A serious affray occurred between two men named John Mouse and George Hall, in Allegheny township, on Thursday last. They got into a quarrel at a log rolling, when Hall struck Mouse a very severe blow on the head with a hand spike, and Mouse retorted by dealing Hall a glancing blow in the face with an axe, which inflicted a very ugly gash, but fertunately some one standing by caught Mouse's arm in time to prevent the full force of the stroke from falling with fatal effect. Had it been otherwise we would doubtless be called upon to record another homicide. We have not learned that any arrests were made.

The Great International Hippocomique and New York Circus exhibited in this place on Monday, afternoon and night, and their entire performances gave very general satisfaction. The two clowns were exceedingly witty and original, the leapers, tumblers and vaulters were fully equal to any we ever saw, and the performances of Miss Annie Robinson on the slack wire, as well as on horseback, were certainly very excellent .-The music was also tip-top, and all the other features of the entertainment were, we think, as good as the best. Some of our exchanges led us to believe that it was a humbug, but if it was we confess we failed to see wherein the humbug consisted. It has been no uncommon occurrence of late for our friends, Messrs. Geo. M. Riddle and W. C. Keller, to pay us a pop visit, but this week they came flanked by that big hearted and whole-souled gentleman. Ex-Sheriff Bechtel, and we feel that such a trio of clever fellows deserve something more than silent admiration. They all enjoyed themselves witnessing the match game of base ball, the big show, and other sights and scenes hereaway on Monday. Mr. Bechtel, it may not be out of place to say, is a soliciting salesman for Messrs. Newburger & Hechstadter, Wholesale Clothiers, Philadelphia, and as it is a good firm and represented by a good man, we hope it will secure a good trade in this "neck of timber." So

Our County Commissioners returned a few days since from a tour of inspection of the jails of Centre, Butler, and other counties, which they visited with the view of obtaining a model for the new jail about to be erected in this place. They have determined upon the erection of a building combining the advantages of both the Centre and Butler jails, which they deemed the most perfect, and an architect is to be employed without delay to get up the designs and specifications for that purpose. The sum of $40,000 has been set apart for the erection of the new jail, and as the present building will serve for the accommodation of the Sheriff and his family, the amount named will doubtless put up a commodious and perfectly secure edifice.

Local Correspondence.

JOHNSTOWN, July 27, 1869. Dear Freeman-The specialities of the past week in our town were fighting and fun. In addition to the quarrels that we noticed our last letter, there were several more fights after I wrote. The parties were nearly all fined from $5 to $25, and the borough realized a considerable amount of money from the trials of the belligerants. It is thought that the origin of these fights can be traced to the inveicing of a few barrels of uncommonly mean whiskey. Whatever the cause may have been, there was more fighting during the past week in this borough than there had been for the six months preceding. The fun or amusement was brought about by the serio-comic, dramatic, sangerbund, horse-dancing menagerie, called the Macedonian oil company. We suppose such a combination never traveled before. We noticed them briefly last week, stating that they came here in an elegant car drawn by four horses. Their ostensible purpose is to advertise the medicine, but really we think they are a party of pleasure seekers, and just sell the medicine to pay expenses. They have an organ, a violin and a flute, and they play exceedingly well. They are also good singers, and they can speak both German and English. Every afternoon and evening of last week they drove their car to the Public Square, played choice music, sang droll songs, and extolled their medicine in two or three languages. They pretended to perform wonderful cures, and perhaps did help some people. The folks were much delighted with their music and thousands could be seen on the Square every evening. The only objection we had to the proceedings was that some of the songs were a little rough, and did not seem to accord very well with the ir otherwise gentlemanly deportment, choice music and excellent speeches.

