HIS OPINION ON THE BOND QUESTION.

Thomas Ewing, Sr., of Ohio, has issued an address to the unpledged voters of the United States, in which, after a careful review of the political situation, he says: Until recently I had intended to support General Grant for the Presidency, and would do it still, in the hope that the Democracy will obtain a majority in the House of Representatives, and thus hold a restraining power, but facts which I have shown about render it impossible. Bad men, with more intellect and more force of character than himself, have possession of him; and if he be elected President will probably continue to rule him, and the country with him; and some of the worst existing abuses cannot be corrected against Executive opposition.

In looking over the whole ground most carefully, and weighing consequences well, I have come to the conclusion that it were better that the Democracy prevail in the coming election; and thus divide for the present the Legislative, while we restore the Executive and Judicial powers. No evil can ensue. We shall have a season of repose and time for reflection before called on again to act. There is profound philosophy in the old Scotch proverb :

For example: The creditor borrows forty cents, or depreciated bank paper worth forty cents, which the public If you prefer the welfare of the whole calls a dollar, and promises to pay interest, six per cent. on its nominal or fifteen per cent, on its actual value in gold. The promises to pay the gold interest being explicit, the nation who owes the debt should centracts with sovereigns; but where a distinction is taken in the contract between the debt and the interest—the interest only made payable in gold-equity would require that the debt should be paid in that which

EXTRAVAGANCE.

The New York Democrat says : The public has been furnished with a full, accurate, and authorative statement by Mr. Alexander of the Treasury Department at Washington. in answer to a letter addressed to him by Messrs. Henry Grinnell, Royal Phelps, and Wilson G. Hunt, of this city.

Mr. Delmar gives a statement of receipts and expenditures, for three years, since the close of the war, summing up of which is Williams made a speech lately at Huntsas follows: TOTAL RECEIPTS.

1865 6. 1867 8. 1866-7. Register's receipts: 568,032,620.06 490,634,010.27 405,638,133.27 reasurer's receipts 55,727,163 14 45,745,162 01 44,564,530 37

$576,477,103 62 392,444,291.44 414,913,604.19 The above statement shows that there has been collected out of the people, by taxation within three years, the enormous sum of one thirds of the whole public debt, and yet that debt has been reduced only one hundred and twenty-four millions in all that time. A sum, too, equal to all the expenditures of the Government, for seventy odd years of its you are too intelligent to be deceived, and existence, prior to 1861.

It shows further that there have been colleated upward of two hundred and sixteen espoused the cause of Democracy. Dr. millions more than have been paid out, Sykes, President of the Radical Convenwhich excess is not in the Treasury, and must have been stolen by Jacob's thieves.

It shows another thing-that the Jacobins expended in 1867-8 about twenty.two millions and a half more than they did in 1866-7. This indicates which way the current is running. That twenty-two millions and a half which they have added to the expenditures in a single year ought to meet all the necessities of the Government, under a good, sound, wholesome, economical, Jeffersonian administration, aside from the payments on the public debt. Instead of that, the Jacobins have made it upward of three on the public debt.

More and worse than all this. According to Mr. Delmar's statement, the expenditures for the current fiscal year, 1868-9, will amount to four hundred and eighty-one millions four hundred and eighty-seven thousand dollars, including the Post Office deficiency of six millions. This increases the over those of last year, SIXTY SIX MILLIONS AND A HALF of dollars-more than the whole expenditures of the Government in 1860.

It further appears that the estimated receipts for the current fiscal year, to meet DR. KANE'S GREAT PICTORIAL WORK, these expenditures are only three hundred and twenty millions six hundred and twenty thousand.

"Thus, (says Mr. Delmar,) if the Treasury endeavors to meet its current expenditures this year (to say nothing of matured I have already shown it will give us a claims deferred or of the Post Office deft eason for inquiry and reflection, and the ciency), it will show a deficit of $154,339, same conservative power which can now 202 25 at the end of the year, to be obtained
