About forty members of the Rebekahs and I. O. O. F., attended the annual entertainment at Renovo on Tuesday evening, of the I. O. O. F. All reported having a good time.
What might have been a sad accident was averted last Saturday by Mr. and Mrs. Blodget, when they found five little boys, of about four or five years of age, with some dynamite, which they were pounding with an ax, to see it go off. Luckily the explosive was frozen or there might have been several families mourning the loss of a little one. It is dangerous stuff and should be kept out of the reach of children.
Some of the citizens or tax-payers of our town, are kicking against the new pension law. Their dadies were not in it, so they kick. We'll let them kick.
Messrs. Geo. D. Mead, Leroy Walker, Earl Foulz and Harry Michaels, of Washington Camp, No. 136, P. O. S. A., attended the P. O. S. A., convention at Lock Haven this week.
The protest that has been heard in this state against the paying of a hunters license have been many, but it is a measure that should be passed, if it does not represent the wishes of a great many people. The license law would be one of the best laws relating to game that could be passed and it is safe to say that if it passed it would put many thousands of dollars into the state treasury. Money that is greatly needed to offset the sums expended in importing game and in paying the necessary expenses of the game commissioners. The operation of the law would make less difficult the work of the Wardens in detecting violators of the law. It would also serve as a protection to farmers against trespassing and prevent the shooting of many valuable wild birds, which are growing scarce and will soon be all gone. There is a class of hunters who do not want the law. It would be a great mistake not to have the law passed. A dollar a year is little enough for hunters to pay for their destructive sport, and if the state is to have preservatives for the raising of game, the money from the license fees should pay for them, because the hunters would get more benefits.

Last Reply to Tax-Payer.

EDITOR PRESS:—

It is the "wounded bird that flutters?" I have succeeded in having "Tax-Payer" say just the things I would have him say; that he has no respect for a law that does not coincide with his views, and that he believes in law and order when properly applied. So does the murderer, the libertine and the thief, when it applies to the other fellow, but not when it would apply to them. If everyone was to construe and apply the law as they thought proper it would be like the many tongues at the building of the Tower of Babel, which ended in confusion, but in this case it would end in anarchy. His is a violent case of brain storm and he can see the ghost of Bunker Hill come trooping down the annals of time. I must decline to have any further controversy with him, as it is useless to engage in an argumentum ad ignorantiam. He proves this by again referring to a gun-tax when there is no such question before the House; no such legislation proposed.

So now Mr. "Tax-Prayer,"
Au revoir,
NIMROD,
Driftwood, Pa., February 21, 1911.
