NO. 7.

Woman Suffrage.

Woman suffrage, a question before the civilized world, at the present time, is attracting opinions and views, from many different sources. The writer wishes to personally express some of his own personal, individual opinions.

He believes in woman suffrage to a modified extent, as follows:—

Allow women to vote after becoming of age, if she marries, surrender her the right, if she become a widow, restore the right, if she become divorced, still deny her the right, as she is still married according to The Divine Law, and may have a tendency to break up the divorce curse. Prohibit all persons, male and female, from voting who cannot read and write, habitual drunkards and prostitutes.

Married woman should confine their interests and abilities to the government of the home. It is true, the majority of them have no home to govern, but that is not the fault of the husband; it is the fault of the system of the country's government.

When slavery is abolished, as many of you think has been, in 1863, but, was not, or never has been, then the wife will have a home to govern, her husband will be her diplomat, her protector, her representative to a broader field of human government.

She will be The Divine Governor of the family and the representative of natural government and all that is pure and holy.

It is true, women are placed in the very jaws of death, in order to continue and increase the human race, and suffer great hardship in the performance of this duty, but, they must also consider it is the workings of God and nature, and if a woman die of child-birth, her soul flies to the arms of her Saviour as pure as the new drifting snow, for she died a martyr to His cause.

Many women places their lives in a more perilous position by trying to shrink from that duty and the shattered health, weak in body and mind, and their soul placed before God's mercy, from what is commonly known as, RACE SUICIDE.

Your grandmothers, knew not of such practices, and they did not want to vote, but, had all they could attend to with the duties of the home. It is the childless, or the one, or two children in the family woman, who wants to vote, for scandal being scarce, wish something new with which to occupy their minds and back fence gossip.

With apologies to the good, true and sincere childless woman.

QUO VADIS.

The April Metropolitan.

The "True Story of the Cleveland Gold Bond Issue," in the April Metropolitan Magazine tells for the first time what took place behind the scenes in that memorable transaction and describes the dramatic interview between Grover Cleveland and J. P. Morgan at the White House. It is an important article and full of human interest. "Pennant Chances" is a forecast of the coming race for honors in the National League, by John J. McGraw, manager of the New York "Giants," in "The Consumers' Dollar" H. W. Collingwood gives a clear, common sense fact story of the way the farmer and consumer lose to the middleman. In the current instalment of "The Romances of Buried Treasure" Ralph D. Paine describes the efforts being made to recover the greatest treasure-trove of history. George S. Chappell discourses humorously on "The Woes of the Architect," and at the same time supplies some wise hints on house building. The fiction includes "The Wild West in Dennispport," by Mary Heaton Vorse, "The Watch" by Robert C. Brown, and "A Runaway Sport" by Egan Kenton. Anthony Sparr's serial, "Mrs. Maxon Protests," is continued.

Basket Ball.

Through fast floor work and good all around playing, the Deak Road Hollow School quintette defeated the local Emporium High School five, to the tune of 25 to 12, at the Keystone Park last Monday evening. The contest was marked by many fine plays including long field goals, making it interesting throughout. Close, at center, starred for the P. R. H. S., playing rings around the adversary's center. Johnson also played his usual good game, scoring ten points. Nystrom and Hogan excelled for the E. H. S. Following is the line-up:

Hogan,	Forward	Bauer
Nystrom,	Forward	Johnson
Gatchel,	Center	Close
Burfield,	Guard	Horning
Hertig,	Guard (Zimmer)	Ruberto

Field Goals: P. R. H. S., Bauer, 3; Close, 3; Johnson, 10, with two foul goals. L. R. B.

Good Roads Train.

The Good Roads Train visited Emporium two days this week—Monday and Tuesday evenings, remaining here over night, guests of The Warner. They came from the east Monday afternoon, remaining here until Tuesday morning when they departed for Port Allegany, Eldred and Smethport, returning to Emporium Tuesday night. This tour closes a very satisfactory eight weeks tour of the State, their lectures and exhibits being attended by over 52,000 persons. Col. John A. Woodward, in charge of the outfit, is very gratified with their reception.

"Distance Too Great."

Wm. H. Howard, chairman of the Farmers Institutes in this county, meets with many amusing circumstances while "working up an interest" in this county. Recently he received the following: "Heaven—Pearl Avenue, Wm. H. Howard, County Chairman of Institutes, Emporium, Pa. Dear Sir:—In reply to reverse side, I wish you to excuse me and — from attending your institutes, as it has pleased the Almighty Father to remove us from your world about twelve years ago and as the distance is so great between Heaven and earth, I will have to decline your kind invitation." Mr. Howard has placed the letter on file and some day may have a good laugh with the Pearl Avenue friend.

