

Cambria Freeman.

THURSDAY, AUG. 12, 1869.

Democratic State and County Ticket.

For Governor: HON. ASA PACKER, OF CAMBRIA COUNTY. For Judge of the Supreme Court: HON. CYRUS L. PERSHING, OF CAMBRIA COUNTY.

Assembly: HON. JOHN PORTER, Washington Twp. Register and Recorder: GEO. W. OATMAN, Ebensburg Borough. Treasurer: WILLIAM LINTON, Johnstown Borough.

Commissioner: JAMES E. NEASON, Clearfield Township. Poor House Director: JOHN BLOCH, Johnstown Borough. Auditor: ANTHONY ANNA, Chest Township.

Democratic County Committee.

F. A. SNOWMAKER, Ebensburg, Chairman. W. B. Little, Allegheny; C. Ferrabough, Blacklick; Daniel M. Peck, Cambria borough; Wm. Dismar, Cambria twp.; H. Hoppe, Carroll twp.; Valentine Thomas, Carrolltown; Jacob Kistner, Clearfield; Wm. C. Gieseler, Clearfield; John J. Burns, Clearfield; George King, 1st ward, John Kirby, 2d ward, Conemaugh twp.; H. R. Shaffer, Conemaugh twp.; Eliza Plummer, Greely; B. F. Vaughn, East Ward, Wm. H. Seehler, West Ward, Greely; Leonard East, Conemaugh; J. Parlong, Franklin; John M. Dermitt, Gallitzin; Thomas M. Kieney, Jackson; B. F. Speedy, 1st ward, Joseph Cruise, 3d ward, Henry Wallace, 3d ward, Jonathan Rowe, 4th ward, Geo. Thomas, 5th ward, D. W. McClelland, 6th ward, Johnstown; Felix Beck, Loretto; Peter M. Dermitt, Millville; Dan. Bradley, Munster; John White, Prospect; James Costlow, Richards; Wm. Duran, Summerhill; John Quille, Summit; Chas. Weakland, Susquehanna; John Clark, Taylor; Perry Troxell, White; John McColgan, Wilmore; George Haas, Yoder.

EVERY DEMOCRAT, in order to secure his vote, must be registered before the election. The better plan is to attend to it now, and not wait until just before the election. Let no democrat neglect this duty.

The telegraph informs us that, on the 2d of August, Grant, who was then at Long Branch, paid a visit to the estate of one R. A. Brick in Ocean county, New Jersey, about twenty miles from Long Branch. A report was prepared and of course enjoyed. The account of what then and there occurred concludes with the following statement:—"Quite an interesting feature of the occasion was a presentation to the President of some fifty acres of ground, which was thankfully accepted."

Of course it was "thankfully accepted." Was anything ever refused or put aside? If the present had been an elephant, it, too, would have been "thankfully accepted," although we think that Grant has a very large sized animal that sort on his hands just at this time. When will this disgraceful and humiliating spectacle cease, of a President of the United States neglecting his business at Washington and perambulating the country, receiving presents, large or small, from any and every person who sees proper to offer them. No other President ever stooped so low. From Washington to Grant—"Oh! what a fall was there, my countrymen!"

The following paragraph appeared in the editorial column of the Johnstown Tribune of July 20th:

"In 1860 Asa Packer was a delegate to the Charleston Convention. On the nomination of Douglas he bolted and went into the Breckinridge movement with the secesionists. He clung to Breckinridge and opposed Douglas to the end. It is not on record when, if ever, he underwent a change."

When the editor of the Tribune wrote this paragraph he stated what is notoriously not true. Whether or not he knew that such was the fact, we will not say. Asa Packer voted in the Charleston Convention for James Guthrie, of Kentucky, formerly Secretary of the Treasury, a gentleman of distinguished ability and as pure and useful a statesman as this country ever produced. But even if Mr. Packer had voted for John C. Breckinridge, the editor of the Tribune is the last man in the world who ought to complain about it. In that same Convention, Benjamin F. Butler voted fifty times for Jefferson Davis, and afterwards bolted from the Baltimore Convention and supported John C. Breckinridge in opposition to Douglas. Butler is now one of the high priests in the Radical church—his word is the law and the gospel unto all radical editors, and the editor of the Tribune is Ben Butler's enthusiastic admirer and swears by him politically. What is the next libel that you propose to indite against Asa Packer? "Cease, viper, you gnaw a file."

Alabama and Tennessee.

An election for members of Congress and the State Legislature was held in Alabama on the 2d instant. From the meagre returns received it seems certain that the conservatives, or democrats, have elected at least three, and perhaps four, of the six members of Congress. The last delegation was entirely radical.

