

AMBRIA FREEMAN.

EBENSBURG, PA. THURSDAY, AUGUST 22, 1867.

DEMOCRATIC STATE TICKET.

FOR JUDGE OF SUPREME COURT: DR. GEORGE SHARSWOOD, of Philadelphia.

DEMOCRATIC COUNTY TICKET.

FOR ASSEMBLY: MR. JOHN P. LINTON, Johnstown. FOR SHERIFF: JOHN A. BLAIR, Ebensburg. FOR TREASURER: JOHN COX, Conemaugh. FOR COMMISSIONER: JOHN A. KENNEDY, Carrolltown. FOR JURY COMMISSIONER: JOHN BUCK, Carrolltown. FOR POOR HOUSE DIRECTOR: JOHN D. THOMAS, Ebensburg. FOR AUDITORS: EDW. D. EVANS, Croyle, 3 years. JOHN P. ALLEN, Yoder, 1 year. FOR CORONER: J. A. HARROLD, Johnstown.

CHANCE OF BASE.

After the democratic nominations had been made, a few rotten radicals at Johnstown undertook the task of getting up a title disaffection among the democrats, in order to bring "grit to their own mill." Accordingly communications, pretending to come from dissatisfied democrats, were published in the "By Authority" radical organ at Johnstown, and copied into the semi-official organ at Ebensburg. These communications were as democratic as a radical could make them—the word "copperhead" did not occur once—but still they wanted the ring of the true democratic metal.

For instance, while studiously avoiding the slang phrase "copperhead," THOMAS BREEN and JOHN THOMAS are called "democrats"—a term that no democrat could apply to either of these gentlemen. It is only that party which scorns the industrial mechanic that could use such terms. Mr. Breen, against his will, was placed nomination at the request of the "Wilmore" and other country delegates, and could not serve; and these men, after complaining that a radical was appointed to the vacancy, are working with that radical to defeat the democratic ticket. Mr. Breen said his friends will appreciate this scurrilous attack.

John Thomas is a laborious, self-educated artisan. No decent man of any party will deny either his honesty or capacity. And those who think to defeat principle-minded men, like Mr. Thomas, by "wearing in" the effort. Mr. Thomas was delighted with the "influx" that would give its portion of the loves and fishes. Heated, exulted, that the radicals make no nomination, and between the two and the disaffected democrats would make a nice thing of it. The Tribune felt out of good.

But the "power behind the throne" did not turn out to be "greater than the throne" itself. The Radical County Committee have called the Radical Convention together—not to make terms with democrats—not to recommend the support of volunteer democrats—not to attempt any "bargain and sale"—but to nominate a radical county ticket. Thus ends the agitation, and leaves the democrats to defeat a ticket of negro loving, Union hating radicals to the tune of some thousand majority.

MR. HENRY O'HARA.

The Radical papers seem to have taken a sudden liking to Mr. O'Hara, although they have heretofore denounced him, and those who thought with him, as "traitors," "copperheads," &c. Mr. O'Hara understands these gentlemen, and knows as well as they do what their object is. Mr. O'Hara is an upright citizen—an honest man. He is, besides, fully qualified for the position of Director of the Poor, and had he been the choice of the Convention every true democrat would at once have rallied to his support. And in that case, these radical friends of his would all call him traitor and copperhead, and wish to see somebody else to defeat the ticket. It is not love for Mr. O'Hara they have—it is hate for the democratic ticket.

Some half dozen names were before the Convention for Poor Director—all of them good democrats, all competent men. The majority fell upon Mr. Thomas. Had it then upon another, Mr. Thomas and his friends would have supported him cheerfully, and Mr. O'Hara, as a good democrat, will do precisely the same. The fact of Mr. O'Hara not being nominated is no proof against either his fitness or his worth. The fact that Munster township had the office for six out of twelve years may have contributed to the result. But it is funny enough to see the radicals breaking their hearts about an office not worth more than $60 per year.

Hon. WM. M. RANDALL has been re-nominated for State Senator in the Schuylkill district, over Hon. B. Reilly. The record stood: Randall 136, Reilly 59.

In the Sacred Name of Union It has Perpetrated Blisunion.

This charge we fearlessly make against the Radical party. When Abolitionism had brought about a civil war, all parties in the North sustained the government in putting down the rebellion, because all parties in the North were assured this would restore the Union.

