

CAMBRIA FREEMAN.

Ebensburg, Pa.,
THURSDAY, : : : Dec. 26, 1867.

A MEETING of the Democratic State Central Committee will be held at the Democratic Club Rooms, Harrisburg, on Tuesday, Jan. 7, 1867, at 7 o'clock P. M. A full attendance is especially desired.

WILLIAM A. WALLACE, Chairman.

Gen. Winfield Scott Hancock.

There is something in a name! The general order of the hero of Williamsburg in assuming the command at New Orleans proves that we have at least one military commander, who recognizes the Constitution as the paramount law of the land, and who is determined to wield his powers in subordination to its provisions.

There is one military chieftain, who still believes the civil power superior to the arm of the military in time of profound peace: who still regards the writ of Habeas Corpus and trial by jury as the common birthright of the American people; and who is willing to accord to sovereign States the power to govern themselves.

Such a man is worthy of the name of the presiding officer of the immortal Jefferson, who signed the Declaration of Independence—worthy of the prefix of the Hero of Lundy's Lane and conqueror of Mexico.

We do not favor military chieftains for President, nor are we willing to take any thing for granted as to their political opinions: but should the Democracy be thrown upon a military chieftain at all then Gen. Hancock is our man, and all the people will say, Amen.

A warm hearted Pennsylvanian, reared in sight of Independence Hall, amid the classic fields of Valley Forge, Brandywine and Germantown, he could not be less than a true-hearted patriot. If the other district commanders would follow in his footsteps, instead of seeking to enslave the South, the work of reconstruction would be easy.

NEGRO RULE.

Late intelligence from the West Indies presents a frightful picture of negro rule in Hayti. The particulars concerning the assassination of Montez, remarks the Age, are well calculated to arrest the attention of the friends of Christian civilization in all parts of the world. After starving him for four days, an ineffectual attempt was made to complete the business by poison. After this, the negro President of the so-called Republic, ordered one of his assassins to smother him, but this attempt also failed, and he was finally stabbed, and his skull cut to pieces with a chisel. His body was delivered to his friends bootless and hatless on boards and conveyed to the cemetery, his friends insisting on burying it without placing it in a coffin. Intoxicating liquors were freely distributed to the people to induce them to cheer for President Salnave. The brother of Montez was captured, and chained to the bloody bed of his murdered brother Leon. Montez's parents have been crazed by his assassination, and have fled to Dominica for fear of the vengeance of the negro President.

Now, as the Radicals insist upon Africanizing ten States of this Union, of putting power in the hands of the negro race, is it not time for white men to pause and ponder upon such facts as those presented with reference to negro rule in Hayti? What has happened in that island would happen in this country, if the Radical policy is carried out in the South. Already negroes are demanding power and authority over white men in that section. When that is denied they resort to force, and murders and outrages are becoming of daily occurrence. This is but the beginning of a policy which will result in far more terrible scenes when the negroes are fully organized under the lead of desperadoes, both white and black. Recent events in Hayti bear strongly upon this question of negro domination in the Southern portion of this Republic, and we hope the facts will be read with attention by every white man in this country.

The overthrow of Radicalism, in 1867, is the title of a lithograph print published by the Philadelphia News Company, and represents Radicalism in the shape of a hydra headed dead duck, slain by the Hercules Popular Will. One of the characters has just heard the Ohio election returns, and with tears coursing his cheeks, and a hand covering his eyes, he pours forth the lamentation, "No more ridin' in de hears, no more buzzin' wid de white folks, O! O! Olio!" Another African citizen of African descent tries to console him; he is sitting on a large trunk labelled "Freedmen's Bureau," with basket and umbrella by his side, exclaiming "No use cryin' Sam, white man's shook you dis time." The dead duck is on his back, twisting his tail, and manages to keep one of his heads erect, while he bleeds at the nose of his other head from the artery blows inflicted by the "popular will."

NEWS OF THE WEEK.

A $65 pearl was found in an oyster at Alexandria, Va., the other day.

