An object lesson is being taught to one of our "brave ones," who is at present in the county jail awaiting for Justice to carry out its decree. When a communty becomes so aroused, aud its people, after cool thought, have made up their minds about certain things, it is generally pretty hard to change their opinions. We have this to say, that if the parties concerned had lived in the south and had taied to carry on such games, that per-haps the neighbors too would have taken a hand and we can safely say not much either. We ympathy would be shown have no sorrow to express for him, but it does seem a bit strange that some of his "pals" den't go to his rescue. "Truly the way of the transgressor is hard."
