

Death of the Sleeping Woman.

The Hickman (Ky.) Courier says: Miss Susan Caroline Godsey, the sleeping woman, died at her mother's home, eight miles from Hickman, on Wednesday, the 14th inst. The history of Miss Godsey is well known to the public, a statement of her wonderful condition having been published extensively by the press of the United States. At the time of her death Miss Godsey was about twenty-six years of age, and had been asleep, as described, about fourteen years. The existence of "this wonderful case of coma, or preternatural disposition to sleep, has been doubted by many, but the fact is indisputable. Indeed, some twelve months ago Miss Godsey was taken to Nashville and other places for exhibition, but we understand many even of the physicians of Nashville looked upon the case with suspicion.

The history of the case is briefly thus: When about twelve years of age she was taken with a severe chill, and treated accordingly by her physician. As the fever which followed her chill subsided she fell into a deep sleep, in which condition she has remained ever since, except at intervals. It was her custom at first to awake regularly twice in every twenty-four hours, and regularly, within a few minutes of the one hour each day; but of later years she was awake oftener, so much so that many considered it an indication of her final recovery. She would remain awake, five, ten, or perhaps fifteen minutes, and gradually drop off to sleep again. When asleep, it was utterly impossible to arouse her. She never complained of any bodily ailment, though when asleep she was very irritable at times, and appeared to suffer considerably by the violent twitching and raking of her muscles and limbs, and her hands clenched tightly, as if enduring severe pain, but when awake she did not appear to suffer except from a drowsy, gurgling inclination, and persistent efforts to cause her throat of phlegm. She generally passed into sleep through violent roxymies, which would last five minutes, and she would then sleep awhile as calmly as if she were an infant. Miss Godsey was of medium size, and her limbs and muscles were well proportioned and developed, and grew considerably after her affliction.

Miss Godsey on the day she died indulged in a little prophesying, which we give as related for what it is worth. She said, "the sun would be a total eclipse on the 7th of August" (this is remarkable, because parties assert that she could have had no knowledge that this was according to calculation), "and that the sun would never shine as bright after that day." That this would indicate the end of the world, which was speedily approaching.

HARD ON THE MINISTER.—A minister was traveling in the backwoods, and espying a cabin, entered it on a mission of mercy. The lady of the house (she being present alone, and rightly judging his errand), when she saw him approaching seized the Bible, and as he entered, was to all intents busily engaged in perusing the volume. He noticed, however, that she held all the letters reversed, or, in other words, upside down. After the usual courtesies, the minister inquired what she was reading.

"Oh, 'bout the old prophets," was the evidently self-satisfactory reply. "It is very edifying to read of the suffering and death of Christ," said the minister. "And so that good man is dead, is he?" asked the matron, getting interested. "Certainly he is." "Well, that is just the way. I've been at John a long time to get him to take the newspapers, but he won't. Everybody in the world might die, and we not hear a word 'bout it," said the woman, in a rapid tone.

"Ah, woman, you are in the dark!" said the preacher, with an elongated face. "Yes, I know we are. I've been at John a long time to put a window in at the far end of the house, but he won't do that either."

"I see that you are weak in knowledge." "I know that I am weak; and I guess if you had had the bilious fever, and been taking saffron and castor pills as long as I have, you'd be weak too," replied the woman, in rather an angry tone of voice, and half an octave higher than usual.

The minister passed on.

Among the names in the New York City Directory are: Two Irish, fifty-eight French, twenty-four English, seven Germans, and only one American, eight George Washingtons, two Thomas Jeffersons, four John Q. Adams, one Martin Van Buren, eighty Grants and one Dodd. Twenty-seven Judges against two Jurys, and sixteen Diamonds with six Pearls. One Rough, eighteen Readys, eight Shoemakers and four Tinkers. One Shylock, two John Sheppards, one hundred Pecks, two Bushels, seven Hams, one Egg, two Lagers, one Bourbon and one Boquet. The name of Smith occurs 1,896 times, then four Aarons, ten Apples, seven Stumps and one Strongman, six Leeches, three Cowards and one Cousin, ten Mous and one Morningstar, eleven Joys and two Griefs, two Heavys and four Lightbouts, two Redheads and ten Redmans.

A COOL DRINK.—The Schenectady Star has a novel recipe for a pleasant summer drink. We have not tried it, but it may be good: "Take a spoonful of whiskey and drop it carefully on the bottom of a wine glass; then take a quart of water and throw it out of the window and add more whiskey to that in the glass. Taste to see if strong enough. If so, add more whiskey. Let it stand till you're dry and drink it clear."

