DOINGS IN COURT.—In our County Court the following cases have been disposed of since closing our report on Tuesday evening of last week. Our resume brings us up to Tuesday evening of the present week, commencing with the case we left on trial in the QUARTER SESSIONS.

Com'th vs. Wm. Smay et. al.—Indictment, first count, riot; second count, assault and battery. Jury find defendants guilty on second count and not guilty on the first. This was a case on which more than ordinary interest for one of such a character was manifested. From the testimony it appeared that the occurrence transpired at School House No. 3, in Summerhill township, some time in April last, at the conclusion of a meeting of the Board of School Directors. Peter M'Gough, Esq., the prosecutor, was assaulted by the defendants, as appears from the verdict of the jury, and for this assault they were convicted. Not sentenced.

Com'th vs. John Hurley.—Indictment, assault and battery. Jury find defendant not guilty, acquitted him on the plea of insanity.

Com'th vs. Joseph Morelitz.—Indictment, obtaining goods by false pretenses. Defendant pleads not guilty, and jury so find, but require him to pay costs.

Com'th vs. Geo McDowell.—Indictment, assault and battery. Messrs. Kopelin, Johnston and District Attorney Barnes for Commonwealth, and Messrs. Pershing and Potts for defendant. From the well known reputation of the counsel engaged it may be inferred that this was a case of no little importance, at least with regard to the principle involved. The facts are briefly these: The defendant was a police officer in Johnstown, and while having in custody a man named Yoder—a former from Somerset county—whom he had arrested for obstructing the side-walk, he was met by another farmer named Weaver, from the same county, who in some manner became entangled with the officer, the prisoner and the crowd, and before he could make his exit was struck on the head with a cane or stick in the hand of the officer. Some twenty or twenty-five witnesses were examined and able arguments made on both sides, after which, on Thursday last, the case was given to the jury, who found the defendant guilty, and he was sentenced to a fine of one dollar and costs—the costs being the big end of the sentence, say a hundred dollars or so. The Hanorable Court in passing sentence took occasion to remind officers of the law that they had no right to strike any prisoner, or in any manner maltreat any person under arrest, unless the culprit was actually endeavoring to make his escape—a doctrine which, we think, should meet the approval of the people of any free country.

Com'th vs. David A. Weaver and Christian Shetler.—First count, assault on an officer, with intent to rescue a prisoner; second count, assault and battery. Not a true bill, and county to pay costs.

Com'th vs. Sarah Cameron.—Assault and battery. Not a true bill, and Alexander Cameron, prosecutor, to pay costs.

Com'th vs. John A. Schnable, Anthony Schnable, and Alphonsus Schnable.—Assault and battery. Not a true bill, and the prosecuter, Francis Peters, to pay the costs.

Com'th vs. Thomas Mullany.—Indictment, murder, in causing the death of his wife in December, 1865, as noticed by us two weeks ago—John Maxwell prosecutor. Not a true bill, and the county in for costs.

Com'th vs. Wm. Pharr.—Keeping a tippling house. Not a true bill and the county for costs.

Com'th vs. Thomas Mullany.—Assault and battery. Not a true bill, and Sabina Ryan, prosecutrix to pay costs.

Com'th vs. Sab'a Ryan.—Assault and battery. Not a true bill, and Thomas Mullany, prosecutor, to pay costs.

Com'th vs. Geo. W. Lloyd, Jr.—Assault and battery. Not a true bill, and prosecuter, Martin Oaks, to pay costs.

COMMON PLEAS—FIRST WEEK.

H. W. Ganetson vs. Joseph Cole, and Bernard Byrnes.—Replevin. Jury find for Plaintiff $20 damages.

Edward M'Glade vs. Pa. R. R. Settled by a confession of judgment in favor of Plaintiff for $600 and costs.

Com'th vs. Philip Barkhart.—Wife desertion. Settled by agreement of parties to cohabit and defendant to pay costs.

SECOND WEEK.

Sophia Krebs vs. Schomaker & Lang.—Feigned issue. Jury find for defendants.

