THE DISTRICT COURT ONCE MORE .- Letfrom Judge Early .- We give below the ter of Judge Easly, addressed to the editor the Johnstown Democrat, on the subject leasing "Union Hall" for the use of the strict Court at Johnstown. He returned the fact that our copy of the Democrat as confiscated by some outsider, and when we needed it it was not to be found. While e do not intend, as we intimate elsewhere. pursue this subject any further, the pubation of Judge Easly's letter affords us an cortunity of making one or two remarks, sich may be regarded as of a personal haracter. In one of his articles on this subct, the editor of the Johnstown Tribune, in hat style of clap-trap argument so peculiar bluself, instanated, in language not to be sunderstood, that we had directly assailed e characters of Judge Taylor and Judge ly (the gentlemen who made the contract Union Hall) for honesty of purpose. This as entirely gratuitous and wholly unwarted by anything that we said. It is ats unnecessary for us to disclaim the imstation, that either Judge Taylor or Judge ly would knowingly act in bad faith, her in reference to this or any other transn. And yet it is just as certain that, ke all other men, they are fallible. Wo by expressed the opinion that they had mitted a mistake, and in saying that we o, of course, may have been mistaken. Mr. John Halton, of Altoona, offers at the directors exhibited a plan of the contemplated changes required to fit it for a court room, with offices for the sheriff and prothonotary and two jury rooms, with all the desks, chairs and furniture necessary, with heat and light. There could be no other opinion but that it would make a magnificent court room, but the directors had not as yet fixed the rental .-They, however, showed us the estimate of the | nient dwelling. architect, making the remodeling cost about

$2,000. We then examined Mr. Propheiser's building Bis room is on the second floor. Leading to it is a rather narrow stairs of steep a cent, and fession of teaching need not be told that now the room is of irregular shape, with no ventila tion from east to west; story about eleven feet. When welchalked off the required space for the bench and bar, it left but little room for the audience, parties, jurors and withesses; and the proposed rooms for the prothonotary's and sheriff's offices are directly under the large that Mr. Frank Adams had one of his hands room. We examined it carefully and with the cut off. The sad accident occurred to a determination to make it do if we possibly younger brother, Daniel Adams, aged about could. Both of us were, I believe, (I certainly was,) prejudiced in its favor. We told him (Mr. F.) what changes and remodeling would be required, furniture, etc., a part of which he reluctantly agreed to do. We did not know at that time but we could furnish it ourselves.

if other things (rent, etc.,) would justify it he should have $700, but would take $600 .-What we would be obliged to do before court $800, at a moderate estimate. We were much disappointed at the rent asked. It would cost the county some $1,400 the first year, besides fuel, light, cleaning, etc. We separated without doing anything. Just as we were parting he agreed to take $500. The following week Judge Taylor came here and made the same examination. In the meantime the directors of Union Hall had met and fixed their rent at included-light, heat, furniture, desks, clean ing and attended to during the sitting of the courts, and the offices at all times during the year. We discovered by the act of Assembly governing us that we possessed no power to rebut of his ability to perform the duties of the model or refit any building, but simply to lease section with an honcet regard for the interests a suitable place, etc. We really then had but one chance to lease at all. Mr F. this day said he would give his room for $300, reserving the right to use it at all times during vacation, the county, as before, remodeling and fitting. This, for want of legal authority, we could not accept, even if given for nothing .-We concluded we would be obliged to accept the only other offer we had, or not lease at all. We separated with the understanding that I should wait a day or two and make an effort to get the rent reduced. Judge Taylor said he neard something as if there might be some reduction by private subscription or otherwise. could do. I made this effort, but failed to get better terms. I was met by the argument that it would require three years for them to get the expenses back they would be compelled to undergo, and give us light and heat into the bargain, which was really true, and I made a and all things will be done to render the octelence of "Splashboard" is the kind of a partial contract. I will here state that I had on several occasions sought counsel and advice from the members of the bar, as I thought they were interested more than any others. They are the officers of the court, and their business is in court and in the offices of the prothonotary and sheriff. For this I have been censured. They tell me, what have the lawyers to do with it-it is the tax-payers. And pray, gentle reader, how can you separate the tax-payers from the members of the bar? Do they not pay taxes, and generally high taxes, too? Well, the members of the bar were unanimous in pressing us to lease the Union Hall, and not having the advantage of personal conference with my brethren, and as time was urgent, I closed my partial contract with the directors of Union Hall. This, in substance, is the whole controversy. It will be seen that the rent is not, as has been stated in some of the journals, $200 per week, but $500 per annum, with the continual occupancy of offices and jury rooms, which, even in sidered, half the amount of the whole rent ; and our courts may not be confined to four weeks, but may be twelve, and there are no nice little chances here for bringing in extra bills from time to time against the county as code of morals, outside of the Tribune of- exist in other places I know of, for services,

For Mr. Fronheiser I have nothing but respect. He is one of our most enterprising and energetic citizens, but his room is not well calculated for a court room, and has not near the superficial area of the Ebensburg court room, notwithstanding the assertion of the Freeman to the contrary; and should not the population here, being so much greater, require as large a room as Ebensburg, unless you want to create a Star Chamber and deny to the peo-

The Mission Sabbath School held two ex-Sitions lately in Union Hall, which were not largely attended. This school was gotten up by saveral benevolently disposed persons. The sessions are held in the Millville Union School House, and on Sundays the four rooms are filled with pupils-not less than two hundred to two hundred and forty attending. The books are bought, and poor children who do not like to attend on account of scarcity of clothing are furnished with the necessary garments. A. J. Haws. Esq., is at the head of the enterprise, and we learn that it is doing much good. We do not know why the exhibitions were so slimly attended, unless it was because Auderson, the free-gift-enterprise slight-of hand man, carried away all the funds before these exhibitions took place.

Job Printing still continues unabated his avocations. The town is growing and business comes along with it. All we need now is a lock-up, a jail, a penitentiary, a house of refuge and a hospital.

Paving is going on briskly on several of our streets. There are portions of two streets that should by all means be paved. We refer to those that cross each other near St. John's Catholic church. Many people to Altoon as an employee of the road, but atttend that church, and yet in the winter and s, ring the streets referred to are anything but inviting. As these streets are now being built up, and as the German Lutheran church is on an opposite corner from the Catholic, we think the subscription could be easily raised to secure the pavement of said streets. The Catholic parsonage and another new brick house owned by Mr. Geis, are both fine buildings, and add much to the appearance of the streets in that quarter. With paved streets, that would be a very desirable part of the town for private residences. A new road, or a repayed old one, is much needed to Sandy Vale cemetery, as the old one is both narrow and rough. A watchman is also needed at the cemetery to David H. Roberts, Administrator de bouis keep everything from being broken down or carried away.