The rebellion has been put down. It is some two years and a half since the rebels surrendered and disbanded their armies on the only terms required of them—laying down their arms and renewing their allegiance to the Constitution and laws. This they have done, and yet we are as far from having a Union restored now as we were then. The South, instead of being allowed to govern itself, and compelled to do so at its own expense, is now governed by a standing army at the expense of the North. And thus we are ground to the earth with taxes to support sovereign States that are able and willing to support themselves, if they were allowed to do so. And the Union never will be restored so long as the radicals are in power! Will not the people think of these things?

GEN. GRANT.—The following from the New York World takes the view pretty generally held by the Democratic press in relation to Gen. Grant and the Presidency:

General Grant is under a moral necessity of respecting the great renown of his past services. It is beneath him to play any common part in vulgar politics. The Presidency can be nothing to him; he has a more valuable office. But if, in the hands of Providence, he could be an instrument for tranquillizing the country, that is an honor for which he could afford to sacrifice ease, congenial pursuits, and the possibility of still greater fame as a soldier. God forbid that he should descend into the arena of party contests. If he cannot be elected President without such a descent, he can do no good in the Presidency. Our torn, lacerated, exasperated country needs soothing, needs pacification, needs oil on the troubled waters, which still toss and dash after the recent tempest. We would no more have General Grant become a party politician than if he had lived in Washington's time, we would have wished him to give and return party blows. As Washington was elected and re-elected on the strength of his character and services, without pledges either asked or given, we trust that Gen. Grant will be elected, if at all, in the same way and with the same generous confidence. Having restored the authority of the government, we hope that he may add the highest civic to the highest military fame by restoring long lost cordiality of feeling.

THE LATEST RUMOR IN THE CONOVER CASE.—The latest rumor is that a man named Ruby, who was arrested for frauds upon the Treasury, was for a time confined in the cells at the jail here with Sanford Conover, and he had opportunities of becoming familiar with Conover's movements, and the results of his frequent interviews with Mr. Impacher Ashley. It appears that when the Congressman went to visit the prisoner, the latter was taken from his cell and permitted to see his visitor in a room down stairs, and the interviews lasted sometimes two or three hours. On one of these occasions it is said that Conover was busily writing, and had many papers before him when Mr. Ashley called. Going to meet his visitor he neglected to put up his papers, and Ruby had the curiosity to examine them. He found them to be certain statements which some party or parties unknown was swearing to. Their contents were briefly noted, and it is now asserted that the testimony of certain witnesses at the Surratt trial correspond exactly with the statements previously prepared by Conover in his prison cell. It is further said that the truth of this can be demonstrated most clearly.—Washington Correspondence Baltimore Sun.

ASSASSINATION OF LOPEZ.—Gen. Lopez, the traitor who betrayed Maximilian, has been assassinated. The occurrence is thus described by a letter writer: Lopez was stopping at a hotel in Puebla, where his wife spurned him from her presence. Early one morning a Mexican arrived, and familiarized himself with an hostler in a lively stable adjoining the hotel. Gen. Miguel Lopez was inquired for, but not being in, the stranger was told that the General would be at dinner. Before the dinner hour Lopez returned, and was pointed out to the stranger, who made special note of his man. When dinner was called, Lopez and his assassin occupied opposite seats at the table. After some minutes, during which time the stranger called for and drank a glass of wine, he deliberately rose, drew a concealed knife, and sprang upon Lopez and stabbed him nine times. The stranger then took his hat, and as he started to leave, said, "This is the way all traitors should be paid." No one interfered, or prevented the assassin from leaving. Thus was the blood of Maximilian, Miramon, Mejia, yes, and thousands of others avenged.

A "SPIRITUALIST" STORY.—The Boston Commonwealth has the following: "The railroad conductor with a flower in his mouth is well known to travelers on a certain line into Boston. Summer and winter one always sees a flower between his teeth, as if it grew there. It is said that many years ago the lady he was to marry died; that soon after he received a communication from her spirit that as long as he kept a flower in his mouth she would be hovering near him, and that with a constancy and fidelity almost unparalleled, for nearly twenty years he has adhered to this poetic custom."

Two ferrymen and two passengers were carried over Niagara Falls at a late hour on Tuesday evening. Their bodies have not been recovered.

NEWS OF THE WEEK.