Spencer, McKay & Co. vs. Schomaker & Lang.—Feigned issue.

Carson, Darlington & Co., vs. Schomaker & Lang.—Feigned issue.

Jury find for defendants in both the above cases, which were tried together, as much the same question was involved in both issues.

John Brotherline vs. John R. Smith, Anthony Swines, James Swines and Michael Cassiday.—Ejectment. On trial Tuesday evening.

SUDDEN DEATH AND SAD WARNING.—Our friend, Mr. Henry Hughes, of Summitville, informs us that a lad aged twelve or thirteen years, son of Mr. Mathew Adelsberger, a resident of that village, died very suddenly on Sunday afternoon last. Young Adelsberger was in the woods on the day previous, and, according to his own statement, ate a large quantity of birch bark, and this fact seems to be the only one which can be accepted as the cause of his sudden and lamentable death. Certain it is that birch bark is very binding in its nature, and when taken into the stomach produces inflammation and costiveness which might prove fatal. The body of the victim in this case is said to have become very much swollen, and his sufferings could not have been other than excruciating during the few hours intervening between the eating of the bark and the sad termination of his existence. Boys and others who indulge excessively in birch bark should be warned by the sudden and painful death of young Adelsberger, if it indeed be true that this indulgence cost him his life.

FIRE AT WILMORE.—We learn that the Pennsylvania Railroad station house at Wilmore, this county, was destroyed by fire at an early hour on Saturday morning last. Two young lady telegraph operators slept in the office, and were awakened by the crackling of the flames and falling of cinders, but by the time they succeeded in giving the alarm, the fire had progressed too far to be subdued, and we believe that very little of value was saved. The building itself was a rough frame structure, and its destruction will not involve much loss, but a quantity of goods stored in the warehouse are said to have been consumed, which, with the telegraph machine and other articles of value, may foot up a loss of several hundred dollars. The fire is supposed to have been communicated from a passing locomotive.

EDITORIALITIES, LOCAL AND GENERAL.—The home-and-home game of base ball between the East and West Ward nines of the "Mountaineer" club resulted in favor of the West Ward by a score of 35 to 13.

We print elsewhere the card of the Pittsburg Star Hotel, kept by Mr. Felix Henle, formerly of this place. Ebensburgers visiting the Smoky City should give Felix a call.

Excavations for the foundation of a new and extensive steel rail mill are now being made by the Cambria Iron Company, near the site of their present works, at Johnstown.

The foundry of Jackson Robinson, at Curwensville, Clearfield county, was burned, together with a number of patterns, on the 28th ult., involving a loss of over $2,000.

Mr. John Adams, while plowing in a field near Shirleysburg, Huntingdon county, on Saturday last, was struck by lightning and instantly killed. His horses escaped uninjured.

A deaf and dumb boy 14 years of age, named John Fare, whose parents reside in Franks-town, Blair county, was run over and instantly killed on the P. R R. near Philadelphia, on Saturday week.

The brace rod of a heavy crane in one of the Company's blacksmith shops at Altoona fell and struck Joseph Dye on the head, a few days ago, making an ugly gash, but fortunately did not fracture the skull.

The roof of C. Barnes' wagon making shop and Dunlee's planing and wood turning establishment, in Jonnstown, caught fire on Monday week, but the flames were fortunately extinguished before much damage was done.

The Bellefonte "Watchman" says that a mare belonging to a Mr. Kerstetiker, of Miles township, Centre county, gave birth to a colt with two perfectly formed heads, one day last week. If Barnum hadn't retired, it would be a big hit for him.

The late firm of Mills & Davis wants everybody indebted to them to call and pay up within the next three days. After this week they have determined to abandon the coaxing system and see what virtue there is in driving debtors with the gad of the law. Take heed, ye delinquents, and save costs.

Henry Weser, a young man about 21 years of age, was drowned, week before last, in the river near Farrandsville, Clearfield county—He was in the log drive, and was assisting to get logs off a bar, at the time the accident happened. He was from Luzerne county.

