THE WIFE OF LAFAYETLE.

In the bloody days of the French Revolution, Marechale de Noailles, the Duchesse d'Ayen and the Vicomtesse de Noailles at a time, and never forsakes his first love WE ARE NOW SELLING EXCHANGE of the Oratory, the Abbe Carrichon, was cannot prevent. But with all this, he England, the confessor of the Duchesse d'Ayen and her daughter. One day when he was exhorting his penitents to prepare for death, he said to them :- "If you go to the guillotine, and if God gives me strength, I will bis mate to take grain from the same distancempany you there." They took him at with him, unless he has finished his meal, his word and cried out with vivacity, "will and then he will allow her to eat hers. England, you promise us ?" "Yes," he answered, If there is not one of his flock left for the Germany, "and in order that you may recognize me, I shall have on a blue coat and a red vest." The day when the three victims mounted the fatal cart, the Abbe Carrichon, disguisdeath if he was discovered, mingled in the a storm. Though wild in nature, they crowd and followed them on foot up to the are easily domesticated, quite fond of be- of the Baltiscaffold. He had trouble at first to make ing caressed. The female lays about ten more Coilege himself recognized, in spite of all his efforts eggs, is a good setter, and quite careful gery, respect to put himself in view; but, a storm hav- of her young. Her mate does constant fully offers his ing broken out, the people dispersed, and the priest remained alone. "Mme. de Noailles perceived me, and, smiling, seemed to say to me: 'Ah! there you are at last .- African and other foreign birds, they are citizens of Eb-Ah! how sad we are. We looked for you a great ornament to the poultry yard, bea long time. Mamma, there he is.' Mme, sides producing a good yield of feathers main one week. d'Ayen revived. All my irresolution ceased. once in six weeks, I felt in myself an extraordinary courage. Eathed in sweat and rain, I continued to walk near them. The storm was at its highest point, the wind more impetuous. The ladies in the first cart were very much troubled by it, particularly the Marechale de Noailles ; her large cap was thrown back, letting her gray hair be seen; she tottered on her miserable behind her back. We arrived at the open place where the Faubourg Saint Autoine begins. I went before, I examined it and I said to myself, "This is the best place to give what they wish so much to receive. The cart was going slower, I turned toward them; I made a sign to Mme de Noailles, which she understood perfectly. 'Mamma, M. Corrichen is going to give us the absolution.' Immediately they bowed their heads with an air of repentence, of contrition, of emotion, of hope, and piety. I raised my hand, and with my head covered pronounc ed the formula of absolution and the words which follow it very distinctly, and with a preternatural attention. They joined it better than ever. I shall never forget the charming picture. From that moment the storm went down, the rain diminished, and scemed to have existed only for the success of that which was so much desired on both sides. I blessed God! they did also."

What a picture! in fact, the good priest calls it charming, and such a word in such a moment is sublime. The details of the execution are related with the same elequent simplicity. "The Marcchale de Noal les ascended on the alter of sacrifice. The top of her dress had to be folded in, that her neck might be uncovered. I was impatient to go away, and yet I wished to drink the cup to the dregs and to keep my word, since Ged gave me the strength to contain myself in the midst of so many emotions. Six ladies next passed. Mme. d'Ayen was the tenth. How pleased she seemed to be to die before her daughter. When she ascended the scaffold, the chief executioner took off her cap-As it was fastened by a pin which he had not taken out, the hair was pulled violently, which caused her some pain, which showed itself in her features. The mother disappeared-her worthy and tender daughter took her place. What emotion I felt on seeing this young lady all in white, seeming much younger than she was, like a gentle little lamb going to be slaughtered. I felt as if I was present at the martyrdom of one of those young virgins or holy women, such as they are represented to us. What happened to the mother happened also to her the same forgetfulness of the pin, the same sign of the pain, and at once the same calm, the same death. What an abundance of vermillion blood flowed from the head and the neck! How happy she is! I cried to myself, when her body was thrown into that frightful coffin."

The daughter, grand-daughter, and sister of these three innocent victims, Adrienne de Nouilles, Madame Lafayette, was born in 1759. Her daughter tells us that she was in her childhood very much troubled by doubts on religion. The agitation commenced at the age of twelve and lasted several years. Although she experienced great trouble from her uncertainties, she voluntarily deferred her first communion until the moment they had ceased, which was already an astonishing trait of character in a child of this age. She married when four-teen and a half; M. de Lafayette was himself only sixteen. She was almost in her eighteenth year when her husband left for America. She endured with courage this unexpected separation; her ardent love for her husband was exactly what made her strength. The resolution of M. de Lafayette, which some very much applauded, was blamed exceedingly by others; the Duc | person. d'Ayen in particular did not dissemble his anger. The young wife did without hesitat- DE HAVEN & BROTHER, ing what she was to do all her life-she took the part of her husband against her own family, and swallowed her tears. Lafayette returned with gratitude this passionate devotion; what might have divided them, united more closely.

