A new-born infant was found dead near the Union graveyard, on the bank of the Stony creek, Johnstown, on Monday morning week, by a number of school children .--No further developments.

James Meaghan, a young married man who had a wife and one child in Johnstown, died from sunstroke at Laughlin's blast furnace, near Pittsburgh, where he was employed, on Wednesday last. David Weaverling fell down an ore shaft forty-five feet deep, near Bloody Run, Bedford county, a couple of weeks since, and landed square on his feet. He received severe but it is thought not field injuries.

John Williams and Thomas Wellington, two young Englishmen residing in Johnstown, were recently robbed of all their money in New York, while on their way to visit their friends in "Merrie England."

F Hon. D. J. Morrell, our member of Congress, was taken seriously ill in the House of Representatives, on Saturday, and had to be carried to his room at the hotel. He was considered out of danger on Sunday. The extreme heat did it.

A little son of Col. Wm, K, Piper was struck on the mouth by a base ball bat which accidentally flew from the hands of a younger brother, on Tuesday, and had one of his lips severely cut and several teeth knocked out of place.

An exemplary and much esteemed young lady named Maggie Stover, about 21 years of age, committed suicide at Woodbury.

LIGHTNING'S DOINGS .- Within the recollection of that mythical individual, "the oldest inhabitant," we doubt whether more destruction to property from that subtle fluid, lightning, has occurred at any season than during the present spring and summer. We scarcely pick up a newspaper without find-ing one or more catastrophes of this kind detailed in its columns. Our own county has not escaped, and in addition to other accidents of this nature already recorded we today give an account of the destruction by lightning of a barn and all its contents only | down against the detached cars and put them in oft-recurring conflagrations it behooves every property-holder to adopt means to guard against loss in this way. The only sure pre-ventative is a good lightning-rod, and the John Hull, who was recently struck on is the Munson copper tubular lightming-rod. A lady named Miss Mitchell, residing in destroyed by lightning not long since, has contracted with Mr. Jones for putting up ting a letter in an upper room of the house. new barn, convinced as he is that it is the them to their last resting place. A BOGUS CONVENTION .- The proceedings of what is gravely called the "Union Republican County Convention" appears in the Johnstown Tribune of last week. They abound in fraud and forgery; and we speak confidently when we allege that Mr. C. T. Roberts, the Ebensburg Secretary, never prepared them for publication. Quite a number of delegates are named who were not in the Convention at all. For instance-(we quote from the Tribune):

"Carroll, Joseph Davis." Mr. Davis was not present. "Chest, Jacob Kibler." Mr. Killer was at home on his farm in Chest township, as a good citizen should be.

"Clearfield, Celestine M'Mullin." He was not in the Convention. "Gallitzin, Capt. D. Mills, H. Gallaher."

There was no H. Gallaher present. "Loretto, Henry Myers, Charles Miller." Charles Miller was not in the Convention, but Henry Myers, a clever fellow and good wag, voted in a soprano for himself and a deep bass for Mr. Miller when the names were called, thus taking two chances in the Radical lottery. No delegate elections were held in pursuance of the call here or elsewhere, so far as we can learn, and the Convention ifself. stripped of the Rolling Mill, would have been less than a rump. It would not have been even the shadow of a shade.