A girl aged 14 and a boy aged 8 years, children of William Garton, of Buckwheat Valley, Juniata county, were burned to death on the 27th ult. The house caught fire about twelve o'clock at night, and the flames made such rapid headway that all efforts to rescue them were unavailing.

A change has come o'er the spirit of our dreams, or rather the dreams of those of our citizens who wish to take the morning train will be broken in upon at a very early hour, now that the train leaves this point at 5 10 a. m., instead of 7.35 a. m., as has been the case for a most a month past. See schedule of changes.

The Blair county Radical Convention, which met in Hollidaysburg on Wednesday last, nominated Joseph Robinson, of Frankstown, for Assembly, D. M. Jones of Tyrone, (the present incumbent,) for Register, John Dean, of Hollidaysburg, for District Attorney, John E. Clark, of Altoona, for Treasurer, and filled the minor offices with men of like ilk.

We notice an old and reliable Boston firm, Harris & Plummer, who advertise in our columns "The Success." They are a well known and respon-ible firm, and have incorporated the popular One Dollar Sale into their business as a means of reaching the masses. They offer superior inducements to agents, and their advertisement is well worthy the attent on of our readers.

On Friday morning, while a train of loaded coal cars was passing over the trestle bridge of the Broad Top Railroad at Rough and Ready station, the trestle work gave way, precipitating the entire train a distance of fifty or sixty feet. Mr. Samuel Reed, brakeman, was buried beneath the wreck and instantly killed, and Alfred Houpt, also employed on the train, had one of his shoulders dislocated and sustained other serious injury.

On last Saturday morning, says the Johnstown "Democrat" of the 3d inst., as Mr. Herman Baumer, of the firm of Akers & Baumer, was taking a load of beef to their market at Conemaugh station, he met with an accident. As he was driving along the river near the railroad crossing this side of the station, a slip came down from the bluff, which frightened the horse and caused him to jump over the bank into the river. Mr. Baumer was slightly injured and the horse considerably, and a portion of the load lost.

A young man named Fowler was brought here and loged in jail on the charge of stoning a passenger train on the Pa. R. R., near Wilmore, on Wednesday evening last. Fowler had been ejected from the cars for refusing to pay his fare, and sought revenge by throwing stones through the windows, one of which passed in close proximity to the head of a lady passenger on the train. Fowler could not have been in much FOULER business and if he don't get out of jail "on a foul" he will be apt to do his fowling in a safer locality hereafter.

ANOTHER MUSCULAR DEMONSTRATION.—A spirited "skrimmage," actuated no doubt by ifluidical spirits, had its occurrence on one of our principal streets at an early hour on Friday morning last. Nobody was very seriously hurt, although there was a little "blood-letting" before the affair was brought to a conclusion by the arrest of the belligerants. One of the party took special pains to express his sentiments in a very vehement and boisterous manner, and if there are such things as "iron clad oaths," he certainly gave full vent to them. Strange to say, he wasn't the fellow got "licked" either, but we believe he had to pay seven dollars and costs for the luxury of coming out first best in the contest. Some fourteen of the spectators, we understand, were also fined for refusing to aid in arresting the pugilistic gentlemed. The parties all belonged to town and vicinity.

DRAWING TO A CLOSE.—The Ladies' Fair at the Town Hall is drawing to a close, and the nearer the end approaches the more interesting and enjoyable the affair becomes. The rooms are crowded nightly with young and old, the beautiful and desirable articles on exhibition are being warmly contested for, the dancing is enjoyed hugely by the admirers of that kind of amusement, and the refreshments are appreciated and partaken of by every person with a sweet tooth in his head. This (Thursday) evening several of the more valuable articles, will be drawn, and on Friday evening the hall is to be thrown open to the unrestricted use of those who wish to "trip the light fantastic toe" after which the Fair will be brought to a close. Let no one fail to visit this pleasant retreat during the two days yet remaining.