On Thursday last the election in Tennessee took place. The candidates for Governor were Senter and Stokes, both republicans, but Senter was in favor of permitting fifty thousand white men hereafter to vote, who now, under a law of that State, cannot approach the ballot-box. The result of the contest has been the election of Senter by a majority of at least fifty thousand, and the securing of a legislature in sympathy with him. This is merely the beginning of the end, and is a perfect and overwhelming endorsement of the election of Walker in Virginia. The complexion of the legislature renders it almost certain that Andrew Johnson will be elected United States Senator from that State, as the successor of Mr. Fowler. If he should be sent back to the Senate, which, without any cause, attempted to dishonor him and his country in the estimation of the world, it will be the most perfect and complete instance of retributive political justice that this or any other country has ever yet afforded. It is due to him as an honest man that he should be returned to the Senate, a body that he once adorned, and where he can confront the Summers, the Camerons and the Chandlers, who sought to dishonor and disgrace him. If that should be the result, as we fervently hope it may, then the Nemesis of political justice will have been fully avenged.

William Mutchler, Esq.

The appointment of this gentleman as Chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee, appears to annoy some of the Radical editors exceedingly. One would suppose that an editor who can endorse a political mountebank like John Covode, who is the learned and eloquent Chairman of the Geary State Committee, would not be particularly anxious about Mr. Mutchler's antecedents, or his capacity for an efficient discharge of the duties of his position. Although he is a stranger to us, we think it quite certain that, unlike Covode, he can at least spell the most ordinary English words correctly, and, in case of emergency, that he is competent to write a letter in grammatical language, neither of which was Covode ever charged with. The editor of the Alleghenian, in his paper of last week, closes an article on this subject as follows:—"The great question among the copperheads now is who is William Mutchler?" We will answer the editor's question by commending to his careful attention and study, the following flattering notice of Mr. Mutchler, by the editor of the Eastern Express, which is a neutral paper published in Mr. Mutchler's own town. We trust that the editor of the Alleghenian, as well as all others seeking political information under difficulties, will derive wholesome instruction from its perusal:

"Time and space in our issue of Saturday last were devoted to a notice of the appointment of our townsman, Mr. William Mutchler as Chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee. Mr. Mutchler has been long and favorably known in Eastern Pennsylvania, as one of the most zealous and hard working laborers in the cause of the Democracy. He is a lawyer by profession, and has filled many positions of honor and trust in his own County, and during the administration of Andrew Johnson, filled the important office of Assessor of Internal Revenue of this Congressional district. In that position he won a reputation even among his political opponents in the Department at Washington, as being one of the best and most trustworthy officers in the Revenue service. He possesses rare executive abilities, and is perhaps one of the shrewdest politicians in all Pennsylvania. We consider that no man could have been appointed who is better calculated to lead the great host that Mr. Mutchler. In social life he is a genial whole souled gentleman who has never been found guilty of a dishonorable act, and above all he is that which is rarely found in these degenerate days—a honest man. We publish a paper neutral in politics, but we deem it a duty to subscribe our testimony to the worth of the Chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee of Pennsylvania."

Asa Packer and the War.

With their usual propensity to misrepresent the public men and measures of the Democratic party, the Radical press is now engaged in a preconcerted system of misrepresentation about the public acts of ASA PACKER. Some of them have the unblushing impudence to assert that he was violently opposed to the war, while others declare that he gave it merely a lukewarm support. If Gen. Hancock had been nominated by the Harrisburg Convention, these same slanderers would have said of him, that although he was one of the brightest ornaments of the war and stood a head and shoulder taller than any other officer in it, yet that his heart was all the time on the rebel side. Fortunately Asa Packer's acts and conduct during the war are well known and remembered by the community in which he resides, and like every other incident in his honorable life, afford additional evidence of his noble character, both as a man and a patriot. At all times and under all circumstances he was an unflinching supporter of the integrity of the Union, and contributed liberally of his wealth in furnishing soldiers for the cause, while the men who are now slandering and abusing him were at home, denouncing him and thousands like him, or were amassing fortunes out of fraudulent contracts at the expense of the public treasury.

The Carbon Democrat, a paper published at Mauch Chunk, the home of Judge Packer, where all the facts connected with his course during the war are well known, has recently replied to these libels of the Radical press, and has scattered them like chaff before the wind. The following extract from that paper, the truth of which has not been and cannot be denied, ought to bring the blush of shame to the brazen cheeks of every Radical editor in the State, who has been engaged in this vile and infamous business:

"On Sunday afternoon, June, 28, 1863, a spontaneous, enthusiastic and large gathering of the people of Mauch Chunk was held in the Court House at that place. It was a bloody, bitter, uncertain conflict was raging at Gettysburg, from which came hourly dispatches telling tales of horror and of the butchery of noble men. The gathering we speak of was very naturally converted into a war meeting, and patriotic and tender and tearful speeches were made by many citizens of the place. Every soul seemed full of the agony of suspense, trembling lest the sun should go down upon a defeated Federal Army, and the cause of the Union be irretrievably lost. Urgent appeals were made to the young men to go to the aid of their fellows, and help in the nation's emergency. The morning and the median of that day were dark and foreboding. From the Capitol to the extremity of telegraph communication, one dread, terrible fear seized hold of the people, lest the great battle of the war should result against us. At the meeting in question, amidst all the efforts being made to encourage and the tears of sympathetic and patriotic women—not a man moved. At length there arose in the audience a man of mature years with grey head, and a bearing as of one of Nature's own nobles—a man who never made speeches. All eyes were bent upon him, and amid perfect silence he said: "Every man, now in the employ of the Lehigh Valley R.R. Company, who will volunteer for his country at this hour of pressing need, shall receive his regular monthly pay, and retain his situation until his return, as if he were present and working each day." The effect was most wonderful. Over a hundred men volunteered at once, and in a few hours were fully equipped and speeding over the Lehigh Valley Rail Road to the scene of war. Need we say, that man was Asa Packer."

