THE FREEMAN.

THURSDAY, : : : JULY 9, 1868.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

THE GLORIOUS FOURTH .- The only recognitions of the national anniversary in this vicinity was the pic-nics of the Catholic congregation and the Presbyterian Sabbath School, which were held in two beautiful groves adjacent to town. At the former the must extensive preparations were made for the accommodations of visitors, and an abundance of the richest viands and most substantial catables were prepared with lavish hands, but we regret to say that in point of numbers the affair was not a success. Many persons were expected from neighboring localities, but they failed to put in an appearance. The Carrolltown brass band was on the grounds throughout the day, and did much to enliven the occasion The Sabbath School celebration was enjoyed by the little folks with great zest and spirit, and happiness and good feeling prevailed to a most gratifying extent. From other sections we have received no report of proceedings, but learn that the Catholic pic-nic at Johnstown was the most extensive and most pleasing ever held there. All nations and sects were represented, and nothing occurred to mar the festivities in any way.

THE SCHOOL COMMENCEMENTS AT LOBET-TO .- We had not the pleasure of attending either of the recent school exhibitions at Loretto, nor have we received any report thereof, but understand that both exhibitions passed off with more than usual credit to all concerned and with great gratification to every person in attendance. The exhibition of the young ladies of St. Aloysius' Acadetay is particularly spoken of as having been of the most pleasing character, and evidenced the great care and culture bestowed by the good Sisters of that institution upon the pupils under their charge. St. Francis' College and St. Aloysius' Academy are among the best, if not themselves the very best, schools in the country, and we are glad to know that their unsurpassable merits are deservedly appreciated far and near.

SERIOUS RAILROAD ACCIDENT AT WIL M. RE .- A lad named Eddie Claycomb, aged about function years, attempted to cross the Pa, R. R. track on horseback, near Wilmore, on Tuesday morning last, but before he succended the Cincinnati Express West came along and struck his horse, killing the animal instantly and throwing the boy to a legs and injuring him very severely about removed without delay to his home in the 1y discovered in time to prevent any serious village and placed under the care of Dr. damage.
