LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

THE OTHER MAC PERGRINATES--The Freeman sports two Macs--one is MacShane and the other is Mac... MacShane is a representative man. True, he failed on two occasions in his efforts to represent his constituency in the Rump, but beneath the rump he is a representative man.

But it was not of MacShane we designed to discourse, though while we are speaking of him we may as well draw a line of distinction between the two. MacShane is of course an Irish name. Mac signifies "son of" and Shane stands for "John"--transposed the words. Applied to a man's name, it means that he is the son of John. Mac is the name which can be determined for himself. In the meantime permit us to say that the latter is the one of whose peregrinations we propose to speak on this occasion.

MacShane for a brief period the cares and labors which make up a country printer's daily experiences, were determined on a hasty visit to the home of his childhood, and accordingly had our better garment washed, stretched and ironed. Dory's W.isher, of which Huntley keeps an assortment for sale, did its part admirably. It visited our better half to accompany us and gave us a carte blanche for the general articles which we wished to purchase. Reached the station here in due time, after bowing our back and preparing our person generally in the effort to transport a huge basket filled with garments, one dress and a trunk, and a number of articles of apparel designed for the use of the aforesaid olive branches.

Train took us to Crescon, as it is almost invariably done, and we were in the city at the object in view. At Crescon we had the good of bad fortune to connect with a passenger car and preparing our person generally in the effort to transport a huge basket filled with garments, one dress and a trunk, and a number of articles of apparel designed for the use of the aforesaid olive branches.

with which the establishment is supplied, and ceased to wonder that such a neat paper and such neat job work of all kind should be executed by so competent a workman as our old boss. Depend on the stairs, entered the parlour beneath, and stood in the presence of one big hearted, big bodied and big fisted friend, Jim Cramer, who does a thriving business in dealing out fresh groceries and provisions to the hungry masses of that vicinity who know where the most and the best can be obtained for the least money, and who also know where to bestow their custom upon one of the most worthy and accommodating gentlemen between sunrise and sunset.

Made it a point to visit many other talented gentlemen, not excepting our Teutonic musical friend, C. O. Burg, (no relation to the burg cloth). F. Fitch, the well known clothier, who understands what to buy and how to buy it, and is to honest a man to ask more than a reasonable profit on his goods when he sells them, and that other "perfect brick" (make), T. H. West, with his generous greetings worthy of a found al on a better man, and felt that our lines had indeed been cast in pleasant places, with no defect in the casting.

Spent the evening and a few other things most pleasantly at the festival then being held in the large and splendid school rooms of St. Mary's Academy for boys. An immense throng of fair women and gentlemen were crowded into the assembly hall, and everything went "merry as a marriage bell." Invested ten cents in the name of the three year old juvenile who calls us "Papa." The stamp drew a large blue elastic sponge cap bearing some very large and ugly pictures done up in white sugar. Rejoiced at the turn events had taken, or rather at the turn the distinctive keg had taken on its axis, and felt less bound unconqueringly by the woman al on a better man, and felt that our lines had indeed been cast in pleasant places, with no defect in the casting.

EDITORIALS, LOCAL AND GENERAL.

THE "ACROTIC" of Leopold Mayer has been reviewed too late for insertion this week. The ladies of Johnstown will decorate with flowers the graves of the soldier dead in that place, on Saturday next. Beautiful tribute. Many Democratic soldiers administered to the Democracy of Allegheny township and Loretto borough, at the Mountain House, Loretto, at 7 o'clock on Saturday evening next, for the purpose of organizing a "White Man's Club." A full turn out is desirable.

There was forty gallons of the Metropolitan Oil sold in this place last week by M. L. Oatman. Pretty good to begin with. The Oil does not appear to be hard to introduce. There is nothing to prevent it from selling faster than any Oil in the market. It is the cheapest Oil used.

The dead body of a ruffian named Bowyer, who resided in the vicinity of New Washington, Clearfield county, was taken through our town last week, with a view to its interment at home. The deceased is said to have expired on board of the rafts, near Marietta, while suffering from an attack of fits, to which he was subject.

Mr. Evelyn Evans will give one of his admirable readings at the Court House, in this place, on Tuesday evening next. His subject consists of some of the best selections from the most popular authors, and the admirable manner in which Mr. Evans renders these choice gems is peculiarly interesting and instructive. By all means let him have a creditable audience.

A match game of base ball--the first of the season for this section--came off on the "Mountains" grounds on Tuesday last week. The contest parties were picked sides from the East and West Wards. The game resulted in favor of the East Ward by a score of 26 to 34. On Monday of this week, the return game was played, resulting in favor of the West Ward by a score of 30 to 36. The game was a home-and-home game will be played to-morrow (Friday) afternoon.