A son of the "martyr," John Brown, was lately placed in an Ohio lunatic asylum.

Two wealthy Chicagoans have gone to law about a lot of four inches front, on a street in Chicago.

It is reported that the engineer whose carelessness caused the Vermont railroad disaster is to become insane.

Albert Smith, a freedman, has been appointed by General Pope a Justice of the Peace in Tuscaloosa county, Alabama.

A severe shock of an earthquake was experienced at Union, N. Y., and the adjoining country, early on Wednesday morning.

A young wife in Northern New York threw her bonnet and shawl into the river, left a suicidal note for her husband, and eloped with another man.

A robber took $10,000 worth of diamonds from a jeweler's store in Cincinnati, on Wednesday night. The sound was pursued, captured, and nearly all the valuable property recovered.

The late Seth Hinshaw, a noted spiritualist, of Greenboro, Henry county, Ind., had his gravesstone engraved and prepared for about twenty years before his death. He used them as counters in his store.

On Saturday night last, William Rogers, of Chattanooga, Tennessee, accused his wife of infidelity, which she denied, whereupon Rogers leveled his revolver, and shot her twice, killing her instantly.

The Cumberland County Poor House took fire on Thursday night, and was damaged to the amount of $2,500. Three persons were burned to death—one, an insane man who was chained to the floor, being literally roasted alive.

The widow of a former member of Congress, residing in Hallowell, Me., lately married her brother. He treated her badly, and she applied for a divorce, whereupon he decamped with $20,000 in bonds, leaving her in destitute circumstances.

They have earthquakes at St. Thomas at the rate of 47 in 24 hours; or about one every 30 minutes; and in St. John, recently, they had 114 in eight days. For these desirable residences, we believe Mr. Seward wants us to pay $7,500,000 in gold.

S. J. Woodman, of Chicago, Ill., writes to the New York Farmers' Club, that a barrel or a cask of new sweet cider, buried so as to be well covered with fresh earth, will turn to vinegar in three or four weeks, as good as ever sought affinity with cabbage, pickles, or table sauce.

The Pacific States have been visited by a decidedly unpropitious storm. California, Oregon, and Washington Territory have been afflicted, some small towns have been swept away, and any number of dams carried down stream. It requires some nerve on the part of gold miners to lose their dams without swearing.

A negro boy was arrested at St. Joseph on the 5th instant for setting fire to the house in which he was employed as a servant. A reprobate old African told him that he was working for "rebels," and urged him to burn them out. Accepting this Radical teaching, he placed burning coals on the roof of the kitchen.

The Cooper Ironworks at Phillipsburg, N. J., with the mining lands belonging to them, were sold last week for six hundred thousand dollars. One of these mines belonged to William Penn, and the first lot of American iron made from it was landed at Liverpool, England, thirty years before the Declaration of Independence.

The Coroner's jury, on the bodies of the persons that perished by the late tenement house fire in N. Y., returned a verdict Thursday to the effect that the fire was originated by Max Miller, and censured the owner of the house for not providing suitable means of escape from the building. Miller has been committed for trial without bail.

A few days since a boy in Littleton, N. H., set fire to a stump on the land of his father, near the village, and it having burned away, he discovered in the earth, at its roots, a small tin can, tightly sealed, which was found to contain a quantity of counterfeited dimes, well preserved in oil. It had evidently remained there for some length of time. The dimes were well executed, and for the purpose of making small American coin.

The attempt is again being made to confederate into a single nation the South American Republics on the Pacific slope of the Andes. Peru has taken the initiative, and has addressed a circular upon the subject to the government of Chili, Bolivia and Ecuador. These four nations, which, it is proposed, shall form the new Republic, have 3,900 miles of sea coast, contain 6,800,000 inhabitants, and cover 1,185,000 square miles of territory.