While this was going on other parties sought other sources of pleasure. On Thursday night a party of very respectable young people held a moonlight pic-nic at Von Leunen's grove, spending the greater portion of the night in innocent amusements, and returning in the morning with the conviction that sleep is essential to health and

We noticed last week that the tower of the new German Luthern church was being torn down. We were not then aware of the reasons for so doing. It appears that the foundation gave way, causing the tower to lean over towards the inside of the church about a foot at the height of sixty feet. The tower was completed on Thursday week, and workmen commenced tearing it down on Saturday week. A new foundation will be put in and then the tower will be rebuilt. Had it not been for this accident the church would now be finished outside.

The water company of this place have put in thirty-three fire plugs at the co ners of the streets, and they now ask the borough council the sum of fifty dollars for the use of each plug annually, amounting to sixteen hundred and fifty dollars a year. To this proposition a portion of the council object, alleging that the price is too high. Besides, some citizens would get all the benefit, while might not be a fire here for a year, and sixteen hundred dollars is too much money to .2 4 be a fire that would require a thousand barrels of water to quench: if so let it be paid for at a fair price.

The last few days of good weather have been worth millions of dollars to the farming community, and while we rejoice that they have not more help during the throng .-Harvest is a hard time on the farmers. They have no time to rest, but are hurried from one post to another till they become doneout. There were but few of them in town on Saturday, and consequently the market was limited, especially in the matter of but-

A stream of electricity struck the dwellng house of Evan Roberts, of this place, a few days ago, without damage to the inmates. The theory that lightning only strikes high objects is not correct, and we doubt whether lightning rods will attract the fluid more than a few feet at farthest. If some Yankee would invent a plan of running the rods up to where the lightning begins, there would be a fortune in the invention. At present lightning strikes just where it pleases.

One of our enterprising citizens has purchased Mr. Shaffer's store, at East Conemaugh, and intends running it strong.

The Ashtola Mills are located in Somerset county, only twelve miles from Johnstown. The proprietors own six thousand acres of forest land, containing choice timber. A bridge of trestle work two hundred feet long, belonging to the Cambria Iron Company and extending across Hingston's Run, was blown down about a week ago. Episcopal services were held in Union Hall on last Sunday, in the forenoon and afternoon. A large number of people attended, attracted thither by curiosity.

The passenger car recently brought here runs regularly, drawn by four horses, and is crowded with passengers almost every trip. We have no doubt that it will become a paying institution. It is a very useful one at any rate.

The people here are well pleased with the position taken by Hou. C. L. Pershing in his Philadelphia speech, to wit: that there should be no politics in the judiciary.

The town council have not only ordered the numbering of the houses, but also the indexing of the streets. The names of the streets are to be marked at every crossing. Over two hundred index boards are being painted and lettered for that purpose, and will be put up immediately. There are several cases of scarlet fever in this place, proving fatal in a few instances. The health of the community, however, is in other respects good.

Mr. Phillips just finished the paving of Main street on Monday evening, and as it rained hard on that night, the good people of Johnstown woke up on Tuesday morning to behold a small lake just in the center of town. Everybody blames the engineer for the mistake. The intention was that the water should run away, but instead, it runs from the four quarters of the compass to the center of town, and their stops stone still. Main street at the mouth of Bedford and Clinton streets will need to be raised eighteen inches to run the water away and drain

