

TROUBLESOME NEIGHBORS.

First Mrs. McGinty came over to know if a paul of coal she could borrow. Her husband had ordered a ton from the yard; She'd return it again by to-morrow. Then came Mrs. Martin from over the way. Who said she stepped over to see if I would oblige her till that afternoon. With only a drawing of tea. Next came Mrs. Johnson who'd like very much I'd lend her, an hour or two. A couple of iron, as she had on hand. Some work she was hurried to do. Then came Mrs. Thompson, a neighbor next door. A troublesome, cranky old dame— Who wanted to borrow for that afternoon. The loss of my large quilting frame. Source had she gone when old widow Jones. Who said she was going to scrub. Came into the room, and wanted to know if I'd lend her the use of my tub. Then Mrs. Wilson came over in haste— In her hand a pitcher she bore; Her molasses fell short, she hadn't enough. And would like to borrow some more. Next came Mrs. Herndon, who wanted to know If the paper I had read through. And would feel much obliged to me if I would But lean it for an hour or two. And even at night, when going to bed, There came to my door Mrs. Doyle. Who had to sit up, her daughter was sick. And wanted some kerosene oil. With patience exhausted, I'm forced to declare That in future I'll lessen my labors. By refusing to lend everything I possess. To importunate, troublesome neighbors. —Waverly Magazine.

THINGS WORTH KNOWING.

THE POISON IN RED STOCKINGS.—The French chemist, Tardieu, has made interesting experiments with red stockings imported from England. After extracting the coloring matter, he introduced a certain quantity of it beneath the skin of a dog, which died in twelve hours. A rabbit similarly treated, expired in eight hours, and a frog in four.—Opening the animals, Mr. Tardieu extracted the red coloring matter from their bodies, and with it dyed a skin of silk. In his report, communicated to the Academie des Sciences, Mr. Tardieu, condemns the use of "caroline" (the mineral poison to which the fatal stockings owe their hue), as an article of general commerce, and recommends that the importation of red stockings from England be absolutely prohibited.

HOW TO CURE A FELON.—A physician, in Moore's Rural New Yorker, has no confidence in any of the "sure cures for a felon," which are so abundant, and which everybody recommends. He says:—"The true treatment is to go at once to your surgeon, before the felon is twenty-four hours old, and let him open the finger down to the bone and out to the end, supposing the finger to be the seat of the affection. This lets the imprisoned blood out and relieves the pain at once. Then poultice for a day or two, and the felon will be well and not deformed or injured. This is the "short, sharp and decisive" plan, besides being the most merciful and least painful.

TAKES AN ORDINARY NAIL KEG, as near water tight as possible, bore quarter inch holes in every third space an inch from the bottom. Spade and pulverize thoroughly a circle of ground three feet in diameter. Place the keg in the center, filled nearly full of good stable manure, well pounded in; plant Lima beans and downward, two inches deep, eight inches apart, and as many inches from the keg, pour on a pail of water, or as much as the manure will absorb, which may be repeated once a week in dry weather. Place five or six poles a foot from the keg, letting the tops meet over it, and the work is done. Four hills will be found to raise enough for any family.

HOW TO CLEAN OIL CLOTH.—To ruin them—clean them with hot water or soap suds, and leave them half wiped, and they will look very bright white, and very dingy and dirty when dry, and soon crack and peel off. But if you wish to preserve them and have them look new and nice, wash them with soft lank and lukewarm water, and wipe them thoroughly dry. If you want them to look extra nice, after they are dry drop a few spoonfuls of milk over them and rub with a small dry cloth.

REMEDY FOR SCURVY COMPLAINT.—A correspondent of the Scientific American states that a tea made of the seeds of the sunflower, roasted like coffee berries, is an admirable remedy for all species of summer complaint. A half pint of the seed is sufficient. It should be remembered, however, that serious results often follow the too sudden stoppage of diarrhoea by astringents, and with this, as with all remedies of a similar nature, caution should be used.

A SUBSTITUTE FOR COFFEE.—From a chemical analysis it appears that the seeds of the asparagus when dried, parched and ground, make a full flavored coffee, but little inferior to Mocha, containing, in common with tea and coffee, the principle called taurine.—Dry the asparagus berries well, after being thoroughly ripened, then rub them on a sieve; thus the seeds are readily separated. —Journal of Health.