"I'LL meet thee at the lane when the clock strikes nine,
In ecstasy again, love, to call thee mine;
My heart it is a bursting, my brain is almost whirling,
Through loving thee so muchly, my sweet Katy Did."

P. S.—If I ain't at the lane at the appointed hour, I will probably be found at Shoemaker's store, buying something nice in the way of summer dress or dry goods.

ROHRER'S BITTERS.—The necessity of a tonic for invalids has caused the introduction to the public of very many vile nostrums, for all of which great medicinal qualities are claimed. The most of these Bitters are simply bad whisky and a few herbs, and the good they do is very little. Such is not the case with Rohrer's Tonic Bitters, advertised in this week's paper by Messrs. R. E. Sellers & Co., of Pittsburgh. The fact that this well known house is introducing the Bitters is the best evidence of their value.

SOME one has given utterance to the following scrap of philosophy, which, if not good, is at least cool: "The poor man's purse may be empty, but he has as much gold in the sunshine and silver in the moon's rays as anybody." It might be added that the poor man's purse is hardly ever so empty that its owner might not buy all that is necessary to the enjoyment of life at R. R. Davis' cheap store, on High street.

ALTOONA CITY, June 8, 1868.

FRIEND MAC—With one fell swoop 'T. I. M.' has been annihilated. At least the Rads. are jubilantly proclaiming that fact. I have on a previous occasion given you a true and authentic account of the action of some of the leaders of the black and tan faction in reference to the removal of the election polls from Col. Woods' hotel to a certain stable in the same ward. My account was in contradistinction to one given in a Radical rag published in this city. I had no idea, of course, that anything I or any other Democrat might say would for a moment command the attention or meet the approbation of the black and tan fraternity, but it seems that the TRIBUNE has noticed my epistle far enough to take umbrage at the truths it contains, and under the pressure of this feeling gets off the following chaste and crushing morceau:

"The time was when men lost their brains they died. Happily for 'T. I. M.' that time is past."

Oh, dear, how sublime and conclusive is such argument as this! And pray tell us where the TRIBUNE man (?) would be if that time was not past, providing of course that he ever had any brains to lose? Echo answers "where?"

But now, McRUM, you may have my old straw hat for a spittoon for the Grand Army of Rumsuckers if that is not a DERN sight cooler than the biting breezes which blow over the snow capped summits of the Alleghanies! The impudence of Belzebub, or his twin brother, old miscegen Thad, is not to be compared with it! And from such a source! If my religious training permitted I would say "d a-m-n it!" for nothing short of this Radical expression would give vent to my feelings. And, great Jerusalem, to think where it came from! The Altoona Tribune, a paper which never advanced an original idea since the day it was established—a paper that is for Grant and negro suffrage—a paper that has been anything, everything, all things, NOTHING—a paper that, when compelled to tell the truth, (a very unpalatable dish for radical stomachs,) makes more contortions, wrigglings and twistings than would break the back of a black snake. And for it to talk of BRAINS. Oh, shame, where is thy blush? Oh, impudence, IRE U DUNCE, where is thy parallel?

The black and tans of East Altoona have formed a Grant club. How passing strange it is that men of res-ve will assemble together in honor of such an im-olent mutineer as soup tureen, cigar stump Grant, who accepted an important post of trust from the President and then Judas like betrayed him! But such is Radicalism, and nothing better can be expected of its adherents.

There was considerable of a fight among our Radical friends here in the election of delegates to their County Convention. Some of them, however, Worked themselves through without having their proboscis flattened out. Mr. Burley, of Tyrone, was ring master, and no one dared to speak, walk or suggest anything without his permission. The convention was intensely 'loil" and party WILTS. I believe the church bell ropes were not disturned, although our bell rope cutter was on hand in case of an emergency. Of the ticket nominated I may have something to say hereafter.

Miss St. Clair lectured here the other evening to a few crazy men and silly boys. I did not hear the subject, but believe the irrepressible nigger had nothing to do with it.

The Catholic Fair is still in progress, and the inducements to invest as urgent and invit ing as ever.