A LITTLE BOY met his Sabbath school teacher, and innocently asked her if she was "cofferdam" was swearing. She replied, "No, my dear! What makes you ask that question?" His answer was, "I saw an old cow down the street yonder; she was nearly choked to death, and I thought she would cough her dam head off."

THINGS WORTH KNOWING.

REPELLING FLIES FROM HORSES.—It is an act of humanity to come to the aid of the horse, powerful as he is, against his nimble assailant, the fly. Here is a recipe which is said to be an excellent defence against it; at all events, a trial of it will not involve much trouble, nor will it do harm should it prove unavailing as a defence to the horse: Take two or three small handfuls of walnut leaves, upon which pour two or three quarts of cold water; let it infuse overnight and pour the whole next morning into a kettle and let it boil for a quarter of an hour; when cold it will be fit for use. No more is required than to moisten a sponge, and before the horse goes out of the stable let those parts that are most irritable be smeared over with a liquor, viz: between and upon the ears, the neck, flank, etc.

MARSH MALLOW.—It is said that the addition of from two to four parts of finely pulverized marsh mallow roots to calcined plaster of Paris will prevent the mass, when mixed with water, from hardening so rapidly that it commonly does, so as to prevent its applicability to many purposes. It will require nearly an hour to become thoroughly set; and then it will be found to have acquired such extreme toughness and tenacity as to permit it to be filed, turned and bored, and otherwise manipulated, almost as satisfactorily as ivory, bone or Meerschmum. Mixed with different coloring matters, an excellent imitation of marble can be produced.

TO DRY GREEN WOOD.—A new method of drying green wood in a very short time consists in boiling it for a few hours in water to extract the soluble substance. It is then boiled in a solution of borax, by which the insoluble albumen of the wood is rendered soluble, and is removed through the pores. The wood is then placed in drying chambers heated by steam, and allowed to remain three days. This treated, it is said to be more compact than by years of ordinary exposure, and will not shrink or warp. On account of its increased density, it is easily polished and adapted to the construction of furniture and musical instruments.

TO DESTROY WEEDS ON WALKS.—A London paper says: "The most effective mode to destroy weeds on walks is a solution of arsenic, to be applied in dry weather only. One pound of arsenic is dissolved in three gallons of cold water, and then boiled, stirring it while boiling; then add seven gallons of cold water and two pounds of crushed soda, stirring it well up and applying it to the walks with a fine-rosed watering-pot, taking care to keep it from the box edging or grass. The above quantity will be enough for twenty-five square yards."

SIMPLE REMEDY FOR RHEUMATISM.—The Cold furnishes the following as a sure relief for this distressing disease: "Put a small pot full of potatoes and bathe the part affected with the water in which the potatoes have been boiled, as hot as it can be borne, immediately before going to bed. The pains will be removed, or at least alleviated, by the next morning. Some of the most obstinate rheum to pains have lately been cured by one application of this novel and simple remedy."

HOW TO REMOVE RUST.—A lady writes from Vermont to say that she accidentally discovered an easy method of removing rust from iron. She put a number of badly rusted forks in a tumbler of water from a cask, and after leaving them there some time, found that the rust had become so much loosened that it rubbed off readily. She says that she has since then used this oil to clean her knives and sewing machine.

THE LATE RAIN OF SNAKES IN EAST TENNESSEE.—A letter from Nashville states that the account of the remarkable phenomenon of a rain of snakes in Indian Gap, East Tennessee, a few days since, proves to be correct. A field hand working for James Cook on his farm, about half a mile from the Gap, was examining the snakes on the morning succeeding their fall. Noticing one huge snake he was in the act of measuring it with a string, when he discovered that it was moving. Starting back in fright he stumbled and fell with outstretched arms on the buried mass of the dying and dead serpents. The man felt the heat of the sun on his face as he fell, and he felt from the place as quick as possible and reached the farm house of his employer. He was given immediate assistance. Notwithstanding every effort the bitten man died about sundown. The alarm occasioned by this freak of nature has not yet subsided.

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS, AND HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC.

Prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson, Philadelphia. Their introduction into this country from Germany occurred in 1855.

THEY CURED YOUR FATHERS AND MOTHERS, AND WILL CURE YOU AND YOUR CHILDREN. They are entirely different from the many preparations now offered in the country under the name of German Bitters. They are not merely aperients, but are powerful medicine. They are the greatest known remedies for Liver Complaint, DYSPEPSIA, Nervous Debility, JAUNDICE, Diseases of the Kidneys, ERUPTIONS OF THE SKIN, and all Diseases arising from a Disordered Liver, Stomach, or IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD. Constipation, Flatulence, Inward Piles, Fullness of Blood to the Head, Acidity of the Stomach, Eructation, Heartburn, Disinfect for Food, Paleness or Weight in the Stomach, Painful Eructations, Stinking or Putrid Flattering at the Mouth, Constipation, Headache, Dimness of Vision, Drops or Webs before the Sight, Dull Pain in the Head, Difficulty of Perspiration, Yellowness of the Skin and Eyes, Pain in the Side, Back, Chest, Limbs, etc., Sudden Flushes of the Face, Burning in the Face, Heat in the Head, and Great Depression of Spirits. All the indicated diseases of the Liver, Stomach, and Bowels, combined with impure blood.