New Industry at Beechwood.

Mr. J. J. Erich, of Beechwood, who is busily at work getting ready to erect a saw mill, hub factory, etc., at Beechwood, was a Press visitor last Saturday, accompanied by our friend J. G. Nyheart. Mr. Erich is a practical lumberman and will give employment to from 75 to 100 men in mill and woods the coming season, the larger portion of the men to be engaged in cutting chemical wood. He has moved his family to Beechwood and occupies the comfortable house vacated by Mr. C. R. Kline. Having been actively engaged in the lumber business in this county and Elk for eleven years he is reliable and a successful operator. It will take five or more years to cut the timber now contracted for. Beechwood will now take on new life and this industry will be a great help to that section of our county. Glad to it, for Mr. Erich is a reliable gentleman and we are very favorably impressed with his modest manner.

DEATH'S DOINGS.

F. F. F. F. F.
Edward Fobert, the five year old son of Mrs. Bertha Fobert, of this place, died at Buffalo, N. Y., early last Friday morning. The cause of his death was spinal meningitis. He had been a patient little sufferer with the disease for about two weeks. Edward was a bright and interesting little chap and his death comes as a severe blow to his devoted mother, who was with him during his illness and at the time of his death. The remains arrived at Emporium, Friday evening and were taken to the undertaking rooms of Mr. Bernard Egan, from which place they were taken to St. Marks Cemetery on Saturday afternoon; the interment was strictly private, owing to the contagious disease. The bereaved mother has the sympathy of all in her sorrow.

BURLINGAME.

DELOS BURLINGAME, of Altoona, Pa., formerly a resident of Portage township, this county, died at his residence on March 28th, 1911, after an illness of one week. Mr. Burlingame was born at Smethport, Pa., Sept. 22, 1829, his age therefore being 81 years, six months and six days. Deceased leaves two daughters and three sons to mourn his death, viz: Mrs. Rose Sage, Miss Verma, H. D. and B. N., at home and Elinor E., Johnsonburg. Funeral services were held at Altoona this morning, Rev. H. L. Bowlby, pastor of First Presbyterian Church officiating. The remains will arrive here this (Thursday) afternoon on Buffalo Flyer, arrangements having been made to have the train stop at Sizerville, where interment will be made in the family lot. Rev. Mr. Bent, pastor of Presbyterian Church, Emporium, will conduct the services at the grave. Friends from this place can take the same train, returning to Emporium on evening train. We hope to publish an appropriate obituary in our next issue.

MILLER.

James H. Miller died at the home of his sister, Mrs. H. A. Washburn, at Waverly, Wash., on March 15th, of consumption. Mr. Miller was formerly a resident of this place and was a brother of Mrs. Jos. Holcom.

SPRING OPENINGS.

KUEHNE.
The Spring Opening at the store of Mr. R. Kuehne is now in full operation and the large and beautiful store never looked better. The millinery department is the greatest attraction for the ladies, this year season contains a larger and far superior quality of goods than ever before displayed. Hats of the latest creations are in charge of an expert milliner, Miss Seery, of Buffalo, N. Y. Mr. Kuehne has also a display collection of real lace ranging in price up to $20.00 per yard. It is well worth a trip to this store and inspect these wonderful laces. This large and commodious store is just full of all the latest designs in wearing apparel, suits, coats, etc. You will not be disappointed if you include this wonderful store in your shopping excursion. You are always sure of a royal welcome.

COPPERSMITHS.

To-day marks the fifth spring opening at Coppersmith's millinery parlors and the general public will find everything up-to-date and in every particular satisfactory. The Easter hats are latest designs and the spring suits are the latest patterns. All departments are just teeming with new ideas and styles. Mrs. Coppersmith, with the assistance of Miss Belle Cleary, are there to receive you and are glad to show you the pretty things. The trimming department is under the skillful management of Miss Gladys Hudson, of Erie. Be sure and attend this opening, you will find something to please you.

LUDLAM.

The Misses Ludlam are to-day having their tenth spring millinery opening and every year finds their stock more complete and satisfactory. By close attention to business the Misses Ludlam have built up a lucrative trade and purchasing from this store means you have received the best the market affords, at the lowest price, Miss Elizabeth Ludlam being one of the most expert trimmers, superintends all the work of the establishment. She is ably assisted by Miss Mayme Cummings, so that all the work turned out from this room is sure to please. The latest creations in the millinery art being shown.

SEGERS.

