THE members of the Democratic State Committee are called to meet at Bolton's Hotel, Harrisburg, on March 30th.

In the | dened people. ist of members voting to exclude the electoral vote of Louisiana we find the name of Daniel J. Morrell. Such is his estimate of the respect due to the expressed will of a sovereign State when a majority of its citiz ns see proper to vote the democratic ticket. If the State had voted for Grant Mr. Morrell would doubtless have viewed the matter in quite a different light. A narrow feeling of political bigotry can produce a sudden and wonderful change on the judgment of some men, and especially of some Congress-

A Disgraceful Scene.

Both Houses of Congress met in joint con vention on the 10th instant, in the hall of the House of Representatives, to count the electoral votes for President and Vice President. An immense crowd of spectators was present, including most of the representatives of foreign governments at Washington. The preceedings, although common place, are novel and interesting, and ought to be conducted with a proper degree of dignity and decorum. It so happened that the State of Georgia was the last State called. Ben. Butler was determined to create a first class row over the vote of that State, and was entirely successful in his efforts. He objected, for certain reasons, to counting the vote of that State. Ben. Wade, who presided over the j int convention, refused most vehemently to listen to the bully boy with the cocked eye, or to entertain any of his motions. Butler was overbearing, dogmatical, and insolent, as he always is. Some of his radical friends came to his rescue, and by voice and gesticulation urged the man of plate and spoons to "go in." Confusion worse confounded prevailed. Colfax directed the Sergeant-at-Arms to arrest all members of the House who didn't respect the ralings of Wade, from whose decisions there was no appeal. There ensued a scene of excitement, turmoil and confusion that baffles description-such a scene as can only be paralleled by what has often been described as occurring in Kit Burns' New York rat pit. Butler held to his bone with the grip of a bull ternier, but Wade treated him with utter contempt. Amidst motions and objections, calls to order, accompanied with shouts and yells In true Indian style, the vote was announced, the bediamite scene ended, and the Senators and spectators withdrew. All the eports from Washington concur in representing the proceedings as disgraceful beyond all precedent, and Butler, as the chief actor and justigator, meets with bitter but deserved

Only a few days ago the annual appropriation bill was reported, and to our surprise we find in it an appropriation of nine thousand two hundred dollars to the State Historian and his clerks. Is this scandalors swindle to be continued for another year? By the specific terms of the President elect the counterpart of Byron's last appropriation to this work, made in April, 1868, it was to be completed for that "But who that chief? his name on every shore amount in one year. If it is done it will simply amount to a legalised larceny of that amount from the State Treasury. There were seven witnesses examined on the trial of the case, and the committee on accounts ask an appropriation of nine hundred dollars with which to pay them. #### The Negro Amendment.

The constitutional amendment conferring suffrage upon the negroes in all the States, has passed both Houses of Congress, and will now be sent to the different State Legislatures for, ratification or rejection. Thus is the stately fabric of our national constitution, the precious legacy transmitted to us by the sages and patriots of the revolution. being steadily undermined, and the rights of the States, unchallenged and unassailed for more than three quarters of a century, slowly but surely swept away. Our national cov- and it is to be hoped that it will pass. enant has ceased to be respected, and the work reared by the genius of Washington, Madison and Hamilton is now tossed between the two Houses like a shuttlecock by the Sumners and Wilsons of the Senate and the Covodes and Morrells of the House.

