Some Specimen Carpet-Baggers. NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

The Buffalo Courier says : "The Boston negro, Bradley, who was chosen State Senator in Georgia, was about to be expelled for a heinous offense, but managed out with following card :

Your most humble servant and friend has been requested, and under the circumstances do accept his chance for nomination, and his better chance to receive his friends' votes, to make him the Representative in Congress after the 4th of March, 1869. A. ALPEORA BRADLEY.

This Bradley was formerly a convict in our State prison at Sing Sing.

The Brooklyn Eagle gives the history of another carpet bagger named Leslie, now occupying a seat in the same body. A number of years ago, it is stated, he was the proprietor of a house of ill-fame in attracted the attention of the police. His appearance at the sessions, and the effrontery he displayed there, were the occasion of considerable newspaper comment at the time. Finding the locality altogether too warm for comfort, he disappeared and was lost sight of. A well-known citizen on a recent visit to the capital of the State of Georgia recognized him as one of the newly elected Senators of that State !

Lieutenaat-Governor Applegate, a little stealing incident in whose life we gave the other day, is thus photographed by the Tipton (Ind.) Times :

The very best educational ensign on the court house, for which it was only with the greatest difficulty that a mob was restrained from tearing him to pieces. He borrowed money, which he has yet to pay, from James V. Cox, and left on the first train.

During the war we lost sight of him, but lately he has turned up as Lieutenant-Governor of Alabama-as loval as the most consummate Radical could desire. He owes his election to the negro votes. We can imagine, without fatiguing our mental powers, the condition of a people governed by such men as Applegate. So much for the wisdom and virtue of Congressional reconstruction.

A day or two before he died he was told of the recent accident to Ben. Butler, in Worcester, when he was thrown from his carriage. "It gives me great pain," said the dying commoner, "great pain." Then closing his eyes, as his habit was in medi-

The fellow was picked up and put outside the track, when he immediately sprang in front of the engine again, as if determined to be run over. THRILLING ACCIDENT AT NIAGARA FALLS-A DARING ACT.-The Buffalo Commercial learns that a startling incident occurred there on Monday afternoon. A little girl while getting upon the railing of the bridge leading from the main land to Goat Island, lost her balance and fell into the rapids. Instantly a young man named Moulton, who resides at Auburn, plunged in to rescue the child. Grasping the little one and keeping her head above water both were swept on towards the precipice, and destruction seemed inevita-Lle. But Moulton, being an expert swimmer, struggled manfully with the rushing

General Gordon, after vigorously denouncing the Radicals, who have turned a deaf ear "to the honest protestations of acceptance of the results of the war by the South," and after clearly and sharply defining the real senes of the approaching conflict, thus ended his manly and patriotic letter :
