunter is found. The penalty for refusing to comply with this demand will be $25.

Possession of the described gun or device, where it might be used for hunting, or the possession of any dead or living body of one of the birds or animals or any part of such body, by any person in the state shall be prima facie evidence of violation of the law and render the person liable to the penalty. The state officers specified shall have the right to arrest without warrant any person caught in the act of violating the law or in a pursuit immediately following the violation, and to seize all guns, shooting paraphernalia, dogs, boats, decoys or other appliances used in violation of any provision of the act. All wild birds or animals, game or otherwise, found in possession or under control of the suspected person, shall also be taken. Seized birds and animals not classed as game, shall be subject to the order of the game commission.

Representative Alfred Marvin of Pike county has an amendment to the act of 1901 requiring non-resident hunters, unnaturalized foreign born resident hunters to pay an annual license of $10. At present this fee must be paid to the county treasurer, and the Marvin bill allows justices of the peace to issue the license and charge 50 cents for their labors.

Unnaturalized foreign-born residents or sojourners are required, under a bill presented by Representative Oliver

E. Leh of Lehigh county, to pay an annual license of $10 for the privilege of fishing in Pennsylvania. Children under 16 years of age of a parent holding a license are entitled to use the license. The certificates are to be issued by county treasurers and they are permitted to retain $2 as their fee. The penalty for fishing without license is $25 or imprisonment for one day for each dollar fine.

Representative Robert W. Hilton of McKean county would prohibit the killing of deer in Pennsylvania for five years from June 1, 1911. The penalty is a fine of $200 or imprisonment for one day for each dollar of fine.

They All Demand It.

Emporium, Like Every City and Town in the Union, Receives It.

People with kidney ills want to be cured. When one suffers the tortures of an aching back, relief is eagerly sought for. There are many remedies to-day that relieve but do not cure. Here is evidence to prove that Doan's Kidney Pills cure, and the cure is lasting.

Joseph Glover, 257 Mill St., St. Marys, Pa., says: "I cannot speak too highly of Doan's Kidney Pills, for they cured me after other remedies had failed. I suffered severely from pains across the small of my back, caused by the contraction of a cold. Nothing brought relief and when a friend advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills, I procured a supply. The contents of the first box made me feel better and as I continued their use, the pains gradually diminished. I used in all three boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills and they effected a permanent cure. I am glad to confirm all I said in my previous endorsement of Doan's Kidney Pills, given in September 1907."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents, Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

A Buttered Book.

How the Rev. Mr. Johnston, a Scottish minister and the author of numerous books, succeeded in getting one of his works reviewed by Alexander Russel, the distinguished editor of the Scotsman, is told by the writer of "Famous Editors."

A member of Mr. Johnston's congregation was an old and valued servant in Mr. Russel's family. When the preacher published his new book he asked this member to bring it under the notice of her master, with the request to review it in the columns of the Scotsman. Glad to be of service to her master, the good woman lost no time in making her wish known to the celebrated editor and next morning placed "The Gospel Roll" beside his breakfast cup.

When at breakfast Mr. Russel took up the book and remarked, with a merry twinkle in his eye, "Helen, this is an awful dry roll which you have given me this morning." "Perhaps it is, sir," the servant quickly replied, "but you can butter it well on both sides."

Next morning an excellent review appeared.

Conkling and Thurman.

Senator Roscoe Conkling was once addressing the senate in an impassioned manner and seemed to direct his remarks to Senator Thurman. At length the latter got irritated.

"Does the senator from New York," he roared, "expect me to answer him every time he turns to me?"

For a moment Mr. Conkling hesitated, and everybody expected a terrific explosion. Then, with an air of exquisite courtesy, he replied:

"When I speak of the law I turn to the senator from Ohio as the Mussulman turns toward Mecca. I turn to him as I do to the English common law as the world's most copious fountain of human jurisprudence."

The usually decorous senate broke into a storm of applause, and the Thurman eye moistened a little. The two statesmen were the best of friends and greatly enjoyed each other's society when "off duty."

A Wetter if Not a Better Man.

A little man in the west of England rushed to the river last summer, swearing loudly that he would drown himself. When he had waded in to the depth of his waist his wife, who had followed him, seized him by the hair, and then, as a local editor described it, she led him back till he reached a place where the water was about two feet deep, where she pulled him over backward and soused him under and pulled his head up again. "Drown yourself (down he went), leaving me to father the brats! (Another plunge.) Get drunk (another souse) and start for the river! (Another dip.) Better use the water instead of rum! (Another dip and shake of the head.) I'll fancy to leave me a widow!" After sousing him to her heart's content she led him out a wetter if not a better man and escorted him into the house and closed the door.

The Gordian Knot.

The famous Gordian knot was made of leather taken from some part of the harness belonging to the chariot of Gordius, king of Phrygia. It seems that this knot was so tied that the ends of the leather thong were not visible, hence the difficulty in loosening it. Many must have tried to untie it, for its fame as a "sticker" at last reached the great oracle, which declared that the lucky experimenter should be rewarded by the kingship of Persia. Alexander, trying his hand and meeting with no better success than the others, drew his sword and cut into the knot until he found the ends of it.

Right to the Point.

When the lord chief justice visited Ireland he was often entertained by a hospitable gentleman who had an old butler, who took the privilege of speaking his mind freely. On one occasion the claret did not quite meet the host's approval, so he called the ancient butler and said:

"I told you you were to put the best claret on the table. Is this the best?"

"No, sir, it is not the best claret," replied the old fellow, "but it's the best ye've got."—London Tit-Bits.

Knew He Was Worshipped.

"In Paris Mr. Whistler and an English painter got into a very turbulent argument about Velasquez at a studio tea," said an artist. "Mr. Whistler at one point in the argument praised himself extravagantly. The Englishman, listening, sneered and said at the end: 'It's a good thing we can't see ourselves as others see us.' 'Isn't it, though?' said Mr. Whistler. 'I know in my case I should grow intolerably conceited.'"

Theology and the Thermometer.

A point of theology is raised by Sir Francis Younghusband in "India and Tibet." "An interesting detail," he says, speaking of the religion of the natives, "is that their hell is not hot, but cold. If it were hot the inhabitants of frozen Tibet would all flock there."

Clever Auntie.

Traveler-It seems wonderful that Japanese dentists can take out teeth with their fingers. Little Jack-Auntie can take out hers with her fingers—every one of 'em!

Perfection.

Perfection does not exist. To understand it is the triumph of human intelligence; to desire to possess it is the most dangerous kind of madness.—Alfred de Musset.

Six every day takes out a patent for some new invention.—Whipple.

Tortured for 15 Years

by a cure defying stomach trouble that baffled doctors, and resisted all remedies he tried, John W. Modders, of Moddersville, Mich., seemed doomed. He had to sell his farm and give up work. His neighbors said, "he can't live much longer." "Whatever I ate distressed me," he wrote, "till I tried Electric Bitters, which worked such wonders for me that I can now eat things I could not take for years. Its surely a grand remedy for stomach trouble." Just as good for the liver and kidneys. Every bottle guaranteed. Only 50c at all druggists.