CARROLLTOWN, July 26, 1869. Dear Freeman-The particulars of the eight miles distant from this place, on and keeps as large a stock as any dealer here. Wednesday morning last are briefly as follows: A number of employes of the mill were engaged in burning away a large pile of edging, or the refuse of the mill, and as it was necessary to remain during the night Remember, Fry's cheap mercantile emporium, blows were struck until about three o'clock in the morning, when Lewis Holtzner and Philip Phalon became engaged in a quarrel which resulted in the death of the latter at the hands of the former. The fire had by this time almost burned away, and it was not known to any one present that Holtzner had stabbed Phalon until the brother of the man who had inflicted the wounds hurried him off. It was then discovered that Phalon was dead, and as soon as possible Dr. Brallier was summoned from the Cherry Tree, a jury empannelled, and an inquest held upon his body. In the meantime Lewis and Benjamin Holtzner were arrested and a guard placed over them. After the examination they were taken in charge by Messrs. Lloyd, Johnson and Westover and conveyed to the county jail. On Wednesday evening Dist. Att'y Tierney, accompanied by Drs. Oatman and Maucher of this place, proceeded to the scene of the sad occurence, and Dr. Brallier having been sent for, another examination of the body was made. Your correspondent was present on this occasion and observed the following wounds: three in the breast, one of which penetrated the heart, passing almost through it. The other two were stopped by the third and fourth ribs. On the left hip a terrible gash was made, but the progress of the knife was here prevented from entering very deep by striking on the hip bone. On the top of the head was found an ugly cut, but it did not enter over half an inch. Above the elbow was a very severe stab severing leaders and arteries, and another on the wrist .-There are so many stories affoat in regard to the commencement of the difficulty between these parties that I do not feel justified in making any comments. Phalon's remains were interred in the Glosser graveyard on Friday last. The knife with which the fatal deed was accomplished cannot be found, edged knife or dagger. The finest field of wheat ever harvested in this county was cut on the farm of the Benedictine Brothers, this place, last week. This wheat was put in with a grain drill and cut with a reaper, and, as showing what an advantage farmers possess by cultivating with machinery, I may state that the wheat was uniform throughout the field, and almort as level at the heads as a floor, and it required eight men to bind it following the reaper.

The weather has been very unfavorable for our farmers, but at present writing the indications are that they will be able to secure the rest of their crops. Buz Fuz.

ST. AUGUSTINE, July 23, 1869. Dear Freeman-We have been enjoying a few days of fine harvest weather of late, and the farmers are making all the possible use of it. Harvest hands are in great demand, and no person need complain that he can't get work now, not even the subscriber. lazy as he is. Crops are remarkakly good this barvest-better than they have been for several years.

The American Hotel in this village is being newly painted and refitted, which will add greatly to the appearance of our town. Travelers stopping there will find it a firstclass hotel. Mr. John C. M'Entyre, of this place, did the painting. He is master of of his trade, and persons having painting to do will subserve their interests by employing him.

The old church edifice is being raised to correspond with the new addition. When that is done St. Augustine can boast of one of the finest churches in the State outside of the large cities.

Mr. Philip Cooper had a field of corn considerably damaged by a number of horses, which broke into it one morning this week. MR. KENNEDY'S LETTER .- The following is the full text of the letter of John H. Kennedy, Esq., declining the Democratic nomination for County Auditor. The absence from home of Mr. Shoemaker prevented its earlier publication :

HEMLOGE, Pa., July 8th, 1869. F. A. SHORMAKER, Esq., Chairman Dem. Co. Com.—Dear Sir: Owing to business engagements I very respectfully decline the nomination for the office of Auditor tendered me by the late Democratic County Convention With many thanks to my fellow democrats for their kindness, and my best wishes for the success of the whole ticket, I am, very respect-Your obedient servant, JOHN H. KENNEDY.

WOULDN'T STOP .-- The enterprising venders of the Macedonian oil, who are perambulating the country with "coach and four" and entertaining the people with choice music and learned disquisitions on the merits of their oil, from some cause failed to hold forth here. Had they done so they would doubtless have picked up considerable money which could be invested to much better advantage at the enlarged and well stocked store of H. A. Shoemaker & Co., who are well known as the most extensive and most liberal dealers in dry goods, groceries, flour, furniture, etc., in Northern Cambria. The best of bargains in everything.

TINWARE AND SPOUTING .- Mr. George Huntley, the enterprising hardware merchant and tinware manufacturer and dealer, has introduced new machinery and employed additional workmen in his manufacturing department, and is now better prepared than ever to fill orders for either tinware or spouting, no matter how large they may be. The heaviest tin and the best skill is employed in turning out work at Mr. Huntley's extensive establish ment, and his prices are always as cheap as the cheapest in his branch of industry.

TEA AND COFFEE. - The quality of the goods kept by V. S.