Hoofland's German Bitters is entirely vegetable, and contains no liquor. It is a compound of Fluid Extracts of the Roots, Bark, and Herbs from which these extracts are made are gathered in Germany, and are extracted from them by a process which is entirely natural. These extracts are then forwarded to this country to be used expressly for the manufacture of these Bitters. There is no alcoholic substance of any kind used in compounding the Bitters, hence it is not only a safe, but a healthy and pleasant medicine, in all cases where alcoholic stimulants are not admissible.

Hoofland's German Tonic is a combination of all the ingredients of the Bitters, with pure China Root, Orange Peel, &c. It is used for the same diseases as the Bitters. In cases where some powerful tonic is required, you will find that these remedies are entirely different from any others advertised for the cure of the diseases named, and being scientific preparations of medicinal extracts, while the others are mere decoctions of run-in and form. THE TONIC is decidedly one of the most powerful and agreeable remedies ever offered to the public. Its use is requisite. It is a pleasure to take it, while its beneficial, exhilarating, and medicinal qualities have caused it to be known as the greatest of all tonics.

DEBILITY. There is no medicine equal to Hoofland's German Bitters in the cure of Debility. It is a powerful tonic, and is used for the same diseases as the Bitters. It is a pleasure to take it, while its beneficial, exhilarating, and medicinal qualities have caused it to be known as the greatest of all tonics.

FROM HON. GEO. W. WOODWARD, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, PHILADELPHIA, March 10, 1867. I find Hoofland's German Bitters to be an excellent tonic, and of great benefit in cases of debility and want of nervous action, in the system. Yours truly, GEO. W. WOODWARD.

FROM HON. JAMES THOMPSON, Judge of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, PHILADELPHIA, April 28, 1868. I consider Hoofland's German Bitters to be a valuable medicine in cases of Debility, Dyspepsia, and all the diseases of the Liver, Stomach, and Bowels. I can certify this from my own experience. Yours, with respect, JAMES THOMPSON.

FROM REV. JOSEPH H. KENNARD, D. D., Pastor of the Third Baptist Church, Philadelphia. Dr. Jackson—Dear Sir—I have been frequently requested to make my name with recommendations of different kinds of medicines, but regarding the practice of medicine, I have no special views, and I have not a clear proof in various instances, and particularly in my own family, of the usefulness of Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters. I desire for my own personal use, to express my full conviction that for general complaint, in the system and especially for Liver complaint, it is a most valuable and valuable medicine. It is a pleasure to take it, while its beneficial, exhilarating, and medicinal qualities have caused it to be known as the greatest of all tonics. Yours, very respectfully, J. H. KENNARD. Eighty, below College street.

CAUTION. Hoofland's German Bitters are counterfeited. The genuine has the signature of C. M. Jackson on the front of the outside wrapper of each bottle, and the name of the article blown in each bottle. All others are counterfeit.

The price of the Bitters, $1.00 per bottle; or a half dozen for $5.00. Price of the Tonic, $1.50 per bottle; or a dozen for $7.50. The tonic is put up in quart bottles.

Recalled that it is Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters that is so universally used, and so highly recommended, and do not allow the Druggists to include you in their list, as they are not making a larger profit on it. These Remedies will be sent by express to any locality upon application to the INTRODUCED THE BEST EVER YET. Introduced in this County of State. Any person buying a family right can have the Bee transferred from an old box to a new one. In every instance in which this has been done the result has been entirely satisfactory, and the first take of honey has invariably paid all expenses, and has left a surplus of honey. Proof of the superior merits of this invention will be found in the testimony of every man who has given it a trial, and among the number are the gentlemen named below, and their experience should induce every one interested in Bees to BUY A FAMILY RIGHT!

Henry C. Kirkpatrick, of Carroll township, took 15 pounds of surplus honey from two hives, which he sold at 35 cents per pound. Adam Dietrich, of Carroll township, took from two hives 100 pounds of surplus honey. James Kirkpatrick, of Chest township, took 60 pounds of surplus honey from his hives. Johnston, the subscriber's county, has obtained 72 pounds of surplus honey from one hive, worth not less than $25, and the right cost him only $5.
