Most of these solid gentlemen are self-made men, who have come up from the lowest round of the ladder. The man who heads the list, A. T. Stewart, everybody knows, was an Irish emigrant, who commenced life with less than twenty-five cents ; indeed, with few exceptions, most of the parties in the hist were scarce as well off as Mr. Stewart. Take Henry Keep ; he boasts that he graduated from the poor-house of Jefferson county. Jay Gould drove a herd of cattle from Delhi, Delaware county, when a lad, for fifty cents a day, in order to get money enough to reach the Hudson river. David Groesbeck, over thirty years ago, used to mend old shoes for his brother, who was a respectable shoemaker in Albany. We all know the history of James Gordon Bennett and Robert Bonner, poor boys full of talent and industry. Rufus Hatch when a youngster, had an ambition to hold the reins of a peodler's wagon. E. D. Morgan commenced life with a quart measure of mylasses. It is scarce a dozen years since Henry Clews was an errand boy in one of the banking houses down town. The Brothers Sligman started out in life with a peddler's pack. David Dowes, in his younger days, retailed pork by the half-pound and molasses by the gill. H. T. Helmbold was fi st catio boy on the sloop Mary Jane, that navigated Delaware river. We might go on through the list and show that nearly every one of these solid men were the architects of their own fortunes. Young