MECHANICAL USE OF CASTOR OIL .- We find in one of our exchanges the following remarks relative to the use of castor oil in the trades, more particularly its application to leather. It is much better to soften and redeem old leather than any other oil known. When boots and shoes are greased with it, the oil will not at all interfere with polishing afterward, as is the case with lard, olive or any other oil. In Harrisburg, Pa., the old leather hose of some fire companies was greased with it, and found to become soft and flexible as new. Leather belts for transmitting motion in machinery will usually last three to five years, according to the wear they are exposed to; when greased with caster oil it will prevent slipping. so COPYING PRESSES. that a belt three inches wide, impregnated with it will be equal to a belt four and a half inches without easter oil. It is necessary, however, to wait twenty-four hours till the oil has disappeared from the surface and penetrated the leather, otherwise the freshly greased surface will cause slipping. The rats and other vermin detest anything impregnated with castor oil, and will not Near Wood Street, PITTSBURGH. touch it-another advantage. - Scientific American.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

For restoring Gray Hair to its natural Vitality and Color.

A dressing which is at once agreeable, healthy, and effectual for preserving the hair. Faded or gray hair is soon restored to its original color with the gloss and freshness of youth. Thin hair is thickened, falling hair checked, and baldness often, though not always, cured by its use. Nothing can restore the hair where the follicles are destroyed, or the glands atrophied and decayed. But such as remain can be saved for usefulness by this application. Instead of fouling the hair with a pasty sediment, it will keep it clean and vigorous. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from turning gray or falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. Free from those deleterious substances which make some preparations dangerous and injurious to the hair, the Vigor can only benefit but not harm it. If wanted merely for a

Ayer's Cathartic Pills, For all the purposes of a Laxative

Perhaps no one medicine is so universally re-quired by everybody as a cathartic, nor was ever any before so universal-ly adopted into use, in every country and among all classes, as this mild but efficient purgative Pill. The obvious reason is, that it is a more re-liable and far more effec-tual remedy than any other. Those who have tried it, know that it cured them; those who have not, know that it cures their neighbors and friends, and all know that what it does once it does always - that it never falls through any fault or neglect of its composition. We have thousands upon thousands of certificates of their remarkable cures of the following complaints, but such cures are known in every neighborhood, and we need not publish them. Adapted to all ages and conditions in all climates; containing neither calomel or any deleterious dry they may be taken with safety by anybody. sugar coating preserves them ever fresh and makes them pleasant to take, while being purely vegetable no harm can arise from their use in any quantity. They operate by their powerful influence on the internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it internal viscera to purify the blood and stimulate it into healthy action—remove the obstructions of the stomach, howels, liver, and other organs of the body, restoring their irregular action to health, and by correcting, wherever they exist, such derangements as are the first origin of disease.

Minute directions are given in the wrapper on the box, for the following complaints, which these Pills rapidly cure:—

For Hyspepsia or Indigestion, Listlessness, Languor and Loss of Appetite, they should be taken moderately to stimulate the stomach and restore its healthy tone and action.

For Liver Complaint and its various symp-For Liver Complaint and its various symp-toms, Bilious Headache, Sick Headache, Janualice or Green Sickness, Bilious Colic and Bilious Fevers, they should be judiciously taken for each case, to correct the diseased action or remove the obstructions which cause it. For Dysentery or Diarrhoea, but one mild ose is generally required. For Rheumatism, Gout, Gravel, Palpitation of the Heart, Pain in the Side, Back and Loins, they should be continuously taken, as required, to change the diseased action of the system. With such change those complaints disappear.

For Bropsy and Bropsical Swellings they should be taken in large and frequent doses to produce the effect of a drastic purge.

For Suppression a large dose should be taken as it produces the desired effect by sympathy. As a Dinner Pill, take one or two Pills to pronote digestion and relieve the stomach.

An occasional dose stimulates the stomach and bowels into healthy action, restores the appetite, and invigorates the system. Hence it is often advantageous where no serious derangement exists.

Hoofland's German Tonic

is a combination of all the ingradients of the Bitters with runs Santa Cruz Rum, Ovange, etc. R is used for the same dispuses as the Disters, in cases where some pure alcoholic stimulus is required. You will bear in mind that these remedies are entirely different from any others advertised for the cure of the diseases named, three being scientific preparations of medicinal extracts, while the others are more decections of rum in some form. The TONIC is decidedly one of the most pica-ant and agrecuble remedies ever offered to the public. Its taste is exquisite. It is a pleasure to take it, while its life-giving exhibitrating, and medicinal qualities have caused it to be known as the greatest of all toutes.

DEBILITY.

There is no medicine equal to Hosfand's German Billers or Tonic in the cases of Debility. They impart a tone to such a sund organic the whole system, strengthen the appetite, cause an enjoyment of the sund food, enable the stomuch to digest it, purely the blood, give a good, nound, beatty complexion, eradicate the yellow singe from the eye, in part a bloom to the cheeks, and change the patient from a short-breathed, emaciated, weak, and other across invalid, to a full-faced, stout, and vigorous person. Weak and Delicate Children are made strong by using the Bitters or Tonic. In fact, they are Family Redicines. They can be administered with perfect safety to a child three months old, the most delicate female, or a man of ninety.

These Remedies are the best

Blood Purifiers ever known, and will cure all diseases resulting from bad blood. Keep your blood pure; keep your Liver in order; keep your digestive organis in a sound, healthy groundstion, by the use of these remedies, and no disease will ener assail you. The best men in the country recommend them. If years of honest regulation go for unjoing you must try these preparations.
