Local Correspondence.

ALTOONA CITY, Nov. 19, 1868. Friend Mac-We have met the Radicals, and, lo! and behold, we are theirs. Yet, never in the history of this country did the triends of constitutional liberty, law and order, make a more brave and determined resistance to tyranny and usurpation than did the gallant Democracy on Tuesday last; and never in the history of this or any other country did the enemies of free government commit greater wrongs, or perpetrate more stupendous frauds, than did the Radicals on that day. It is not estimating the sum too highly to say that fully one million of dollars was expended by the bondholders in this State alone, and it is equally susceptible of proof that colonization was extensively practiced in every close Congressional district. and that poor men employed in factories and iron works were driven to the polls like sheep to the shambles, and threatened with immediate dismissal if they did not vote as their "loil" masters dictated. In proof of this letter charge here is a case in point : An ex-member of Congress in this districtone who had been elected by the Democrats but afterwards basely betrayed them-a man possers d of much more brass than brainspledged his word to do all in his power to secure the election of that brave soldier, pure patriot, honorable gentleman, and working man's friend, Col. John P. Linton, but in the meantime Daniel J. Morrell; or one of his agents, came around and put a new song in his mouth, and, perhaps, greenbacks in his pocket. The result was that be and his son stood at the polls all day and compelled the men in his employ to vote against the very man whom he had promised to do his utmost to elect. No comment is needed.

Several amusing incidents occurred here on election day at the expense of the Radicals. I will mame one or two which were particularly galling to the parties themselves and to their political friends hereabouts. A candidate on the Radical county ticket has been passing himself off for a native born American citizen, not of African 'scent, however. He was intensely "loll" during the war, remained at home to watch the copperheads, and was aiways profuse and bitter in his denunciations of the Irish and Dutch, and would prefer to have a "nager" vote at any time in preference to a d-d foreigner. He is also sail to be principal editor of the dark light rag published in this city. Well, this "loil" gentleman majesti-cally went forth on election day and shook the dust from his feet as he passed the Irish and Dutch, fearing, no doubt, that he might be contaminated, for he was going to exercise a freeman's right to vote as his judgment dictated, with no one to molest him or make him afraid. While just in the act of depositing his ballot, however, a young Democrat, not having the fear of the sardine, the leader of the shirt-tail rangers, or the dark light rag in his mind's eye, chal lenged his vote as a "Hinglishman," and demanded that his naturalization papers should be produced. Oh, Lord, what a flatter it did create among the R that their candidate was a "Hinglishman," and how the poor devil himself did vip and tare. But it was all no go-his papers he had to show before he would be allowed the privilege of voting. And here is still another. A double distilled, "loil" intensified, disciple of Escula-pins attempted to deposit his ballet for the the election to interrogate bim, and among other questions he was asked where he had been born? He replied in Mercersburg, Pa. Still the inspector was not satisfied, and demanded that he should be sworn. After considerable twisting and snarling he admitted that he had been born in Ireland.