The Methodist quarterly meeting commenced here on Saturday. That eloquent champion of the faith, Rev. Wilson, of Huntingdon, is assisting the resident minister, Rev. McMurray, in the exercises of the meeting.

Our young friend, Mr. George Yeager, has taken possession of his new establishment, into which he has just introduced an immense stock of stoves, hardware, tinware, etc., and is now prepared to furnish anything from a tin whistle to a mammoth heater. George is a capital fellow and a tip-top tinsmith, and deserves to flourish like a green bay tree.

Our city was honored with the presence of Ex Gov. Bigler on Sunday last. T. I. M.

A MERITORIOUS EXHIBITION.—It is a generally accepted opinion that to see one circus or menagerie, or both combined, is to see them all—that the same feats and witticisms, the same kind of animals and other living curosities, are to be found in each and all traveling exhibitions. This opinion is generally a correct one, but as there is no rule without an exception it is not always just to refuse to patronize a show because the one which preceded it filled to prove attractive. We have been led to these reflections by what we conceive to be more than ordinary merit in the "Great American Exposition Circus and Trained Animals" of Hemmings, Cooper & Whitby, which exhibited in this place on Thursday last. From the smallest to the largest member of this excellent troupe—from the little Foster sisters, the graceful and accomplished young equestriennes, to the burly and successful clown and sterling gentleman, Mr. John Foster—the most faultless perfection and highest order of equestrian and gymnastic talent is manifested in all phases of the pleasing programme presented at each exhibition of this mammoth entertainment.—But this is not all: the performances for the most part are entirely new and unique in their character, and in this as well as in the easy and graceful manner in which all feats are performed, the "Great Exposition" stands unrivalled, we doubt not, upon this continent at the present day as a magnificent exhibition of equestrian and acrobatic art and animal training and instinct.

We have not the space to particularize, but cannot refrain from saying that we were exceedingly pleased with the equestrian and other feats of Mrs. R. Hemmings, the beautiful and accomplished lady rider, the skillful and unsurpassable tight rope performances of her renowned husband, Mr. R. Hemmings, the hurdle races of Master Whitby on his two Lilliputian ponies, the daring and seemingly almost impossible exercises of Messrs. Whittoney and Theodore on the trapeze, the sensible and mirth provoking witticisms of John Foster, as well as his wonderful acrobatic exploits, the almost human talent displayed by the diminutive elephant and trained stud of horses and ponies; in short, with every thing and everybody connected with this first class circus. But if we were pleased with all this, we were perfectly delighted with the juggling feats of Mr. James Hemmings, which certainly excelled anything we ever conceived of, much less witnessed in or out of the arena. Standing upon his vaulting steed, perfect master of the position, he accomplished the most difficult feats of jugglery, astonishing and delighting every person who witnessed them. What they were, or how they were performed, we shall not attempt to describe, but those who failed to see Mr. Hemmings in these extraordinary feats failed to see what in itself was worth the price of admission.

All in all, then, the "Great American Exposition" is the best show that has exhibited in this place for years, and on its own merits we commend it to all who may have an opportunity and a desire to see what pluck and skill can accomplish in that way.

IN that elegant ballad, "The Bag o' Nails," there occurs the following couplet:

"The lawyer nails his client, and
The devil nails the lawyer."

At V. S. Barker's store, the person buying can always nail a bargain, while Mr. B. cares about nothing so much as nailing the ready money. D.d you ever buy a bill of goods at "Vallie's?" If not, go and try it on

BY handbill's posted up about town, we notice that a public meeting will be held in the Court House on Saturday evening next. The object of the meeting will be to take into consideration the propriety of instructing "all the world and the rest of mankind" to buy what summer goods they may need at Thompson's Cheap Cash Store. Attend the meeting, everybody, if it comes off, and be governed by its instructions.

A SEWING MACHINE has got to be an indispensable article of furniture in every well regulated household. It is a mooted question which sewing machine is par excellence the best; but it is generally admitted that the Grover & Baker machine, the Singer machine, and the Howe machine are superior to all others. All these machines are sold at manufacturers' prices by C. T. Roberts.