Asa Packer in 1865.

In the fall of 1865, Asa Packer, who had just then returned from Europe, made a gift of fifty-seven acres of land adjoining the town of Bethlehem, in Northumberland county, and five hundred thousand dollars in money, to establish a University or College sufficient to accommodate five hundred scholars. This munificent donation of Judge Packer for the noble purposes of education, was warmly commended at the time throughout the State by the leading men of both parties, and was the occasion of a complimentary dinner given to him at Bethlehem on the 23d of November, 1865. Prominent and leading men in all the walks of life met together to do honor to Asa Packer for his princely gift. John W. Forney was there, and in reply to a toast made a speech, of which the following is an extract:

"I respond to this invitation with sincere gratification. There is something in this case and testimony, on which you are here to honor. He came there with a profound sense, not simply that he was the representative of an intelligent people, nor yet of a district which in course of time must occupy the highest position in grammatical language, neither of which was Covode ever charged with. The editor of the Alleghenian, in his paper of last week, closes an article on this subject as follows:—"The great question among the copperheads now is who is William Mutchler?" We will answer the editor's question by commending to his careful attention and study, the following flattering notice of Mr. Mutchler, by the editor of the Eastern Express, which is a neutral paper published in Mr. Mutchler's own town. We trust that the editor of the Alleghenian, as well as all others seeking political information under difficulties, will derive wholesome instruction from its perusal:

"Time and space in our issue of Saturday last were devoted to a notice of the appointment of our townsman, Mr. William Mutchler as Chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee. Mr. Mutchler has been long and favorably known in Eastern Pennsylvania, as one of the most zealous and hard working laborers in the cause of the Democracy. He is a lawyer by profession, and has filled many positions of honor and trust in his own County, and during the administration of Andrew Johnson, filled the important office of Assessor of Internal Revenue of this Congressional district. In that position he won a reputation even among his political opponents in the Department at Washington, as being one of the best and most trustworthy officers in the Revenue service. He possesses rare executive abilities, and is perhaps one of the shrewdest politicians in all Pennsylvania. We consider that no man could have been appointed who is better calculated to lead the great host that Mr. Mutchler. In social life he is a genial whole souled gentleman who has never been found guilty of a dishonorable act, and above all he is that which is rarely found in these degenerate days—a honest man. We publish a paper neutral in politics, but we deem it a duty to subscribe our testimony to the worth of the Chairman of the Democratic State Central Committee of Pennsylvania."

"Quite an interesting feature of the occasion was a presentation to the President of some fifty acres of ground, which was thankfully accepted."

Of course it was "thankfully accepted." Was anything ever refused or put aside? If the present had been an elephant, it, too, would have been "thankfully accepted," although we think that Grant has a very large sized animal that sort on his hands just at this time. When will this disgraceful and humiliating spectacle cease, of a President of the United States neglecting his business at Washington and perambulating the country, receiving presents, large or small, from any and every person who sees proper to offer them. No other President ever stooped so low. From Washington to Grant—"Oh! what a fall was there, my countrymen!"

The following paragraph appeared in the editorial column of the Johnstown Tribune of July 20th:

"In 1860 Asa Packer was a delegate to the Charleston Convention. On the nomination of Douglas he bolted and went into the Breckinridge movement with the secesionists. He clung to Breckinridge and opposed Douglas to the end. It is not on record when, if ever, he underwent a change."

When the editor of the Tribune wrote this paragraph he stated what is notoriously not true. Whether or not he knew that such was the fact, we will not say. Asa Packer voted in the Charleston Convention for James Guthrie, of Kentucky, formerly Secretary of the Treasury, a gentleman of distinguished ability and as pure and useful a statesman as this country ever produced. But even if Mr. Packer had voted for John C. Breckinridge, the editor of the Tribune is the last man in the world who ought to complain about it. In that same Convention, Benjamin F. Butler voted fifty times for Jefferson Davis, and afterwards bolted from the Baltimore Convention and supported John C. Breckinridge in opposition to Douglas. Butler is now one of the high priests in the Radical church—his word is the law and the gospel unto all radical editors, and the editor of the Tribune is Ben Butler's enthusiastic admirer and swears by him politically. What is the next libel that you propose to indite against Asa Packer? "Cease, viper, you gnaw a file."