Colonel Parker, the Indian chief on General Grant's staff, who was to have been married on Monday last to a belle of Washington city, has turned up. He says he was dragged by a brother Indian, to prevent him marrying a white woman. As Colonel Parker is about the color of a new saddle, in view of the future, he had better take a darker lived maiden claiming to be of the superior race. It is likely he would not be dragged under an arrangement of this kind.

A novel wedding took place in Columbia, Conn., recently. The bride party was to be married and leave town on the next train. They started for the clergyman's residence, having but little time to spare, and met him on the way. In order that no time might be wasted, it was proposed to have the marriage ceremony performed then and there—right in the middle of the road. No objection being made, the minister did the business, several people meanwhile arriving as passers by on the road, who were accepted as competent witnesses. The married couple got to the cars in ample season to start on their tour.

THE ANGOLA CATASTROPHE.

The terrible railroad catastrophe at Angola, in the western part of this State, turns out to have been even more destructive of life than has been reported. There is now reason to fear that the slaughter will not fall short of sixty. The personal horrors connected with the affair are even more heart-rending than in ordinary railroad catastrophes, and the appalling nature of the entire scene is too shocking for the imagination. The dead are out of all common proportion to the wounded, and, considering the circumstances, it is remarkable that a spark of vitality was found in any of the passengers. The unfortunate victims were not only burned to death, but the great part of them were past all recognition. Our first report gave the statement that the accident was understood to have arisen from a defect in a rail; a later report says the train struck an iron frog at a switch, and another report says that the disaster was caused by the breaking of a wheel. By one or other of these means the car was thrown from the track and precipitated over an adjacent embankment, with the ghastly results already mentioned. In any event, there is no doubt that there was culpability, horrible culpability, on the part of the managers and agents of the Lake Shore Railroad.

The charred remains of the entire body of murdered victims have, we suppose, been gathered up, and will probably be sent to their families. The surviving friends will forever mourn over their irreparable losses. There will be suffering of many kinds, for many long years to come, in hundreds of hearts, because of the railway slaughter at Angola. For these things it is out of the power of men to furnish reparation or remedy.

But we again add another to the thousand warnings and appeals we have made in times past in connection with these ever-recurring railroad disasters. We demand at once justice for the culprits, and the adoption of something like common precautions against the recurrence of such heart-rending outrages.—N. Y. Times.

A LONG SEARCH FOR RELATIVES BY TWO BOYS.—About fifteen years since, William G. Berry and family, two sons and a daughter, removed from Charlestown, Mass., and located in New Ulm, in Minnesota. Here they remained until 1862, the family having increased to three sons and three daughters. It was in the month of October of that year that the hostile Indians of the Sioux tribe committed their ravages in that State. One afternoon two boys, eight and eleven years of age, went out in pursuit of a stray cow. When they returned at night they found their father, mother, three sisters and a brother all murdered, and some of them scalped by the Indians. There was no residence very near, and these two children were left to their own resources. They passed one farm house where a whole family were hanging in front. They had heard of Charlestown, and wished to reach there, hoping to find the relatives or friends of their parents.

These two children commenced their journey, stopping on the way and doing such work as they were able in various towns, and at the end of five years they reached Boston and Charlestown. But no one could find who had any knowledge of the family. They stopped a while in Boston, then went to Gloucester, where they sought an uncle named R. N. Heath. They were told that he resided in Portsmouth. On Tuesday evening they arrived here and applied for lodgings at the police station. Marshal Johnson heard their story and gave them accommodations. They can find nothing of their uncle here, and are now at the City Farm until some place for them can be secured. The oldest, William Berry, is now 16, and Joseph is about 13 years of age. They are intelligent boys. A reference to the records of the times shows that Indian outrages were committed in Minnesota at the time they state.—[Portsmouth (N. H.) Journal.]