BEDFORD COUNTY.—From the Bedford "Gazette" of the 5th inst. we clip the following local items:

On last Wednesday we were visited by a severe thunder storm, some of the fatal effects of which, so far as they have come to our knowledge, we give to our readers. In Juniata tp, while Mr. Joseph Goon was in the act of unhitching his horses from the plow, he was struck by lightning, the two horses instantly killed, and himself so severely injured that no hope is entertained of his recovery. Strange to say, a sucking colt was with the horses at the time and escaped unhurt. In this borough, James Curboy, jr., who was standing near his stable with a shovel in his hand, was knocked down, but beyond being stunned for a while, sustained no serious injury. In Bedford tp., the new brick house of Charles Stuckey was struck, a chimney demolished, and the house otherwise damaged.

On last Friday morning, the body of a man was found hanging on the limb of a fallen tree, near the turnpike, about two miles west of Bloody Run. The limb on which he had choked him-elf to death was about four and a half feet from the ground. John A. Gump, Esq., summoned a jury and held an inquest over the remains. From his passport, found on his person, we learn that he was born in Prussia in 1821, and that he left that country in November last. His name was Frederick Kleinman. What led him to commit the rash act, no one will ever know.

A "TRUNK JOKE.—Many of our patrons have no doubt read the joke about the son of the Emerald Isle who was advised to buy a trunk, and who replied to the advise by inquiring what use a trunk would be to him. "Why, to put your clothes in, of course," was the answer. "Fwhat, and go naked?" was the responsive ejaculation of the surprised Emeralder. We don't advise anybody to go naked in this cold climate, but if you have any thing to put in a trunk or valise, or wish to go traveling, you will find a suberb stock of these useful articles for sale cheap at the great house-furnishing emporium of Geo. Huntley, High street, Ebensburg.

CHANGED HANDS.—The Harrisburg "Patriot and Union" has passed into the hands of Messrs. Myers, Brown & Moore, and has been enlarged to a thirty-two column paper, and the name changed to "Morning Patriot." It is now one of the largest, spiciest and ablest Democratic dailies in the State, and being the central organ of the party, should find support in all sections of the Commonwealth. When we receive the weekly we shall have more to say about this excellent newspaper, as our readers will be more apt to subscribe for its weekly than its daily issue.

THE PLACE.—Three doors east of Crawford's hotel is the place to buy groceries of all kinds. Where everybody deals must surely be the cheapest place—cheaper than the cheapest and better than the best.

ACROSTIC.

Let the Cambria people read!
Every man should know the truth:
Oil the want of light, indeed,
Punishes both age and youth.
On the shelves of Mayer lie
Lovely goods of every hue;
Do you wish, dear friends, to buy?

Mayer is the man for you.
As you pass by Parke's Hall
You will see a gorgeous sight:
Every window, shelf and wall
Radiant with colors bright:

Prints and silks of every hue,
Alpacas, trimmings, skirts, and lace,
Ribbons, orange, pink and blue—
Kindling tints upon each face,
Such as beauty never knew.

Hail the day that Mayer came,
And made the dry goods prices fall,
Lo! all people bless his name;—
Let them rush to Parke's Ha l.

Proof of our statement that we have made
A COMPLETE
REVOLUTION IN TRADE
can be found in the fact that the immense business we have built up has induced a multitude of SMALL CONCERNS to imitate our club system, and some by advertising the presents they will give to agents, seek, unsuccessfully, to divert some of our business to themselves. We make this announcement simply to inform the public that it will be for their interest to patronize our house, as we still continue to GIVE BETTER GOODS AND GREATER INDUCEMENTS TO AGENTS THAN ANY OTHER CONCERN IN THE BUSINESS.
We sell every description of DRY & FANCY GOODS, PLATED WARE, JEWELRY, WATCHES, SEWING MACHINES, &c., &c., for the uniform price of ONE DOLLAR. Circulars sent to any address free.