—Captain Thomas H. O'Brien, a Fenian confined for two years in Dublin prison, has been released, and has arrived in Troy.

—A promising young man named John Gray, of New Pottsville, Chester county, died a few days ago from the effects of violent exertion in playing base ball.

—Empress Carlotta, wife of Maximilian, is in better spirits, and her mental condition has slightly improved. She knows Maximilian is dead, but fancies he died from fever.

—At one of the stations of the Union Pacific Railroad, two sacks of flour and ten barrels of ale were recently delivered. The question is what do they intend to do with so much flour.

—Three men were drowned in a mash-tub in a distillery in New York, on Monday last. One of them fell in accidentally, and the others lost their lives in attempting his rescue.

—At a picnic near Vicksburg, on Thursday, poison was put in the refreshments by some unknown parties. Five whites and three blacks died, and six or eight persons are not expected to survive.

—Mr. Bradley, Surratt's attorney, has been arrested and held in $2,000 bail to answer for sending Judge Fisher a note, which is construed to mean a challenge to a duel, although Bradley says he did not intend it.

—A negro and white girl from Warren, Ohio, were married at Sharon, Mercer county, this State a few days ago by a Radical justice of the peace. "The world moves," exclaims a Radical organ over the occurrence, but it neglects to say which way.

—Mrs. Patrick Mahar, of Dubuque, Iowa, fell into a mineral shaft forty feet deep which had become overgrown with grass and weeds, one night a couple weeks since, and was not found until noon the following day. She received but slight injuries.

—Edward P. Weston has been matched to walk from Portland, Me., to Chicago, Ill., a distance of twelve hundred miles, in thirty consecutive days, and not to walk on Sundays, leaving but twenty-six days in which to perform the feat. The stake is $10,000.

—The forger Killian alias Rankin, when held for trial in Harrisburg for presenting a forged check at the Mechanics' Bank, coolly informed the Mayor that he could not furnish the $5,000 bail demanded unless he would take a check on the Second National Bank of Pittsburgh.

—An enterprising individual in Milwaukee sold a quantity of barrelled sand and salt recently for pork, but the weather was so warm that the purchasers, unable to see why there was no leakage, examined the packages, and caused his arrest. Some $20,000 had been realized by this speculation.

—Since the "revelation" the Radical papers have said a great many hard things about Conover, but in all our exchanges we see nothing more severe than a remark of the Portland, Maine, Press, which calls the disclosures of Conover "an attempt to destroy the character (!) of Messrs. Ashley and Holt."

—It is understood that Maj. Gen. Geo. H. Thomas has been assigned to the command of the Fifth Military District, in place of Maj. Gen. Sheridan, who has been transferred to the command of Missouri, from which Maj. Gen. Hancock has been assigned to the Department of the Cumberland, in place of Gen. Thomas.

—Banque Boy, the first Turkish Minister ever accredited to this Government, accompanied by his secretary and attendants, and forming a retinue that attracted quite a crowd of spectators at the hotel where he is stopping. He was to be formally received by the Government on Wednesday.

—It is stated that on the death of Pope Pius IX. the government of France would strongly urge the election of Bishop Dupanloup, of Orleans, as his successor. Bishop Dupanloup has the reputation of being, in every respect, one of the ablest Roman Catholic bishops now living; and if elected Pope, would probably soon make his mark as one of the greatest Popes of modern times.

—The "stolid Dutch," as one of the Massachusetts Radical organs calls our people, are preparing to give Judge Williams, of Connecticut, a vigorous "set back" in October. They want a man on the Supreme Bench honest enough and conscientious enough to be governed by laws, constitutions and facts, and not to be the tool of a lot of greedy politicians.

—A New Haven German named Loughan, found his wife and five children in the street when he returned from his work last Friday, the landlord having ejected them for not paying the rent in advance. His wife made two attempts to kill herself and baby that night, but was prevented, and on Saturday Mr. Loughan had several apoplectic fits, from which he will probably not recover.

—Three men were arrested five years ago for committing a murder in Coventry, R. I., but were discharged for want of evidence. They have been again arrested, and a woman named Wood testifies that she accused the murdered man in her cellar for a fortnight and then threw the body into the river, where it was found. She had been intimidated by them until now. The examination took place on Saturday, for trial. The murdered man's name was Andrew. The crime was committed for $16.