W. E. Early, of the Altoona Vispector, presented his list of names for the admission of his many friends in this locality on Thursday last, but withdrew it when he had time to say much more than "How do ye do?" Alas! he has not returned, but we can scarcely reconcile ourselves to the absence from our columns of his readable letters over the signature of "Sku Bal." He is making the Vispector a lumpy, however, and we hope the Vispector will return him a lump in his pocket.

After a few months' absence from our table, the TEACHER'S ADVOCATE has again put in an appearance, having just been rejuvenated under the editorial management of our talented young townsman, Mr. Geo. W. Cope. It now emanates from the printing establishment of Messrs. McCrum & Dern, Altoona, and is as neat in appearance as it is readable in contents. We are glad to see the editor will find the "possi" a pleasant one, and that the Advocate will not fail for want of support from the educational fraternity.

Dear Sir:--I am a ponderous article to be a newspaper man. I follow in any other profession may be justified in saying that I never hope to attain so much notoriety as "eye printer man." A chap that publishes a newspaper can't poke his nose out on his own neighborhood, or at least not in one where another journal is printed. We tried to do this, but it afforded a subject for no less than three newspaper paragraphs. The Hollidaysburg Standard, among other things, declared that "Franklin is as fine as silk, and as smooth as a soap suds, and we wouldn't serve to make a purse of 'Gleaner,' the Altoona correspondent of the same paper, dubs us a notable fish, thinks the mountain air supplied us with both, and intimates that he has a good joke he intends to get at our expense. What we are not able to do he don't inform us, but we are not one of your dry old ones, we can laugh with a loud guffaw, and gain more flesh thereby than we ever obtained through the medium of "mountain air," or "mountain dew" either. Our "good clothes" are not the measure, however. All this from one paper, but as if that was not enough, along comes the Altoona Vispector with a GLEANER's load of criticism which we are expected to bear just as easily. It goes the whole hog except the brisles, and to the color of the file objections. Well, we can't help it, but we are not one of your dry old ones, we can laugh with a loud guffaw, and gain more flesh thereby than we ever obtained through the medium of "mountain air," or "mountain dew" either.

GOING "WEST"--Last week we printed bills for the sale of John G. Barker's real estate property, to take place Saturday next--John having purchased a farm in Cambria county and made arrangements to take possession thereof the 1st of June. John is a good hearted fellow, a sound Democrat and no doubt will make an excellent farmer, having been raised to the business in the "old country." We wish him all the good wishes, a ready market and good health in his new home.--Huntingdon Monitor.

GARDENING--The disagreeable weather of the past month or two has deterred many from putting in seeds, but doubtless will pitch in now and endeavor to make up for lost time. That no further delay may be made in the matter we suggest that the necessary implements, seeds, and all other articles required for gardening may be had at the extensive house-furnishing establishment of Geo. Huntley, who also has for sale a fine lot of large and healthy tomato plants, just fresh from the hot beds.

NOR to pile up the agony of eloquence too strongly, we state with great confidence that ladies attired in new styles of spring and summer dresses bought at the renowned establishment of W. S. Barker, on High street, will find the goods so rejuvenating that all the cares incident to domestic life will be as blithesome as kissing the dewdrops from the roses of beauty that bloom in perennial fragrance in the Elysian fields of ecstatic love!

OLD GAMES is dead, that good old soul! We ne'er shall see him more; We used to wear an old blue coat, And he had a goodly store of goods. Yes, Old Games is dead, but we'll bet a Y if he was living that he would go to Spence's Photograph Establishment and have taken a few beautiful photographs to distribute among his friends. Reader, go there and do likewise.

LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.

ALTOONA, May 25, 1868. FRIEND MAC--A very sad and distressing case of suicide occurred in this place on Thursday last. A gentleman named Wahl, residing in Cambria county, and a member of our city a short time since, was found in a suicidal condition. It appears that Mr. W. had the misfortune, some six or eight months ago, to lose his wife by death, and ever since that time he has been laboring under a lowly depression of mind, frequently remarking that he was tired of living and wished to join his wife. In this frame of mind, no doubt, he visited one of the banks in a tampered and lowered condition of mind, frequently remarking that he was tired of living and wished to join his wife. BOOTS AND SHOES OF MY OWN MANUFACTURE. WHAT I MAKE I CAN WARRANT! After an experience of more than a year in the sale of Eastern made work, during which time I have expended more than the profits in repairing rips and tears, I have determined to go back to first principles and henceforth to make my own boots and shoes. Weddings, visits and other interesting or important occurrences need not be postponed through any failure on my part to come to time. God work and moderate prices is my motto, and one trial will convince any person that the motto is not a mere shoson. Repairing of Boots and Shoes attended to promptly and in a workmanlike manner. Thankful for past favors I feel confident that my work and prices will commend me to a continuation and increase of business. JOHN D. THOMAS. Ebensburg, May 25, 1868.