Alabama and Tennessee.

An election for members of Congress and the State Legislature was held in Alabama on the 2d instant. From the meagre returns received it seems certain that the conservatives, or democrats, have elected at least three, and perhaps four, of the six members of Congress. The last delegation was entirely radical.

On Thursday last the election in Tennessee took place. The candidates for Governor were Senter and Stokes, both republicans, but Senter was in favor of permitting fifty thousand white men hereafter to vote, who now, under a law of that State, cannot approach the ballot-box. The result of the contest has been the election of Senter by a majority of at least fifty thousand, and the securing of a legislature in sympathy with him. This is merely the beginning of the end, and is a perfect and overwhelming endorsement of the election of Walker in Virginia. The complexion of the legislature renders it almost certain that Andrew Johnson will be elected United States Senator from that State, as the successor of Mr. Fowler. If he should be sent back to the Senate, which, without any cause, attempted to dishonor him and his country in the estimation of the world, it will be the most perfect and complete instance of retributive po-

Who is Pershing?

In the Philadelphia Press of the 5th inst. is printed the following article:

The democratic party present to the State Mr. Cyrus L. Pershing as a candidate for the Supreme bench. On that party, it's press and leaders, rests the responsibility of telling the people what Mr. Pershing is. Common rumor says that he is a respectable young man of average talents for a Pennsylvania who always voted with his party. How the democratic party will be forgotten. But the people are not satisfied with a juvenile partisan, however smart or however faithfully he may have kept in the ranks. On behalf of the people of the Commonwealth, we ask the democratic party for information. Has Mr. C. L. Pershing ever tried a case before a jury unassisted? Give us the caption, with the number and term. How many cases has Mr. C. L. Pershing argued before the court in which he is now ambitious of a seat? In Mr. C. L. Pershing known in Cambria as anything more than a justice of the peace lawyer? What great principle of law has ever been elaborated by Mr. C. L. Pershing's efforts? What leading case has he ever shared the glory of contesting? Does Mr. C. L. Pershing ever live in a country where the memory serves us right, he is a resident of a village that never saw a court house. Has Mr. C. L. Pershing any legal standing at his own bar? Is he known as a lawyer or as a politician? Will Mr. C. L. Pershing, if elected, resign his position as local attorney for the Pennsylvania Central railroad? We ask this little question of the Democracy were greatly troubled lest General Grant, if elected, should resign his command. The voters of the State have a right to have these questions answered. For a Supreme Judge it is their duty to vote intelligently. Respectable and tolerably respectable men, who it is to be hoped will be the next time of having achieved one of the great railway triumphs of any time. Though I closely watched his career from that time to this, I was not prepared to see his expectations so perfectly realized."

Amongst the other gentlemen who were present on that interesting occasion was Judge Strong, of Reading, who was then on the Bench of the Supreme Court of this State, and who spoke as follows of Judge Packer:

I take pleasure in adding my testimony in favor of the eminent qualities of our distinguished guest, the type and representative of a class of men peculiar to American institutions—a class of men which cannot exist except under the influence of our institutions. I concede all that has been said of Judge Packer. It has been my pleasure to know him for a period of some thirty years, and I can testify that of that time I have known him intimately. We are both from the same neighborhood, and have both adopted the same State as our home: we have given to Pennsylvania all the abilities which we have been endowed with. Within a few days I have passed over those portions of the State where the energy of our people has been most largely developed. I have gazed with wonder and astonishment on a class of men peculiar to American institutions—a class of men which cannot exist except under the influence of our institutions. I concede all that has been said of Judge Packer. It has been my pleasure to know him for a period of some thirty years, and I can testify that of that time I have known him intimately. We are both from the same neighborhood, and have both adopted the same State as our home: we have given to Pennsylvania all the abilities which we have been endowed with. Within a few days I have passed over those portions of the State where the energy of our people has been most largely developed. I have gazed with wonder and astonishment on a class of men peculiar to American institutions—a class of men which cannot exist except under the influence of our institutions. I concede all that has been said of Judge Packer. It has been my pleasure to know him for a period of some thirty years, and I can testify that of that time I have known him intimately. We are both from the same neighborhood, and have both adopted the same State as our home: we have given to Pennsylvania all the abilities which we have been endowed with. Within a few days I have passed over those portions of the State where the energy of our people has been most largely developed. I have gazed with wonder and astonishment on a class of men peculiar to American institutions—a class of men which cannot exist except under the influence of our institutions. I concede all that has been said of Judge Packer. It has been my pleasure to know him for a period of some thirty years, and I can testify that of that time I have known him intimately. We are both from the same neighborhood, and have both adopted the same State as our home: we have given to Pennsylvania all the abilities which we have been endowed with. Within a few days I have passed over those portions of the State where the energy of our people has been most largely developed. I have gazed with wonder and astonishment on a class of men peculiar to American institutions—a class of men which cannot exist except under the influence of our institutions. I concede all that has been said of Judge Packer. It has been my pleasure to know him for a period of some thirty years, and I can testify that of that time I have known him intimately. We are both from the same neighborhood, and have both adopted the same State as our home: we have given to Pennsylvania all the abilities which we have been endowed with. Within a few days I have passed over those portions of the State where the energy of our people has been most largely developed. I have gazed with wonder and astonishment on a class of men peculiar to American institutions—a class of men which cannot exist except under the influence of our institutions. I concede all that has been said of Judge Packer. It has been my pleasure to know him for a period of some thirty years, and I can testify that of that time I have known him intimately. We are both from the same neighborhood, and have both adopted the same State as our home: we have given to Pennsylvania all the abilities which we have been endowed with. Within a few days I have passed over those portions of the State where the energy of our people has been most largely developed. I have gazed with wonder and astonishment on a class of men peculiar to American institutions—a class of men which cannot exist except under the influence of our institutions. I concede all that has been said of Judge Packer. It has been my pleasure to know him for a period of some thirty years, and I can testify that of that time I have known him intimately. We are both from the same neighborhood, and have both adopted the same State as our home: we have given to Pennsylvania all the abilities which we have been endowed with. Within a few days I have passed over those portions of the State where the energy of our people has been most largely developed. I have gazed with wonder and astonishment on a class of men peculiar to American institutions—a class of men which cannot exist except under the influence of our institutions. I concede all that has been said of Judge Packer. It has been my pleasure to know him for a period of some thirty years, and I can testify that of that time I have known him intimately. We are both from the same neighborhood, and have both adopted the same State as our home: we have given to Pennsylvania all the abilities which we have been endowed with. Within a few days I have passed over those portions of the State where the energy of our people has been most largely developed. I have gazed with wonder and astonishment on a class of men peculiar to American institutions—a class of men which cannot exist except under the influence of our institutions. I concede all that has been said of Judge Packer. It has been my pleasure to know him for a period of some thirty years, and I can testify that of that time I have known him intimately. We are both from the same neighborhood, and have both adopted the same State as our home: we have given to Pennsylvania all the abilities which we have been endowed with. Within a few days I have passed over those portions of the State where the energy of our people has been most largely developed. I have gazed with wonder and astonishment on a class of men peculiar to American institutions—a class of men which cannot exist except under the influence of our institutions. I concede all that has been said of Judge Packer. It has been my pleasure to know him for a period of some thirty years, and I can testify that of that time I have known him intimately. We are both from the same neighborhood, and have both adopted the same State as our home: we have given to Pennsylvania all the abilities which we have been endowed with. Within a few days I have passed over those portions of the State where the energy of our people has been most largely developed. I have gazed with wonder and astonishment on a class of men peculiar to American institutions—a class of men which cannot exist except under the influence of our institutions. I concede all that has been said of Judge Packer. It has been my pleasure to know him for a period of some thirty years, and I can testify that of that time I have known him intimately. We are both from the same neighborhood, and have both adopted the same State as our home: we have given to Pennsylvania all the abilities which we have been endowed with. Within a few days I have passed over those portions of the State where the energy of our people has been most largely developed. I have gazed with wonder and astonishment on a class of men peculiar to American institutions—a class of men which cannot exist except under the influence of our institutions. I concede all that has been said of Judge Packer. It has been my pleasure to know him for a period of some thirty years, and I can testify that of that time I have known him intimately. We are both from the same neighborhood, and have both