The first spring opening, known as Carnation Day, will be celebrated in first-class shape at the Ice Cream and Confectionery Parlors of Seger & Co., on Wednesday, April 5th. The store will undergo several changes and will be made beautiful in its appearance. Every purchaser on that day will receive a lovely carnation as a gift from the firm. Mr. and Mrs. Seger have recently visited the larger cities and are now prepared to serve all the latest drinks and ice cream dishes known to the general public. A musical programme will be rendered during the afternoon and evening, for the benefit and pleasure of their guests. Get the habit of going to Segers; you will be pleased with your treatment.

Paul—Danforth.

At 1:30 p. m., Thursday, March 23rd, some thirty guests assembled at the home of Mrs. Nellie Danforth, East Emporium, the occasion being the marriage of her daughter Miss Rose Nellie Beck Danforth to Mr. Charles Harrison Paul, of Renovo. The ceremony took place at 1:45, Rev. T. W. Murray, Pastor of the Free Methodist Church officiating. Fred Mason and Ada Mason acted the part of best man and bridesmaid. After the ceremony they all retired to the dining room where a bounteous repast was served. The presents were numerous. The happy couple left for an extended trip to the east on the 3:18 train, amid showers of rice and best wishes of their many friends. After their return they will set up house keeping at St. Marys, Pa.

Trout Fry.

On Monday, April 3rd the Corry state hatchery, will ship to Emporium a quantity of trout fry. The cans will be in charge of a special officer from the hatchery. All persons who have sent requisitions for trout should be on hand to see that they are properly taken care of.

New Flyers.

When the new schedule on the Pennyan railroad, which will appear in the near future, two new flyers may be added between Buffalo and Philadelphia and other changes will likely be made in train service on the Middle division.

Unique Good-Bye to Rev. Mr. J. F. Anderson.

On Sunday evening last, after the regular services of the several churches were over, Messrs. Bent, Bogue and Tate went down to the First Methodist Episcopal Church to hear the closing words of the popular Divine's sermon and to say good-bye to him. Rev. Mr. Anderson having finished his sermon called on Rev. Mr. Bent, Pastor of Presbyterian Church, to pronounce the benediction, whereupon Mr. Bent stated that several of the ministers of our town had come to show their regard and good will for Mr. Anderson, when they were invited to seats on the platform. Rev. Mr. Bent, acting as chief spokesman, called on Rev. Mr. Tate, of Emmanuel Episcopal Church, who said that the words: "He was a good man, full of the Holy Ghost and Faith," could be truthfully applied to Rev. Mr. Anderson. Mr. Tate said that Mr. Anderson held a large place in the hearts of the people of this community; that he wished him even larger success and greater blessings in his new field of labor and that if we were denied the pleasure of meeting him in Heaven. Mr. Tate also spoke of Rev. Mr. Weeks, the newly appointed Pastor of the church, as being an enthusiastic worker, eloquent speaker and consecrated Christian man—both gentlemen being natives of Everett, Pa.

Rev. Mr. Bogue, Pastor of First Baptist Church, took as his theme, "Ships That Pass in the Night." He said he had received many kind words and much good advice from Rev. Mr. Anderson, which he treasured and appreciated and had done him much good.

Rev. Mr. Bent very feelingly expressed his genuine regard and affection for Mr. Anderson and felt very keenly the loss he and this community would sustain in the departure of Mr. Anderson and his estimable family from our city.

Freight Car Consumed.

Special to the Press:—
As Train No. 92, east bound, was passing Benzinger at 2:12 Tuesday morning, Operator W. L. Keiser discovered sparks coming from the roof of a box car, near the middle of the train. He at once notified the Supt's office and the train was stopped and examined at Rathbun, but nothing was discovered until the train reached Beechwood when the fire broke out. It was found to be a car of charcoal which had been over-heated. The car was side-tracked at Beechwood and despite the efforts of the trainmen it was entirely consumed by the flames. Great credit is due to Mr. Keiser, one of Pennsy's efficient operators, for keeping watch of all conditions while on duty.

Society Events.

DELIGHTFUL PARTY.
A very delightful party was given Miss Lettie Craven, at the home of her sister, Mrs. William Pye, on Portage street, last Thursday evening. Twenty-five young people were present and the evening was pleasantly spent in games and music. An elegant luncheon was served.

SURPRISE PARTY.

A surprise party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Craven, Saturday evening last, in honor of their daughter, Miss Lettie Craven. All enjoyed the evening by playing games and "pulling taffy."

WASHINGTON LETTER.

[From our Regular Correspondent.]

WASHINGTON, March 25, 1911.

