

THE FREEMAN. EBENSBURG, PA. THURSDAY, APRIL 9, 1868.

Democratic State Ticket. FOR AUDITOR GENERAL: HON. CHARLES E. BOYLE, Of Fayette County.

FOR SHERIFF GENERAL: GEN. WELLINGTON H. ENT, Of Columbia County.

"SWINGING ROUND THE CIRCLE." DEMOCRATIC VICTORIES ON ALL SIDES.

THE IMPEACHERS IMPEACHED!

CONNECTICUT TRUE TO THE UNION AND THE CONSTITUTION.

THE NEGRO SUFFRAGE CONSTITUTION DEFEATED IN MICHIGAN.

LARGE DEMOCRATIC GAINS IN OHIO.

We have only space to announce the glad tidings that the Presidential campaign of 1868 has opened with the most cheering prospects for the Democracy.

From Michigan we learn that the negro-suffrage Constitution has met with overwhelming defeat, while Cincinnati, Columbus, and other towns in Ohio, have either gone Democratic or reduced the Radical majorities greatly.

IMPEACHMENT.

Radicalism is rapidly developing itself. In 1860 they tried the first experiment of electing sectional candidates, and that experiment cost us the lives of some half million of our citizens, and entailed on us a debt of three thousand millions of dollars.

At the end of four years Hannibal Hamlin, the Vice President, an approved Radical, was dropped from the ticket and for the purpose of securing the War Democrats, Andrew Johnson was placed in nomination.

Lincoln and Johnson, the candidates of the Radicals, were elected. By the death of Lincoln Johnson became President. About the same time the Union army was victorious, the attempted secession of the Southern States prevented, and—as the President and Congress both declared—THE UNION WAS RESTORED.

Three years of profound peace has since prevailed in the South, and yet the declared purpose of the successful war has not been accomplished. The Southern States are declared, by a Radical Rump Congress, to be out of the Union, and further, that they cannot be admitted unless they first agree to be governed by negroes!

More than this—they are now in the very net of impeaching their own President for "high crimes and misdemeanors," and most likely his place will be filled within two or three weeks by a Congress-made President.

If our beloved country can survive this, it matters little to Democrats what the Radicals would do with their President. But we do submit to candid men of all parties whether the destinies of our country are safe in the hands of this party, whatever the result of the impeachment may be.

If the President be innocent, as we firmly believe him to be, what think you of a party which, by a mockery of Constitutional forms, would remove and degrade the Chief Magistrate of their own choice, from partisan motives and for the purpose of obtaining political power?

If the President be guilty who would trust the same party with the election of another President? Three years ago a man was denounced as a traitor by the Radicals for differing in political opinion with President Johnson—now every Radical denounces Johnson as a traitor for holding precisely the same opinions he then held!

when Democracy held the reins of government—embracing nearly the whole of our existence as a nation—no such humiliation ever awaited the American people. While the Democrats were in power no such blenheim upon our national escutcheon ever could have occurred, for the simple reason that their rule was not dependent upon the paroxysm of an hour, but upon the basis of a WRITTEN CONSTITUTION. They guided the ship of State aright, because all the departments of the government—Legislative, Executive and Judicial—moved in their own respective orbits.

But, incredible as it may seem to posterity, all the departments of government are now in Radical hands. Yet one of them, Congress, or the Rump of a Congress, in the madness of their power seeks to impeach their own President, and refuses to trust the Judiciary—the Supreme Court being composed of judges, a majority of them appointed by Lincoln himself. In short, the present Rump Congress, in which ten sovereign States are without representation, assumes not only to make the laws but to expound and execute them, leaving the other branches of government, which rightly derive their powers from the same Constitution, shorn of all power.

We do not ask Democrats—we ask thinking men of all parties to ponder these things.

