John Lingafelt was appointed Postmaster at Hollidaysburg by President Grant, in place of James Bingham, who has held the office for eight years, but the Senate adurned without confirming the appointment, and Lingafelt is still out in the cold. Mr. Geo. Bruner, whose property was destroyed by the recent disastrons fire in Altoons, has met with another severe affliction in the death of his wife. He was burned out of house and home in Chambersburg by the rebel raiders during the late war. Verily, misfortunes come not singly. The uprooting of old shade trees and the planting of young trees in their stead is being indulged in quite extensively in this vicinity just now. Many property holders seem determined to get rid of the old locust trees, which have become an eye-sore in our town, and substitute maple for them.

Some children amused themselves Ly setting fire to a quantity of hay in Mr. T. W. Williams' stable in this place, on Sunday afternoon last, but the escape of the smoke through the crevices fortunately led to its discovery in time to subdue the flames before any damage of account had resulted. Persons leaving Ebensburg by way of the Branch railroad need not get up at an unreasonable hour or leave home breakfastless after this, for the change in the schedule, as noted at the head of this column, has made the thing as handy as a pocket in an undergarment. Hope it will long continue so. We published "Simon Simson's" first epistle to accommodate the author-we omit his second to accommodate ourself. When we learn the object to be gained and the subscriber to be gratified by the publication of these letters, and deem the one commendable and the other deserving, we may possibly think better of the matter. An old man named Christian Hanawalt, a farmer residing in the neighborhood of Mt. Union, Huntingdon county, was struck by the mail train west, on Thursday last, and thrown against a cross-tie, the end of which crushed in his skull and caused instant death. The accident occurred on the farm upon which Mr. H. was born about seventy years ago.

The Crawford county system of nominating candidates for office affords the printers a rare chance to make money, and in this respect, as in all others, it is worthy of commendation. Better be born lucky than rich.

Several new advertisements appear in our paper to-day, to which we invite attention. Mr. G. Wolff, the popular, enterprising and liberal clothier of Altoona, makes known his ability to sell clothing good and cheap, while the unsurpassable establishment of Wood, Morrell & Co. and the new wholesale grocer house of Lawson & Baker, Johnstown, and the boot and shoe manufactory of our neighbor, John D. Thomas, are all properly repre. sented in our advertising department.

An "American citizen of African 'scent' effected an entrance into the dwelling house of Mr. Mark B. McLanghlin, at Cresson, on Saturday night last, through a window in the rear of the house. Mrs McL. saw him go in at the window and apprised her busband of the fact, who instituted a search for the "colored cuss," and finally found him hidden between two feataer beds in one of the upper rooms. After making his mark Seth F. SCARED AT THE AURORA -The recent grand display of the aurora borealis created quite an amusing panic among a party of young folks in Susquehanna township, and which has given rise to no little amusement at their expense. It seems that on the occa sion in question a number of young persons of both sexes assembled at the house of a neighbor, and while there some of them indulged in card-playing for amusement, and when the party was about to disperse it was discovered for the first time that something unusual was transpiring in the blue vault overhead. Not being posted in things astronomical, our young friends concluded at once that all things earthly were about to receive their quietus and that the day of judgment was about to dawn upon them, finding them illy prepared to account for their stewardship. A scene of the wildest excitement ensued for a short time, amid which cards were burned and the most earnest prayers for mercy uttered, but as the show failed to go on as was expected, they finally ceased to "watch and pray," and departed for their respective homes, agreeably disappointed no doubt at the turn of events, but wiser and by the sublime and unusual freak of nature.

HEROIC FEAT .- Yesterday's Huntingdon Globe says: Engineers of locomotives have eventful lives, as the following incident, which happened near Petersburg, this county, one day last week, will illustrate: An engineer of a freight train, while approaching the above named place, saw a child-son of Mr. Denny-walking on the track about a half mile ahead. He immediately whistled, but the boy did not appear to hear it, and kept on walking, the engineer continually whistling, and even reversing his engine. Seeing that the boy would not heed, he got from his seat on to the cow-catcher, and caught the boy in his arms, ere the engine could touch him, and thus saved his life .-We have not learned the name of this noble engineer, but we will be happy to publish it as soon as we do, for he should be held in grateful remembrance.