SINGULAR RESULTS OF A FIVE CENT INVESTMENT.—A man from the country invested five cents in the purchase of an orange, and preparatory to getting himself outside of it, threw the peel on the sidewalk. Soon after a young woman came along, slipped upon the peel, and fell upon the sidewalk, breaking her leg. This young woman was to have been married the next day, but wasn't. The man who was to marry her had come from St. Paul, Minn., and was obliged to return on account of business, to await the recovery of the girl. On his way back he unfortunately took a train on the Erie railroad, which ran off the track, and his shoulder blade was broken, which forced him to stop at Dunkirk for repairs. The Travelers' Insurance Company, in which he was insured, had to pay $250 in weekly installments before he recovered. On getting back to St. Paul found that his forced absence had upset a business arrangement which he had expected to complete, at a pecuniary loss to him of $5,000. Meantime the injured girl suffered a relapse, which she defied her health that her marriage was delayed, which had a bad effect upon the young man, and he finally broke the engagement and married a widow in Minnesota with four small children. So the work done upon the mind of the girl that she is now in the insane hospital in Middletown. Her father, outraged by the conduct of the young man, brought a suit for breach of promise, and has just recovered $10,000. The anxiety and expense of the whole affair thus far has been enormous, anybody can see. Similar cases are likely to occur so long as people will persist in throwing orange peel around loose.—Hartford Courant.

WHO THREW THAT BRICK?—Yesterday afternoon a two cent dog sprang from an alley on High street, closely followed by a brick. Rounding the corner at right angles he came in contact with the feet of a dutch woman who was carrying a jug of molasses in one hand and a basket of eggs in the other. The sudden collision of the dog with her lower extremities threw her from her feet, and she sat down upon the basket of eggs, at the same time breaking the jug of molasses upon the sidewalk. A young gentleman, carpet bag in hand, anxious to catch the train, was running close behind, and stepping upon the fragments of the jug and its contents, sat down upon the chest of the dutch woman, who said "Mine Got." The young man said something about mad dog, and in the excitement of the moment said it backwards. In the meantime the dog ran against the feet of a team of horses, attached to a load of potatoes, and they, taking fright, started for home. The end board being out, they unloaded the potatoes all along the road as they went. Crossing the railroad track about a mile from this place, the wagon caught in the rails and tore one of them from its place. A freight train, coming along a few moments later, was thrown from the track, smashing up a dozen cars, and killing thirty or forty hogs. The horses, on reaching home, ran through the barn yard and overturned a milk pail, the contents of which another two cent dog licked up. One of the horses having broken his leg was killed this morning, and the other is crippled for life. It is now a mooted question whether the man who threw the brick at the two cent dog, or the man who owns it is responsible for the chapter of accidents which followed.—Exchange.

The son of a western clergyman was delivering a college valedictory address a short time ago, when, in taking his handkerchief from his pocket, he pulled out a pack of cards which fell to the floor. "Hi-Lo!" he exclaimed, "I've got on my father's coat." The worthy divine, who sat in front of his promising son, was more confused than the hopeful scion.

L. L. LANGSTROTH'S PATENT MOVABLE COMB BEE HIVE! PRONOUNCED THE BEST EVER YET! Introduced in this County or State. Any person buying a family right can have their bees transferred from an old box to a new one. In every instance in which this has been done the result has been entirely satisfactory, and the first take of honey has invariably paid all expenses, and frequently exceeded them. Proof of the superior merits of this invention will be found in the testimony of every man who has given it a trial, and among the number are the gentlemen named below, and their experience should induce every one interested in bees to buy a family right!

Henry C. Kirkpatrick, of Carroll township, took 146 pounds of surplus honey from two hives, which he sold at 25 cents per pound. Adam Dietrich, of Carroll township, took from two hives 100 pounds of surplus honey. James Kirkpatrick, of Chest township, took 60 pounds of surplus honey from one hive. Jacob Kirkpatrick, of Chest township, obtained 72 pounds of surplus honey from one hive, worth not less than $21, and the right cost him only $5.

Peter Campbell from one hive obtained 36 pounds of surplus honey at one time. Quite a number of similar statements, substantiated by some of the best citizens of Cambria county, could be obtained in proof of the superior merits of Langstroth's Patent Movable Comb Bee Hive. Persons wishing to purchase family rights should call on or address PETER CAMPBELL, Carrolltown, Pa. Nov. 5, 1866-tf.