AN ELEPHANT KILLS HIS KEEPER.—The elephant Romeo, known as one, if not the largest in the country, was placed a short time since on a farm in Haiboro, Montgomery county, Pa., for winter quarters by his owner, Mr. Forepaugh, and leaving his keeper, Mr. W. S. Williams, in charge. On Wednesday last Mr. Williams went to the place where the elephant was kept, for the purpose of washing the face, tusks and portions of the body of the animal, and while thus engaged Romeo attacked Mr. Williams, thrusting one of his tusks into his body and treading upon him. The cries of the keeper attracted a number of persons, when the elephant allowed the wounded man to be removed without opposition. Williams was so dreadfully injured that he died in about one hour after being attacked. The elephant seemed to be perfectly docile shortly afterwards, but it was thought proper to confine him with chains, so as to prevent future accidents. Mr. Williams, the deceased, belonged to London, in Canada West, and leaves a wife who was with him at the time of his death. He had charge of Romeo for four or five years, some fifteen years ago, and did not again assume the duties of keeper until one year ago.

If a letter-writer from Lima, Peru, is to be believed, there is a region forty leagues from that city, called the valley of Juaca, where the climate "restores consumptive persons to health as certainly as night follows day." No other medicine is required except the pure air of the valley. Hundreds of persons are said to go to Juaca from all parts of Peru yearly to be cured of this terrible disease; and although the writer anticipates that medicinal men "will smile at the idea of consumption being curable," he still avers that every invalid—excepting only those in the last stage of the malady—returns physically sound after a residence in Juaca of from one to two years. This statement ought to interest the medical readers and those who may be afflicted with consumption, enough to induce some inquiry into the truth or falsity of it.

In view of the skating season, the following, from Hall's Journal of Health may save our friends who indulge in the recreation of skating no small amount of discomfort. "Before starting for the ice, bathe your feet in cold water, dry them perfectly, and give them a good rubbing with a crash-towel, but on a pair of woolen or heavy cotton stockings, and your feet will remain comfortably warm for three or four hours in the coldest weather."

It will be remembered that some weeks ago, William G. Graves was arrested in Michigan, as the accomplice of Chase, in the murder of Mrs. McDonald, in Jefferson county, last February. He has been tried, found guilty of murder in the second degree, and sentenced to eleven years and eight months in the Penitentiary.

AMERICAN WALTHAM WATCHES.—The true value of Machinery applied to Watch-making is not that by its use Watches are made rapidly, but that they are made correctly. Very few people know a Waltham Watch should be superior to any other. In the first place, at Waltham the Watch is regarded as only a machine, to be constructed like any other machine, on mechanical principles. If the watches are good it is because the machinery is good. Of course there must be no defect in the principle or plan of movement—no mistake in the sizes or shapes of the pieces of which it is composed—nothing wanting in their properties, and no error in their positions. These points once thoroughly settled, it remains wholly with the machinery, constructed with infinite diversity of form and function, expressly for the purpose, to produce the finished piece. By means of multiplying gauges and microscopes, tests and inspection for the detection of wear in the cutting tools, and for faults and flaws in steel and stone are made to accompany the work in every stage from beginning to end. As a necessary result, the watch goes together a perfect machine. Every part is found to fit properly in its place. Every pin may be pushed till it pinches, and every screw turned home. Instead of slipping and feeble action, the balance, even under the pressure of the lightest mainspring, vibrates with a wide and free motion, and the beat has the clear ringing sound always characteristic of the Waltham Watch. The machine is a timekeeper from the start.

This system of watchmaking is unknown in foreign countries, and is entirely original with the Waltham Company. The Company claim that by it they produce watches that cannot be equalled for every quality which makes a watch valuable. Simple in plan and construction, the movement is not only beautifully finished, substantial, accurate and cheap, but is uniform in the minutest details, not easily damaged, and when repaired always as good as new. There are different grades of finish in the different varieties of watches made by the Waltham Company, as there are different sizes and shapes to suit all tastes and means; but every Watch that bears the genuine trade-mark of "WALTHAM" is guaranteed to be a good one, and nobody need be afraid to buy it. Every Watch fully warranted. For sale by all first-class dealers in the United States and British Provinces. For further information address the Agents, ROBBINS & APPLETON, 182 Broadway, N. Y.