Local Correspondence.

Johnstown, April 26, 1869. Dear Freeman-The weather here for the last few days has been warm and pleasant, while in other portions of the States there have been violent storms, hurricanes and floods. We received a letter from California, dated March 7th, stating that the writer had been busy that day planting corn, and that the wheat was knee-deep.

The Associate Judges of the county met here on Saturday to see about leasing a suitable building in which to hold our new court, but nothing was decided upon conclusively. There are two places spoken of-Union Hall and Fronheiser's Hall. There will be considerable trouble in getting our new district court inaugurated, A proper place for the safe-keeping of prisoners seems to be the great disideratum.

The First National Bank of this place has assumed a new phase (face), and is overlaid on the outside with gold or yellow paint. It looks as bright as a new split broom. The banking house appears much better since the old locust trees in front have been removed.

Work on the new German Catholic church has been resumed, and the upper course of the stone work is being rapidly completed. The brick work of the German Lutheran church is being pushed forward with commendable zeai, as is also Frank Hay's new tin and stove ware depot, one story of which is already completed. The front window of this church has just been finished. It took one thousand feet of lumber to make it. It is 28 feet long by about 8 feet wide, and was manufactured at the Johnstown Mechanical Works. The brick walls, from the foundation to the eaves, will be thirty-three feet. and the apex of the roof double that height. The side windows, twelve in number, will be about eighteen feet high.

The schools in Johnstown and Conemangh boroughs will open on the first Monday of May and keep open from seven to nine months, making provisions for the instruction of about afteen hundred pupils in eighteen schools-fourteen in Johnstown and four in Conemangh. While people are so lavish of their money in other matters it is pleasing to know that some of it is to be spent in the education of the rising generation, who will gladly avail themrelves of these advantages without any law to compel them to attend.

Next Tuesday is the day fixed for the election of a County Superintendent. Some of our directors think that it is quite unnecessary to attend, as the teachers elected one last winter. It is thought that the attendance will be slim, little interest being taken in the matter. It costs about as much now to run a common school outside of the room as inside. In other words, the half of the money is spent before it gets to the school. The new school law was passed in 1854 .-Since that time about one hundred thousand dollars a year have been expended in keeping up a separate department, publishing voluminous reports, printing blanks, etc., making in fifteen years a total expenditure

There have been about eighty interments of January last, averaging twenty per month. This place was only laid out in 1855, but it will soon have to be enlarged. The coroner's jury in the case of Patrick Boyle, found in the Conemaugh river below this place, on Tuesday of last week, returned a verdict of death from accidental death.

D. 1869, a penalty of opportunity to make twelve dollars and a half, and render the community effective service. There is no practice so inhuman as the killing of the pretty little songsters that warble beneath our windows and gladden our hearts. It is the duty of every good citizen to prevent their destruction. and this can only be done by prosecuting those who violate the law. OUR BOOK TABLE.

THE AMERICAN YEAR BOOK AND NATION-AL REGISTER FOR 1869 .- We acknowledge the receipt of a copy of this valuable and instructive work from the publishers, O. D. CASE & Co., Hartford, Coun. It is neatly bound and contains 800 pages. The value of this work can only be estimated by an examination of it. It contains a mass of information upon nearly every subject which suffer from these causes alike require a remerelates to the government and the country. The statistics and other information in regard to foreign governments are very full and comprehensive. It is difficult to estimate the true value of such a work as this, where every page is complete with political, historical, scientific and religious intelli- and genial of all tonics and alteratives for gence. The work will not only become strengthening and restoring the physical convery popular but will be regarded as a ne- stitution. cessity as a standard of reference. Every man who wishes to have a book which contains such an unequalled amount of varied information, in reference not only to this country but the whole world, should at once supply himself with a copy of the of the binding. ARTHUR'S PERIODICALS .- The May numbers of the "Home Magazine," "Children's and liberally. Hour" and "Once a Month," all published by T. S. Arthur & Sons, Philadelphia, have been with us for several days. In their various departments these three magazines stand unrivalled, and the highly moral, intellectual, instructive and entertaining characchoice literature is prized. The "Home Magazine" is $2 per year and the "Children's Hour," a perfect gem for the little folks, only $1,25, while the first six months' given away to any one who wants them for six months at least.