Common decency and respect for the pop-ant a change in the fundamental law should be submitted to the judgment of Legislatures to be elected with special reference to the question involved in the proposed amendment. But every motion having that object in view was promptly voted down by a pargreat panacea for all the evils that afflict the country, as its advocates maintain, and if it is to restore peace and harmony throughout the land, as they aver, then its adoption ought to be accompanied with all the formality and deliberation befitting so momentous a question. But, above all other considerations, it ought not to be engrafted on the constitution without the clearest popular sanction. Does the present radical Legislature of this State represent the voice of the people of Pennsylvania on this subject? No such flimsy pretence is or can be made, because under the disclaimer of the Chicago convention in its platform of any intention to regulate the elective franchise in the Northern States by Federal interference, and its distinct declaration that "the question of suffrage in the loyal States properly belonged to the people of those States," the people of this as well as all the other States did not and | tery any how.) and before you can say could not pass judgment on the question at the last election. After having made a solemn pledge to the American people, they turn around and with worse than Parthian treachery, deliberately and perfidiously violate it. This is the boasted peace that was to smile over the land in the event of Grant's election. With the establishment of negro suffrage, not by the conseat of the people of the Northern States fairly and legally expressed, but by the votes of negro and carpet-bag Legislatures in six Southern States, there never can and never will be peace.

Let the people prepare themselves for the next arbitrary stretch of power. It will surely come. That will be a blow aimed at our foreign population. Negroes may be enfranchised by thousands by virtue of a few lines written with the pen, but intelligent and educated foreigners must be hedged round with cunningly devised plans to obstruct and if possible prevent their way to the ballot-box.

HARRISBURG, Feb. 13, 1869. Dear Freeman-Legislation up to this time has been unimportant to the citizene of the Commonwealth generally mearly all the bills passed being of a local character.—
There are yet a number of public bills to be considered, however. The fellowing bills relating to your county, are before the Legislature: A supplement to an act incorporating the Stony Creek Bridge Company in the borough of Johnstown; an act authorizing the School Directors of the borough of Millville to borrow money; an act extending the jurisdiction of Justice of the Peace in certain criminal proceedings and in cases of urety of the peace to certain districts in the county of Cambria; and (if yours were not a temperance community, Mr. Editor, I would take the liberty to suggest that they brace their news with something of a stimulating character before coming to the next act, lest the shock should be too much for their delicate constitutions,) an act to remove the Seat of Justice of Cambria county from Ebensburg to Johnstown, in said county. As there is no telling what disposition will be made of the public bills now before the Assemby, I will not accupy your space with a list of them. We have tried it, and we know it to be west, and the Central Pacific Ra Iroad, beginalmost infallible in cases of indigestion, dis- ning at Sacramento, and building east, unti arrangement of the Liver, &c. It has cured the two roads sh ll meet. Less than two hundred and fifty miles remain to be built. The greater part of the interval is now graded, and it is reasonably expected that the through connection between San Francisco and New York will be completed by July 1. As the amount of Government aid given to each is dependent upon the length of road each shall build, both companies are prompted to great efforts to secure the construction and control of what, when completed, will be one and the only grand Railroad Line connecting the Atlantic and Pacific co.sts. One Hundred and Ten Million Dollars ($110-

When the United States Government found it neces sary to secure the construction of the Pacific Railroad, to develop and protect its own inter est, it gave the companies, authorized to build it such ample aid as should render its speedy completion beyond a doubt. The Government aid may be briefly summed up as follows:-First. The right of way and all necessary timber, and stone from public domain. Second. It makes a donation of 12,800 acres of land to the mile, which, when the road is completed, will amount to twenty thr e million (23,000,000) acres, and all of it within twenty Third. It loans the companies fifty million dollars ($50,000,000), for which it takes a scond lien. The Government has already loaned the Union Pacific Rai road twenty four million and fifty eight thousand dollars , $24,058,007 and to the Central Pacific Railroad seventeer million six hundred and forty eight thousand dollars ($17,648,000), amounting in all to forty-one million seven hundred and six thousand dollars ($41,706 000) The companies are permitted to issue their own First Mortgage Bonds to the same amount as they receive from the United States, and no more. The companies have sold to permanent investors about ($40,000,000) forty million do lars of their First Mortgage Bonds. The companies have already paid in (including net earnings not divided, grants from State of California, and Sacramento city and San Francisco,) utwards of ($25,000,000) twenty-five million lollars of capital stock.