It is said that the United States imported more than forty millions of dollars worth of diamonds last year. This country, as might be expected, is the greatest diamond market in the world. It also furnishes the greatest harvest in world for diamond thieves. It is said that most ladies of the "four hundred" wear paste diamonds in order to avoid the exposure of their real gems to the cupid of the light fingered experts. Good scheme, but why pay for the real if the spurious will do as well?

It appears that the distinguished military experts of France and Germany are strenuously at work to show that the United States and Japan must fight. The argument of the German expert is that the control of the Pacific is essential to the commercial existence of Japan, and that in order to maintain the supremacy Japan must have the control of Guam and Hawaii as coaling stations and bases of supply. But can Japan control the Pacific? Will not England, Germany, France, Russia and other great European powers have something to say with reference to the control of the Pacific? Great Britain is easily five times as powerful on the sea as Japan, and yet she does not pretend to control the Atlantic or even the Mediterranean, of which she holds the gates, Suez and Gibraltar. The Mediterranean is an open sea. Japan cannot control the Pacific. It is doubtful if she could control the inland sea of Japan, to say nothing of the Yellow Sea, the sea of China and other contiguous waters. The Pacific is by odds the biggest of oceans, and no nation or nations can control it. The same writer argues that the United States has only twenty-three warships in the Pacific, while Japan has 125. He is mistaken. Japan has 125 thousand, but they are mostly san pan, a kind of fishing boat carrying two or three persons with a tall oar. The Japanese will have much to do with the navigation of the Pacific for they are unexcelled as sailors and can conduct a carrying trade at less than half the cost of and American or European country; but the talk of any nation controlling the Pacific is as extravagant as it would be to talk of controlling the other.

The first step of the extra session of Congress will be to pass the Canada reciprocity bill, and the second step will be, it is said, to materially reduce the tariff on wool and woollen goods. If this can be accomplished, the western Senator who has been called the greatest shepherd since Abraham will lose a million or two dollars but ninety millions of Americans will wear more elegant and more comfortable attire. Nit!

Surprise Party.

A pleasant surprise party was tendered Miss Emma Morris, last Thursday evening, at the home of her parents, when a number of her friends and schoolmates gathered to celebrate her fifteenth birthday. The evening was spent in playing games and a bountiful repast was served at mid-night. After happy returns of the day the jolly youngsters departed for their homes. Those present were: Misses Anna Zurfluh, Florence Nelson, Rosemary Quinn, Zeta Wells, Neoma Dodge, Mae Vought, Frances Kinsler, Edna Armstrong, Mae Mott, Alice Uray, Helen Vought, Bessie Edwards, Marie Edelman, Mary Bauer and Messrs. John Creator, Carl Johnson, Forest Campbell, John and Andrew Bauer, George Ness, Carl and Josie Blumle, Fred Minard, Earl Vought, John and Leo Burfield, Claude Wookcock, Lawrence Lathrope, Harry Stumpf and John Ruberto.

Caught in the Yard.

Thomas Law and Henry Haupt are organizing a ball team to take part in the local games this season and have some good material already selected. We understand Mr. Law is reading up the latest Japanese fads.

Norfolk and Western Engine, No. 991, which has been tested on Kane Hill during the past month, has been brought to Emporium and is being used to push trains from Emporium to Keating Summit on the B. & A. V. Division. This is one of the largest locomotives in the world and is of the Mallet Compound type and does the work of two common engines on the hill.

Chief yard clerk George Beattie, of the yard office, was off duty on Sunday enjoying a day's rest and recreation.

Night switch-tender Mills, who has been laid up with an injured foot for the past few days, has resumed duty.

Signal inspector John H. Beck has returned from a two weeks' visit among relatives and friends in the eastern part of the State. John says there is no town like Emporium; so say all of us.

Messenger Harry E. Hott has been complimented by his superiors for his efficient service and active interest in handling the Postal Telegraph business. Harry is a bright young man and will eventually reach the top of the ladder.

Extra Operator Sullivan is writing a new play, entitled "The Broken Switch." This play is taken from actual railroad scenes and the characters therein are track walkers, signalmen, telegraphers and yardmasters. The play is full of exciting situations and deep mysteries and should be a success.

A Welcome to New Pastor.

A reception will be given the Rev. J. Emory Weeks, the newly appointed pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church, on Tuesday evening, in the Church parlors. A cordial invitation is extended to all members and friends of the Church and Sunday School.

Back at Work.

Mr. Thomas Cleary who was injured last week, by falling from the platform at the freight house has so far recovered from his injuries as to be able to resume work. Mr. Cleary sprained his back in falling and was laid up nearly a week.