A RADICAL OPINION OF IRISHMEN AND CATHOLICS.—Of all the abuse ever heaped upon Irishmen, and Catholics in general, in a legislative body, was perpetrated on Thursday, by a lunatic called Hickman, a Radical member of the Pennsylvania House of Representatives, and which was apparently endorsed by the Speaker of the House, who ruled that Hickman was in order, and allowed him to proceed with his tirade. Here is an abstract of the speech, taken from the Pittsburgh Chronicle—certainly good Republican authority: "While Mr. Hickman was making a speech on the registration bill in the House this morning he bitterly denounced the Catholics, saying that an intelligent negro was better than an ignorant Irish Catholic."

"Mr. Brennan, (Democrat,) of Luzerne, indignantly denied the assertion, and denounced Mr. Hickman in strong terms for using such words. A general sparring match all round followed, creating quite an excitement. On Mr. Hickman resuming, Mr. Armstrong, (Republican,) of Lancaster moved the previous question, but it was not sustained. Hickman continued in an earnest strain, lauding the negro and repeating that he was better than an Irishman. This brought several Republican members to their feet, and the previous question was again called but not sustained, and Mr. Hickman proceeded. Armstrong, (R. Republican,) of Luzerne, raised a point of order but the Speaker raised it up and again Mr. Hickman went on. There was much confusion and feeling throughout. Mr. Hickman charged the Republican members with courting the Irish vote instead of defending the negro."

THE ROBINSON SUGAR CASE.—The Radical majority on the committee to try the above-named case, yesterday reported in favor of Robinson, Radical. Mr. Shugart was elected by 22 votes, according to the regular return, but through such witnesses as O'Meara, the contestant apparently showed 172 fraudulent votes. On the other hand, the committee say that Mr. Shugart proved 86 fraudulent votes for Robinson. Two townships which gave majorities for Shugart were thrown out bodily and one which cast a majority for Robinson. It seems to have been the design of the committee to believe only so much of the fraud as proved on both sides (on the Radical side, however, by witnesses whose credibility has been seriously impeached) as would enable them to decide as their feelings certainly inclined them. We have some private facts on file in relation to this case, which we may ventilate soon hereafter. The decision of the committee is a gross wrong upon the sitting member and the elective rights of the people of his district.—Patriot and Union, 4th inst.

INSULTING HIS DADDY.—In a late speech upon Hickman's proposition to strike the word "white" from the State Constitution, a Radical Representative from Lancaster county, named A. C. Reinold, used the following indecorous language: "If Democrats give the right of suffrage to foreign paupers to whom a spelling book is a sealed mystery, and who still smell of bilge water, and from whose garments the Celtic aroma or the Teutonic fragrance of the fatherland has not yet been removed by the pure air of freedom, why should not the coffee-colored descendants of the first families of the South have a voice in reconstructing the States of their forefathers?"

In regard to this man Reinold the Lancaster Intelligencer says: "The grandfather of the little upstart who utters such language is unable to speak the English language intelligibly, and his father prefers to converse in Pennsylvania Dutch. 'Set a beggar on horseback' and—our readers know the rest."

Senator Wilson says he never saw General Grant take even a glass of wine, and Senator Wilson being an honorable man, it follows, of course, he is an exact counterpart of George Washington, when he was a little boy, and cut down the Murkil with his little hatchet. He couldn't tell a lie, and therefore General Grant never did take a glass of wine and moreover couldn't have been drunk ever. When he bobbed all over the streets of Washington, unable to see a hole through a ladder, or tell the number of his house, may be he was only playing circus, which old Grant, the tanner, says he was very fond of when a boy.