ALTOONA CITY, July 20, 1868. FRIEND MAC-Several strange and startling events have occurred since my last communication to you. Mr. James Clark, assistant yard master here, met with a terrible death on Wednesday last. The circumstances, so far as I could learn them, are as follows : Mr. Clark had just uncoupled a number of cars from a large freight train, for the purpose of allowing it is fast growing into popular favor, and no them to run down the yard, and while in the act serial better deserves it. It is now enlarged to of giving the signal to the engineer to back motion, another train pulled out of the yard on the same track upon which Mr. Clark was standing. Wishing the engineer to see the signal he attempted to pass to the opposite side between the two sections of the train, but just at that mement they came together, impaling him beone among the many admittedly the very best tween the two bampers, crushing him in a most the head with a stone at New Florence, is with spiral flanges, new being erected thro'- Mr. Clark had been employed in the yard some seven or eight years, and on that very day had Johnstown. He was a man of noble and generous impulses, always kind and affable, and one of the most faithful and efficient men in the employ of the Company. His remains were taken to New Florence for interment, several societies here of which he was a faithful and honored member accompanying > announcement of ore of the most shocking suicides and attempts at murder that it has ever been my fortune or rather misfortune to hear of. A man mamed Thomas Merkleion, formerly in the employ of the Pa. R. R. Co. at this place as a machinist, but more recently employed at Renova, had been paying attention to a very estimable young lady of this city named Miss Seibents, and rumor has it that they were engaged to be married. Be this as it may, while he was absent in Renova a misunderstanding arose between them, the sequence of which it is not necessary to mention. Miss Seiberts, with the instinct natural to a high minded lady, believed herself to be the aggrieved and injured party, and collecting together all the trinkets and keepsakes she had received from him, forwarded them to him at Renova. With these she also sent a note stating that all previous arrangements or agreements between them should be of the past, and that if they ever met again it would be as strangers. Merkleion re-fused to accept the package, however, and sent DEMOREST, 473 Broadway, N. Y. it back to Miss Sciberts; and in a few days after came to the city himself. In the meantime Miss Seiberts had strange presentiments and fearful forebodings of the future, and when he came positively refused to see him or have any intercourse with him. After his arrival Merkleion got on a spree and kept it up at a feasful rate until Saturday morning, when he became comparatively sober and exceedingly loquacious, especially to an intimate and confidential friend, to whom he remarked that there would be a tragedy enacted before night which would make a good caricature for the Police

Gazette, at the same time requesting his friend to send his trunk, clothing, etc., to his mother. His friend paid no attention to what he was Four cars of the emigrant train westward on the Pa. R. R. on Sunday were thrown from the track near Newton Hamilton, and one of them was overturned and badly wrecked. About twenty passengers were more or less injured, none of them seriously.

An oil train on the Pennsylvania Railroad going west, on Saturday, took fire near Huntingdon, from sparks from the locomotive. A quantity of oil was consumed, fifty yards of the track bed burned and the rails warped. The next train was delayed an hour and a half.

A little girl named Michell, aged thirteen years, was thrown from a horse in Clearfield county, on the 4th inst., and one of her feet becoming fastened in the stirrup, she was literally dragged and tramped to death by the horse. Her head and body were terribly n.utilated.

On Saturday morning week two children of James Scarfon, in Spring township, Centre county, were riding on a load of hay, when the wagon upset, breaking the neck and instantly killing the younger child, aged about six years, and seriously injuring the other mie.

Oar artist friend up street, Mr. T. T. We notice by the Tribune that our clever and talented young typographical friend, James E. Hartzell, of the Pittsburgh Chronicle, is at present rusticating in Johnstown. Couldn't you bob up this way, Jim? Would like to see you for the sake of auld lang syne, and promise you the best our larder affords.

The German whom we noticed last week as having been prostrated by sunstroke in Johnstown on Taesday, died about 6 o'clock the same evening. His name was Leonard Erlinger, and he and his family (wife and a ten years old boy) had been but six weeks in the country. He was employed in a stone quarry.

Two men named Morrison and Higgins got into an altercation near Reed's Mills, Blair county, on Wednesday of last week, which resulted in Morrison cutting an awful gash in the neck of Higgins with an axe, entirely severing the jugular vein. Morrison gave himself up immediately after the occurrence.

A young man named Broderick was bro't to our county jail on Monday last by Major Ryckman, charged, on oath of a young girl in Johnstown, with attempt to commit a rape. The offence was perpetrated and information made in February last, but Broderick decamped, and only returned last week, when he was arrested.

This admirable work contains a complete and Margaret Snyder, that setting aside all other spirited history of the Democratic party, from ts origin down to the present time.

It depicts the devotion of the Democratic party to the Constitution and the laws, in all the crises and emergencies of the country.

It traces the conflict between Federalism and Democracy, and contends that the Democratic party has always been true to the Union, whether disunion was threatened by Northern Feueralists or Southern Secessionists.

It gives a history of every interesting incident and event in each of the political parties. It gives eminently interesting sketches of every Democratic Statesman. The book, in brief, is a vast repertory of poitical and historical facts, of profound interest to every citizen, and of value to every politician for reference.

The author's experience dates far back into the early portion of the century : he was an associate of Silas Wright ; he enjoyed the confidence and friendship of Jackson, Van Buren, Polk, Taylor, Fillmore, Pierce, and Buchanan, and, probably better than any man living, is acquainted with what the internal workings of parties have been for the last fifty years.

Agents wanted to sell this book in every part of the Union. Clabs and Democratic organi-