WHAT IS THERE YET TO BE DONE ? PANIES TO FINISH THE ROAD? First. They will receive from the Govern ment as the road progresses about $9,000,000

Second. They can issue their own First Mortgage Bonds for about $9,000,000 addi Third. T'e companies now hold almost all the land they have up to this time received from the Government; upon the completion of the road they will have received in all 23,000. 000 acres, which at $1.50 per acre would be worth $34 500,000. In addition to the above the net earnings of the roads and additional capital, if necessary could be called in to finish the road WAY BUSINESS- ACTUAL EARNINGS No one has ever expressed a doubt that as oon as the road is completed its through business will be abundantly profitable. Gross earnings of the Union Pacific Railroad Company for six months, ending January 1, '69, were upwards of. The earnings of the Central Pacific Railroad, for six months ending Jan 1st, 1869, were $1,750 000 g'ld $550.0 m gold Expensos 450 .000

Net profit of Central Pacific Railroad, after paying all interest and expenses for six The present gross earnings of the Union and Central Pacific Railroads are $1,200,000 month-

HOW LARGE A BUSINESS IS IT SAFE TO PREDICT FOR THE GREAT PA-CIFIC RAILROAD? We would give the following-facts agrived from Shipping Lists, Insurance Companies, Railroads, and general information:—

Ships going from the Atlantic around Cape Horn, 100 Steamships connecting at Panuma with California and China, 55. Overland Trains, Stages, Horses, etc. e'c Here we have two hundred and thirty thous and tons carried westward, and experience has shown that in the last few years the re turn passengers from California have been nearly as numerous as those going. HOW MANY PASSENGERS ARE THERES We make the following estimate .--110 Steamships, both ways, 70,000 (act'l for '68) 4,000 estimat'd " 100,000

Number per annum 174,000 Present price (averaging half the costs of the steamships), for both passengers an tonnage,, gives the following result:-170,000 passengers at $100. 460,000 tons, rated at $1 per cubic fort 15,610,000

Basing calculations upon the above figures, without allowing for the large increase of bus iness, which can safely be looked for, then estimate the running expenses at one half and we have a net income of $16 520,000; which: after paying the interest on the First Mort-gage Bonds and the advances made by the Sovernment, would leave a net annual income of $9,000,000 over and above all expenses and

The First Mortgage Bonds of the Union Paeific Railroad company and the First Mortgage Bonds, of the Central Pacific Railroad company are both, principal and interest, payable in gold coin; they pay six per cent. interest in gold coin, and run for thirty years, and they cannot be paid before that time without the consent or the holder. First Mortgage Gold Bonds of the Union Pacific Railroad for sale at par and accrued interest, and First Mortgage Gold Bonds of Central Pacific Railrord at 103 and accrued

DRONOUNCED THE BEST EVER YEL introduced in this County or State. Any person buying a family right can have their lees transferred from an old box to a new one In every instance in which this has been done the result has been entirely satisfactory, and the first take of honey has invariably paid all expenses, and frequently exceeded them. Proof of the superior merits of this invention will be found in the testimency of every man who has given it a trial, and among the number are the gentlemen named below, and their experience ould induce every one interested in Bees to BUY A FAMILY RIGHT! Henry C Kirkpatrick, of Carroll townsh took 106 pounds of surplus honey from two hives, which he sold at 35 cents per pound. Adam Deitrich, of C rroll township, tool from two hives 100 pounds of surplus honey. James Kirkpatrick, of Chest township, took

60 pounds of surplus honey from one hive. Jacob Kirkpatrick, of Chest township, ob tained 72 pounds of surplus honey from o e hive, worth not less than $21, and the right cost him only $5. Peter Campbell from one hive obtained 36 ounds of surplus honey at one time

Quite a number of similar statements authenticated by some of the best citizens of Cambria county, could be obtained in proof of the superior merits of Langstroth's Patent Movable Comb Bee Hive. Persons wishing to purchase family right should call on or address PETER CAMPBELL.