Judge Black and the President. The Washington correspondent of the New York Herald in a recent letter gives the following explanation of the causes which induced Judge Black to decline to act as one of the council of President Johnson: "I am authorized to state that it is not true that Judge Black advised the President to resign; nor is it true that he ever expressed any doubts about the justice of the defence. He has, and has always had, the fullest confidence that the President would be acquitted if he got a fair hearing and a decision according to the law and the facts. Nor is it true that Judge Black ever differed in opinion from the other counsel of the President or had any controversy with them. The despatch in a Baltimore newspaper of this morning is, as Judge Black asserts, totally untrue in regard to the Alta Veta case. The Democrats never pretended to have any claim to that island. The American owners, he says, were there under a title clear, unquestioned and undisputed. The outrage of driving them off when their force happened to be weak and there was no American vessel in those waters to protect them was a naked wrong which the perpetrators never tried to excuse by alleging a title in themselves. But Mr. Seward set up a title for them, and for several years, by one device and another, he prevented the truth from appearing in a tangible shape. The delay caused the Democrats to suppose that the United States would never vindicate their honor or the rights of their citizens, and recently, under the encouragement of Mr. Seward, they began to sell the guano. Mr. Seward's defence of them is one which they never would have set up for themselves, and which they did not even adopt when he made it. When the President, seeing the case, but acting under the influence of Mr. Seward, refused to do the justice which the owners had a right to expect, Judge Black, finding his friends, clients and partners determined to proceed and take other measures to secure their rights and expose Mr. Seward's conduct, told the President that he found himself so situated that he could only relieve himself from unbearable embarrassments by ceasing to be one of his counsel; and he claimed to be released from his obligations as such, asserting the President at the same time that he was much grieved at not being able to serve him longer in that capacity. I further understand that Mrs. Stevens, Thaddeus Stevens, Bingham, Butler, Logan, Garfield, Blaine, and other prominent Republicans, having expressed very decided opinions of the President's duty in regard to the Alta Veta case, it seemed probable that Congress might take some measures which would bring the interests of Judge Black's clients and those of the President into conflict. To avoid such a contingency the Judge asked to be relieved from further service as counsel for the impeachment case.

BUTLER UNBOTTLED.—General Grant and Ben Butler, it appears, have settled their personal quarrels through the mediation of mutual friends, and have had a good long smoke of the "cigar of peace" together. Grant has drawn the cork from the bottle in which Butler was shut up by Beauregard at Bermuda Hundred, and the noisy impeacher is now free to expend all his froth and effervescence before the High Court in the Senate Chamber. How it came to pass that the reconciliation took place just at this juncture may excite some curiosity; but we must remember that General Grant is great on flank movements, and if he cannot beat him by a direct attack he knows how to save himself by a good retreat. Butler's famous "round the circle" article in the bill of impeachment was undoubtedly intended to damage Grant, who was the President's companion on that fatal pilgrimage to the shrine of Douglas. He expected to get Grant into a Dutch Gap; but Grant was evidently not going to be trapped, and so he makes a flank movement on the hero on Fisher, and instead of falling upon him with all his forces failed into his cigar and uncorks the bottle. We may expect, therefore, to see Butler's article assume a new phase as the trial of the President progresses, and the wrath of Butler against Grant appears, all of which shows that General Grant is a good tactician.—N. Y. Herald.

LUCIFEROUS RELIGION IN BOSTON.—In the Boston letter of the New York Independent, a Radical religious journal, we find the following choice moral: "In it we have several novelties. John Brown blessing the Slave Child on his way to Execution has gone New Yorkward! It is not equal in variety and vitality to the Slave Sale at St. Louis; by the same artist, but is still a powerful composition. The great martyr, with his aureola around his soul gleaming sacredly from his eyes set on eternity, puts his hand—his arms being tied behind him—with difficulty on the pretty baby's head. It has a handsome mother, with that full, voluptuous form of soft luscious flesh that so stirred the hearts of their white kindred with fervent hope and warm desires, and that will henceforth win them, from the same class, honorable love and marriage. That is truly luscious. We commend it to the serious consideration of such clergymen in this latitude as are accustomed to inject radical stump speeches into their sermons and platform performances. It comes from Boston, the capital of that State which the followers of Thad. Stevens regard as the model one of our republic. It is part and parcel of the religion of the leaders of the Republican party, and, as such, is worthy of study.—Lancaster Intelligencer.

A correspondent of a Detroit paper says John Schneider, a blacksmith in Grand Rapids, has fallen heir to an estate valued at $8,000,000. The property belonging to a bachelor uncle of his, who died a short time since at Frankfort-on-the-Main, and his property falls to his only sister, the mother of Mr. Schneider, who has only two children.