adopted the same State as our home: we have given to Pennsylvania all the abilities which we have been endowed with. Within a few days I have passed over those portions of the State where the energy of our people has been most largely developed. I have gazed with wonder and astonishment on a class of men peculiar to American institutions—a class of men which cannot exist except under the influence of our institutions. I concede all that has been said of Judge Packer. It has been my pleasure to know him for a period of some thirty years, and I can testify that of that time I have known him intimately. We are both from the same neighborhood, and have both adopted the same State as our home: we have given to Pennsylvania all the abilities which we have been endowed with. Within a few days I have passed over those portions of the State where the energy of our people has been most largely developed. I have gazed with wonder and astonishment on a class of men peculiar to American institutions—a class of men which cannot exist except under the influence of our institutions. I concede all that has been said of Judge Packer. It has been my pleasure to know him for a period of some thirty years, and I can testify that of that time I have known him intimately. We are both from the same neighborhood, and have both adopted the same State as our home: we have given to Pennsylvania all the abilities which we have been endowed with. Within a few days I have passed over those portions of the State where the energy of our people has been most largely developed. I have gazed with wonder and astonishment on a class of men peculiar to American institutions—a class of men which cannot exist except under the influence of our institutions. I concede all that has been said of Judge Packer. It has been my pleasure to know him for a period of some thirty years, and I can testify that of that time I have known him intimately. We are both from the same neighborhood, and have both adopted the same State as our home: we have given to Pennsylvania all the abilities which we have been endowed with. Within a few days I have passed over those portions of the State where the energy of our people has been most largely developed. I have gazed with wonder and astonishment on a class of men peculiar to American institutions—a class of men which cannot exist except under the influence of our institutions. I concede all that has been said of Judge Packer. It has been my pleasure to know him for a period of some thirty years, and I can testify that of that time I have known him intimately. We are both from the same neighborhood, and have both adopted the same State as our home: we have given to Pennsylvania all the abilities which we have been endowed with. Within a few days I have passed over those portions of the State where the energy of our people has been most largely developed. I have gazed with wonder and astonishment on a class of men peculiar to American institutions—a class of men which cannot exist except under the influence of our institutions. I concede all that has been said of Judge Packer. It has been my pleasure to know him for a period of some thirty years, and I can testify that of that time I have known him intimately. We are both from the same neighborhood, and have both adopted the same State as our home: we have given to Pennsylvania all the abilities which we have been endowed with. Within a few days I have passed over those portions of the State where the energy of our people has been most largely developed. I have gazed with wonder and astonishment on a class of men peculiar to American institutions—a class of men which cannot exist except under the influence of our institutions. I concede all that has been said of Judge Packer. It has been my pleasure to know him for a period of some thirty years, and I can testify that of that time I have known him intimately. We are both from the same neighborhood, and have both adopted the same State as our home: we have given to Pennsylvania all the abilities which we have been endowed with. Within a few days I have passed over those portions of the State where the energy of our people has been most largely developed. I have gazed with wonder and astonishment on a class of men peculiar to American institutions—a class of men which cannot exist except under the influence of our institutions. I concede all that has been said of Judge Packer. It has been my pleasure to know him for a period of some thirty years, and I can testify that of that time I have known him intimately. We are both from the same neighborhood, and have both adopted the same State as our home: we have given to Pennsylvania all the abilities which we have been endowed with. Within a few days I have passed over those portions of the State where the energy of our people has been most largely developed. I have gazed with wonder and astonishment on a class of men peculiar to American institutions—a class of men which cannot exist except under the influence of our institutions. I concede all that has been said of Judge Packer. It has been my pleasure to know him for a period of some thirty years, and I can testify that of that time I have known him intimately. We are both from the same neighborhood, and have both adopted the same State as our home: we have given to Pennsylvania all the abilities which we have been endowed with. Within a few days I have passed over those portions of the State where the energy of our people has been most largely developed. I have gazed with wonder and astonishment on a class of men peculiar to American institutions—a class of men which cannot exist except under the influence of our institutions. I concede all that has been said of Judge Packer. It has been my pleasure to know him for a period of some thirty years, and I can testify that of that time I have known him intimately. We are both from the same neighborhood, and have both adopted the same State as our home: we have given to Pennsylvania all the abilities which we have been endowed with. Within a few days I have passed over those portions of the State where the energy of our people has been most largely developed. I have gazed with wonder and astonishment on a class of men peculiar to American institutions—a class of men which cannot exist except under the influence of our institutions. I concede all that has been said of Judge Packer. It has been my pleasure to know him for a period of some thirty years, and I can testify that of that time I have known him intimately. We are both from the same neighborhood, and have both adopted the same State as our home: we have given to Pennsylvania all the abilities which we have been endowed with. Within a few days I have passed over those portions of the State where the energy of our people has been most largely developed. I have gazed with wonder and astonishment on a class of men peculiar to American institutions—a class of men which cannot exist except under the influence of our institutions. I concede all that has been said of Judge Packer. It has been my pleasure to know him for a period of some thirty years, and I can testify that of that time I have known him intimately. We are both from the same neighborhood, and have both adopted the same State as our home: we have given to Pennsylvania all the abilities which we have been endowed with. Within a few days I have passed over those portions of the State where the energy of our people has been most largely developed. I have gazed with wonder and astonishment on a class of men peculiar to American institutions—a class of men which cannot exist except under the influence of our institutions. I concede all that has been said of Judge Packer. It has been my pleasure to know