THE CATHOLIC WORLD for May contains : The Woman Question, Daybreak, (continned.) Problems of the Age, and its Critics, Heremore-Brandon, (concluded,) Our Lady's Easter, Two Months in Spain during the Revolution, Pope or People, Emily Linder, My Mother's Only Son, (the best temperance story we ever read,) Catholicity and Pantheism, Aubrey de Vere in America, About Several Things, A Chinese Husband's Lament for his Wife, A May Flower, Book which has no rival on this continent. SINGULAR COINCIDENCE .- A rather singular coincidence occurred at the house of a friend a day or two ago. While seated at the dinner table with a little year and a half old daughter on his knee, his wife left the table, repaired to another room, and ere long returned with a new "sundown," which had been bought and trimer had the "sundown" appeared than there was a daughter down too-she getting down from her father's knee to "go for" the "sundown." When this interesting incident occurred our friend was pleasantly employed in munching a mouthful of bread and meat which had been baked from flour and cut from a ham bought from our enterprising merchant friend, M. L. Outman, who supplies his customers with the best flour and choicest groceries brought to are that the Southern Express eastward (a this place, and does it at such low prices that everybody is pleased, and all are sure to go and buy from him again. If you appreciate such pleasant little episodes be sure to buy all your provisions from M. L. Oatman.

THE PALINDROME is a line that reads just the same either forward or backward One of the best is Adam's observation to Eve, "Madam, I'm Adam!" Another was the remark of Napoleon at St. Helena, when asked by the Englishman if he could have sacked London, "Abel was I ere I saw Elba." The following also reads backwards and forwards peecisely the same, "Snug & raw was I ere I saw war & guns." Another still, and perhaps an unintentional one, ornaments the front of a cake shop in Yreka, California, "Yreka Bakery" tmenty-five dollars is imposed for the killing | There is no palindrome in the following sen of any insectivorous bird; one-half of this tence: Shremaker & Co.'s Spring stock of fine to be paid to the informer. They have goods to suit all tastes and purses, and can either turnish a house or clothe and provision the inmates.

REFRESHING. - The genial showers which visited us a day or two ago were quite refreshing and opportune, and their effects upon vegetation have been very marked and gratifying. Speaking of vegetation reminds us that now is the time to seed the earth, and to do this requires various implements of husbandry, which can be obtained nowhere in greater profusion or at lower prices than from George Huntley, whose extensive hardware department contains almost everything from a darning-needle to a cook stove or a mowing machine, and whose assortment of groceries, cutlery, silverware wall paper, etc., is as large as the largest and endless variety.

TO THE NERVOUS. The natural result of exhaustion of strength by excessive labor or action, is a feeling of constitution, or whose habits are sedentary, frequently complain of this relaxed condition of the vital energies; and when persons of a nervous temperament are thus weakened and debilitated, disease inevitably follows, unless it is at once checked and overcome. MISHLER'S HERB BITTERS has won its way into the confidence of thousands of this class of persons who warmly indorse it as the best invigorating agent and the most potent

A Fact -The man who takes his county paper is always known by his inte'ligence and by the fact that he is sure to deal with such men as R. R. Davis when he wants to buy dry goods or groceries, for he is always sharp enough to know where to get the full worth of "American Year Book." The price ranges his money. Mr. Davis' Spring stock is meetfrom $8,50 to $6,00, according to the quality ing with a ready sale, because it embraces all styles of goods at the right kind of prices, and people will buy where they are treated fairly