—Canals has raised the standard of revolt in Mexico still is operating in the neighborhood of Matamoros. This is the earliest fruit of the Escobedo butchering programme. Canales is a spirited and determined partisan leader, and is not likely to be alone in such a movement as he has commenced. If Juarez intends to build up a government in Mexico founded upon law, justice and equity, he had better take measures to convince the people of that fact, and then such movements as those of Canales will be impossible.

PHENOMENON IN IRELAND.—Rev. Patrick Malone, parish priest of Belmullet, writes to a Dublin paper about an extraordinary convulsion of nature which occurred within eleven miles of that town a few nights ago. The "side of a mountain was raised from its bed, and suddenly breaking up into huge fragments, proceeded down the inclined surface, carrying destruction in its course, until it spent its fury in the waters of the Atlantic." The portion of mountain which broke up contained an area of about forty acres, and although the elevation was not more than one foot in fifteen, the great altitude from which the subterranean current ascended accounts, he thinks, for the irresistible force which attended it. Hundreds of large fragments, some of them measuring two thousand cubic feet, are now, Mr. Malone says, to be seen thrown in on either side and strewn upon the undisturbed plane, without the appearance of water having accompanied them there. His explanation of the phenomenon is that the great drought of the preceding two months created a vacuum between the peat surface and its gravelly substratum. The heavy fall of rain being pressed into the cavity produced the eruption. Several families had a narrow escape of their lives, some persons having been carried forward a distance on the moving and breaking ground. The bog debris is scattered over the crops of several poor men, a road is blocked by the fragments, a dale closed up, and a valley created, "where nothing but a mountain appeared before."

CURIOUS CASE.—A Boston savings bank has lately had a strange case of mistaken identity. About four years ago a one-armed man called, saying he wished to draw money deposited there several years before but had lost his bank book. The treasurer asked him if he could prove his identity, and he said that he had formerly driven a cart for a well-known coal merchant in the city, and in his employ had lost his arm. The coal merchant was summoned, and at once said he recognized the man, although he was somewhat changed in appearance, and that he was all right; and signed a bond in the claimant's favor, who departed with his money. Nothing more was heard of the matter till about a month or so ago, when another one-armed man claiming the same name as the first, entered the bank with his book in his hand and demanded his deposit. He told the same story as to his identity these many years, and the coal merchant was summoned to decide. At once the merchant said that before he had been deceived, that the other man was an impostor, but this was the right man, and with the utmost good nature paid the bond he had signed four years before; and a second time the money was paid. The explanation probably is that both these one-armed men had been in the same prison together, had talked and planned together, and together had been successful in their swindle.

A GREAT NATURAL CURIOSITY.—The Sentinel, published at Jacksonville, Oregon, of the 12th ult., says: "Several of our citizens returned last week from a visit to the great sunken lake, situated in Cascade Mountains, about seventy-five miles northeast of Jacksonville. This lake rivals the famous valley of Sinbad, the Sailor. It is thought to average 2,000 feet down to the water, all around. The walls are almost perpendicular, running down into the water, and leaving no beach. The depth of the water is unknown, and its surface is smooth and untruffled, as it lies so far below the surface of the mountain that the air currents do not affect it. Its length is estimated at twelve miles, and its breadth at ten.

"No living man ever has, probably ever will be able to reach the water's edge. It lies silent, still, and mysterious in the bosom of the 'everlasting hills,' like a huge veil, scooped out by the hands of the giant geni of the mountains, in unknown ages gone by, and around it the primeval forests, watch and ward are keeping. The visiting party fired a rifle several times into the water, at an angle of forty-five degrees, and were able to note several seconds of time from the report of the gun until the ball struck the water. Such seems incredible, but is vouched for by some of our most reliable citizens. The lake is, certainly, a most remarkable curiosity."

GOES VERY FAST.—This is an age of wonderful inventions. The minds of ingenious men have brought forth machinery facilitating and making labor easy. And among the rest the Blacksmith has not been forgotten, for L. C. Singer has invented a machine which makes the process of bending light or heavy tires, bands, &c., an easy and very pleasant task. This machine is gauged and numbered so as to tell exactly where to place the rollers in order to bend any desired diameter. Hundreds of references can be given. To get the machine, address R. H. Singer, Ebensburg, Pa.

N. B.—A few State rights remain to be disposed of. None need apply for Pennsylvania, as the inventor intends holding it for the purpose of selling machines.