him for a period of some thirty years, and I can testify that of that time I have known him intimately. We are both from the same neighborhood, and have both adopted the same State as our home: we have given to Pennsylvania all the abilities which we have been endowed with. Within a few days I have passed over those portions of the State where the energy of our people has been most largely developed. I have gazed with wonder and astonishment on a class of men peculiar to American institutions—a class of men which cannot exist except under the influence of our institutions. I concede all that has been said of Judge Packer. It has been my pleasure to know him for a period of some thirty years, and I can testify that of that time I have known him intimately. We are both from the same neighborhood, and have both adopted the same State as our home: we have given to Pennsylvania all the abilities which we have been endowed with. Within a few days I have passed over those portions of the State where the energy of our people has been most largely developed. I have gazed with wonder and astonishment on a class of men peculiar to American institutions—a class of men which cannot exist except under the influence of our institutions. I concede all that has been said of Judge Packer. It has been my pleasure to know him for a period of some thirty years, and I can testify that of that time I have known him intimately. We are both from the same neighborhood, and have both adopted the same State as our home: we have given to Pennsylvania all the abilities which we have been endowed with. Within a few days I have passed over those portions of the State where the energy of our people has been most largely developed. I have gazed with wonder and astonishment on a class of men peculiar to American institutions—a class of men which cannot exist except under the influence of our institutions. I concede all that has been said of Judge Packer. It has been my pleasure to know him for a period of some thirty years, and I can testify that of that time I have known him intimately. We are both from the same neighborhood, and have both adopted the same State as our home: we have given to Pennsylvania all the abilities which we have been endowed with. Within a few days I have passed over those portions of the State where the energy of our people has been most largely developed. I have gazed with wonder and astonishment on a class of men peculiar to American institutions—a class of men which cannot exist except under the influence of our institutions. I concede all that has been said of Judge Packer. It has been my pleasure to know him for a period of some thirty years, and I can testify that of that time I have known him intimately. We are both from the same neighborhood, and have both adopted the same State as our home: we have given to Pennsylvania all the abilities which we have been endowed with. Within a few days I have passed over those portions of the State where the energy of our people has been most largely developed. I have gazed with wonder and astonishment on a class of men peculiar to American institutions—a class of men which cannot exist except under the influence of our institutions. I concede all that has been said of Judge Packer. It has been my pleasure to know him for a period of some thirty years, and I can testify that of that time I have known him intimately. We are both from the same neighborhood, and have both adopted the same State as our home: we have given to Pennsylvania all the abilities which we have been endowed with. Within a few days I have passed over those portions of the State where the energy of our people has been most largely developed. I have gazed with wonder and astonishment on a class of men peculiar to American institutions—a class of men which cannot exist except under the influence of our institutions. I concede all that has been said of Judge Packer. It has been my pleasure to know him for a period of some thirty years, and I can testify that of that time I have known him intimately. We are both from the same neighborhood, and have both adopted the same State as our home: we have given to Pennsylvania all the abilities which we have been endowed with. Within a few days I have passed over those portions of the State where the energy of our people has been most largely developed. I have gazed with wonder and astonishment on a class of men peculiar to American institutions—a class of men which cannot exist except under the influence of our institutions. I concede all that has been said of Judge Packer. It has been my pleasure to know him for a period of some thirty years, and I can testify that of that time I have known him intimately. We are both from the same neighborhood, and have both adopted the same State as our home: we have given to Pennsylvania all the abilities which we have been endowed with. Within a few days I have passed over those portions of the State where the energy of our people has been most largely developed. I have gazed with wonder and astonishment on a class of men peculiar to American institutions—a class of men which cannot exist except under the influence of our institutions. I concede all that has been said of Judge Packer. It has been my pleasure to know him for a period of some thirty years, and I can testify that of that time I have known him intimately. We are both from the same neighborhood, and have both adopted the same State as our home: we have given to Pennsylvania all the abilities which we have been endowed with. Within a few days I have passed over those portions of the State where the energy of our people has been most largely developed. I have gazed with wonder and astonishment on a class of men peculiar to American institutions—a class of men which cannot exist except under the influence of our institutions. I concede all that has been said of Judge Packer. It has been my pleasure to know him for a period of some thirty years, and I can testify that of that time I have known him intimately. We are both from the same neighborhood, and have both adopted the same State as our home: we have given to Pennsylvania all the abilities which we have been endowed with. Within a few days I have passed over those portions of the State where the energy of our people has been most largely developed. I have gazed with wonder and astonishment on a class of men peculiar to American institutions—a class of men which cannot exist except under the influence of our institutions. I concede all that has been said of Judge Packer. It has been my pleasure to know him for a period of some thirty years, and I can testify that of that time I have known him intimately. We are both from the same neighborhood, and have both adopted the same State as our home: we have given to Pennsylvania all the abilities which we have been endowed with. Within a few days I have passed over those portions of the State where the energy of our people has been most largely developed. I have gazed with wonder and astonishment on a class of men peculiar to American institutions—a class of men which cannot exist except under the influence of our institutions. I concede all that has been said of Judge Packer. It has been my pleasure to know him for a period of some thirty years, and I can testify that of that time I have known him intimately. We are both from the same neighborhood, and have both adopted the same State as our home: we have given to Pennsylvania all the abilities which we have been endowed with. Within a few days I have passed over those portions of the State where the energy of our people has been most largely developed. I have gazed with wonder and astonishment on a class of men peculiar to American institutions—a class