NEWS OF THE WEEK. A man named Sweeney, a convict in the West Virginia Penitentiary, has fallen heir to a fortune of $35,000 in Ireland. He has fourteen months yet to serve. Brownlow has pardoned a rascal just sent to prison for attempting rape upon his mother-in-law, and commissioned him Captain of a company of his loyal militia. Mr. Speke, an English clergyman, is affected with a form of hypochondriasis, which took him off to see some bad girls one night. Clergymen cannot be too careful of their health. A year ago A. D. Jones bought one hundred and twenty acres of land near Council Bluffs for $1,000. Last Friday he sold it, for depot grounds for the railroad, and at a profit of $35,000. The latest piece of Radical villainy is the taxing of poor women, employed in the Departments at Washington, one dollar each, to erect a monument to the memory of the "late Lincoln."

A cow in Illinois died suddenly the other day, without any apparent cause. She was opened and it was discovered that she had been in the hardware business. Thirteen ounces of nails, together with a lot of brass pins and brass buttons were found in her stomach. She milked carpet tacks. Thomas Palmer, not long ago, got up one night in the dark to apply to it some "pain killer." He used indelible ink by mistake instead of the real one, and was poisoned, the leg swelled, and for two or three days his life was despaired of; but vigorous treatment at length saved him. A lady in Clark county, Ky., wife of a minister, has eaten nothing for five years. She takes no nourishment whatever, unless it be in fluid form, and very little then. It would take her all day to swallow a cup of coffee, and at times she does not consume a teaspoonful in twenty-four hours. She is in the enjoyment of good health and attends to her household affairs as do other women.

By the breaking of a chain connected with the hoisting machinery at the Diamond Coal Mines, in Scranton, Pa., on Tuesday week, a platform containing seventeen men was precipitated to the bottom of the shaft, one hundred and eighty-five feet. Eleven were instantly killed, one has since died, and two more it is thought cannot live. They leave eleven widows and twenty-eight orphans. In Evansville, Indiana, on Sunday, a negro named Hopkins went to the house of Mr. Jack Robinson, for whom he worked for more than a year. Going at once to the room where Robinson and his wife were sleeping, he struck the former on the head with an axe, cutting a terrible gash on the cheek, and with another blow broke the jaw bone and almost severed the chin. The negro then fled to the river, took a skiff and escaped.

William Donovan was legally strangled (otherwise hanged) at York, Pa., on Tuesday week, for the murder of the Spurlin family, in June, 1865. His last words to the assembled court were: "I here stand in the presence of the saviour of the world, and I am as innocent of the murder as the Saviour of the world is. I don't know who done it; I was in my bed on that Sunday night, and don't know anything about the murder." Donovan was a neighbor of the Spurlins, and leaves a wife and three children.

The spirit of bigotry and intolerance exhibited in the Senate and House of this State, within a few days, by leading Republicans, cannot fail to awaken suspicion that Know Nothingism is to be revived. Religion and nationality is once again to become the banner cry of a party. Sinking, even with the negro element at its back, and despairing of retaining power unless it stirs the worst passions of mankind in its behalf. Let the Democratic party fail not to maintain eternal vigilance upon the revolutionary and unscrupulous leaders of the Republican party.

THAD STEVENS' FAMILY VICTIMIZED.—The Lancaster Intelligencer says that on Wednesday morning that attractive colored female, familiarly known as Mrs. Thaddeus Stevens—the widow of the late Jacob Smith, colored barber of Harrisburg, and at present housekeeper and mistress of Old Thad—had her pocket picked at the depot in Lancaster city. She states her loss to be as follows: $150 in greenbacks, three Mexican silver dollars, one diamond breastpin, a safe key, a bunch of household keys, and free passes over the railroads from Lancaster to Washington. What is this country coming to when even she who presides over the household of Thaddeus Stevens is robbed in a railroad depot in the city of Lancaster? Let Old Thad see to it that the military police which is to be adopted at Washington be made general.
