

Johnston, Editor. Volume 1. Cambria Freeman. Every Thursday Morning. Rates of advertising. Retail price per copy, one year, $2.00. Per year, six months, 1.00. Per copy, three months, .50.

THE JOHNSTOWN DRUG HOUSE! HAS IN STORE THE LARGEST STOCK OF DRUGS AND MEDICINES, CHEMICALS, PAINTS, OILS and VARNISHES, Glue, Putty, Alcohol, DYES AND DYE-STUFFS, TURPENTINE, WHITE LEAD, PAINTS, Glassware, Druggists' Sundries, &c.

LORETTO DRUG STORE. Now on hand a large and well selected stock of fresh DRUGS AND MEDICINES, Paints, Oils and Varnishes, Pure and Unadulterated Liquors, for medicinal purposes.

HOLIDAYSBURG! JACOB M. PIRCHER, FASHIONABLE CLOTHIER & TAILOR. Has just opened a full assortment of well selected and most desirable SPRING & SUMMER GOODS.

AUDITOR'S NOTICE.—The undersigned Auditor, appointed by the Orphans' Court of Cambria county to report the distribution of the funds in the hands of Robert H. Singer, Trustee to sell the real estate of Denis Dougherty, late of Allegheny township, dec'd, hereby notifies all persons interested that he will attend to the duties of said appointment, at his office in Ebensburg, on Friday, the 21 day of August next, at 2 o'clock P.M., when and where they must present their claims, or be debarred from coming in for a share of the fund.

EXECUTOR'S NOTICE.—Letters Testamentary having been granted by the Register of Cambria county to the undersigned, on the estate of Jerome A. Buck, late of Carroll township, dec'd, all persons having claims against said estate will please present them properly authenticated for settlement, and those indebted to the same will make payment without delay.

Original Poetry. [Written for the Cambria Freeman.] TO THE RAINBOW. BY JULIA TOBIN. Triumphant Arch! that spans the sky When storms prepare to part, I ask not proud philosophy To tell me what thou art.

Biographical Sketch. [From the "Forum," by David Paul Brown.] GEORGE SHARSWOOD, L. L. D. The Honorable George Sharswood was born on the 7th of July, 1810, and graduated at the University of Pennsylvania, on the 31st of July, 1828, with the highest honors, delivering the Greek Salutatory, manifesting a scholarship of which his unceasing industry had given an early interest.

A HARD HEARTED FELLOW. During the first year of the rebellion a man living in Georgia left home and family, came North and joined the Union army. He left behind him in his Southern home a wife and two children, a boy and a girl. Months passed away and no tidings came to this little family of the absent husband and father.

The Fallen Snow—A Sad Story. A beautiful poem entitled the "Fallen Snow," a production of extraordinary merit, has been copied far and wide by the press of this country. The author's name does not appear, no doubt to the disappointment of many readers who admire the true and beautiful in sentiment and composition.

Lo Cheval Mechanique—A Wonderful Invention. The following description of a new invention now on exhibition at the great "show" in Paris is from a private letter, published in the Charleston Courier: "I was fortunate enough to be present yesterday evening at a private view of this wonderful invention. The throng at the Exposition is so dense in the daytime that any attempt to work it during the exhibition hours was impossible.

A CIRCUS SENSATION. The immense audience assembled under the canvass of Messrs. Thayer & Noyes, Falls Field, on Thursday evening were treated to a performance which they had not anticipated, and which everybody present would willingly have forgone. The entertainment had passed off to the entire satisfaction of the spectators, and as a crowning act the large cage containing two lions and two lionesses were drawn into the ring, when Mr. Charles White, the keeper, entered it to exhibit his control over the ferocious beasts.

The Fallen Snow—A Sad Story. (Continued) The maiden name of the authoress was Dora Shaw. She was born and grew up to womanhood in the Wabash Valley, Indiana. Her parents were plain, honorable people, blessed with plenty, though not rich, as the world goes.

Lo Cheval Mechanique—A Wonderful Invention. (Continued) "The iron horse bears no resemblance to its equine namesake. Imagine a trunk-shaped box about seven feet long, and wide enough for a man to saddle, and about five feet high; the whole concerned mounted on five wheels; the wheels concealed, however, under the machine. It is covered with leather, and has a saddle, only the saddle is very high in the front and back, so that there is no chance of being unhorsed.

A HARD HEARTED FELLOW. (Continued) Every ticket was sold by 9 o'clock, and it were needless to say that when night came that place of amusement occupied the thoughts of the city. The curtain rose—Dora appeared—walked, stammered, blushed and repeated her part mechanically—like any girl reading her composition at an examination. Still the audience was pleased—not by the acting, but by the novelty of the occasion.

FOR SEALING FRUIT CANS.—Take rosin, eight ounces; gum shallac, two ounces; beeswax, one-half ounce, and if you desire it colored English vermilion, one and a half ounces. Melt the rosin, and stir in the shallac slowly, and afterwards the beeswax. This will make quite a quantity, and needs only to be melted to be ready for use at any time.

Lo Cheval Mechanique—A Wonderful Invention. (Continued) "I suppose you know the Grand Exposition consists of a series of eccentric rings, each one devoted to a peculiar branch of industry. The one the machine was running on was the Numero Quatre, section del Mecaniques, and is among the largest, measuring some yards more than an English mile. It seemed to me to be incredible that he should have performed the circuit in two minutes twelve seconds.

A HARD HEARTED FELLOW. (Continued) The next, the third, the fourth, and fifth nights were like the first. The morbid appetite of the public, satiated with novelty, demanded good acting. This Dora could not supply. The audience fell off, the managers became restless and refused to offer a re-engagement, but intimated that she had best go to another city. In the meantime LeBaum sued for a divorce, which was readily granted by the Court.

A HARD HEARTED FELLOW. (Continued) Every ticket was sold by 9 o'clock, and it were needless to say that when night came that place of amusement occupied the thoughts of the city. The curtain rose—Dora appeared—walked, stammered, blushed and repeated her part mechanically—like any girl reading her composition at an examination. Still the audience was pleased—not by the acting, but by the novelty of the occasion.

FOR SEALING FRUIT CANS.—(Continued) Cure Your Corns.—An exchange says: Put the feet for half an hour, two or three successive nights, in a pretty strong solution of soda. The alkali dissolves the indurated cuticle, and the corns fall out spontaneously, leaving a small cavity, which soon fills. This is a good remedy, and needs only to be used on a certain remedy it prove so it will entice the heart felt thanks of many.

FOR SEALING FRUIT CANS.—(Continued) Man is a miser—woman a mystery. Abandoned by friends, home, husband and penniless, she fell—to use her own words: Fell, like the snowflakes, from heaven to hell, Fell, to be trampled as fifth in the street, Fell, to be scoffed at, to be spit on and beat: Feeding. Cursing. Dreading to die, Selling her soul to whoever would buy, Dealing in shame for a morsel of bread, Hating the living and fearing the dead.