of men which cannot exist except under the influence of our institutions. I concede all that has been said of Judge Packer. It has been my pleasure to know him for a period of some thirty years, and I can testify that of that time I have known him intimately. We are both from the same neighborhood, and have both adopted the same State as our home: we have given to Pennsylvania all the abilities which we have been endowed with. Within a few days I have passed over those portions of the State where the energy of our people has been most largely developed. I have gazed with wonder and astonishment on a class of men peculiar to American institutions—a class of men which cannot exist except under the influence of our institutions. I concede all that has been said of Judge Packer. It has been my pleasure to know him for a period of some thirty years, and I can testify that of that time I have known him intimately. We are both from the same neighborhood, and have both adopted the same State as our home: we have given to Pennsylvania all the abilities which we have been endowed with. Within a few days I have passed over those portions of the State where the energy of our people has been most largely developed. I have gazed with wonder and astonishment on a class of men peculiar to American institutions—a class of men which cannot exist except under the influence of our institutions. I concede all that has been said of Judge Packer. It has been my pleasure to know him for a period of some thirty years, and I can testify that of that time I have known him intimately. We are both from the same neighborhood, and have both adopted the same State as our home: we have given to Pennsylvania all the abilities which we have been endowed with. Within a few days I have passed over those portions of the State where the energy of our people has been most largely developed. I have gazed with wonder and astonishment on a class of men peculiar to American institutions—a class of men which cannot exist except under the influence of our institutions. I concede all that has been said of Judge Packer. It has been my pleasure to know him for a period of some thirty years, and I can testify that of that time I have known him intimately. We are both from the same neighborhood, and have both adopted the same State as our home: we have given to Pennsylvania all the abilities which we have been endowed with. Within a few days I have passed over those portions of the State where the energy of our people has been most largely developed. I have gazed with wonder and astonishment on a class of men peculiar to American institutions—a class of men which cannot exist except under the influence of our institutions. I concede all that has been said of Judge Packer. It has been my pleasure to know him for a period of some thirty years, and I can testify that of that time I have known him intimately. We are both from the same neighborhood, and have both adopted the same State as our home: we have given to Pennsylvania all the abilities which we have been endowed with. Within a few days I have passed over those portions of the State where the energy of our people has been most largely developed. I have gazed with wonder and astonishment on a class of men peculiar to American institutions—a class of men which cannot exist except under the influence of our institutions. I concede all that has been said of Judge Packer. It has been my pleasure to know him for a period of some thirty years, and I can testify that of that time I have known him intimately. We are both from the same neighborhood, and have both adopted the same State as our home: we have given to Pennsylvania all the abilities which we have been endowed with. Within a few days I have passed over those portions of the State where the energy of our people has been most largely developed. I have gazed with wonder and astonishment on a class of men peculiar to American institutions—a class of men which cannot exist except under the influence of our institutions. I concede all that has been said of Judge Packer. It has been my pleasure to know him for a period of some thirty years, and I can testify that of that time I have known him intimately. We are both from the same neighborhood, and have both adopted the same State as our home: we have given to Pennsylvania all the abilities which we have been endowed with. Within a few days I have passed over those portions of the State where the energy of our people has been most largely developed. I have gazed with wonder and astonishment on a class of men peculiar to American institutions—a class of men which cannot exist except under the influence of our institutions. I concede all that has been said of Judge Packer. It has been my pleasure to know him for a period of some thirty years, and I can testify that of that time I have known him intimately. We are both from the same neighborhood, and have both adopted the same State as our home: we have given to Pennsylvania all the abilities which we have been endowed with. Within a few days I have passed over those portions of the State where the energy of our people has been most largely developed. I have gazed with wonder and astonishment on a class of men peculiar to American institutions—a class of men which cannot exist except under the influence of our institutions. I concede all that has been said of Judge Packer. It has been my pleasure to know him for a period of some thirty years, and I can testify that of that time I have known him intimately. We are both from the same neighborhood, and have both adopted the same State as our home: we have given to Pennsylvania all the abilities which we have been endowed with. Within a few days I have passed over those portions of the State where the energy of our people has been most largely developed. I have gazed with wonder and astonishment on a class of men peculiar to American institutions—a class of men which cannot exist except under the influence of our institutions. I concede all that has been said of Judge Packer. It has been my pleasure to know him for a period of some thirty years, and I can testify that of that time I have known him intimately. We are both from the same neighborhood, and have both adopted the same State as our home: we have given to Pennsylvania all the abilities which we have been endowed with. Within a few days I have passed over those portions of the State where the energy of our people has been most largely developed. I have gazed with wonder and astonishment on a class of men peculiar to American institutions—a class of men which cannot exist except under the influence of our institutions. I concede all that has been said of Judge Packer. It has been my pleasure to know him for a period of some thirty years, and I can testify that of that time I have known him intimately. We are both from the same neighborhood, and have both adopted the same State as our home: we have given to Pennsylvania all the abilities which we have been endowed with. Within a few days I have passed over those portions of the State where the energy of our people has been most largely developed. I have gazed with wonder and astonishment on a class of men peculiar to American institutions—a class of men which cannot exist except under the influence of our institutions. I concede all that has been said of Judge Packer. It has been my pleasure to know him for a period of some thirty years, and I can testify that of that time I have known him intimately. We are both from the same neighborhood, and have both adopted the same State as our home: we have given to Pennsylvania all the abilities which we have been endowed with. Within a few days I have passed over those portions of the State where the